Trail

We, the 1966 TRAIL Staff, have tried our best to present you with the best yearbook NHS has ever had. We believe it gives an accurate account of the story of the year, including all the highlights that make it special to each of us.

The Staff members worked hard all year on various sections. Each member learned to draw layouts, index names, set up pictures, use the percentage wheel, crop pictures and write copy. The photographers spent many long hours of taking, developing, and printing pictures to help preserve the story of 1966. An increase of sixteen pages brought the total to 200. Another addition was the four autograph pages.

The TRAIL Staff is deeply grateful for the efforts of two hard-working people; Mr. Richard Taylor, sponsor, and Karen Mauldin, cover design.

Skipping? No. The Advertising staff of Nancy Bloomer, Susan Mertes, Business-Manager; and Cindy Waterbury is signing out to sell ads.

Honors editor Kathi Hayes vowed she would make the deadline if it killed her. Well, it almost did!

The Sports section staffers Gail McCall, Wendy Meyer, Kathy Flood, and Marilyn Drace, editor, soak up some sunshine in the lightwell.

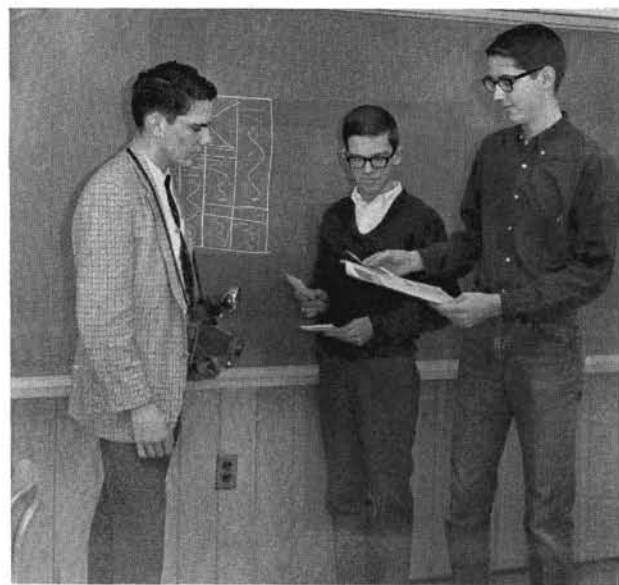

Looking over a few examples of a year's hard work are the Tiger Tales editors: Kathy Rhodes, Doug Upchurch, Jackie Brandner, and Kathleen Lester.

Informing the students of the activities of the year has been the job of the Tiger Tales staff. Under the guidance of Mrs. Minerva McGee, first semester editors Kathleen Lester and Jackie Brandner, and second semester editors Kathy Rhodes and Doug Upchurch, have led the fifteen-member staff and numerous reporters to publish twelve editions, including the extra-special Christmas issue and the fun-filled senior special. In addition to writing and editing the papers, the journalists activated the All-School Safety campaign and conducted their annual search for "Ugliest Boy."

Mrs. Minerva McGee looks over the work of managers and page editors Jenny Sterling, Mary Male, Dyanna Boyd, Danise Simpson, and Diana Berry.

Looking over an application to summer journalism camp are the officers: Marilyn Drace, Parliamentarian; Mary Male, Secretary-Treasurer; and Marian Kuhlman, President.

The Fourth Estate, Norman High School's new journalism club, made steps toward putting our journalists on the map. Under the guidance of Mrs. Minerva McGee, the club organized a campaign to nominate a candidate for office at the spring meeting of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association.

The members chose the name, Fourth Estate, from the class of people in early English history that was made up of journalists and writers. The club will enable the members to join either Quill and Scroll, or Future Journalists of America, two national journalism organizations. Under the leadership of Marian Kuhlman, president; Mary Male, secretary-treasurer; and Marilyn Drace, parliamentarian, the club also initiated an Alumni Journalism Dinner to be carried out in the years to come.

Fourth Estate Organized

man, Jim Power, Annie Moorhead, Diana Nauman, and Carole Notgrass. Top row: Sam Nigh, Don Huntington, Joe Ron Henderson, Melinda Upchurch, Cynthia Huff, and Carla Smith.

Science Club members Bruce Storms, Margaret Ward, Ann Cosgrove, and Larry Huffman prepare to inspect a specimen under the microscope.

Leading the Science Club were officers Margaret Ward, Secretary; Larry Huffman, Treasurer; Bruce Storms, Vice-President; and Ann Cosgrove, President.

Science Club Explores

The Science Club heard lectures on the various scientific fields in an effort to learn about the opportunities in the field of science. To obtain first-hand knowledge the club toured the OU Botany and Microbiology Building. Also films have been shown to the club about the space program and animal life in Mexico.

Later on in the year, the club had a large banquet and honored a guest speaker, a famous Oklahoma scientist. The club visited the planetarium in Oklahoma City and made a field trip to Lake Eufaula in the late spring.

German Club

Club Prospers

In '66

Mrs. Vlach, sponsor, helped the officers with club activities. The officers were Janet Beeson, Secretary-Treasurer; Sherry Wedekind, Program Chairman; Marcia Shinault, President, and Jim Price, Vice-President.

Bob Sharp, Phil Jody, and Lee Jennings chuckle over the latest issue of Bunte at a German Club meeting.

1966 was the first year of organization for the Norman High German Club. The very prosperous year was made possible by members, officers, and sponsor. The officers were Marcia Shinault, President; Jim Price, Vice-President; Janet Beeson, Secretary-Treasurer, and Sherry Wedekind, Program Chairman. Mrs. Maaris Vlach was the very able sponsor.

The year's program consisted of monthly meetings at which various speakers would explain about German life and customs. These meetings also included coke parties, and a Christmas Carol party.

In order to be eligible for the German Club one must have been enrolled in German, or have an interest in Germany.

"N" Club Aids

Any letterman of NHS is eligible to join the "N" Club. The purpose of this organization is to attend sports events and to encourage school spirit. As usual, the lettermen this year sold basketball programs at the home games and decorated the "N" Club tree. Also, they sold candy to help finance the All-Sports Queen coronation.

Miss Nancy Bloomer was chosen as All-Sports Queen by the lettermen and crowned by "N" Club President, Hugh Sellers. The club, working with the Gingersnaps, presented a lovely coronation and sponsored a dance after the coronation. The "N" Club Picnic was held in May and officers were elected in the spring.

The club was sponsored by Mr. Littlejohn and Mr. Marquardt. Under the leadership of officers Hugh Sellers, Bill Pence and Paul Blevins, the "N" Club greatly aided the school.

Chapter Sets National Goals

This year's FHA chapter, sponsored by Miss Hope Wood and Mrs. W. W. Hiss, started their 1965-66 season with their annual officer installation.

Jane Ann Fritch, the FHA President, was asked to plan a dedication of the bench purchased by the Chapter. It was bought from the New York World's Fair. The bench was dedicated to the citizens of Norman and their awareness of the splendid image of our state. The bench dedication was a reminder to all citizens to maintain this fine image. Senator Hal Muldrow did the honors of unveiling the bench.

During the year different talks and lectures were given on grooming and financing and handling household money.

The chapter had their annual spring-time state-wide convention in Oklahoma City.

Officers leading FHA this year were: Jane Ann Fritch, President; Pat Smith, Vice-President; Kathie Kale, Secretary; Carol Ann Hickman, Treasurer; and Judi Freeland, Historian.

Nona Gordon displays the latest fashions from Grace Gordon's Shop.

Members of DE were: Bottom row: James Love, Don Chesser, Mr. Antwine, Phil Morgan, Dee Masters, and Ronnie Davis. Second row: Susan Hill, Soledad Brannon, Kaye

Darling, Shara Hunt, Sharon Smart, and Judy Henderson. Top row: Sherry Schanz, Barbara McBay, Linda Vowell, Sandy MacKillican, and Larry Smizer.

DE Faces Future

This year the Distributive Education organization of NHS strove to teach the textbook theory. This program allowed the student to learn in a specialized field while working for a Norman business firm. Through the classroom and their jobs students learned about marketing, distribution, and retailing. By working with others they also gained the development of a better personality and more self-confidence.

At the state DECA Convention this year Norma Mercer was elected state editor-promotion manager; she was also chosen student of the year in DECA. The '66 DE queen was Virginia Hames.

DE officers this year were Dee Masters, Reporter; Ronnie Davis, Vice-President; Norma Mercer, President; Shara Hunt, Chaplain; Virginia Hames, Secretary; and Kaye Wilmeth, Treasurer.

FTA

Margaret Fisher, Paula Scheaffer, and Helen Reeves discuss FTA activities following a meeting.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Theodore Gatchel, sponsor, and Margaret Fisher, President, the Future Teachers of America fulfilled numerous activities.

During the fall, the FTA elected other officers: Judy Pannell, Vice-President; Teresa Eoff, Secretary; Mallory Robertson, Treasurer; and Karen Mauldin, Historian. The installation was held to install and introduce officers and members, and a bake sale was held to raise money.

Guest speakers for the year included Mr. Lester Reed, Superintendent of Norman Schools; Mr. B. Roy Daniel, Principal of Norman High School; Mrs. Felkner, Mathematics teacher at West Junior High; Mrs. Cosgrove, Teacher of the Year; and Dr. Glen Snider, OU Professor of Education.

The FTA received special merit for sponsoring an essay contest on "The Ideal Teacher." The FTA also attended the state convention at Stillwater, held an appreciation dinner for NHS teachers, and held an end-of-the-year picnic for all members.

FTA officers for 1965-66 were: Mallory Robertson, Treasurer; Teresa Eoff, Secretary; Margaret Fisher, President; Judy Pannell, Vice-President; and Karen Mauldin, Historian.

Margaret Fisher, President, installs members Joyce Pittman, Marla Johnston, Cheryl Iverson, and Katherine Daily.

Eola Collins, Secretary; Kay Snodgrass, Program Chairman; Carla Brewington, Vice-President; and David Watters, President, led the Spanish Club this year.

A Spanish teacher for many years, Mr. Robert Sumter provides guidance and knowledge for the Spanish Club members.

Club Explores Spanish Language

Carla Brewington, Kay Snodgrass, and David Watters visit the Language department at The University of Oklahoma.

The 1966 Spanish Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Robert Sumter, worked to improve its understanding of the language and background of the Spanish people.

Led by David Watters, president, the club started a program to help the needy people in Mexico with funds and provisions they raised.

Films of Spain and Mexico were shown to the members, and guest speakers talked on Spanish culture.

In April, the members took a trip to the Language Department at the University of Oklahoma to view the methods of learning Spanish on a higher scale.

Members of the club feel that through this organization they have a better understanding of our Southern neighbors, as well as Spanish history and culture.

Members of the 1966 Spanish Club were: Bottom row: Kay Snodgrass, Carla Brewington and David Watters. Second row: Lynn Brewer, Bonnie Pierson, Paula Scheffer, and

"Why do they always pick on the little guys to carry these big drums?" moans Scott Dragoo, as he pauses to rest.

Under the direction of Mr. Harry Haines, the Norman High School Band completed another successful year. NHS had 23 representatives in the All-State Band and Orchestra, more than any other school in the state of Oklahoma. Led by drum majors John Creveling, Larry Hollingsworth, and David Knapp, the marching band received superior ratings from every judge at the State Marching Contest.

Each solo and ensemble member who entered the district contest earned a letter in band. A letter is earned by receiving a superior rating on an ensemble or a superior or excellent rating on a solo. This year, the band had 62 lettermen, 14 of these lettering for the third year.

Dr. James Jacobsen, Director of Bands at Texas Christian University, rehearses the band as a guest clinician.

John Creveling led the band this year as senior drum major.

D'Anne Mount

Leading the student body in school spirit were our great cheerleaders. Gail Giffert, Patsy Hoge, D'Anne Mount, Laura O'Connell, Sally Pitt, and Alice Rinehart shared many hard hours working out cheers and chants to raise the already supreme school spirit. They received excellent ratings, three second places and one third place at Summer Clinic in July.

Where have all the Gingersnaps gone? Remnants of the cold are left behind while the Gingersnaps occupy the field before a football game.

Spirit Soared

"I told you 6:30 was too early for a pep assembly," says Patsy Hoge to Sally Pitt while Alice Rinehart attempts to conquer a motion.

"Go Tigers!" yells Margaret Council at the Midwest City game.

As officers, Nancy Bloomer and Wendy Meyer started off the new year by taking dues and making out the attendance sheets.

G'snap

The first pep assembly brought excitement and new megaphones to the cheerleaders.

Under the leadership of the officers, cheerleaders, and sponsors the Gingersnaps grew in size and spirit. Having taken up dues and made out rolls, they ventured forth and chartered seven buses to the Ada football game. With the end of football season, they began plans for basketball and wrestling seasons.

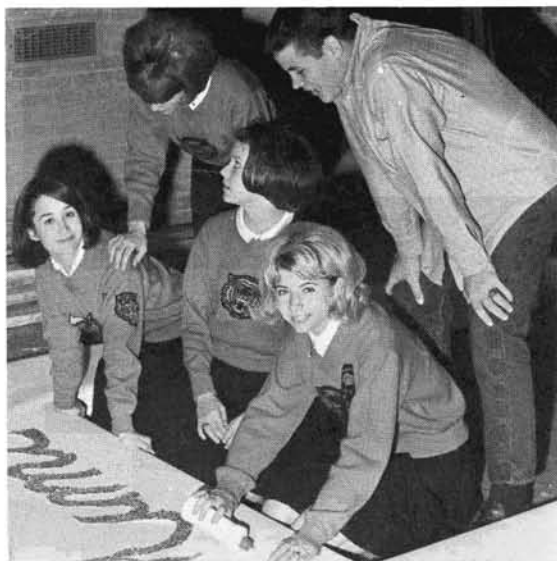

Gingersnaps worked hard to make the signs for the football players before the Ardmore game.

Lead Spirit

"It's looking good," say Bill Pence and Cindy Waterbury, co-chairmen of the All-Sports Queen Coronation Committee, as Liz Blair, Diana Heritage and Jean Holcomb finish a gold-trimmed name.

In January, the Gingersnaps and the "N" Club planned the All-Sports Queen Coronation. With March and April came filing for 1967 offices, followed in May by the Lettermen's Picnic, which is given in honor of all NHS lettermen and all eligible Gingersnaps. The pep-rallies, chants, cheers and support at games will long be remembered by the teams and student body.

The efforts of the Coronation Committee were seen as the curtain opened and revealed "Golden Realm," theme of the All-Sports Queen Coronation.

Sponsors, Miss Wood and Mrs. Kendall, look at the Lettermen's Picnic plans with D'Anne Mount, Gail McCall, and Patsy Hoge.

Senior Gingersnaps were: Bottom row: Darlene Ernest, Sandy Renegar, Taysha Taylor, Margaret Council, and Cindy Waterbury. Second row: Robin Tapken, Candy Fischer, Ann Cosgrove, Cathy Busch, Carol Ann Carson, Judy Pannell, Jane Warren, Wanda Reedy, Teresa Eoff, Mallory Robertston, and Kay Snodgrass. Third row: Linda Nichols, Pam Faubion, Annette Anderson, Shirley Deain, Ann Richards, Karen Jennings, Faye Grayson, Pam Read, Sally Ann Gregory, Glenda Gesin, and Dianne

"Go! Go! Go! . . ." scream Gingersnaps as the basketball team attempts a goal during the Ardmore game.

Soars In '66

Laura O'Connell leads the Gingersnaps in song during a basketball game.

NHS Spirit

The Untamable Tiger sign brought soaring spirit and victory to the Tigers.

Hugh Sellers and Ken Grubaugh, the Tiger co-captains, spoke at the pep-assemblies representing the football team.

Gingersnaps prayed silently for a victory during the Lawton game.

"Where is everyone?" wonders Laura O'Connell as she anxiously waits for the victory march to begin.

Laura O'Connell, Gail Giffert, and D'Anne Mount pose for a "quickie" before one of the pep assemblies.

Future Farmers Of America

The FFA chapter's motto this year was, "Learning to do, by doing." The chapter is divided into two sections—vocational agriculture and farm mechanics.

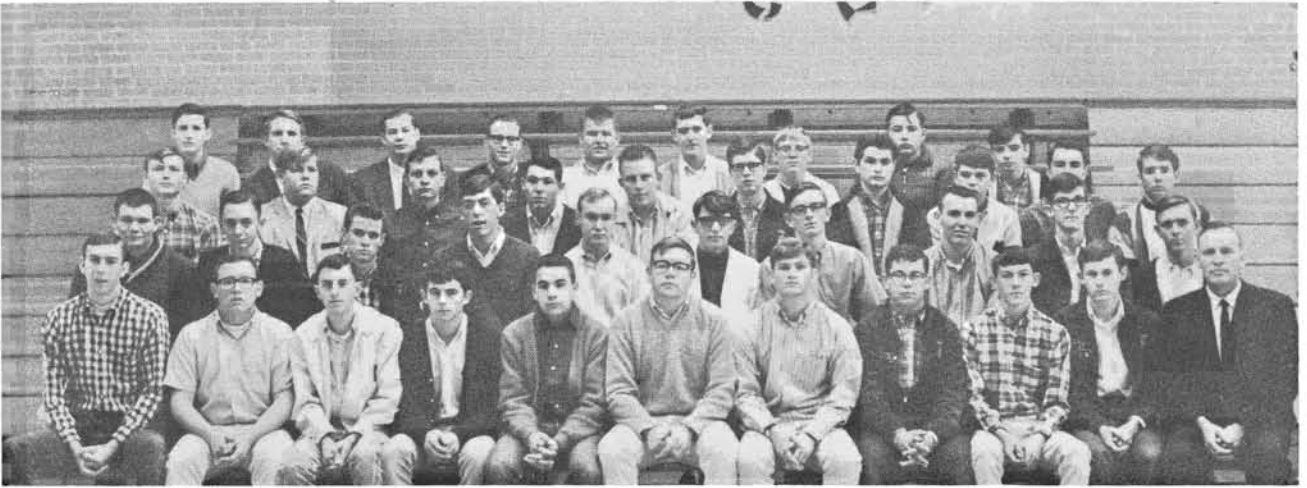

The vocational agriculture boys attended State Fair in the fall, the livestock show in March, and brought back many honors for NHS. The vocational mechanics class attended State Fair, and individuals brought back honors too. This class also made 150 pieces of equipment valued at over twenty-five hundred dollars. This year Carol Hickman was FFA Queen, and a banquet and coronation was held in her honor in April.

Office Club In Second Year

The Officers were Margaret Council, Vice-President; Mrs. Aggie McDade, Sponsor; Linda Franklin, President; and Sandy Renegar, Secretary-Treasurer.

Leading the Office Club in '66 were Linda Jane Franklin, President; Margaret Council, Vice-President; Sandy Renegar, Secretary-Treasurer; and Mrs. Aggie McDade, sponsor.

The purpose of the Office Club was to promote better relationships between business leaders and students interested in business and civic responsibility. Members were required to take at least one office or business course at Norman High School.

Club Promotes Fellowship

Carolyn Long and Linda Hughes enjoy a joke as Mrs. Mosley, Mrs. Keown, and Donna Curtis listen in at the Christmas Banquet.

The 1966 Library Club was organized under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mosley and Mrs. Keown, Librarians. The club worked to promote a closer fellowship among the librarian assistants. All members of the Library Club worked in the library on a volunteer basis. After learning the Dewey Decimal Classification they assisted with checking the books in and shelving them, and in general, assisted the librarians with clerical tasks.

Speech Takes Highest Honors

Displaying the trophy they took at the Lawton Sweepstakes are Tom Ledgerwood, Lynn Dixon, Bob Smith, Susan Luttrell, Mike Elder, and Larry Woods.

The 1966 Speech Class topped all previous records in excellence set at Norman High School.

Mike Elder was given the Baird award; he received the distinction of being the outstanding speech student in Oklahoma, an award never before given to a student at NHS.

Six members of the speech department qualified at Lawton in the Sweepstakes to bring home a trophy.

The speech department joined with the Chorus Department to produce The King and I, starring Lynn Dixon and Susan Luttrell. The second year students presented the "Pullman Car," and "Inherit the Wind" was also presented.

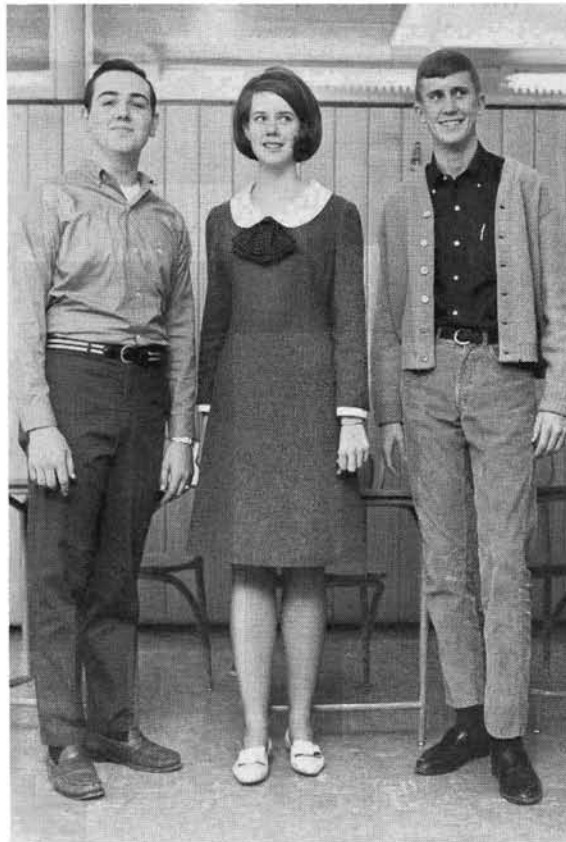

Norman High had eleven students who were qualified to join the National Forensic League. Hard work and constant practice is involved in going to these contests, and to have this many students scoring so highly is another indication of the excellence in the speech department. Mrs. Mabel Ritzman, teacher and director of the speech department, said that there might never be another year as rewarding to the speech department as 1966.

Norman High School's "sophisticated" (?) Debate Members were Bob Smith, Tom Ledgerwood, Larry Farmer, Larry Woods, and Mike Elder.

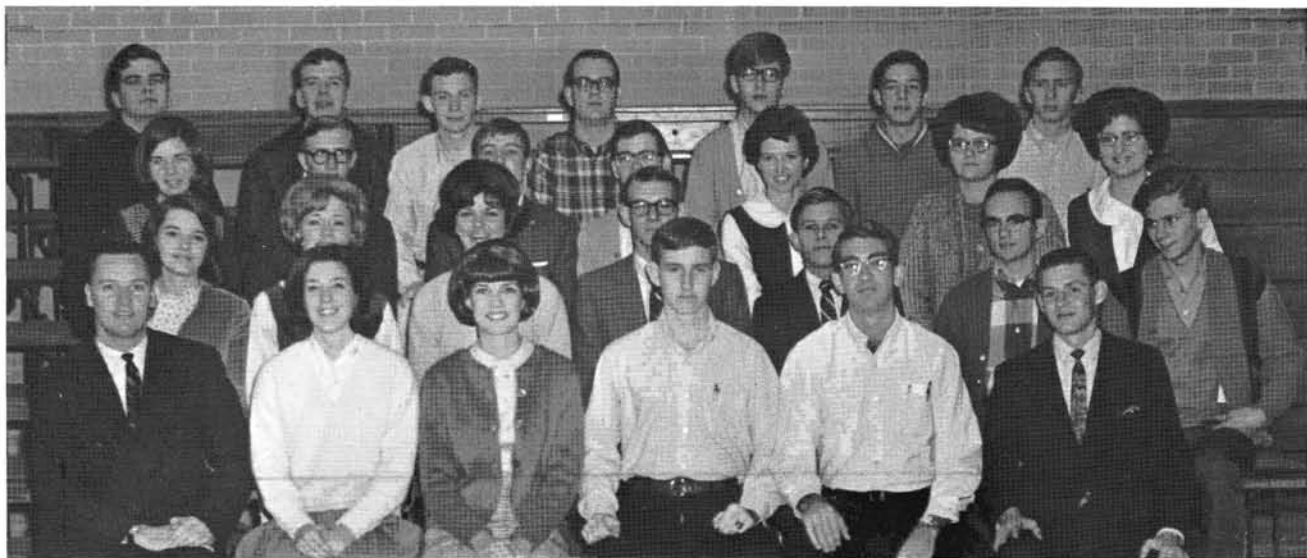

Speech students who qualified for district contest were Tom Ledgerwood, Bonnie Coleman, Larry Woods, Susan Luttrell, Mike Elder, Lee Whittlesey and Larry Farmer.

Lynn Dixon, Susan Luttrell, and Mike Elder qualified for state contest, held at the University of Oklahoma.

"Now all we have to do is fix this ladder!" Members of the 1966 Stage Crew were: seated: Dianne Reed and Barbara Myers. Standing: Lisa Cooper, John Mayfield, Bonnie Coleman, Marilyn Storm, Lee Whittlesey, Charles Smith, and Ronnie Burdick. On the ladder: Susan Luttrell and Carl Stevens.

Math Important for Future

In its second year at Norman High School, the Mu Alpha Theta, under the direction of Mr. Leon Rauch and Mr. Jerry Glasgow, presented the modern side of mathematics.

The club attended a regional Mu Alpha Theta meeting in Stillwater and visited a computer lab at Oklahoma University. Other activities included the Mu Alpha Theta banquet

Medical Careers Grow

This year's Medical Health and Careers Club, led by Mrs. Harper Orth, and Mrs. T. A. Ragan, from the Medical Auxiliary, achieved many goals for the betterment of their club.

They had speakers from various fields in medicine, and during the holidays they held their annual Christmas party. The group went caroling at the Rest Home, filled stockings with candy at the Cerebral Palsy Center, and also gave a party for the children at the Center. Toys were made and stuffed for the children at the Central State Hospital.

The Medical Careers group attended a fall convention in Oklahoma City, and in the spring the group planned a picnic, and carried out their Easter project.

This year's officers were Glenda Houck, President; Kathy Hughes, Vice-President; Sally Shauberger, Publicity Chairman; and Elaine Feaver, Secretary.

Student Council officers for 1965-66 were Don Harral, President; Jim Spiller, Vice-President; Vaughn Clark, Treasurer; and Jane Lockett, Secretary.

Student Council Prosperous

Performing one of his regular duties, Don Harral, Student Council President, presides over a Student Council meeting.

Under the leadership of Don Harral, president; and Mr. Bert Corr, sponsor, the 1965-66 Student Council supervised numerous projects. Before school began, the Student Council helped teachers and students with enrollment. The council also welcomed new students with a get-acquainted party, prepared all interested students with the leadership training course, and introduced most students at the Howdy Hop.

Among the Student Council's many projects were the Student Directories, the "Toys for Tots" campaign, the Christmas door-decorating contest, two hootenannies, Now-or-Never Week, and the All-School Queen coronation. Many dances were given by the Student Council, including the Howdy Hop, Christmas Dance, Now-or-Never Dance, and the dance following the All-School Queen coronation.

The annual Student Council banquet ended a prosperous year for the NHS Student Council. The new officers who were announced at this banquet have a hard job ahead living up to the work done by this year's council.

Activity Is Key For Student Council

Student Council members listen attentively as Mr. Bert Corr expresses his opinion.

"Put the toys back, I need to put this lid on the box," Linda Franklin tells Lisa Kimrey, Cindy Waterbury, and Steve Sutton as they prepare for the "Toys for Tots" campaign.

The officers and sponsors of the 1966 Paint Daubers were Barbara Wender, President; Karen Mauldin, Vice-President; and Judy Bever, Secretary-Treasurer.

Smiling with their playmate are Cheryl Wilcox, Rita Mauldin, Tim Barrow, Martha Feuerborn, Susan Sovick, and Ann Adams.

Artists Achieve Goals

The 1966 Paint Daubers under the leadership of Mrs. Shirley Calkins had a very eventful year.

The Paint Daubers showed their talents in the all-school musical, "The King and I." Some of the props they made were the dragon, the buddha, the dogs, and the back drop. The club had projects during the Christmas season for several rest homes. The members also went on several field trips to art galleries. The organization had several parties and presented slides and speakers to entertain other classes.

"So what if they won't talk to me," thinks Mary Eve Beckett as Mary Bertalan and Gail Snyder conceal their secret at a Paint Daubers meeting.

Art Classes Win Honors

Norman High's art classes worked hard in achieving their goals during the year 1965-66. They were guided by Mrs. Shirley Calkins and carried out many worthwhile projects.

The "Picture of the Week," props and scenery for the Senior, Junior and Sophomore Variety Show, and the props for the school play were just a few of the many worthwhile projects. These gave the NHS students the opportunity to view and realize what the art students were achieving in this productive course.

The students took much pride in their work and achieved an appreciation for, and the realization of, modern art world.

The first hour class consisted of Nancy Huneke, Vicki Grotts, Dale Adams, Rita Mauldin, Dick Hill, Carlos Droescher, Judy Bever, Debbie Stokes, Charlotte Anderson, and Betty Loeffelholz.

The third hour consisted of Joan Morehead, Christie Irons, Larry Joe Pyle, Connie Nutt, Cindy Dittrich, Erin Donahue, Joan Gregory, Lance Tarr, and Susan Sovick.

The second and fourth hours consisted of Becky Wade, Barbara Adams, Gail Munde, Clyde Jacobs, Martha Feuerborn, Mary Bertalan, Rob Ampacher, Allan Proctor, and Darrell Bennett.

La Parisienne

Officers of the 1966 "La Parisienne" were Steven Sutton, parliamentarian; Jill Kendali, vice-president; Wanda Reedy, president; Rita Stewart, reporter and Steve Hobbs, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Peterson offers the valuable advice of a sponsor in a French club meeting.

In order to create immediate interest, "La Parisienne" first sponsored a hootenanny-mixer at Ann Powell's house. A highlight of the evening was the club's officers singing French folk songs.

Mrs. Peterson, sponsor; Wanda Reedy, president; Jill Kendall, vice-president; Steve Hobbs, secretary-treasurer; Rita Stewart, reporter and Steve Sutton, parliamentarian, headed all committees and gave the club excellent leadership and sponsorship.

Other activities during the year included a Christmas Carol party and a February banquet.
