We've sure moved around

We, the class of 1969, fully aware of the revolutionary and unique age in which we live in do hereby pledge the following:

We, as determined individuals, realize that we must face the responsibilities and duties of our society: through we are not fully prepared to do so. With God's help and the strength from knowledge we have acquired, we shall strive to accept responsibilities as adults.

Realizing that facing responsibilities is not enough, we must pledge to think of others. We cannot think wholly of ourselves—our needs, our hopes, our aims, our pleasures—but must seek to assist others in their struggle through life. To this end, we solemnly assert that we shall always remain aware of those around us.

We shall accept our place in community not only with pride but with deep humility. Understanding that not only a small part of the total society: we shall strive to be an essential part. We shall gladly offer our assistance whenever it is required in the hope of further bettering our society.

In conclusion, we assert a deep concern for ourselves and our community. We cannot promise success, but we can and do promise determined, intelligent action toward the accomplishment of all we have pledged.

Favorite memories -The 1965 football season

Mr. Mussleman - Yes or No Boy!

Go-Carting after graduation

Senior Week (especially squirt gun day)

Tom Bevill kissing our homeroom teacher Miss Cheryl Robinson on our last day of class

Barbara Bogert

I remember our skunk float for homecoming and how much fun we had making those silly toilet tissue flowers. It was such an ingenious idea too. Somebody help me out on this - who was responsible for the smoke coming from the skunk?

Also miss all the crazy but "clean" things we use to do, kidnap parties, removing the bushes from a teacher's yard, carrying my mom's Volkswagen bug up on the front lawn. Kids just don't know how to have fun like that today. Boy, do I sound old!

Mary Lou Bogner

loved being part of such a great class...too many memories and too many friends that have gotten lost....

Toni Bonomo

Can't think of any funny memories other than had fun dating in High School and remembering never wearing a coat in the winter because my boyfriend always dropped me off at the door and picked me up. The guys were so attentive to us girls then!

Bill Brownewell

I met my wife at Kathy Liming's 16th birthday party, and later had a class with her taught by Mr. Georgas. The most memorable event in high school was spring break senior year, where we, Kevin Kelly, Denny Summers, Dave Powell, and I went off to Lake Geneva Wisc and ended up in a small resort area in Lake Delavan Wisc. It was a time that I never will forget. Trying to hide the stack of beer cans from the very religious resort owner, Denny's fall down the stairs and other things that will remain our secret...

Karen Busby

I loved the old Morton the best. I remember going to slumber parties, many times at Brenda Hunts, and hanging out with Denise Kuiken. Going to the beach with Gail Ochletree was always a good time. Louise Miera and I were always up to something. My cousin Andrea Seydel and I hung out together, and Barb Schroder is the reason I am with my husband, Jim. She insisted the two of us get together and wouldn't take no for an answer. Thanks Barb! Jim and I have been married 40 years. Throughout my high school years, I did some goofy things and I was always a bit silly, as many of you might remember. Still am that way even now. I remember hanging out at Pow Wow and McDonalds and Frost Top. I recall angora sweaters, steady rings wrapped in angora, pegged leg pants, big hair and trips to Janc for chocolate phosphates. My first job was at Dunkinburger, I worked there with Denise Kuiken and we had a ball. We gave away too many freebies.

Then I carhopped at A&W and even tried working at Bluetop for awhile. Just a lot of fun times and good people.

Not much, I kind of flew under the radar and went through school not much notice, well of course except for Mr. Kurteff, I knew his office well.

-Attending football, basketball games with "the girls" and partying afterward comes to mind.

- -Cruising through the "Blue Top" drive-in on Indianapolis Blvd. as soon as we all could drive to see who was all there.
- -Editing our yearbook and taking those manila envelopes home every night to work on everyone's section spreads.
- -Clothing class w/Mrs. Beth Stier and all that she taught me.

I remember athletic events-cold football games, hot basketball gyms, and rainy baseball fields, dancing at Sherwood Club, cruisin' in the '64 Impala, Miner Dunn, lectures from Mr. Hodson, and warnings from Maury Zlotnik! Too many memories and too many years ago.

Yikes, I had a lot of strange experiences there.

Remember Mr. Kurteff? Yeah, the big Gorilla. Turns out, my dad knew him from the late '50.

So, my first 15 seconds into High School saw me face-to-face with "Big George." I was invited to the principal's office for my "long hair."

My dad, who was always ready to remove my head from my shoulders for anything said that I did in school said, "Why did he send you to his office?"

I thought, "Uh, oh, I'm in big trouble now." Yet, I saw a ray of hope. I guess my dad made a phone call to his office to remind him of "who he was."

After that, I would sit at the monitor's desk, at the beginning of the school day, just inside of the main entrance and watch the guys come in and quickly brush back their hair (remember that - "Two fingers!") Mr. Kurteff would point to them and say, "You - into the office!"

I'd get a look from the other guys like, "What about him - his hair is longer than mine?"

I dunno, I always enjoyed that.

I remember on the senior trip to Washington, DC and New York the girls were told to only wear our dresses when the walked on our tours. During one of the days we had some time to tour by ourselves. Cathy Liming, Linda Hilty, Gail Lovin and I got this great idea to go to Central park and ride bikes. We knew we couldn't do that in dresses so we put on our dress pants, which is all we could wear in those days, rolled up the pant legs, and put on our coats to hide the pants. We left the hotel laughing and giggling about how we fooled everyone and went for a great bike ride in the park. Low and behold after riding for awhile and feeling so happy we spotted one of the teachers in the park. We all thought we were in trouble for wearing the pants that we were told not to wear. Suddenly, he asked us to pose for a yearbook picture! Sure enough when the yearbook came out there we were riding bikes in Central Park with our scandalous pants on.

Too many to list. However, a camping trip after a school dance has to be a memory that sticks out. The names of the guilty will remain anonymous.

Nancy Ireland

Nothing to tell really...I was not very active in school, only had a couple of friends at Morton, most of my friends were from Calumet High, since this is where I transferred from in 1968.

Denny Summers, Dave Powell, Bill Brownewell and I decided to go camping during spring break in the Lake Geneva area. Rain, mud, and flat tires led us to a resort owned by a very religious woman. She made us promise we wouldn't drink. We promised. For the next several days we stacked empty beer cans in the living room that measured 6' high by 8' wide. The woman showed up and Bill took a folding chair and sat in front of the cans to hide them. What a

I remember fondly working on costumes for our play Carousel, signing cords and building floats. If you didn't notice it was all extra curricular things.

Constantly battling with Mr. Ruff over stupid clothes and hair regulations. Frank Racich and I were ditching morning to go to the beach and Miss Virden caught us going out the door. We made up a story that we were on the way to a wake for someone from another school, and she let us go. I was glad to get something out of High School, and that was to get out of High School.

I loved being in Choir and being a cheerleader.

stallion. Obviously it didn't work.

One thing I remember besides the Friday night football games was being in a French class with only girls! There were only 5 or 6 students. I was a second year French student and only girls were students at the time. One I remember was Beth Stewart who was a year ahead of me. I do not remember the teacher's name, but she had a glass eye. (I guess I should look her up in the yearbook).

Louise Miera

As I matured and became a mother I rarely had the time to develop the depth of friendship that I had experienced with my friends during my formative schooling years at Morton and Harding, for which I will always be grateful.

I fondly remember so many things like all the slumber parties we girls had and trading clothes mostly with Karen Busby.

How could anybody forget the ropes Mr. Ruff used to make the guys wear when they had no belt on and the rules for both guys and girls about their hair being 2 fingers above their eyebrows? How could any of us girls forget the nylons we had to wear everyday? My Dad would get so mad at me when he had to go to the store to buy me stockings at 10:00 at night! I snagged and ran those darn hose so much, lol. My Dad was so strict, some of us can remember that too, lol.

I remember staying up late sewing an outfit so that I always had something different to wear. I remember Cherry cokes from Janx Pharmacy, angora that matched the color of our outfit that we girls so tediously wrapped around our boyfriends' rings, which we purchased from the dime store on Kennedy Ave for probably a penny a yard!

I fondly remember ice skating behind the fire station by Harding and at Hessville Park. There was a warming hut which had no windows with the coffee can type stove inside, which allowed us to melt our frozen gloves and bodies. And I will never forget being at the end (only once) when playing crack the whip! I remember the big snowfall we had that one year where I got stuck at Gail Ochiltree's house and had to crawl down Parrish Ave to get home because the snow was so deep. I remember Goldblatts, Robert Hall, my cousin Gary's little blue Corvair, the fabulous music we grew up with such as the Beatles and Simon & Garfunkel. I remember Michael Jackson, whom I shared candy with, at the Battle of the Bands at the Armory. I remember dissecting frogs in Biology class and getting squirted in the eye with formaldehyde by I think Dave Hiduke. I also remember my starter jobs, firstly at Fabulous Hot Dog & Taco on 169th who I thought had the best food in town besides Freddy's or McDonald's, and later where I was a car-hop on roller skates at A&W, whose root beer I am still loyal to! LOL

I chuckle when I think back about my classmates (like Toni Bonomo, whom I sat next to in class) who tried to compete against each other in steno class to see who could write the fastest from dictation. We were writing 120 words per minute in shorthand and trying to go faster! Oh my goodness, was it Toni Standarski or Cathy O'Drobinak whom we just could not beat?

I also remember good ole gym class and the temporary wall separating the boys from the girls where they always peeked in at us. I almost did not graduate because of not dressing out. Those goofy blue uniforms were beyond bizarre! In particular, I remember climbing the rope all the way to the top and being so scared once I got up there that I could hardly make it down.

And... what about the conflict between Sue Swisher and Mr. Ruff in regard to the height of her hair? Her mom was a beautician, come on now!!! Mr. Ruff was rough and tough and the rules he enforced with such enthusiasm and seemingly joy were unforgettable. I have come to realize that if there were more Mr. Ruff's in the school setting today we all might be better off for it, hmmm.

I remember the Washington D.C. trip. We had a lot of fun on the train and viewing the historical sites. The hotel was creepy (old) if I remember correctly. Ahhh, it was a historical building, wasn't it? I was discreetly disappointed at having to sleep there, I remember that. I wish I had a copy of the pic to share with you all that Laura Luketic took of all of us girls at the veteran/flag memorial sculpture in D.C., it was a good one.

Finally, I remember the Vietnam War and how frightened I was when we graduated and the draft was in place. I felt strange and unusual, uncertain, and very worried. This was my first real world tragic experience and when my friends went to Vietnam and some did not return I took it very hard and still think of them today. When we were in school I had no idea, in my sheltered little world, that life could possibly be so difficult. This was an awkward and curious time and has left a strong memory for me also.

Mostly, I have many wonderful memories from my school years, which have given me a strong foundation and great respect for genuine and quality friendship. It was good to be a part of this group. We were just good kids, ya know?

Katherine Moery I'll have to think on this one

Druanne Paswinski One of my best friends in high school and now, Margie (Padilla) Kendall shared the same terrible near-sightedness. In our junior and senior years, we both blindly went through the hallways of Morton without our glasses. "Vanity vanity, all things are vanity" We only wore our glasses in class. Of course, we ran into people and things, more than once went into the boys' washroom by mistake. Did that make us wear our glasses?noooooooooo. Of course, now I do wear my glasses all the time, but I did pay more to get the no line bifocals and the thinner lenses. Vanity yet again won out. Some things never change.

Gary Phillips Senior Ditch Day At The Dunes

David Sadewasser Don Garmany making GarmoSeltzer (the all purpose chem lab cleaner) in the back of Dr. Pettersen's chemistry class still makes me laugh to remember it.

One vivid memory was building our Senior Homecoming float (Skunk 'em) at Cindy Kaufman's, catching Junior Kenny Stump spying, brutally egging and flouring him in the field across the street, the juniors retaliating and then having a running egg fight with them in our cars through the streets of Hessville. The only reason we all got caught was that in all the confusion someone egged an unmarked cop car by mistake. Principal Becker was really pissed at us. It was really a blast. At Homecoming I had the honor of being Laura Luketic's escort for the Homecoming court.

The last semester of high school I met for the first time my future wife, Alice, in the one class we had together in our four years at MHS. Even though we had many of the same friends and acquaintances we had not met before that class. Forty years later we are still happy together.

At the same time I was honored to be named the track team captain with my good buddy Rudy Skorupa named the MVP of the team.

I can't remember any story in particular, just that it all was over too fast

Thaddeus Wleklinski

There were many school stories, some crazy and some not so crazy. The one which stands out right now goes back to the 1959 Studebaker Lark my sister Bunny and I drove. She would put gas into it and I'd drive it dry.

Anyway, after one basketball game some kids piled into it for a ride back. Everything went Ok! We stopped at a place to eat and went inside. We were in the restaurant for 2 hours. Upon returning to my car I noticed the windows looked fogged-up. Getting closer to it I could see it wasn't fog, it was smoke. One person had smoked in the car (remember Kelly).

What happened an ash from the cigarette fall on to the front seat and started to smolder. Being gone from the car for 2 hours, it really tookoff.

By the time we got back to it, half the front seat was smoldering. So, what happened next was legendary. Two fire-extinguishers from the restaurant did not work. Next the water started flowing. We dumped buckets of water on the fire. The car was soaked. Next, someone brings out a knife and we proceed the cut-up the front seat and dump more buckets of water on it, through it.

Hell, the next day the gas peddle was frozen. My dad was pissed!!! I was only grounded for a month. It wasn't my fault.
