NINETEEN SIXTY-ONE

ST. MARY'S IN ST. LOUIS

This is our school
and our city.

St. Mary's helps to lay the foundations of modern society
by leading men to the truths

vital for eternal salvation,
the knowledge
necessary for their vocation,
the wisdom
to live peacefully with others,
and

the learning
to appreciate a culturally
full life.
St. Louis

provides the environment
in which men find
their occupation or profession,
the companionship of other men,
and the institutions
which further
cultural development.

Together
our school and our city
aid us in achieving
the Good Life.

Dedication

BROTHER EUGENE JANSON, S.M.
Vice-Principal and Registrar

To brother Eugene Janson, S.M., on the occasion
of his
twenty-fifth anniversary
as a consecrated Son of Mary
and a devoted educator,
this yearbook
is respectfully dedicated.

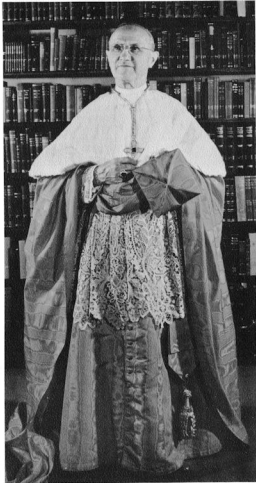

Administration

A handwritten signature in dark ink, likely belonging to Brother William Kennealy, S.M. The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above the text on the right page.

The faculty and students of St. Mary's Parish High School
extend prayerful felicitations
to His Eminence
Joseph Cardinal Ritter
on the occasion of his elevation
to the Sacred College of Cardinals

Above: E. Haevelhorst, surrounded by various "subjects d'art," plunges his hands into a muddy lump of clay.

Below: J. Messina reproduces a portrait of one of the club's heroes as B. Harman, S. Ribols, and M. Noel gaze on in critical appraisal.

Below: E. Nuck and R. Kuehlerberger prepare to begin a sketch while G. Ruzicka and M. Hughes admire the finished picture on a blank sheet of paper.

Below: G. Ruzicka, M. Uvinski, J. Ulmas, J. Messina, E. Haevelhorst, and B. Yates all pitch in on a project. They seem to have forgotten the old adage, "Too Many cooks . . ."

The Pit And

M. Macbok, president of the Fine Arts Club, puts the finishing touches on one of his charcoal sketches. The Club, under the able direction of Mrs. Xavier Hargrett, designed and built the sets for the "Young F" plays.

The Pendulum

Broadway-bound Eric Ekhardt upstages sneaky Mike Stoltz in Ben Jonson's comedy "The Alchemist."

Above: Steve Anstey and Tom Grady portray common rabble in that Broadway hit, "The Alchemist." To find his way across the stage Grady wears his glasses. Below: "Look! It's a bird, it's a plane, it's . . ." exclaims John Schmeihl to Mike Letter and Mike Stoltz.

Jim Reedy, Bill Biedenstein, Mike McDonald, and Jack Letter make their debut on the legitimate stage in the dramatic play "Minor Miracle."

"Does she or doesn't she?" speculates Epicure Mammou as he admires the golden tresses of Gary Simon (alias the Duchess).

Greg Stoltz (stage manager), George Bergard (electrician), and Rich Flanagan (Prompter) watch their productions intently.

Editor J. Weiss contemplates removal of his hand which, accidentally, has been glued to page 2.

Yearbook

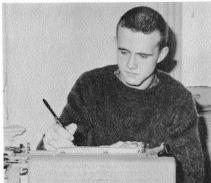

B. Aurin diligently types up captions for pictures. Unfortunately, there was no ribbon in the machine at the time.

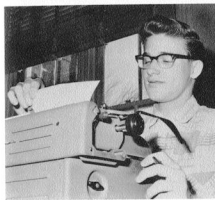

G. Eachmann snickers as M. Stoltz glues E. Eckhardt's scissors shut. This triumvirate is responsible for many of the so-called "humorous" captions scattered through this book.

Above: B. Eigelberger dictates to T. Grady: "Now is the time for all good men Below: T. McNamara, chief typist, pecks away at a steady clip of 15 words a minute and no errors.

Upper Left: News editor D. Schmitt says, "Don't look at me. I didn't write this."
Top: Sports editor E. Eckhardt remarks, "This writing is really great!"
Left: "I wonder if they'll get this", say M. Letter as he edits the features section.

Top — FEATURE WRITERS: Front Row: R. Aurin, M. McDonald, G. Gramlich, P. Ryan. Back Row: L. Topolski, M. Ueinski, M. Stoltz, W. Biedenstein.

Inserting film carrier are S. Armbruster and R. Nack.

Art Club

Top: D. Weiss uses the ultramodern, completely-automatic printer which silently stamps out small green slips of paper with pictures of various presidents on them (Dave is so patriotic).

Bottom: G. Mantra and J. Weckback silk-screen napkins and invitations for the "Enchanted Island" prom. The Art Club is responsible for the ingenious decorations at all dances.

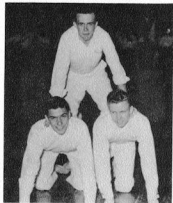

Front Row: M. Banbach, R. Gibson, E. Heil, D. Leonard. Second Row: J. Mantra, D. Weiss, G. Burgard. Third Row: J. Weckback, M. Stolz, R. Flanagan. Fourth Row: B. Birmingham, T. Grady. Fifth Row: J. Prag, G. Eschmann, R. Aurin, J. Weiss, President.

Left: E. Heil and his styrofoam cutter are one of the many attractions to be seen in the Art Room. However, only official club members are permitted to view this stupendous, "Geek-whid!" demonstration. Below: J. Ready and friend attempt to get M. Banbach, G. Burgard, and B. Birmingham to serve them some soda. But the trio seem to be interested in other things — like the camera.

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders, groaning under the excess weight, force a smile as a pyramid is formed.

R. Tuhrro tries to choke G. Eschmann as E. Eckhardt, T. Roush, and R. Sawczuk try to pose for the camera.

J. Richardson, R. Sawczuk, T. Roush, E. Eckhardt and R. Tuhrro pay close attention to their instructor, Bro. O. Xavier Hargott, as he gives them important directions.

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar; All for St. Mary's, stand up and holler!"

Pep Band

J. Volansky leads the spirited Pep Band which has faithfully supported both the Football and Basketball teams.

Debate

T. Loandy presents the affirmative's case on this year's topic "Resolved that the U.N. be significantly strengthened."

M. Stolz presents the negative reasons why the U.N. should not be significantly strengthened."

Moldest E. Eckhardt seems to be rather confident and happy as he proceeds on to a debate victory.

"My friends, if I'm elected..." M. Letter declares as he begins his negative rebuttal with a familiar sound.
