

English Classes

April 1968

Take Field Trip

by Carol Handy

Members of the senior English classes at Clarke County High School will again be taking a field trip to see a play which they have studied in their senior literature course.

The seniors will attend the play "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith on Saturday, April 27. The play will be presented at the recently opened Ford's Theater in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Lloyd Loope, senior English teacher at CCHS, and Miss Ruth Gue, ninth grade English teacher at CCHS, will accompany the seniors.

Since they are familiar with the play, the seniors hope to be able to concentrate also on the acting techniques, the sets, and the production aspects of the play. This has proved to be a most valuable approach on the seniors' previous field trips to see "The School for Wives" by Moliere and the Wayside Theater's selected scenes from Shakespeare's "Macbeth."