

Miss Handy Wins Forensic Meeting

Carol Handy, a junior at Clarke County High School, took all honors when she won first place in the State Forensics Contest at the University of Virginia on May 5. Miss Handy, who placed first in the girl's public speaking division, gave a talk on the injustice in today's courts.

Others participating in the state meet from CCHS were Barry Wood who placed second in the boy's prose, and Rachel Pierce who was in the girl's poetry division. The group was accompanied to Charlottesville by Mrs. Millard Bushong and Mrs. Alice Looper, both English teachers at CCHS.
