

School History

Just as it is important for high school students to know the history of their country, the editors of the Lowrey Light feel that it is important that the students know the history of their school. So that Lowrey's students will be better informed as to the development of their high school, the Lowrey Light will present a four part story on the history of Lowrey High.

The education of youth is the surest foundation of happiness. So said Benjamin Franklin. On this basis are built the principles of Harvey H. Lowrey, Dearborn, Michigan.

The school opened in 1928, and was named after Harvey H. Lowrey, Superintendent of Dearborn schools at that time. His hope for the future lay in the faith that an education should be an essential goal for the young people of America. Only half its present size, Lowrey still housed students from kindergarten through junior high, including a large department devoted to the education of handicapped children.

Within the next year, Lowrey doubled its size in building additions, but yet there was not adequate room for the ever increasing enrollment which in 1935 was 1,932 pupils. The faculty numbered 48 members only a handful of which are still teaching at Lowrey. Heading the staff was Mr. John Tenny, principal.

During those early years, the nation was in the depths of the depression. It was at this time that Lowrey acquired the statue of its mascot, the Polar Bear, which still stands in the school's main hall. The man who sculptured the statue was assigned by the W.P.A., an organization set up by the government to aid the unemployed. Even before the acquisition of the Polar Bear, the junior high students adopted the school colors, still used today, red and gray. In 1931, a 9th grade boy Ed Riewe, with the help of Mr. Coedy, wrote the school song, "The Champions."

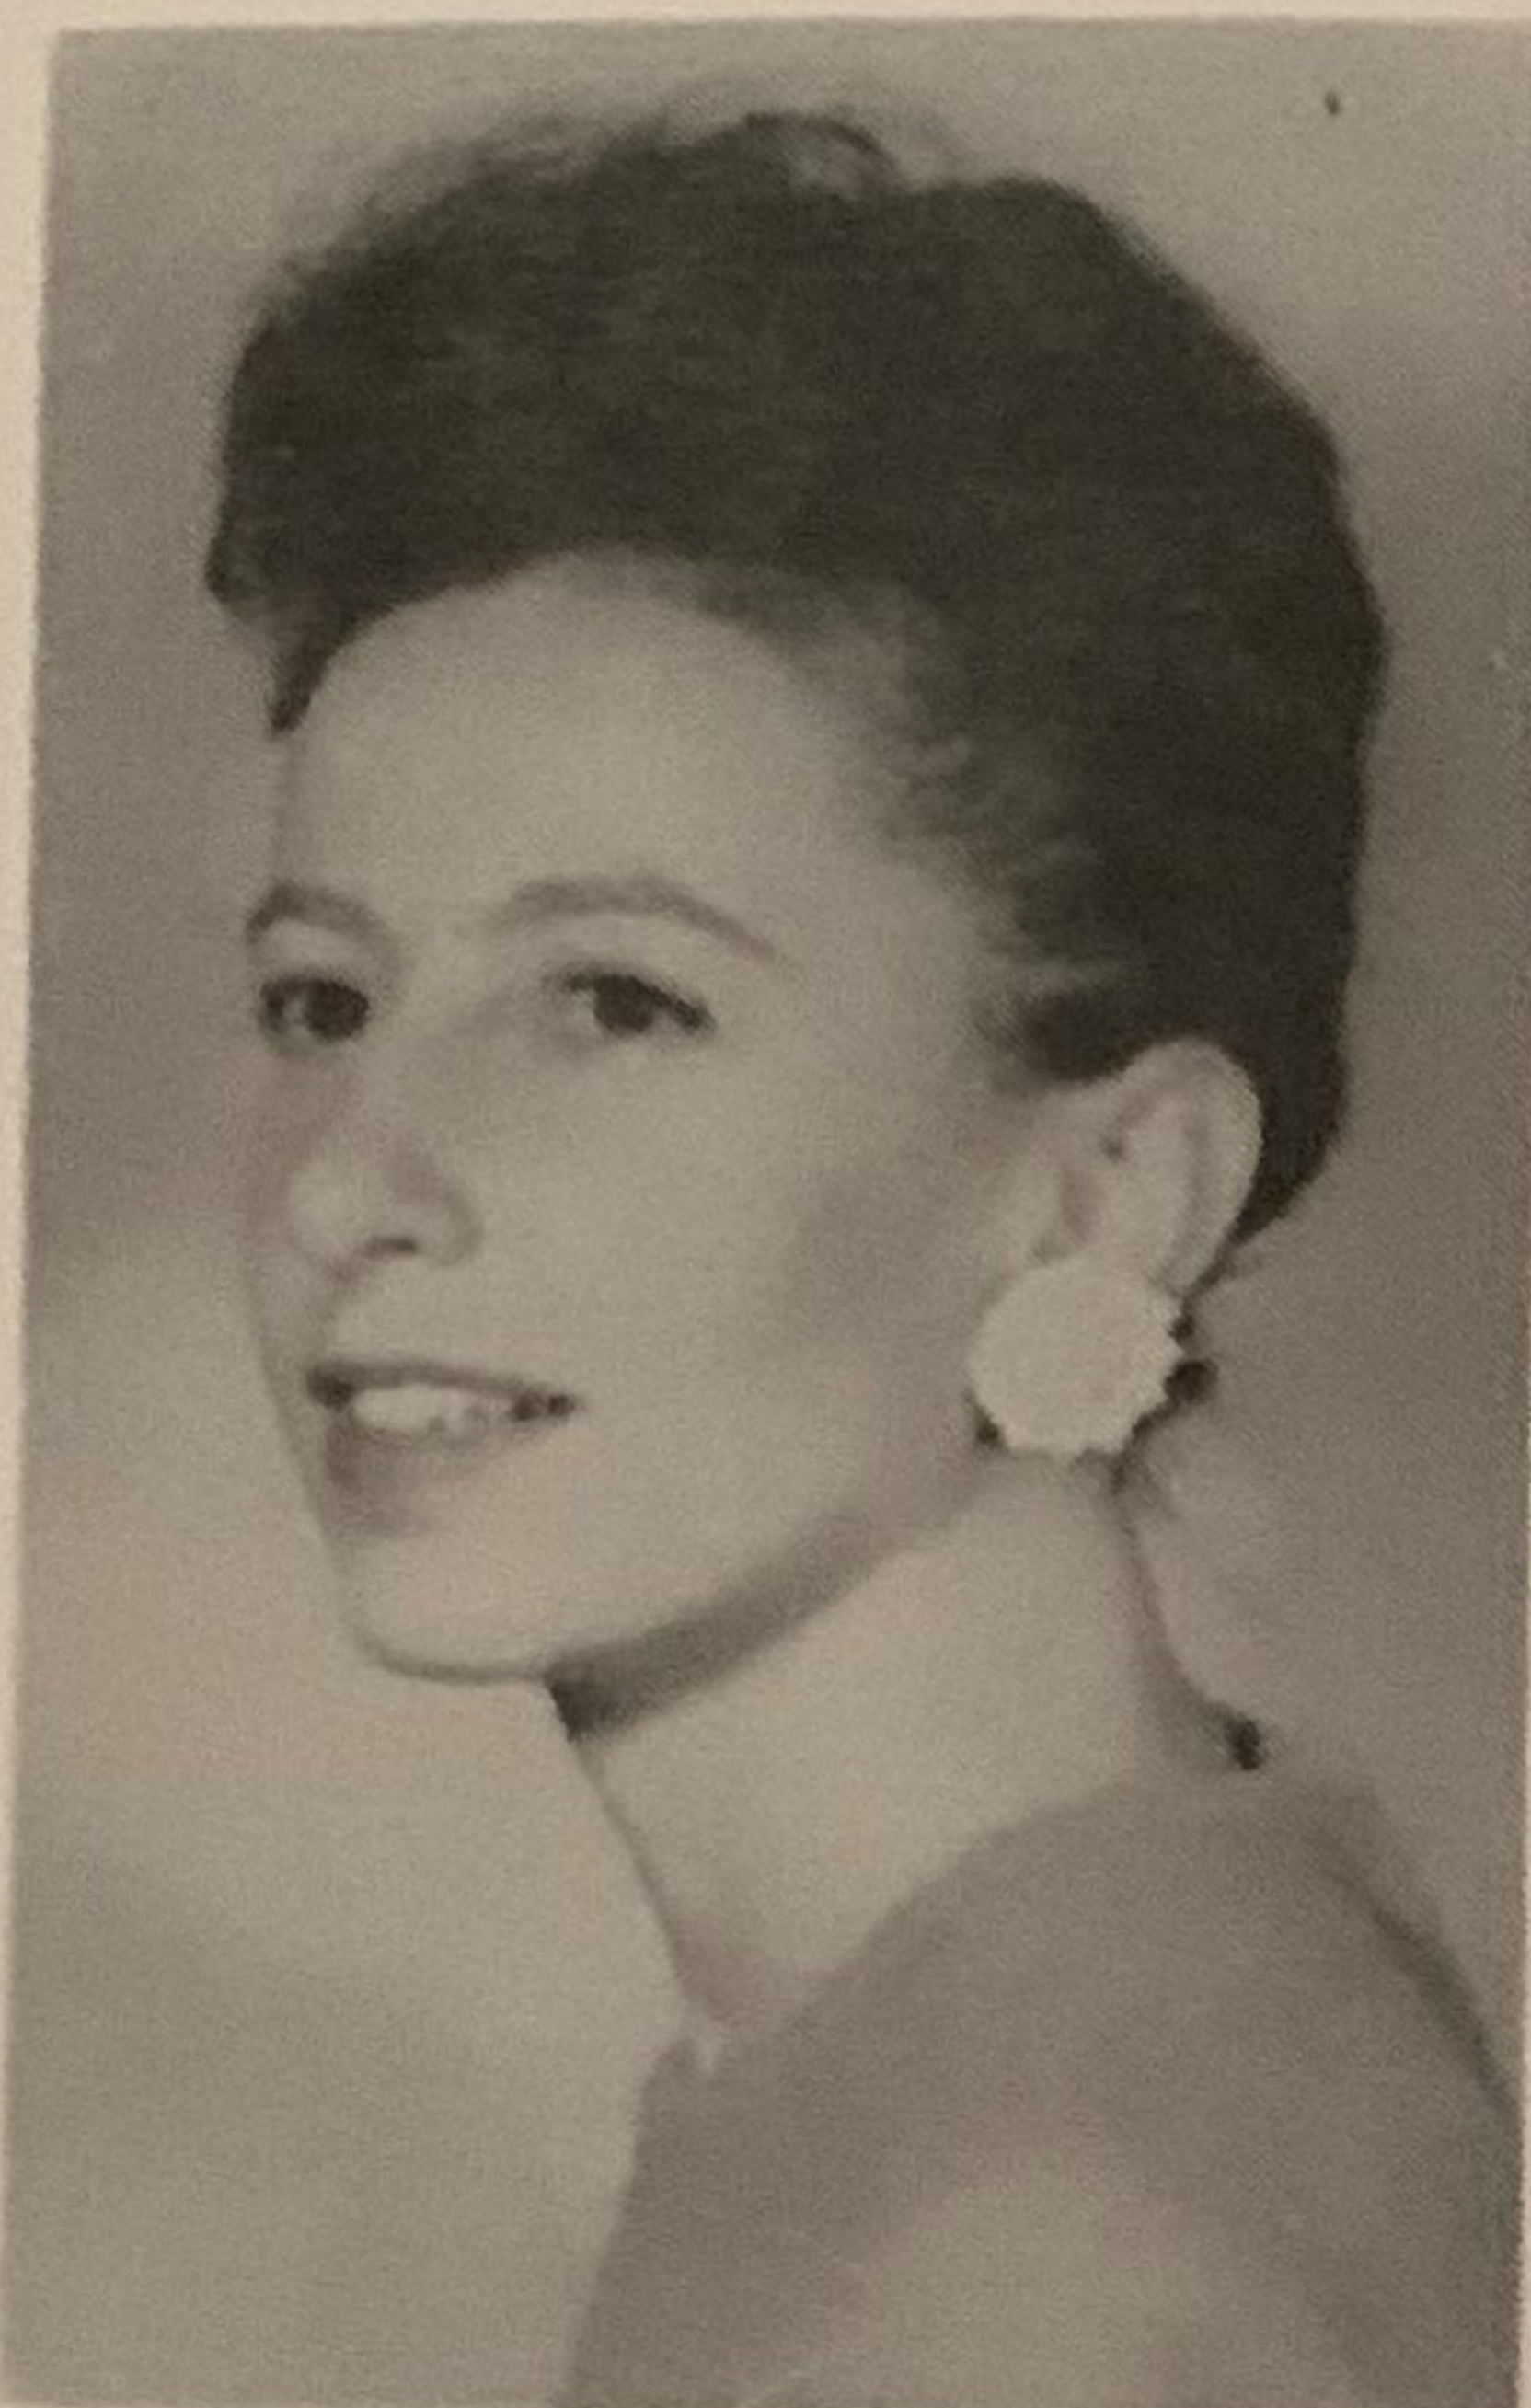

Also, it was then that one of Lowrey's oldest traditions, the Armistice Day Program, was initiated. On Armistice Day morning, the elementary and junior high students gathered around the flag pole in services commemorating those killed in W.W.I. After W.W.II. and the Korean conflict, the services were especially dedicated to those students from Lowrey who gave their lives for their country.

Mrs. Margerate Duren, an elementary teacher at Lowrey during the school's early history, had this to say about the differences in

Farewell Mrs. Montanero

Mrs. Pearl Montanero, the office manager, will be leaving soon to take up a new position as a secretary at Snow Elementary School. During her first seven years here at Lowrey she did budget work; for the past four years, she has maintained her present position, making herself an important member of the administrative staff.

Mrs. Montanero has greatly enjoyed working at Lowrey and said of her departure, "I know that nowhere will I find another group of people who will be so warm and friendly. These have been eleven memorable years." A co-worker of hers, Mrs. Kay Marinelli, said that the years she had worked with Mrs. Montanero had truly been enjoyable ones and that Mrs. Montanero's absence would leave a deep void in her heart. Mr. Romanow, too, commented, saying, "We are truly sorry to see her go and do wish her well, but we will miss her."

Good luck at Snow School Mrs. Montanero.

teaching then and now. "The attitudes of grade school children toward learning has changed a little during the last few years. One of the few differences, however, is that the things taught in the various grades run in cycles. Also, more emphasis is now placed on languages than in the past."

Lowrey's special education department grew rapidly in the middle thirties. Associated with the department was the school's first physician, Dr. Edwin E. Hubbard, who faithfully served a greater part of his life in the Dearborn system. At his death a tree was planted in the front lawn in his memory.

Prom Progress

Members of the Senior Class of 1965 have been making plans for the Senior Prom which is to be held on Saturday, June 12.

At the present time, the class officers are pricing studios and professional photographers. At the prom, couples who wish to have their pictures taken may do so.

An entirely new idea has been thought of. It concerns those that would not have a date — A Date Bureau! The process is simple — just turn in your name and the selected teachers (not known as yet) will do their best to find you an appropriate date. Last year only 65% of the seniors turned out. This year lets make it 100%.

Tickets are priced at $2.50 with activity tickets and $3.00 with one or no activity tickets. Alumni cards will be accepted as an activity ticket.

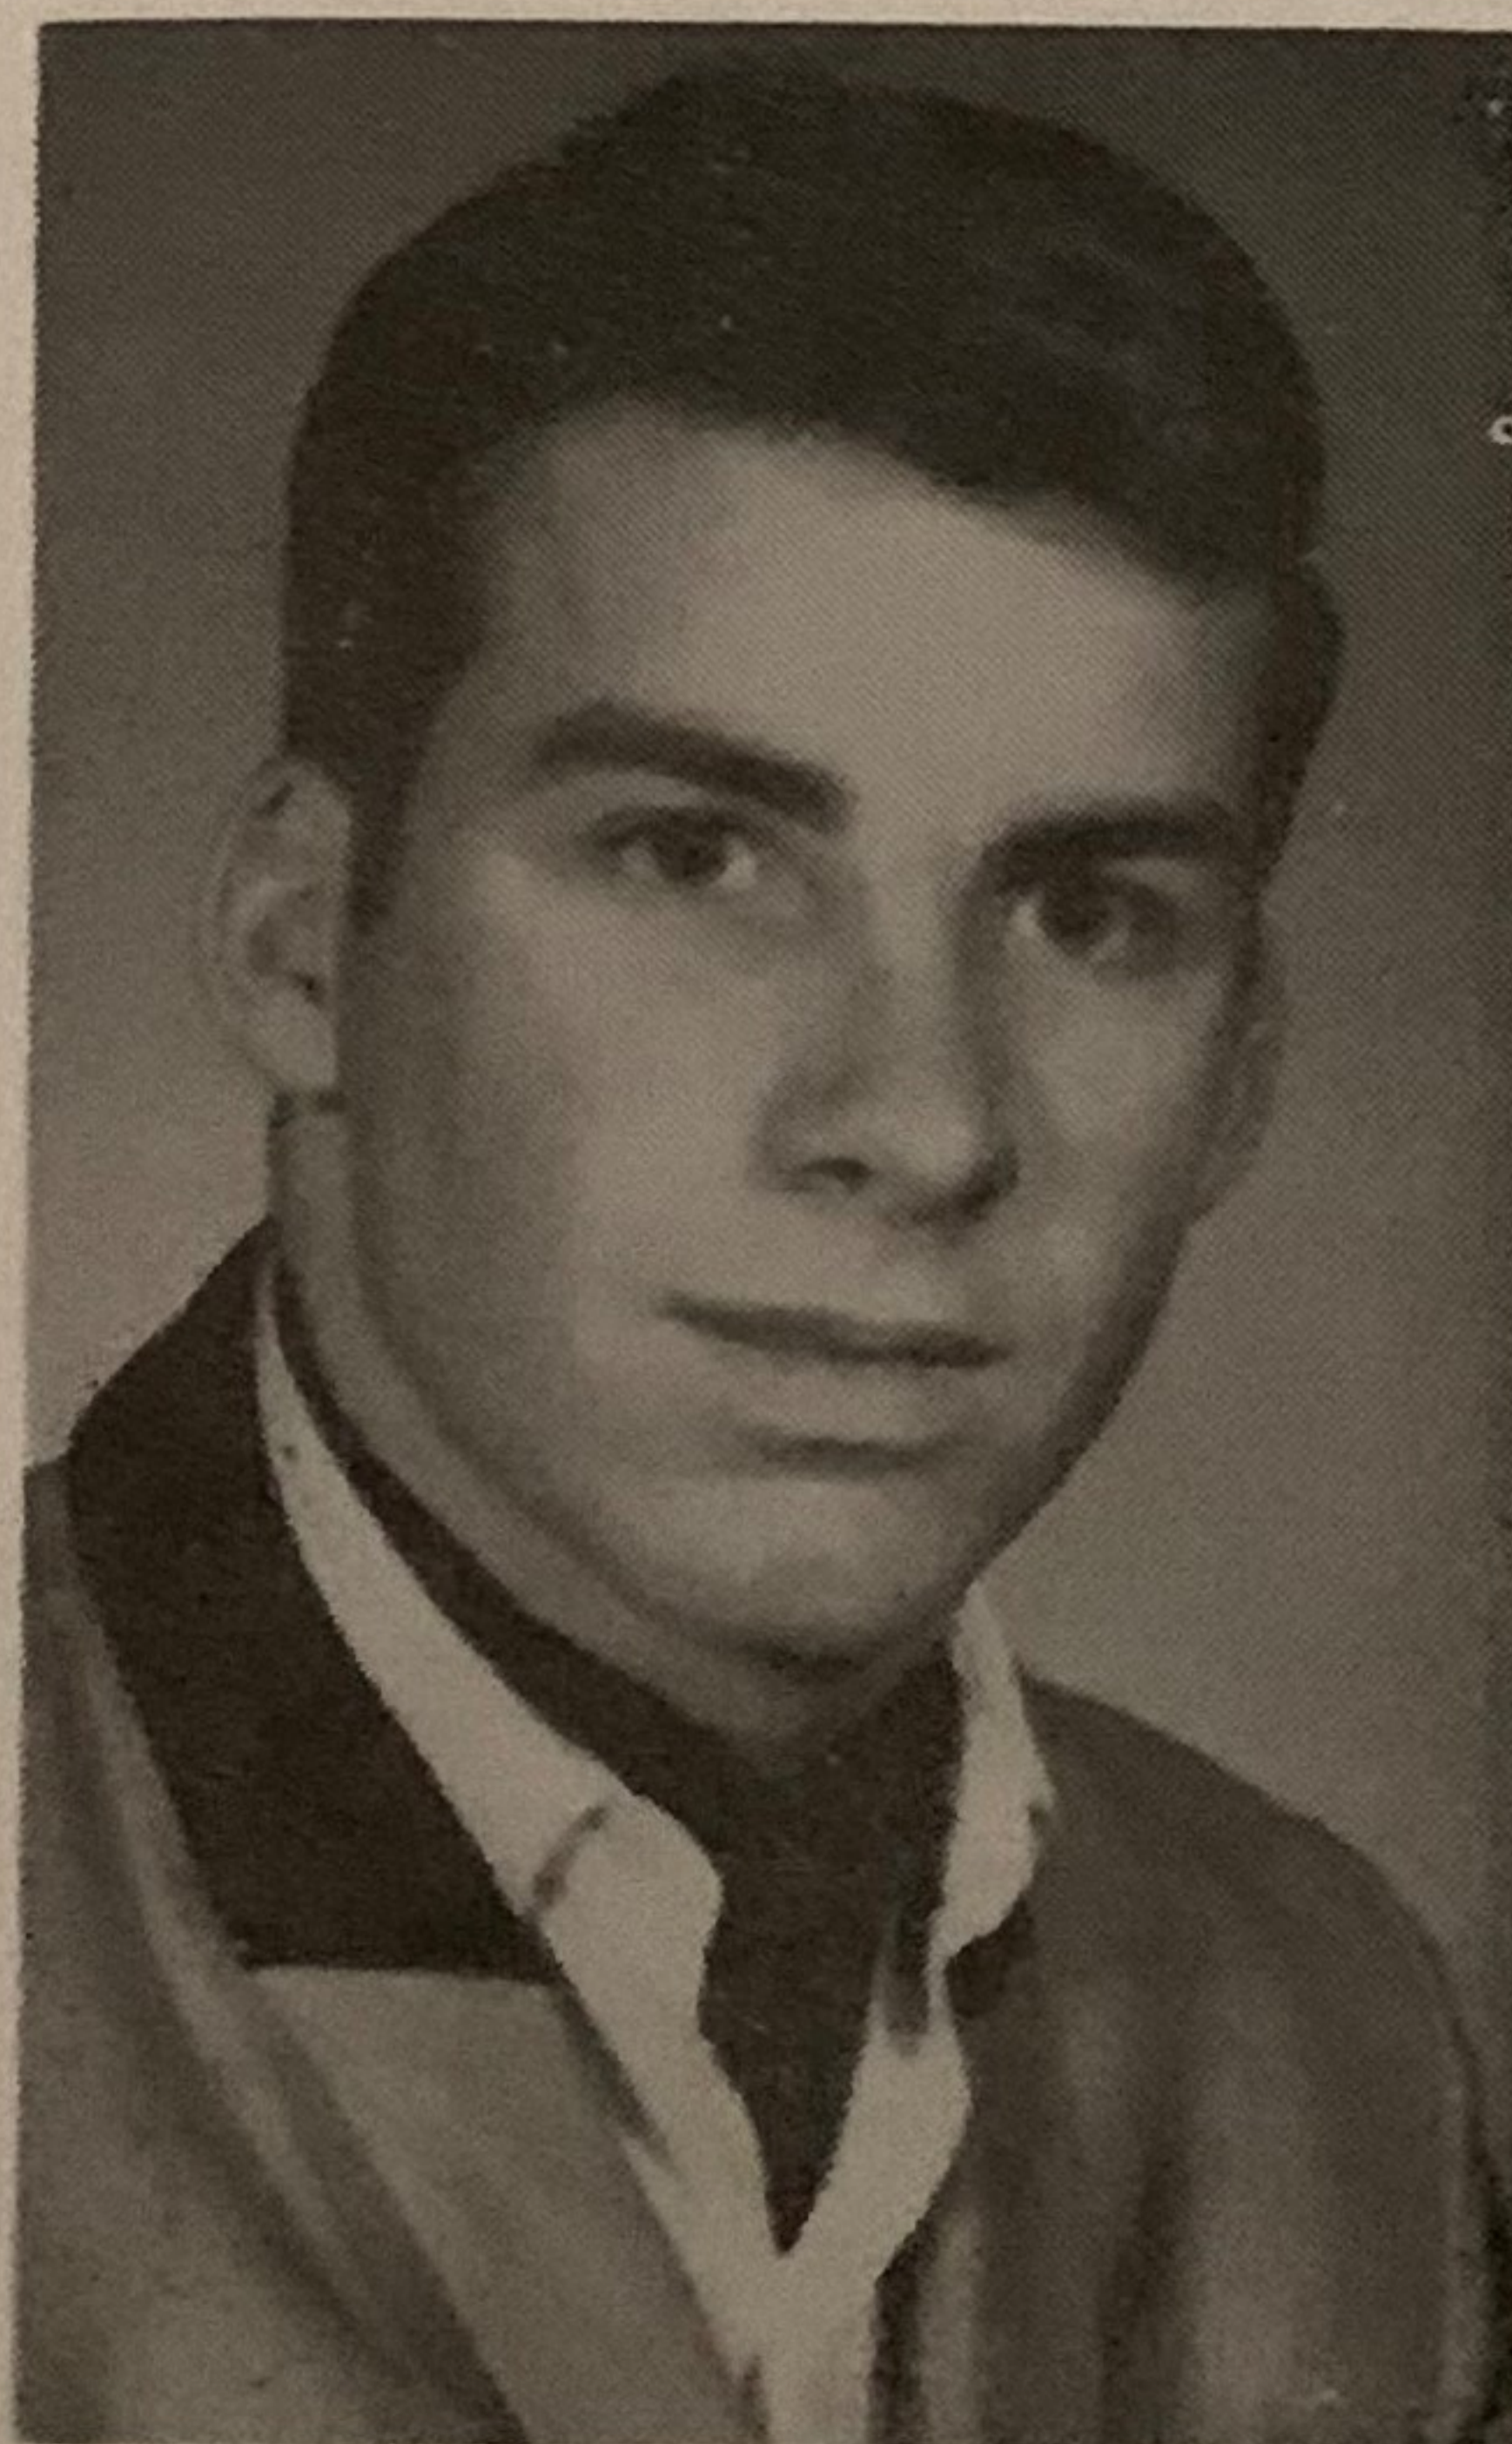

The contract with the Johnny Lambert Band, six pieces total, has been returned with the Band's acceptance.

On Saturday, Feb. 13, the class officers met and discussed the various expenses of the prom.

A suggestion box will be placed in the 2nd floor main lobby for Seniors to deposit any suggestion that they may have for the prom. Seniors are urged to make suggestions. Last year's theme was "Moments to Remember."

The prom will be a success only with the help of all the Seniors.

Two Earn All A's

Pictured above is Jan Wissmuller, one of the two juniors who received all A's on the final marking period of last semester. Also receiving all A's was William Holbird whose picture, unfortunately, was not available at the time this paper went to press. Congratulations for work very well done.

Bits 'n' Pieces

The "LHS-65" pins ordered by popular demand, came in on February 11, and were distributed to the twenty-six members of the Senior Class. The total number of pins sold with this order is 300.

Are you interested in the Marine Corps? If you are, you now can collect all the information you'd like from your counselors.

Here are the winners in the Junior High G.A.A. table tennis tournaments:

1st place, Pat Giassinger and Cheryl Gochanour 9A with a 24 won and 0 lost record. Janice Waytes 9A with a 21 win and 3 lost record placed second.

February the 9th, Class Group pictures of the Sophomores, Club pictures, and Faculty pictures were taken.

"A lot of fun and a worthwhile experience" is the way Lowrey's cheerleaders described the practice they had with Edsel Ford cheerleaders at their school. During the session the girls exchanged tips on cheerleading and practiced different routines.

Representing Lowrey High School were: Marsha Brisbin, Sharon Char, Donna Daley, Carol Lake, Jean Sawicki, and Dorthy Thompson. The meeting was held at Edsel Ford on February 8.

On February 9, there was an assembly for all Senior High baseball candidates. The meeting was held in the Little Theater. All prospective team members received physical examination cards and an information slip.

The information required from each student was last semesters schedule and grades, this semesters schedule, and most important, the favorite position of each candidate.

"Sugar and Spice" was the theme of the dance held right after school on Friday, February 12. This dance was sponsored by the Junior High Student Council. Coke and chips were sold.

A's in 9A

The following 9A students made all A's on their report cards for the first semester: Linda Bembem, Randy Brooks, Cheryl Cochoanour, Carl Brenner, John Luchini and Diane McFarlane.

Future Teachers Club

Alyse Satoh and Phyllis Wilkinson, officers of last year's Future Teacher Club came back to F.T.A. for a visit February 2. Alyse, a freshman at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, and Phyllis, a freshman at Central Michigan in Mt. Pleasant, are planning to become early elementary teachers. They experiences to tell the club about.

In a question and answer period the girls both agreed that college life is a lot different from high school. They also agreed, however, that due to the friendly atmospheres which exist at Central and Western, they have made many new friends and acquaintances.

Thespian Cited

Thespian Troupe 215 has welcomed ten Lowrey students to the National Thespian Society. They are:

Diane Brock, 10A-2
Susan Dworakowski, 12A-1
Carol Evenchuch, 11A-4
Sallye Herndon, 10A-5
Ernest Husted, 10A-6
Joan Houle, 12A-4
Diane Koon, 12A, who recently moved to Florida
Jerry Morgan, 10A-8
Nancy Sterling, 12A-11

The initiation of the new members was held on February 10, 1965, in the Little Theatre. The new members put on skits and served refreshments after the initiation ceremony.

Members of Thespian Troupe 215, a segment of the National Thespian Society, receive a Thespian magazine and newsletter, have a loan service, an annual dinner and are nationally recognized by the Society. To become a Thespian requires many hours of theatrical interest and activity.

Do You Cheat ?

Have you ever found yourself in a situation when you begin letting your eyes wander to your neighbors paper in class? Or when you just can't find time to do your own homework, so you get it from your pal? Then you say, "Well I'm not cheating, I just couldn't do it myself." Your guessing wrong — this is cheating!

Recently there has been a cheat scandal at the Air Force Academy. There are, at the present time, 105 cadets resigning because of this scandal. Altogether 40 of these boys were athletes. So you see, even the best of students can't always be honest.

In a recent edition of a local paper there was an article on one of the boys from the academy. In the article it showed how on different occasions this boy found his elders cheating. This started from the time he was six years old up till the time he cheated in the academy. As these little occurrences went along, each of the elders repeated to him, "It's OK kid, everybody does it." Cheating is not exclusively the students fault, in most cases it has come from some older person down the line. In quite a few cases it is frequently the parents who set this bad example.

The solution to this is for all students to really study and keep their minds open for their studies and just forget about that little, easy to do thing called cheating.

Try it sometime, study and take a test without cheating.

Secretarial Practice

The girls in Mrs. Sturgis' third and fifth hour secretarial practice classes are not only learning but also putting into practice the basic fundamentals of office work. Every Wednesday, they dress in heels and appropriate office attire. Each week every girl is rated by her classmates and Mrs. Sturgis on her dress, accessories, make-up, hairstyle, and posture. These comments and suggestions will be given to the student for her own benefit.

Faculty members are invited to stop in on the third and fifth hour classes any Wednesday. Their comments on the girls will be appreciated. Mrs. Sturgis' comment on her girls: "Even though the girls complain about wearing heels their attitude is excellent. I am very proud of them."

To aid in obtaining jobs after high school graduation, the girls are presently preparing folders containing personal data sheets, applications, and copies of their best work. In the near future they plan to visit an executive office for a tour and possibly a meeting with one of the company representatives.

Inter - school Activities

New attempts are being made this year to improve the city's inter-school relations.

The Dearborn High School Recreation Council is planning a dance at the Youth Center to honor the city athletes who have received recognition during the season. Lowrey will be sending representatives to prepare for the dance at meetings with Dearborn High, Divine Child, Edsel Ford, Fordson, Sacred Heart and St. Alphonsus.

In order to publicize their activities, the high schools of Dearborn are making an inter-school calendar. This calendar will consist of athletic events, concerts, and plays which students from other schools may attend. The high schools hope that this calendar may arouse more inter-school interest, co-operation, and participation.

Nothing multiplies so much as kindness.

Band Plays For Junior High

Lowrey's senior high concert band went to O. W. Best on Wednesday, February 10, to present their annual band assembly. The program consisted of "Michigan Marching Forward," "Cole Porter Selection," "Adagio and Parantella" featuring a solo by Mark McFarlane, followed by "A Lullaby for a Naughty Girl" conducted by student conductor Art Laberdier. "Prombero," "Blues in the Band" featuring the Lowrey High Majorettes, "Hello Dolly" conducted by Mr. Mussin who is the band teacher at O. W. Best. The program ended with Highlights from "Exodus" and "Shortnin Bread" as an encore. Mr. Keranen said, "The audience that we played for was one of the best behaved and the most responsive. The band played well in both assembly programs."

New Teacher

Lowrey has another new teacher this semester. Mrs. Sidge joined the staff on Monday, February 1st. She is now the teacher for the Orthopedic Department, replacing Mrs. Henry who left in December. Mr. Calahan has been the class's teacher up until now, he left because he was given a graduate scholarship by Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Sidge graduate from Chadsey High School and from Wayne State University. She has a Bachelor of Science Degree, with a major in Special Education, in orthopedics and a minor in Social Studies.

When asked if she has a pet peeve she answered, "I don't like a hippocrate."

In a student Mrs. Sidge looks for co-operation and interest in his studies, and what she dislikes most is a student who has the ability to do well but does not use it.

"After subbing for nine years, I can't get used to the idea of being an 'everyday' teacher, but because I have subbed here so many times, this school seems like home," concluded Mrs. Sidge.

Future Teachers

The Future Nures Club is now busy planning some activities for the remainder of the school year.

At the meeting held on Tuesday, February 9, the club made final arrangements for their carnation sale held on Friday, February 12. There were two committees. One was for decorations, and the other was composed of sellers. Approximately $25.00 was realized as profit from the sale and this money will be used for some worthwhile purpose.

Also at this meeting more pins were ordered, and the open house plans were made final.

A Career in Biology

Do you seek to have one of the most fascinating careers known to man? Do you seek an expanding field of work? And do you seek an occupation that can be financially rewarding if effort is applied to it? If so, then one of the many careers in the field of biology is for you.

Biology is a fascinating field since it deals with life, one of the most fascinating subjects known to man.

Such a broad area of work is offered in biology that it is easy to find a field of interest. One can study a human, a tree, or a virus and choose to make the study of that object his lifework.

Here are samples of the opportunities open in biology. We have the naturalist who concerns himself with conservation; there is the mycologist and bacteriologist who have contributed much to serum therapy, the developing of antibiotics, and to public sanitation and health. The teacher of biology and the research scientist demonstrate other opportunities.

Among the new and expanding career fields in biology are the specializing in biological warfare, the control of epidemic-causing pests and other agents that infect and infest man and beast, and the carrying on of the mass production or improvement of drugs, foods, beverages, antiseptics, cleaning agents and the like. Then we have the nutritionist, the dietician, the animal caretaker or husbandman, the hygienist, and the skilled technician as the examples of the semi-professional level open to individuals with a background in biology.

See what we mean when we say there are a lot of opportunities?

It is required for most careers in biology that you must attend a recognized college for a four-year program of study leading to a bachelor's degree. The major subject, of course, is biology, but you should also have a background in mathematics, chemistry, and physics while you are at college. Top level status in the profession usually requires a master's degree and work toward a doctorate.

Salaries in government work range from $4,000 at the lowest levels to $14,000 at the highest levels. People in large organizations may earn $12,000 to $20,000. School teachers' salaries range from $2,700 to $15,000 or more, depending on the type of the school.

Here we have illustrated opportunities possible. Now we leave you to take your choice, if you choose.

Letter To The Editor School Courtesy — Is it Protected ?

for 12a,s only — dear mr editor on several occasions past i have hammed it up, a bit in communicating with you in the hope that someone might get a smile or 2 or even a chuckle. 'tis true, isn't it, that a sense of humor is the greatest safety-value nature gave the human race? this time, however, i'm playing it straight noontime a few days ago i stood at the elevator on the first floor & waited waited waited — i kept turning the key&waiting, turning waiting must have stood there 10 minutes or more. i could hear people in the cellar (pardon me, basement) talking & scurrying in & out of the elevator as tho they couldnt make up there minds.

now i have a special problem which makes climbing stairs particulary difficult. & i certainly don't have mr destigter's magnificent length-of-wheel-base so i can't take the stairs 6 at a time, nor have i mastered the art of sliding up the railing like mr. boatwright.

waiting. waiting. truly & ashamedly i was beginning to form a few mildly naughty words under my breath about those devil-may-care-orthopedic-kids fiddling-with-the-elevator !!!

at that very moment a tiny girl, probably a 2nd grader, skipped up the stairs from the cellar (pardon me basement) & across the lobby swinging her lunchbox as high as her head. then she saw me hung up by my key-chain to the elevator switch & scowling like only yogi berra can scowl, & she danced back across the lobby & said, 'be patient, mister, they're loading up down there. they'll be up in a minute ' & off she went like a toy rocket almost before i could say, 'thank you, kind lady ' at last the elevator arrived, & man-oh-man was it loaded! crazy, man just crazy !!

humbly, yours,
henry f betzing

p s i think i'll take away prow's 'a-minus' in economics & ledin's 'a-plus' in civics & give them to this thotful, gracious little 2nd grader. she deserves them — little-mispatience *

Scholarships At Lowrey

Several of Lowrey's seniors have been notified by the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority (MHEAA) of their qualification for 1965-66 state sponsored college scholarships. They are a part of the 9,847 students—out of 15,000—who also qualified after taking a special state examination on November 21. The final selection of scholarship recipients will be announced on April 4.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, chairman of MHEAA, stated that the Authority hopes to select about 4000 of the qualifying students for awards if it receives a $2.5 million appropriation from the Michigan legislature. Of this $2.5 million, a half-million must be used to continue scholarship commitments to 1964-65 recipients who are guaranteed yearly renewals if they keep a "C" average. The other $2 million would be used for the scholarship programs of 1965-66. Dr. Bartlett stated, "This year, with 10,000 applicants already qualified by test score, we anticipate the number who will demonstrate real financial need will be around 7,000. Even with the $2.5 million appropriation, we will have to turn away 3,000 students who will have qualified by statute for award

These scholarships are not to exceed $800 and are set for covering the cost of tuition and fees at any of the 47 accredited public and non-public Michigan institutions of higher learning. The costs of tuition and fees of last year's recipients averaged about $400.

Tankers Trounced by Robichaud, 63-38

The Polar Bears of Lowrey were handed a stunning swimming defeat at the hands of Robichaud on Tuesday, January 19, by the score of 63-38.

When the Lowrey Light asked Coach Sande about the meet, he promptly answered, "I have no comment at this time."

Wood Scores 30 Sports Spotlight

Receiving tremendous performances from senior Jerry Wood and sophomore Gene Ellefson, Lowrey powered its way to a decisive 81-60 victory over Haston on Friday, February 5. The cagers' revamped lineup was due to the loss of Doug Cole who has used up all of his eligibility and Joe Gary who was out with an injury.

The opening quarter went much in favor of the Bears as Lowrey started to chalk up points. Due to the good defensive job of the entire team and the rebounding of Jerry Wood, the Bears were able to hold an edge on the Knights. The scoreboard at this point read 19-14 in favor of our Polar Bears.

Capitalizing on mistakes made by Haston, Lowrey increased its lead somewhat in the second quarter. This brought the half-time score to 38-30 in Lowrey's favor.

The next quarter saw the Bears extend their lead. Ending the quarter with a substantial margin, it seemed as if Lowrey had the game won.

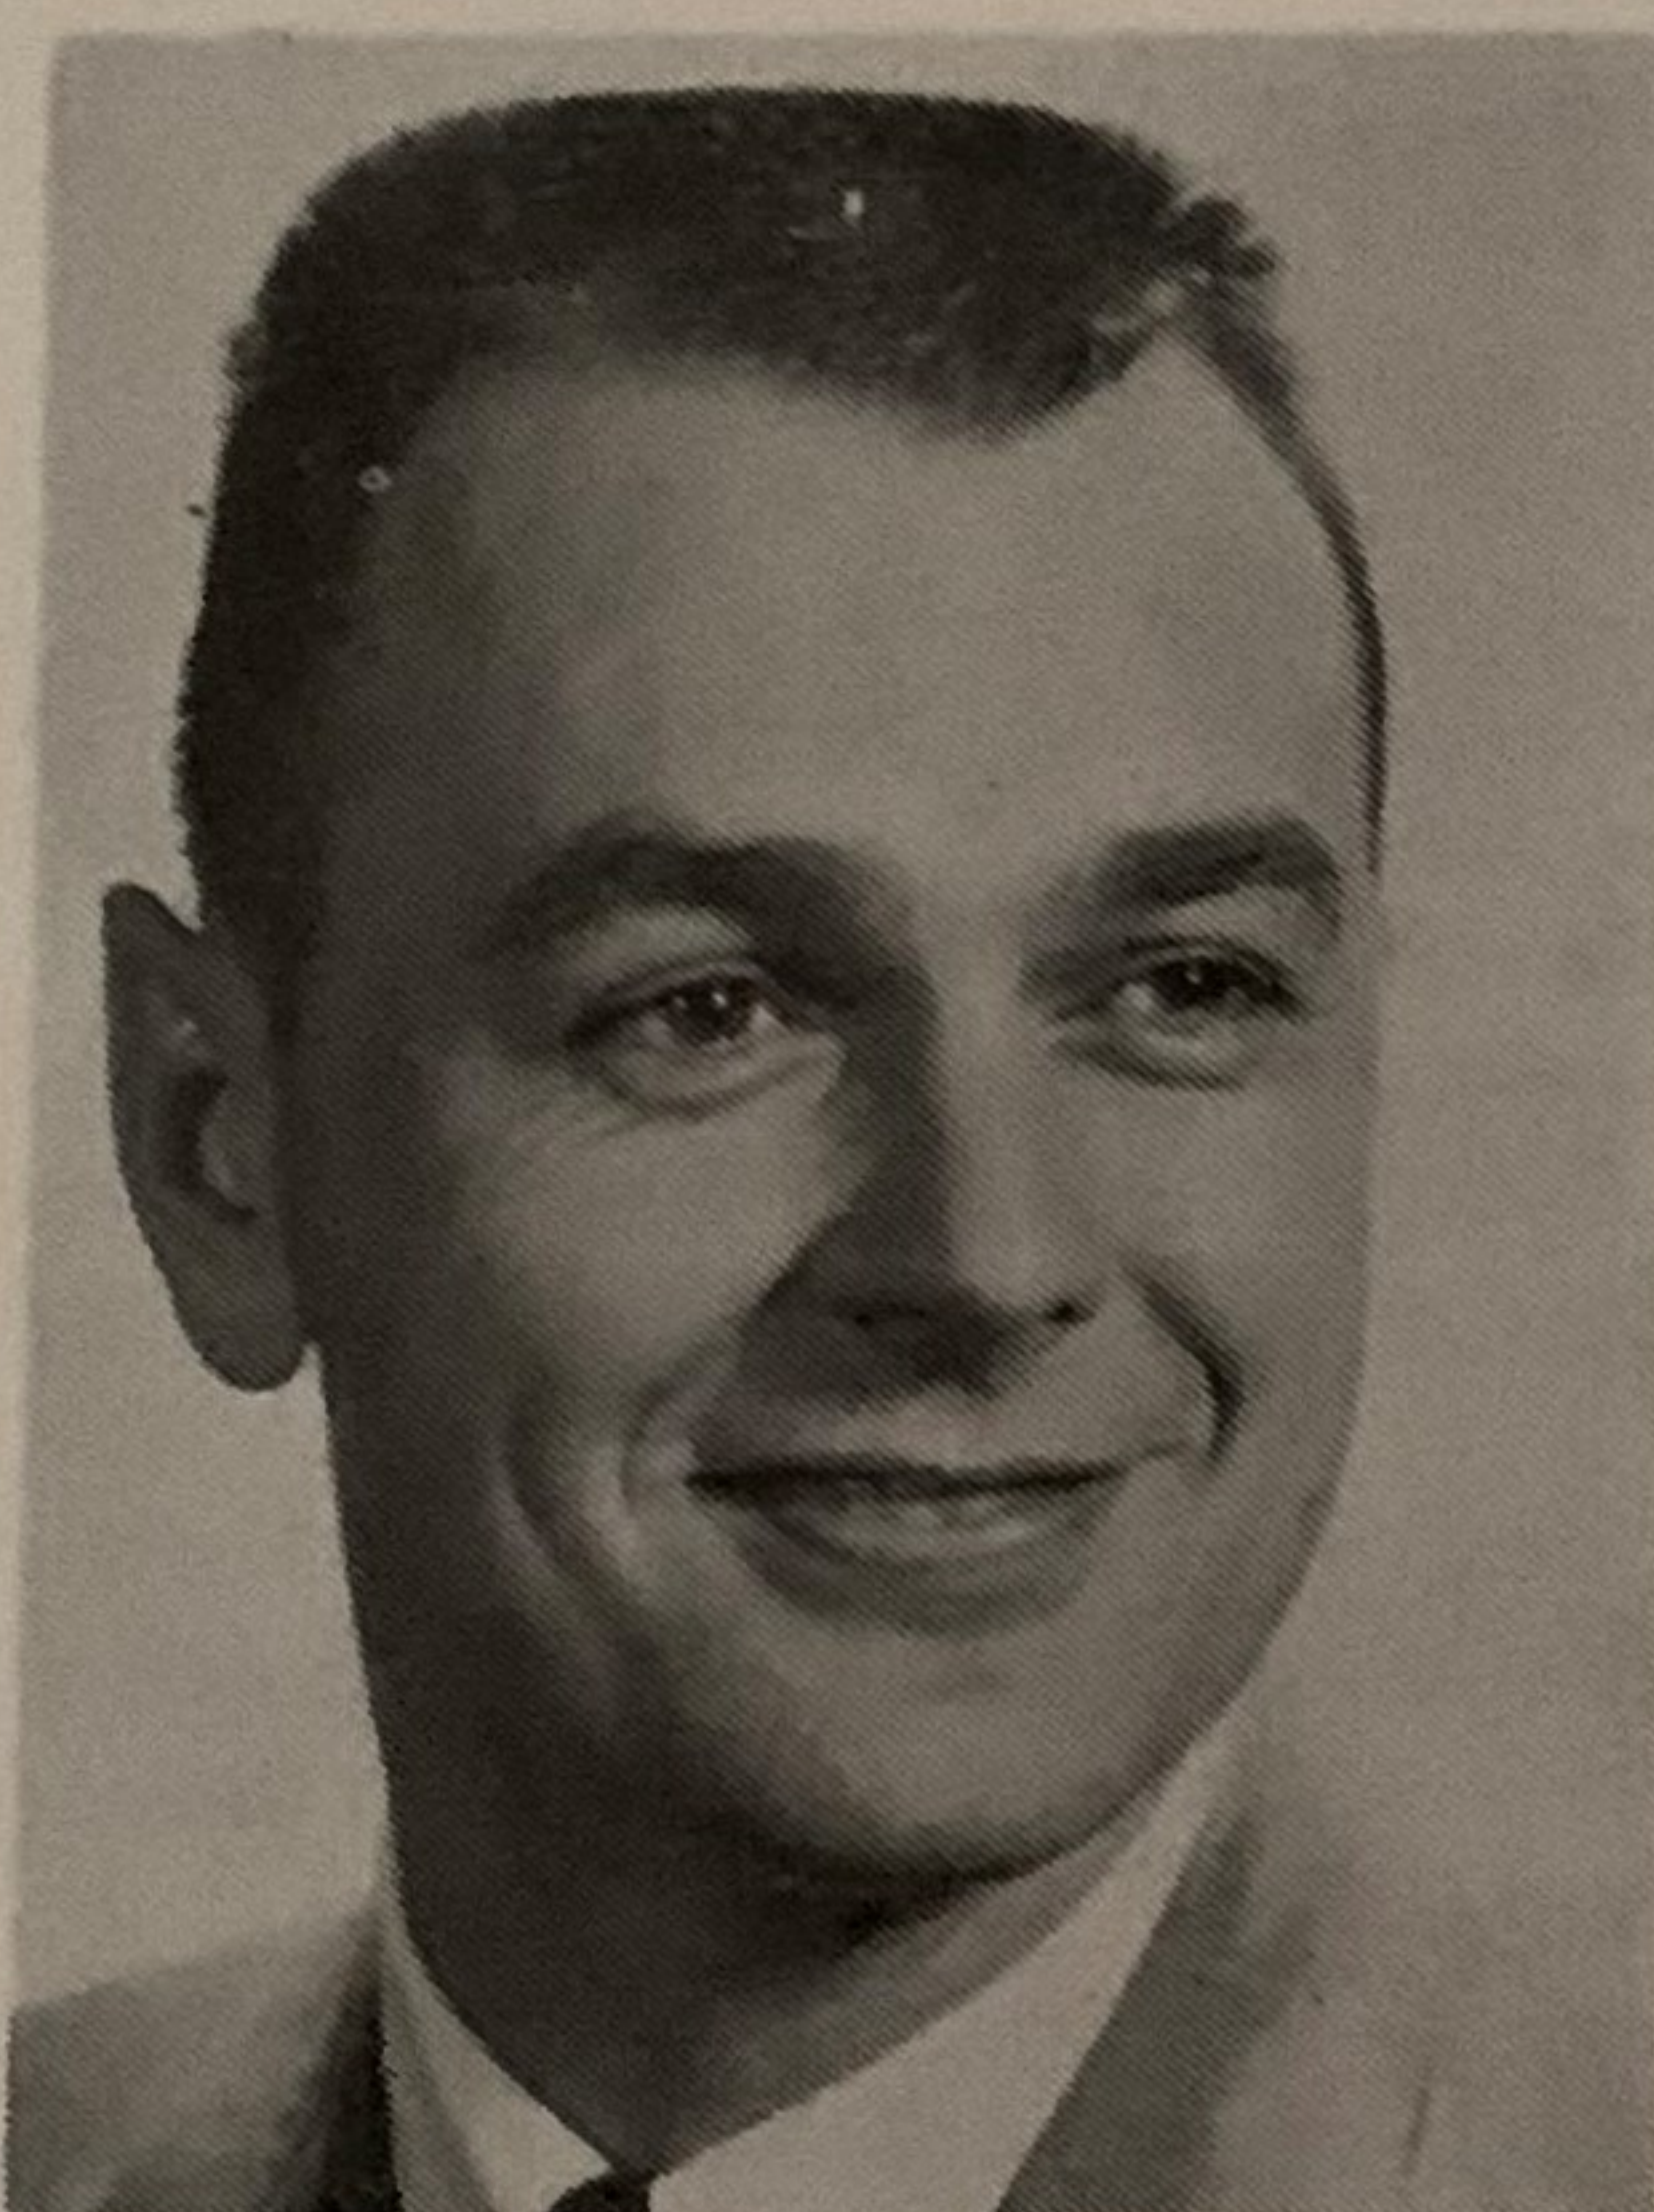

Then the Knights made a good attempt in the final eight minutes to win, but fell short trying. The game ended with Lowrey ahead 81-60, thus extending the winning streak to five games.

The Bears somewhat juggled starting lineup for this game consisted of guards Ed Wigley and Gary Poole, center Jerry Wood, and forwards Bob Fox and Ron Wojtas.

Lowrey's scoring was as follows:

Wood	30
Ellefson	15
Wigley	12
Fox	10
Miller	6
Wojtas	5
Rhodehouse	3

Mr. St. John is the new coach for the Jr. High basketball team this year. Coach St. John decided to coach basketball because he enjoys working with students outside of classtime hours.

His opinion of this year's team is that they are small in numbers and small in size, but work hard and are determined to win.

He graduated from Northern Michigan University with a Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Michigan.

His previous record is 30 wins and 11 losses at Brooklyn Community School and his present record is 4 wins and 2 losses.

Track Starts Bears Win Tenth

Our Lowrey thinclads are on the move. With the season not too far off, Mr. Bodary, varsity track coach, along with Mr. Bach, assistant coach, greeted 50 spring track candidates.

Leading the groups were eight returning letterman:

Rick Adis, 12A-1
Herman Beaver, 12A-1
Phil Griglio, 12A-4
Richard Mitchell, 11A-9
Frank Perri, 12A-8
Emery Rentschler, 11A-7
Bradley St. Andrew, 12A-8
Mark Schalte, 12A-9

At this meeting the schedule for the coming season was discussed along with the probable strengths and weaknesses of the squad, and plans for practice as well as outdoor action.

Mr. Bodary commented, "We need help in the sprints and distances. I urge anyone who is willing to work to come out for track."

Anyone interested in track should contact Mr. Bodary or Mr. Bach before homeroom or meet in the gym balcony Monday through Thursday after school.

Reserves Edged

The reserve basketball team dropped its third straight basketball game by one point. This time the Bears were defeated in a league encounter with Haston; the final score was 48-47.

The quarter scores were 15-9, 11-11, 8-11, and 13-17. The Bears received a yeoman's performance from Chris Korte who pumped in 27 points to break Richard Mitchell's record set last year of 26 points.

One decisive factor that handicapped the reserves was that Bill Opp was put up for one game on the varsity to make enough men in the varsity's team.

The following is a breakdown in scoring:

Korte	27
Gerych	10
Malyszek	5
Hull	3
Bolash	2

Bears Nipped by G.C. West 53-52

Led by Bob Fox's 26 points, Lowrey extended its winning streak to 6 straight by beating Cherry Hill on Friday, February 12, by the score of 85-73.

The Bears opened the game with much momentum and drive. Proving to be superior in both rebounding and scoring, Lowrey closed out the quarter with a 22-13 lead.

The second quarter proved to be the same as Lowrey continued to dominate the game. Point producers Bob Fox and Joe Gary led the way as the Bears went into the locker room at half time with a 24 point margin.

Lowrey, who started the third quarter with a 49-25 lead, had a surprise coming. The Spartans looked like an altogether different team. With much vigor and spirit, Cherry Hill managed to score 34 points and cut Lowrey's lead to 66-59 at the end of three quarters of play.

Not wanting to taste defeat, the Bears regained their old form and in the final eight minutes went on to outscore Cherry Hill 19-14. This brought the final score to 85-73 in favor of our Polar Bears.

Coach Rice only had this to say about the game: "We were much too sloppy in the second half."

The scoring for Lowrey went as follows:

Fox	26
Gary	20
Wood	19
Wigley	12
Ellefson	8
