

School History 2nd Installment

The clouds of war swooped over the nation and America's young men marched off to fight for their country. As the war progressed, those on the home front sacrificed their own wants and pleasures so that the boys "over there" could have it a little easier.

At Lowrey also there was sacrificing. Miss Julia LaMarca, head of the English Department, made these statements: "When the war was going on, everyone bought war stamps and contributed to frequent clothing and paper drives. Many of the teachers and students worked parttime to help the war effort."

Miss LaMarca went on to say this about students' attitudes: "Students worked hard without being asked. Extra work was initiated by them. In fact, they worked so hard that the student program included an activity hour to teach them how to play."

Amidst the cries of victory, Lowrey switched from its wartime atmosphere to an air of post-war peace. To accommodate the ever increasing population, Lowrey added a high school. Thus it became unique in Dearborn, containing an elementary school, junior high, and senior high as well as a special education department. This prompted Miss LaMarca to say, "All a student has to do is get born. Lowrey School takes over from there."

In 1949, Lowrey's sportsmen entered the Twin Valley Conference, which at that time included teams from Dearborn High, Lincoln Park, and River Rouge, among others. With the exception of River Rouge, the others dropped out and such teams as Hamtramck, Willow Run, and Romulus joined. Mr. Ernest McBride, basketball and baseball coach at that time, commented by saying, "There is not as much interest in high school sports now as there was during the early fifties. The boys had to hitchhike home from practice to places as far away as Garden City and Taylor. I think this decline in interest is mainly because of more varied activities in school, and especially outside the classroom."

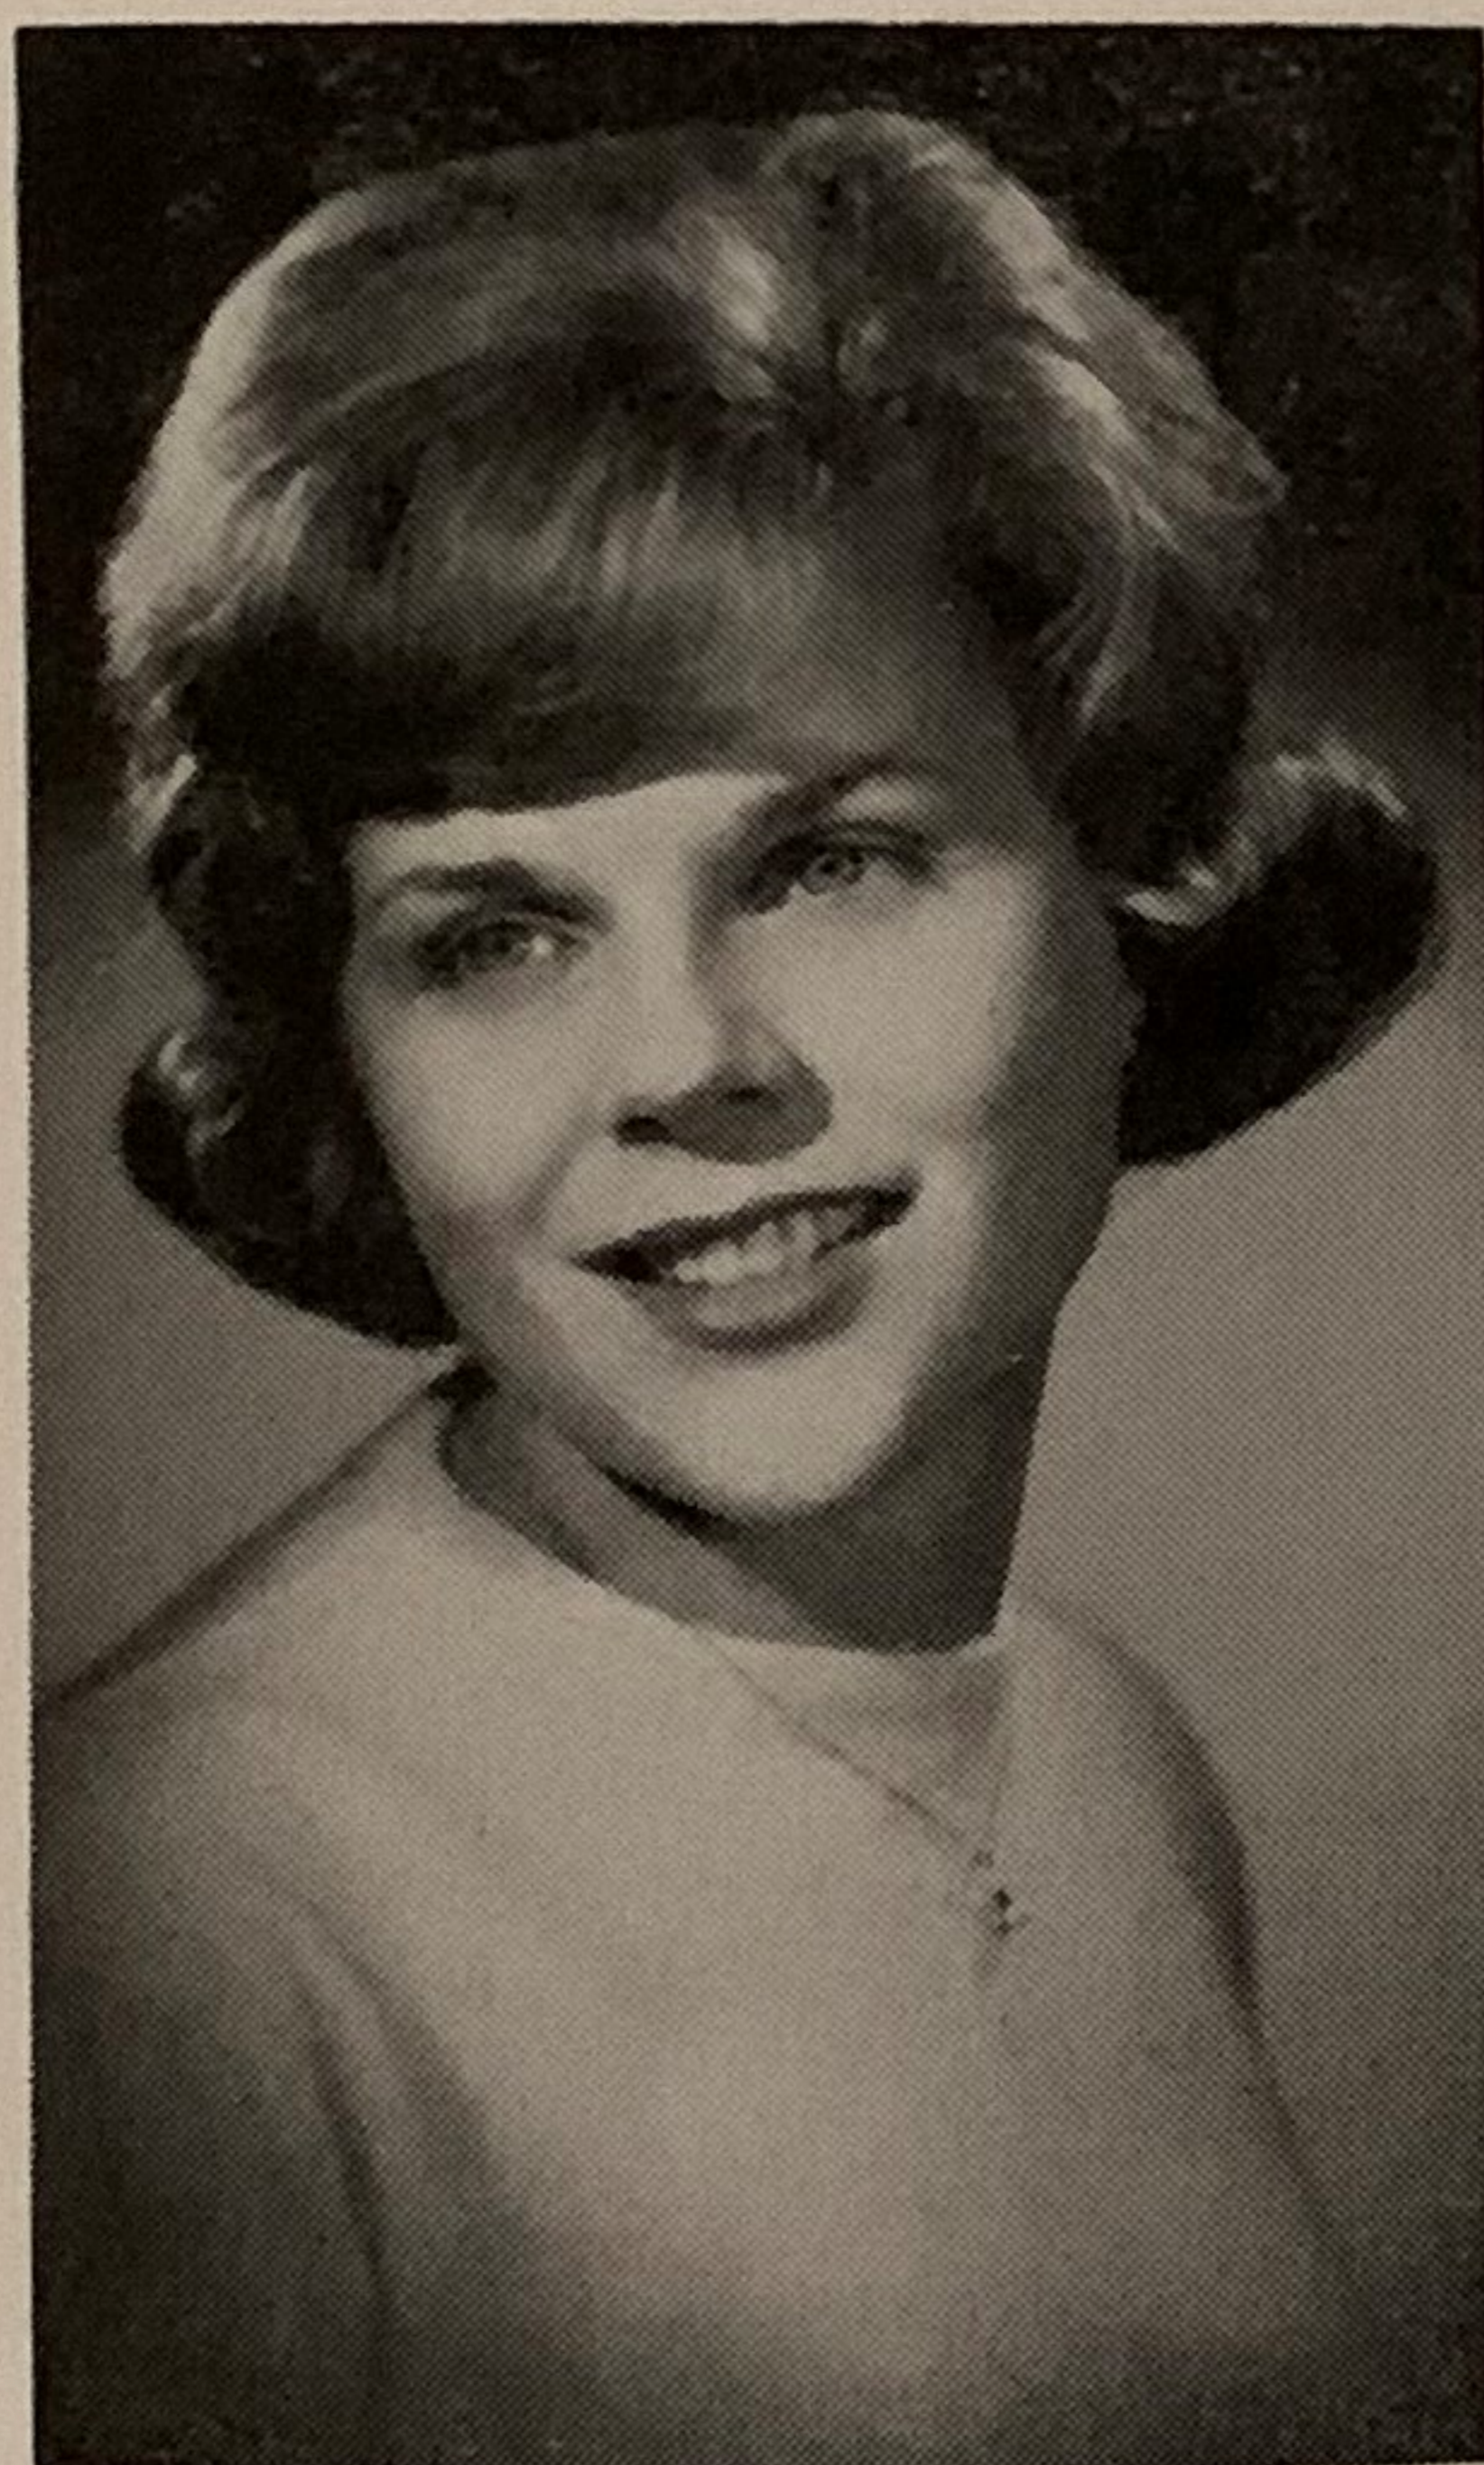

Through the years, Lowrey's Polar Bears have acquired a number of trophies. In 1952 they were TVL Class B Champs in basketball. The same year, Lowrey won the baseball tournament, as they did in '49, '56, '58, and '59. The Netters managed to win tennis trophies in '56, '57, and '58. The track and swimming teams added, between them, three awards in 1957.

Third installment in next issue.

DAR Honors Senior Class News Senior Girl

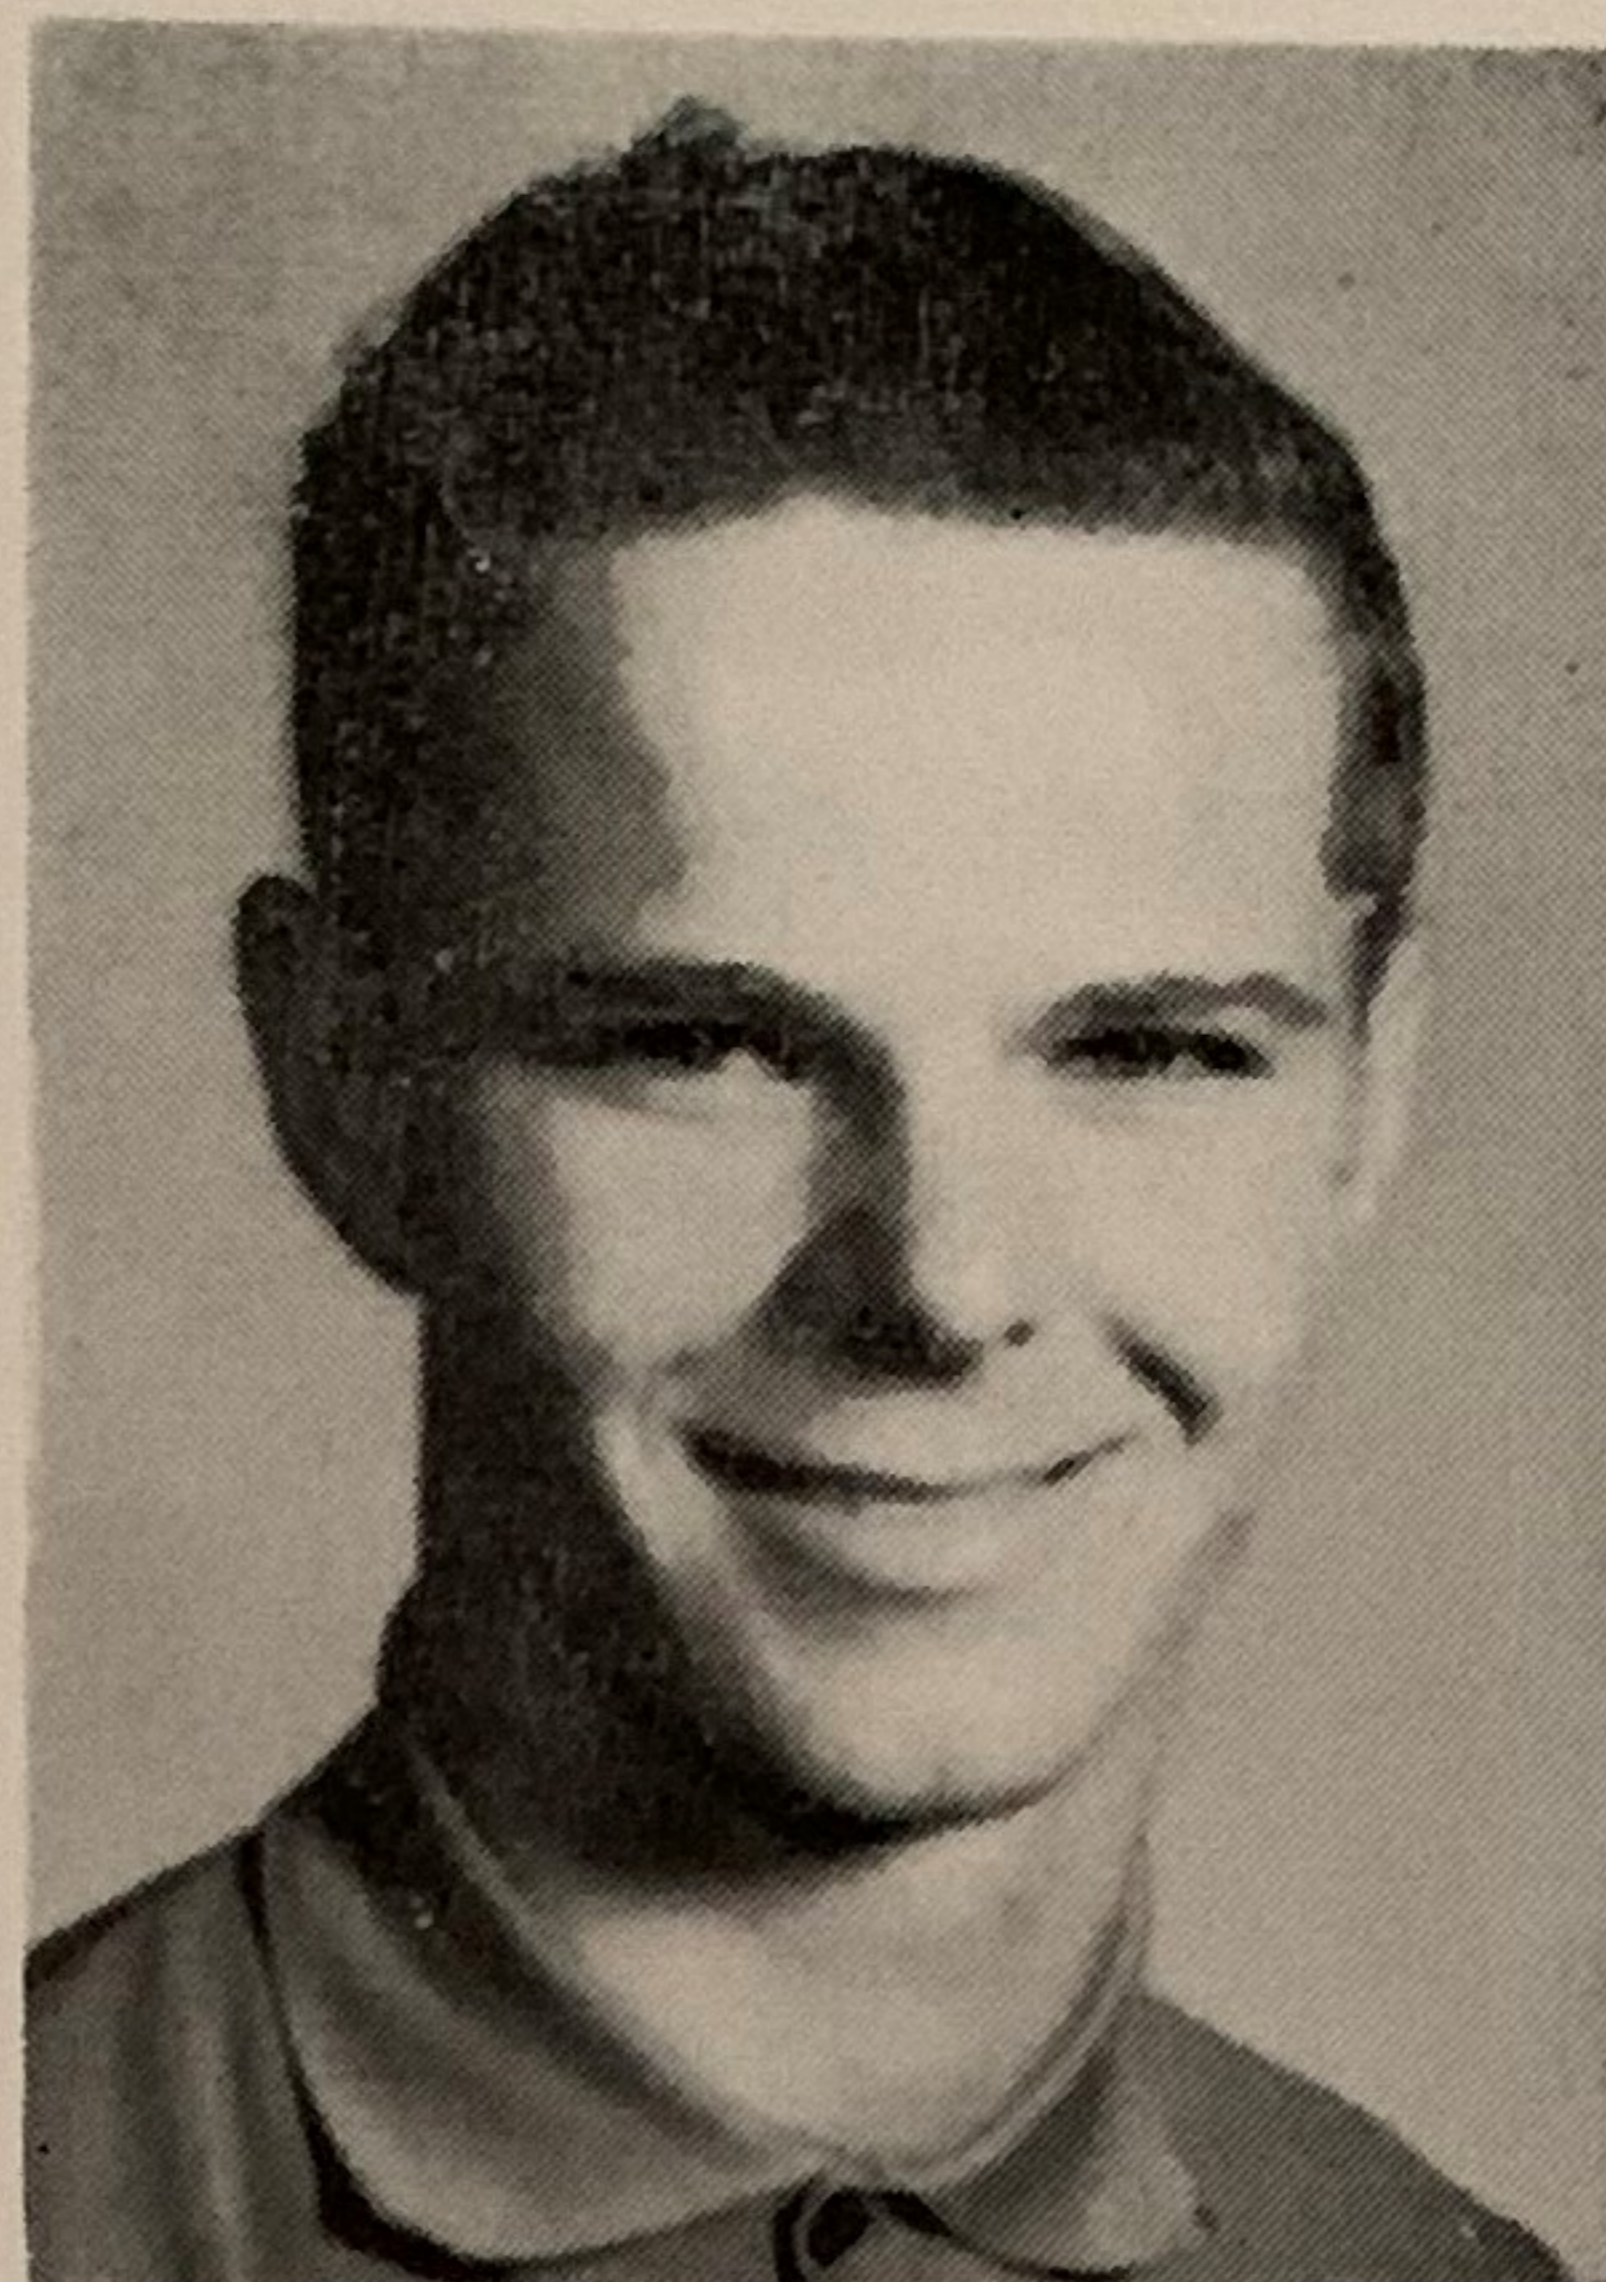

Anita Day, 12A-3, was recently honored by the Colonel Joshua Howard Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (D.A.R.) at a banquet held on February 17. Eight girls were selected from the Dearborn area with Anita representing Lowrey. The basis for the selection of the girls was on outstanding qualities in the area of dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism. Anita is competing along with 150 other girls in a state-wide contest. The state winner will be named "State Good Citizen" and will receive a $50 saving bond by the Michigan D.A.R. and another $100 savings bond by the national society.

At the banquet, the girls saw a film on the cultural exhibits of Detroit. Anita was happy to participate and stated, "I feel very honored to represent Lowrey in this contest."

Mark Schalte,

The Senior Class of 1965 is busy preparing for activities to take place in the near future. Class President, Mark Schalte, 12A9, recently reported that the class officers went to the Veterans' Memorial Building on Wednesday, February 24th. The officers, Mrs. Dotson, and Mr. Kraai wanted to see the dance hall for the Senior Prom and to make arrangements for the catering service.

At a Senior class meeting, which is scheduled to be held soon, people will be selected to work on the five Prom committees. The committees and chairmen are:

Photographs	Linda Borum
Tickets	Rosalyn Ish
Decorations and catering	Sue Lust and Mike Kay
Program	Donna Daley
Publicity	All officers

The Senior class is also planning a "Senior Dress-up Day" for March 17th, St. Patrick's Day.

T-Bird Styling Contest

The 5th annual Thunderbird styling Contest is on its way at last. There are three categories you may enter. These are: 1. Models; 2. Exterior Rendering; and 3. Interior Rendering. The contest will last until 3p.m. on April 14. If you are interested in trying your skill at designing, pick up an entry blank from Mr. Jones, senior high art teacher, room 115. After you fill it out and have one of your parents sign it, you may pick up your contest kit. All those who enter will receive periodic bulletins from Ford stylists containing helpful hints, and all that take a kit will be urged to complete and return it.

In the last two years, Lowrey students have taken first and second in Interior Rendering, and first in Exterior Rendering. In the 1963 contest, three students won awards. In Exterior Rendering, Dale Ferriby, '63, took first and Ken Luchin, '64, took 2nd. In exterior Rendering, Gilbert Norush, '63, took first.

first place in Interior Rendering first place in Interior Dendering while Mike Casey, '65, took second in this field.

Remember, the deadline is April 14. Good luck!

Bits 'n' Pieces

On March 14, the National Merit Scholastic will take place. It is at O. W. Best and will last about 2 hours. The fee is $1.00. If you are interested in taking the test, see your counselor.

All you seniors who are interested in the applications for H.F.C.C. will be interested to know that the representative from there will come to Lowrey on Thursday, March 25, to talk with you.

Due to teachers' meetings and conferences, the Junior and Senior High will be dismissed one hour early every second and fourth Monday of the month. This routine will be carried out through May.

The Senior High Lobby is getting furnished!! By Easter the Senior High Lobby should have some furniture. There will only be a few in the applications for H.F.C.C.

Due to teachers' meetings and be on the lookout for the furniture and when it comes, respect it like it was your own.

Parents' Club Meet

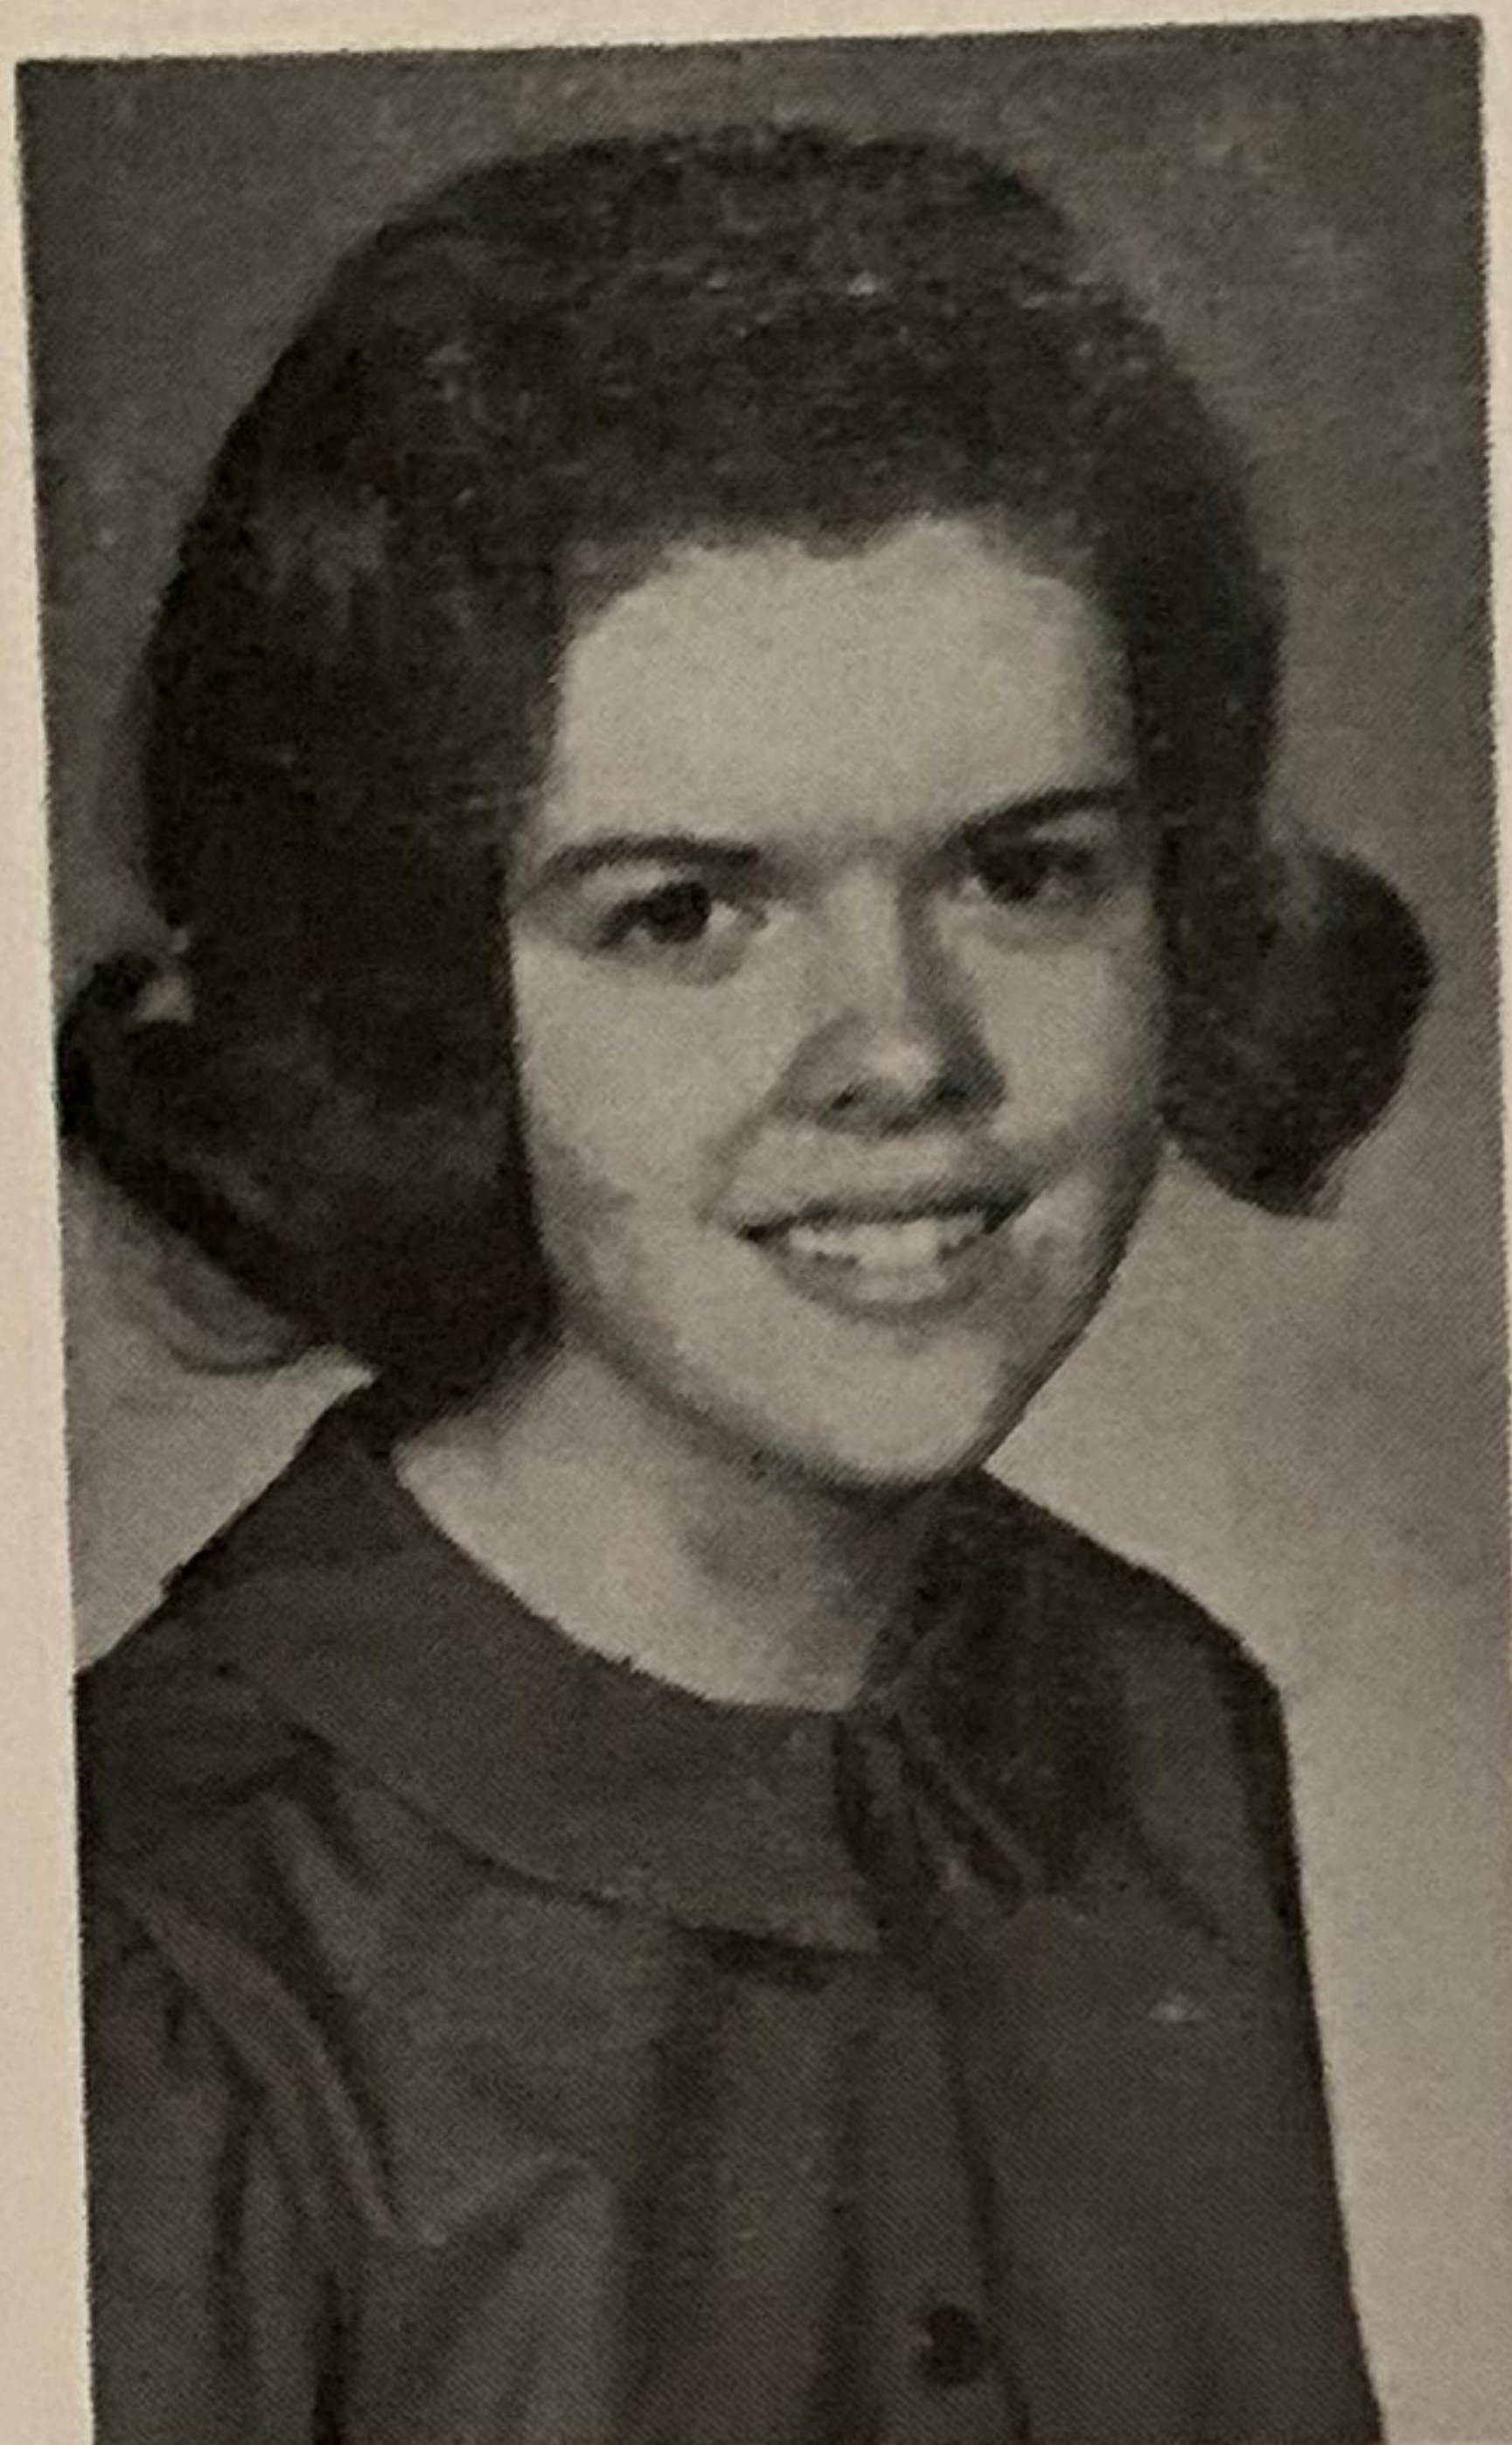

About sixteen parents were present at the Lowrey High Parents' Club meeting, February 16, to discuss the roles of the principal, assistant principal, and counselors, in running Lowrey and helping Lowrey students to make the most of their high school years.

Mr. Romanow, Mr. Boatwright, and Mr. McBride each explained their jobs and told what they did during the day. Mr. Romanow explained that he is in charge of the person-which includes about 100 teachers besides the maintenance workers and cafeteria staff. He also directs the counseling department, sees that school board policies are carried out, and helps to develop the school curriculum. Mr. Boatwright said that his job is centered around student activities. He is involved with the clubs, Student Council, plays, commencement, and many other such activities. Mr. McBride, speaking on behalf of the other counselors, explained that the counselors help to guide the students and act as go-betweens between the students and the administration.

According to Mr. McGreevey, chairman of the Lowrey High Parents' Club, at next month's meeting the topic will be "High School Drop-outs." He urges all parents to attend.

New President For Future Teachers

Linda Hawkins, 11A-5, has been elected the new president of the Future Teachers' Club. She joined

Linda Hawkins

F. T. A. in her sophomore year and has been an active member since then, participating in the cadet teaching program and Apple for the Teacher Day taking charge of the club's point system, working on several committees, and attending the various outing and functions which help to make the Future Teachers an energetic group of students.

Linda began her new job at the meeting of F. T. A. on Tuesday, March 2, under the guidance of the previous president, Linda Wilkinson, 12A-10. Because of the Future Teachers' unique procedure of electing its president in February instead of May when the rest of the officers are elected, Linda will have the chance to learn first-hand from the previous president just what her duties will be.

When asked about her election, Linda said, "I was very thrilled at being elected to this office, and consider it a great honor. I hope that I can fulfill my duties well."

Music Recognition For Band Members

Seven members of our Senior High Concert Band participated in the solo and ensemble festival which was held in Garden City on Saturday, February 13. Lowrey was represented by more students than any other school that participated. Students who received a first or second division rating received a medal for their efforts. Mark McFarlane received a first division rating and Gaylon Bandy, Michael Bandy, Lynne Campbell, Darryl Csicsila, David Dobrotka, and Art Laverdier received second division ratings. Good work!

This is the third year in a row that Mark McFarlane has received

Smoking And Health

AUTHOR'S NOTE: In this issue of the Lowrey Light, the widely discussed problem of smoking and its effects upon the human body will be the subject commented on.

THE HISTORY OF SMOKING: Tobacco was used in America long before the voyage of discovery. The Indians smoked in pipes or made cigars by wrapping a large tobacco seed around leaves. Columbus and his crew brought tobacco seeds back to Spain. From there the cultivation and use of tobacco spread throughout Europe, Asia, and Africa.

From the very beginning, smoking aroused strong feelings. Smoking has brought both great praise and bitter condemnation. King James I of England was the first of his class to raise voice against smoking. In 1604 he published this indictment:

"Herein is not only a great vanity, but a great contempt of God's good gifts, that the sweetness of man's breath, being a good gift of God, should be willfully corrupted by this stinking smoke."

And better yet, an unidentified author composed this verse:

Tobacco is an evil weed,
It was the Devil who sowed the seed;
It stains your fingers, burns your clothes,
And makes a chimney of your nose.

Until the nineteenth century, tobacco was smoked in pipes or cigars, or consumed in other ways such as snuff or chewing tobacco. Early around the turn of the century (20th century) the cigarette was gaining popularity in the eastern Mediterranean, in areas under Turkish influence.

Fine aromatic tobacco suitable for cigarette making grew in this part of the world. British soldiers brought cigarettes back to England after the Crimean War in 1857. But still very few Americans smoked cigarettes before World War I.

Before World War I, smoking was regarded, at least in the United States, as a somewhat crude, if manly, habit. A real gentleman would not smoke in the presence of a lady, at least not without asking permission. And for a lady to smoke was unthinkable. Women who smoked cigarettes were thought certain to be of poor moral character, while only ignorant backwoods women would smoke pipes.

After the first World War, the scene began to change. More women began to smoke around the 1920's although the number remained low. As time passed, the moral codes of society changed and more and more people began to smoke.

SMOKING BECOMES A PUBLIC HEALTH PROBLEM: Cigarettes really got a big boost during World War II. During the second World War, our servicemen were faced with both boredom and tension. They found cigarettes to be a sort of "way out", especially when normal relaxation and recreation was impossible. It seemed cigarette companies took advantage of the soldiers' needs by the distribution of free cigarettes by the millions. It really wasn't such a bad gesture but flooding the armed services with cigarette started hundreds of thousands of new smokers.

Then early in 1964, the Surgeon General of the United States released a report that finally settled the long and hot debate. The report told the American people what medical men all over the world had been saying for years: cigarette smoking is a major factor contributing to the fact that the cigarette smoker's chance of dying prematurely from lung cancer, heart disease and other deadly diseases is greater. You have all heard, or at least most of you have heard, or read, the United States Surgeon General's report of smoking and health, and no doubt some of you have seen films in regard to the connection between smoking and lung cancer and in these films you have seen what cancer looks like.

Cancer is not very pretty nor does it feel good. Nat King Cole, who died just recently with lung cancer, is a good example of this, and so is John Wayne. John Wayne is one of the fortunate few; had his cancer been spotted any later, he may now be with Nat King Cole.

There really isn't any more to say. It is up to you now, and it is a very serious choice. If you quit smoking, doctors say that new lung tissue will replace the old stained tissue and your chances of getting lung cancer will practically be non-existent. The choice is yours. Make the right one, it may save your life.

a first division rating. According to Mr. Keranen, Mark has been participating in many musical contests that have given Lowrey much recognition in the music department. Mark will be participating in the state solo and ensemble festival which will be held at Marshall, Michigan, in March. Good luck!

Most of us would enjoy living the simple life if the way back to it weren't so complicated.

Boys And Girls-- Big Difference

There's plenty of difference between boys and girls.

A guy's brain (though not necessarily his thoughts) is weightier than a girl's. If he's an average red-blooded American boy, he's got 10% more red blood cells than his girl, too. She's more of a heart-throb, though: her heart beats 9 times more per minute than his—in an average lifetime she'll tick off 300 million more beats.

"Straight from the shoulder" is a phrase that applies to males only. Their arms do hang that way, while girls have a definite bend at the elbow, making their arms extend outward at an angle.

Ever wonder why girls seem to be better at delicate manual work? There's a real physical reason—their thumbs are shorter, index fingers longer and their wrists swivel more easily.

Boys and girls hear things differently, too. Women's ears are keener in the high frequency range, while males hear low notes better. Maybe that's why girls can make more sense out of hen party chatter.

While there is no apparent difference between his and her sense of smell, men and women seem to prefer different odors. Pass a service station and chances are a boy will take a deep, satisfying sniff of the rich gasoline fumes while his date will hold her nose. Many of these preferences, however, are probably the result of fashion and custom. Researchers at the Shulton Company say that the predecessors of today's men (who, incidentally, buy more than half of the perfume worn by women) doused themselves with "female-smelling" stuff.

Napoleon poured a whole bottle of sweet cologne over his head before each battle, and the ancient Greeks delighted in perfumes made with mint leaves and crushed ivy.

Spring Musical

Lowrey High School is ready for a "first". April will mark the time when our first musical, "The Fantastiks", makes its Lowrey debut.

"Fantastiks" is an exciting new musical performed recently at leading universities and on television. Some of its songs, including "Soon It's Gonna Rain" and "Try to Remember", have recently become popular.

It is a lively musical with a beautiful message for all. Mr. Irwin wishes to encourage every one to support the musical and make it a success.

Keep your eyes on the daily bulletin for the announcements of the try-out dates. Your presence in cast or crew will help make this first Spring Musical a Lowrey tradition.

Apathy

The air is filled with the spores of a long-ranging epidemic at Lowrey. The disease is extremely communicable and leaves many students damaged through-out the rest of their lives. What is the disease? Apathy.

SYMPTOMS: A listless attitude, a lack of excitement, a grave air of indifference.

VICTIM: The student body from lower classmen to those affected by Senioritis.

DURATION: The length of time it takes to graduate from high school.

EFFECTS: Deterioration of school spirit and pride, lack of interest in the world around us, loss of happy and productive high school years, future to be concerned with events affecting us.

Cure: A shot in the arm of social concern, a liberal dosage of "interest in school work", a bottle full of "instant energy".

That bored attitude so many of our students foster is not only unattractive because of their youth, but because it acts like a lead weight in dragging down the spirit of school life.

It took a Churchill to boost British morale but unfortunately, it looks as if Lowrey is lacking such a dynamic personality. Instead we must conquer apathy personally.

Rub the sleep out of your eyes and look around. You may be the one to discover the cure to one of the most wide-spread high school headaches.

Future Nurses

Many physically handicapped are now being offered a greater opportunity for participation in sports. This was the idea brought out by Mr. Jack Leonard, coach of the Detroit Sparks, when he was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Future Nurses Club held on Tuesday, February 16.

Mr. Leonard is a quadriplegia himself, quadriplegia meaning paralyzed from the neck down. He was a coach at Detroit Central High School until four years ago when he broke his neck as the result of a water skiing accident.

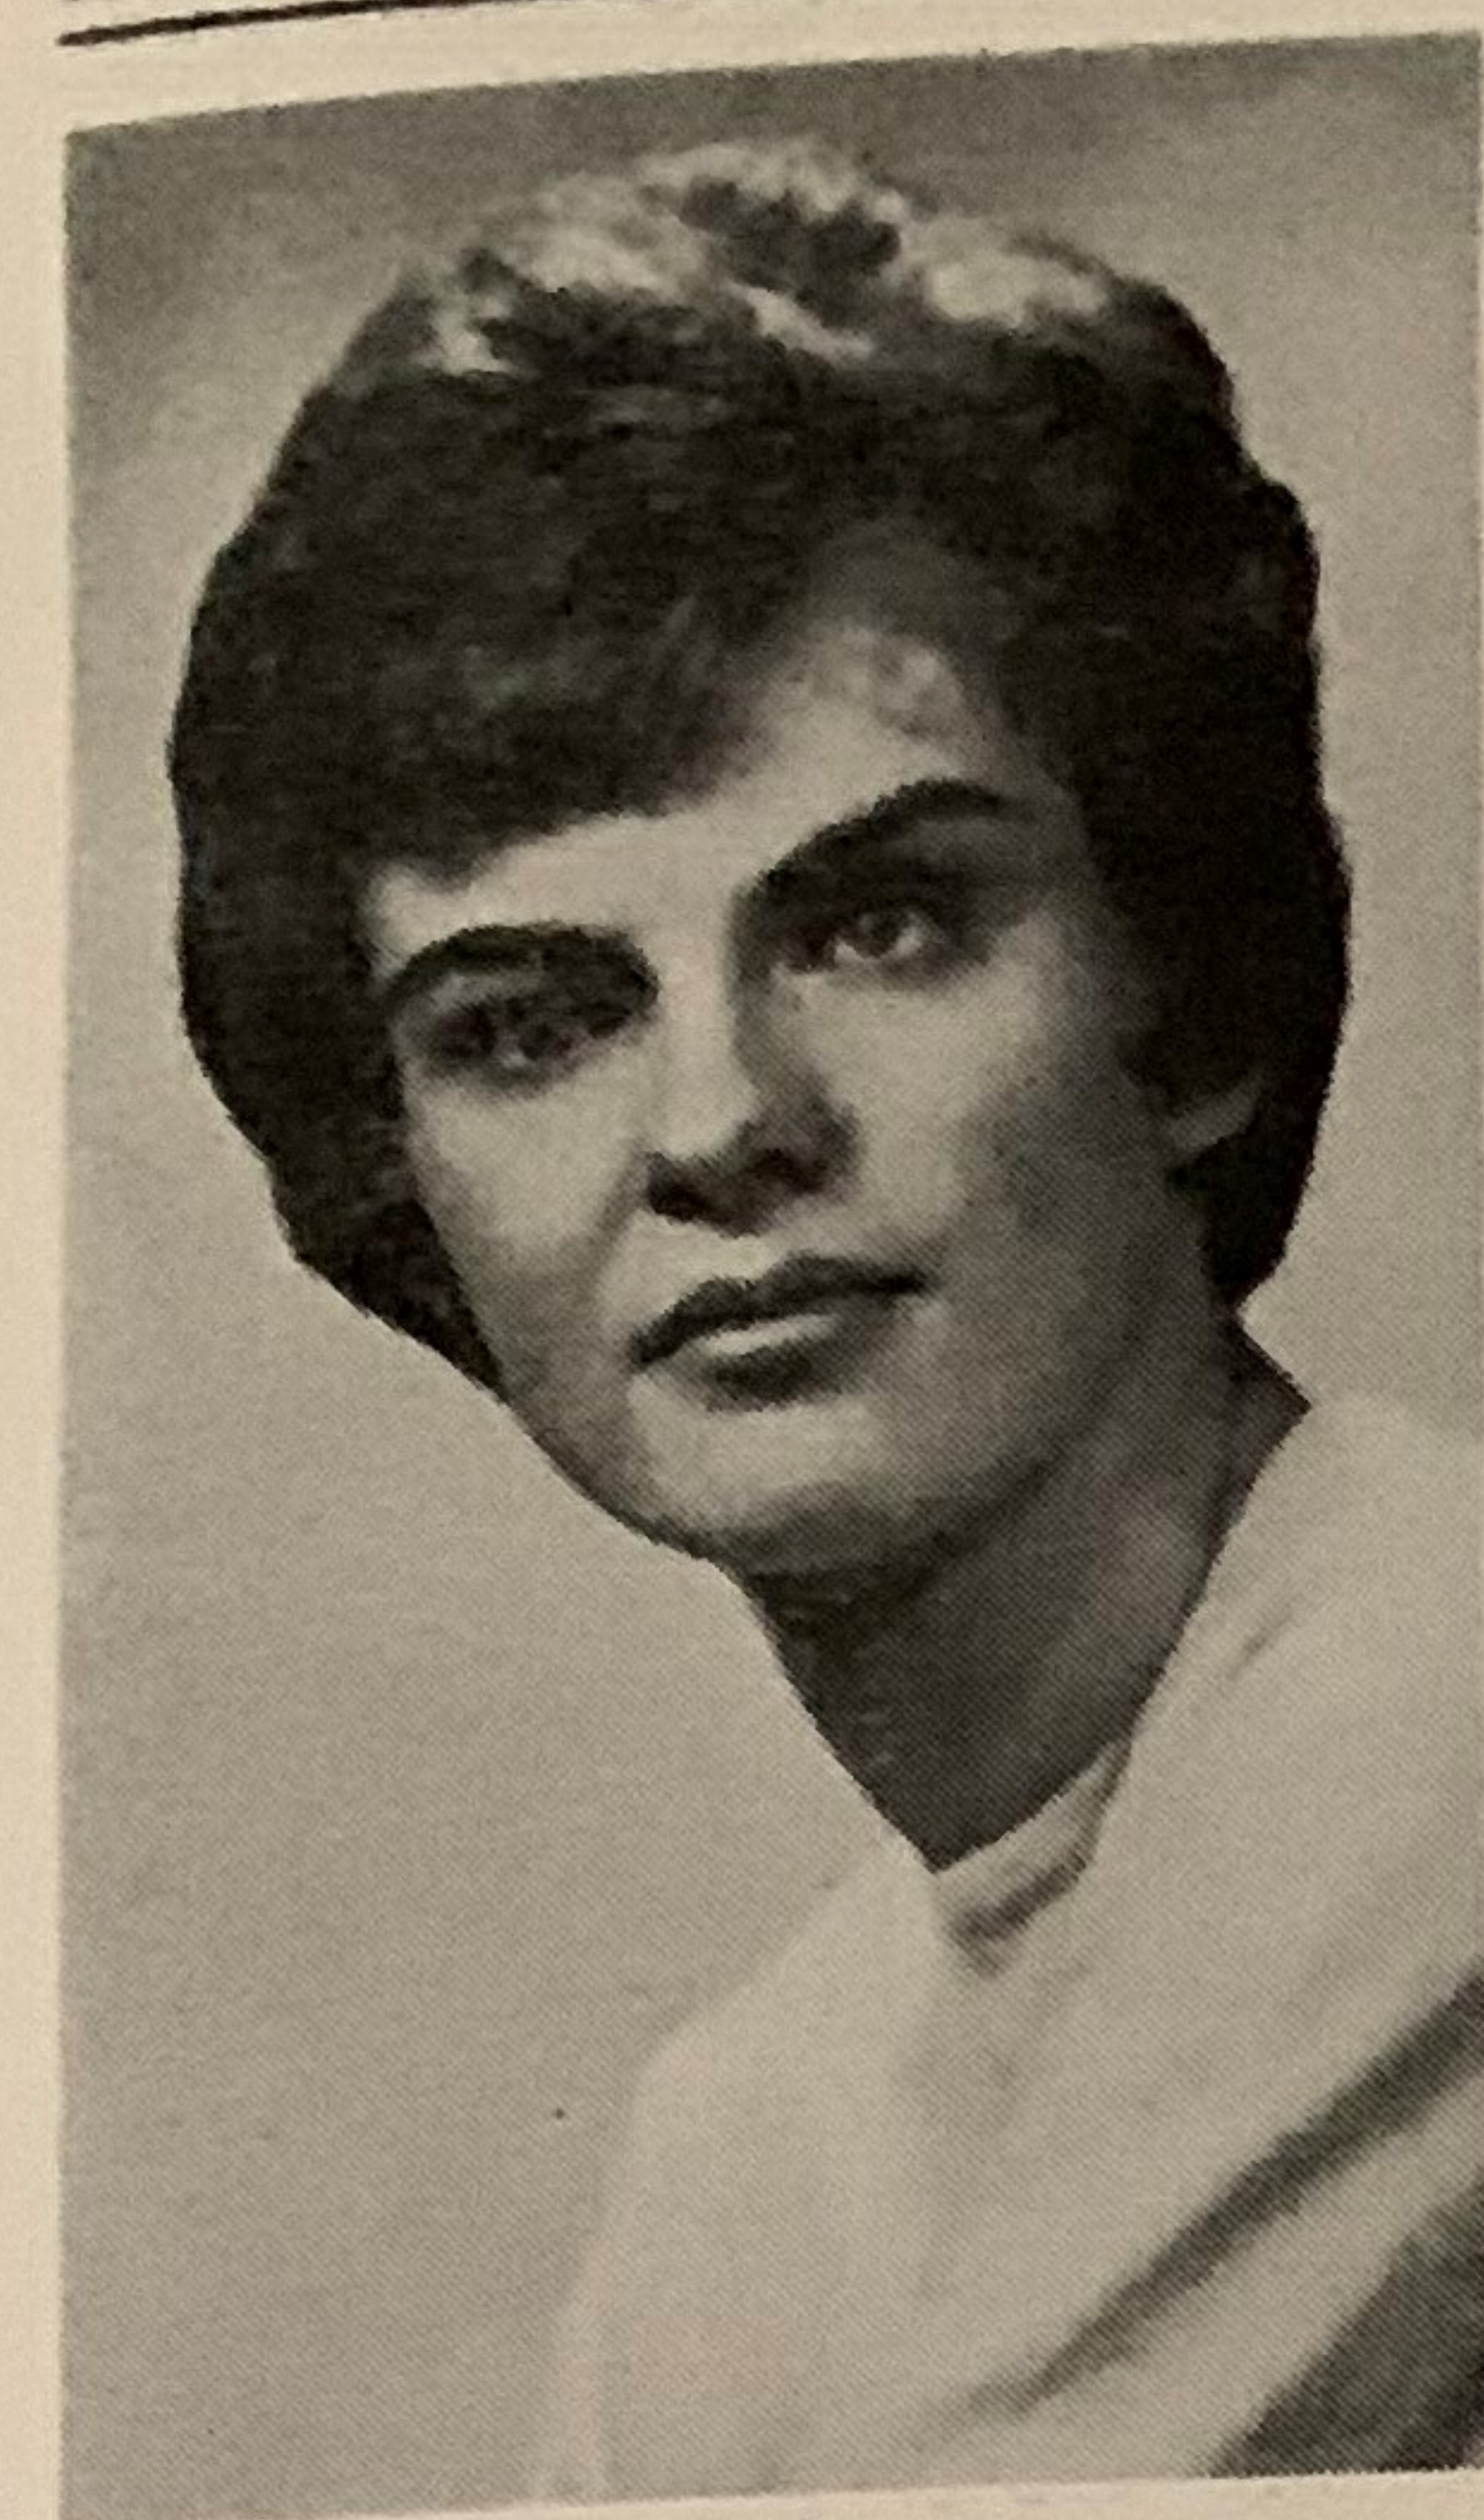

For the past two years Mr. Leonard has been working to establish an athletic association for the physically handicapped so that they can also take part in some sports, both competitive and intramural. Some of these sports include, football basketball, track bowling, and swimming. This is a nonprofit organization consisting of a board of directors and a board of administrators. The money that is donated to this organization and is not used during the year is put into a trust fund and when there is enough money saved it will be used to build a physical education building.

A film entitled "Wheelchair Olympics" was also shown. The film was in color and it showed how the various activities are participated in. The film was not only shown to the Nurses, but also to the elementary, junior, and senior high orthopedic classes.

seemed to be very friendly and I enjoyed it very much. If I had the chance to do it again I know I would go."

Janet Smith, 12A-9: "The day was one that I'll never forget. Everything that Mr. Craig did was very exciting."

Rick Spencer, 12A: "Even though I have been privileged to have attended the workshop before, I really think this was the best of any I have attended."

Heather Clark

Student Spotlight

Heather Clark, one of Lowrey's most active students, has been here since September, 1953, when she first enrolled at Lowrey. She participates in several school activities, among which are chorus and robed choir. She is also a reporter for the Lowrey Light. She is the president of the Future Nurses Club.

Last summer she devoted 161 hours to volunteer work at Veteran's Hospital. Some of her other outside activities are bowling and knitting.

Even though she devotes much of her time to outside activities, she still maintains a good average in school and has been on the honor roll many times.

This fall, Heather plans to attend Eastern Michigan University where she has been accepted. With the idea of teaching the handicapped, she intends to major in some phase of special education. In order to gain experience, Heather helps every fifth hour with the kindergarten children here at Lowrey School.

Good luck, Heather, with your plans for the future.

Choral Workshop

Four of Lowrey's top choral students (Janet Morse, 12A-7, Lana Presley, 11A-10, Jane Smith, 12A-9, and Rick Spencer, 12A) recently attended the annual choral workshop along with about 300 other high school students from the Detroit area sponsored by Wayne State University. The workshop was under the direction of Mr. Don Craig, director of choral music at Ithaca College in New York.

The students from Lowrey were impressed with the whole affair and were able to give some interesting comments for the Lowrey Light.

Janet Morse, 12A-7: "I had a wonderful time while also meeting some very nice and interesting people. We were always doing something that was truly interesting."

Lana Presley, 11A-10: "It was a fabulous experience. The people

Mrs. Koehler

Students Visit Art Institute

On an interesting field-trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts on Wednesday, February 24, Mrs. Koehler's third and fourth hour Latin classes were exposed to a few of the city's cultural exhibits. The group of thirty students was led by a museum guide to several galleries where pieces of ancient art were displayed. Particular emphasis was placed upon Roman and Greek sculpture before the time of Christ. The guide answered the students' questions and explained the philosophies of the societies from which the pieces of art came.

The students who attended this outing were very impressed and expressed much desire to return for another visit.

As Linda Wilkinson, 12A-10, said, "The trip was fascinating. I would really like to go back again for a much longer guided tour."

10B Visitation

During the first week in March, we had visitors. These visitors were new 10B's who will attend here this September. There will be approximately 300 new students coming here.

The three day visits brought 100 students each day. They started out with a conference with Mr. Romanow, Mr. Boatwright, and other faculty members. Following this they toured our school.

Interesting Books

Teenagers are always being told to read more books. Therefore the staff of the Lowrey Light has brought the problem to light with this article dealing with comments of Lowrey Faculty members on books recommended for teenage reading. Here are a few comments:

Mr. Lowry:

Cry The Beloved Country—This is a beautiful and sensitive story about an important problem in today's world.

Mr. Bodary:

Ivanhoe—This is the story of knight-hood and the quest for the Holy Grail. It gives a good picture of legendary knighthood.

The Red Badge of Courage—This story paints a good picture of a young boy and his fears as he goes into battle in the Civil War.

Mr. Peters:

Huckleberry Finn—This is a story of a boy who grows up on the river and the problems he encounters. It has deep meaning and also includes a lot of fun and good humor.

Odyssey—This is an epic filled with action and is written in the finest style the world has ever seen.

Mr. Rice:

Ethan Frome—It's a fine example of an American novel, and should appeal to the girls.

In future issues we will be interviewing students and other faculty members.

Playoff Win For Cagers 55-52

Bears Topple Rebs

Riverside's 24 game winning streak in the Tri-River League was snapped, as the Lowrey Polar Bears outplayed and outscored the Rebels 80-70 on Friday February 19.

Lowrey commanded most of the opening quarter play, as their early lead of 9-2 indicated. Early domination by the Polar Bears enabled them to end the quarter with a 21-14 margin over the Rebels.

The crowd, which was largely Lowrey fans, began to clamour and shout for more action on the part of the Bears. Continuing at an even pace with the Rebels, Lowrey managed to hold a 4 point edge at the close of the half.

After the half time intermission the Rebels came to life. With some excellent shooting, Riverside outscored the Bears in this quarter, 22-16. This scoring break out by the Rebels enabled themselves to take the lead for the first time in the game. This brought the score, after 3 quarters of play, to 57-55 in our opponents favor.

Recovering from third quarter jitter and almost certain disaster, the Bears recaptured their old form and went on to beat Riverside. Once again dominating the game, Lowrey put 12 more points through the hoop than Riverside did and thus managed a 10 point victory. This outburst of points enabled Lowrey to deadlock for first place in the Tri-River League between these two repective teams.

Lowrey scoring for this game went as follow:

Wood	24
Gary	19
Wigley	13
Ellefson	11
Fox	10
Poole	2
Miller	1

Bears Co-Champs in Tri-River League

Lowrey's basketball team ended its season with a co-championship. The Bears defeated Riverside on February 19, to tie for the top spot. Riverside never lost a game in league competition since the league was created three years ago.

The original league was Riverside Southgate, Cherry Hill, Haston, North Farmington, and Birmingham Groves. Both Farmington and Groves dropped out of the league two years ago and Lowrey took their place.

Next year it will be an eight team league with Gaden City West joining the league, making it

Three Sophs

This year's varsity basketball team has three sophomores. They are Ed Wigley, 10A-12, Gene Ellefson, 10A-5, and Moe Miller, 10A-8.

Ed Wigley

Ed Wigley, is on a college prep course and maintains a C+ average. His favorite subject is math which he plans to major in high school. His favorite hobbies are playing baseball and basketball. He plans on becoming a mortician when he graduates. When Ed was asked his opin on of playing on the varsity team this year he replied, "It's a great thrill. I enjoy it very much."

Gene Ellefson

Gene Ellefson, is also on a college prep course and maintaining a C+ average. Gene is a new addition to the starting team and has been playing very well so far. He plans on playing football and baseball as well as basketball next year. Gene was thrilled to make the varsity team and hopes to do his best.

Moe Miller

Moe Miller maintains a C average and he also is on a college prep course. His favorite class is science. Moe plans on playing tennis as well as basketball this year. His favorite hobbies are playing pool and ping pong.

When Moe was asked his most exciting experience he replied, "Making the varsity and scoring 7 points in a ball game."

Moe's hope for the future is that someday he becomes a coach.

Bears Streak Ended

After walloping Riverside 80-70, Lowrey fell to defeat at the hands of Romulus on Tuesday February 23, by the score of 76-59. This game was costly in another way, as senior Jerry Wood, the team's top scorer with a 24.6 average per game, suffered an ankle injury. To extent of Wood's injury was not known at the time the newspaper went to press.

The first quarter went totally in favor of the Eagles, as Romulus took charge of the game. Taking every opportunity they could, the Eagles built up a 14 point edge and led at the end of the quarter 19-5.

Led by Jerry Wood and Joe Gary, Lowrey was able to keep up with the Eagles in the second quarter. Scoring one point more than Romulus in this quarter, Lowrey cut the margin to 13 points. The score as the teams left the floor at the end of the first half was 38-25 in favor of Romulus.

The fate of the game seemed to change in the third quarter. Again sparked by the playing of both Wood and Gary, Lowrey began to close the gap. Outscoring Romulus 24-17, Lowrey thus managed to make the difference between the two teams only 6 points. The third quarter ended 55-49.

Lowrey had an excellent chance for a come from behind victory but faded in the final eight minutes of play, scoring only 10 points as compared to 21 by Domulus.

Mr. Rice summed up the game this way, "Our guards made only 1 out of 21 attempts from the floor, while Romulus' guards combined for a total of 46 points."

The Bears scoring was as follows:

Wood	22
Gary	16
Fox	8
Ellefson	7
Wigley	5
Wojtas	1

Pioneers Downed on Home Court

Paced by Bob Fox and Jerry Wood, Lowrey slipped past Dearborn High in the first tournament game on Tuesday, March 2, by the score of 55-52. This game was decisive in another way as it marked the first time Lowrey has ever won over Dearborn.

Utter disaster seemed to be in store for Lowrey in the opening quarter as the Pioneers jumped to an early 8-1 lead. Fighting back from this early deficit, the Bears managed to cut Dearborn's edge to 3 points, ending the period in the Pioneers favor 14-11.

Continuing on their way, Lowrey was able to erase the Pioneers' lead and end on top. At the end of the half the scoreboard read 28 for Lowrey and 26 for Dearborn.

At the outset of the third quarter, Dearborn started to apply pressure as they quickly took over the lead. With sheer determination the Bears began to open up. With a relaxed type of play Lowrey managed to recapture the lead at 44-38 after three quarters of play.

With the lead see-sawing back and forth in the final eight minutes of play, no one could be sure of the outcome of the game until junior Bob Fox sank 3 free throws with about 30 seconds left to play. This gave Lowrey a substantial lead and a 55-52 victory over Dearborn.

Fox	19
Wood	16

Tankers Dunked By Ecorse

Despite Danny Lukaschewski's record breaking performance in diving, the Polar Bears of Lowrey still managed to get dumped, this time by Ecorse on Tuesday, February 23, by the score of 72-33 in a varsity swimming meet.

The following boys placed in their respective events:

200 yard Medley Relay	Ortega	2:12.7	2nd
	Talacco
	Karaus
	Hughes
100 yard Free Style	Schmidt	2:26.1	2nd
	Sain	2:29.3	3rd
50 yard Free Style	Aitken	27.6	3rd
	Davis	27.6	3rd
200 yard Individual Medley	Halstead	2:51.1	3rd
Diving	Lukaschewski
	Malyszek
100 yard Butterfly	Lukaschewski	1:17.0	3rd
100 yard Free Style	Aitken	1:02.9	3rd
100 yard Backstroke	Ortega	1:13.6	2nd
400 yard Free Style	Sain	5:35.0	3rd
100 yard Breast Stroke	Babicz	1:18.5	1st

It should be noted that a sophomore, Roy Sain earned his varsity letter in swimming when he did the 200 yard Free Style in 2:29.3. Congratulations Roy on a job well done. Congratulations should also go to senior Danny Lukaschewski for his breaking performance in diving.
