

Bits 'n' Pieces

The Juniors are really on the go. They are planning for many events. They are going to have a skating party this month. Work is being done on the 1965 Homecoming. Future car washes, and paper drives are scheduled. Most important of all is their senior prom which is getting serious consideration with definite plans being made.

A reminder—the Federal Government requires every person who is not a citizen of the United States to report his or her address to the Government every January. This should be done before January 31. Forms for this purpose are located in all post offices. If you have a friend who is not a citizen, please pass this news onto him.

Members of the Senior Class of 1965 have actively been making plans for their Prom which is going to be held at Vets Memorial on Saturday, June 12. Various committees with class officers as chairmen have been set up.

The Senior Class homerooms have ordered their graduation personal cards. The price of the cards varies according to the number ordered. Each student is allowed to select the type of card and the type of lettering that he prefers.

"Words to Live By"

Take time to think.

It is the source of power.

Take time to play.

It is the secret of perpetual youth.

Take time to read.

It is the fountain of wisdom.

Take time to pray.

It is the greatest power on earth.

Take time to love and be loved.

It is a God-given privilege.

Take time to be friendly.

It is the road to happiness.

Take time to laugh.

It is music to the soul.

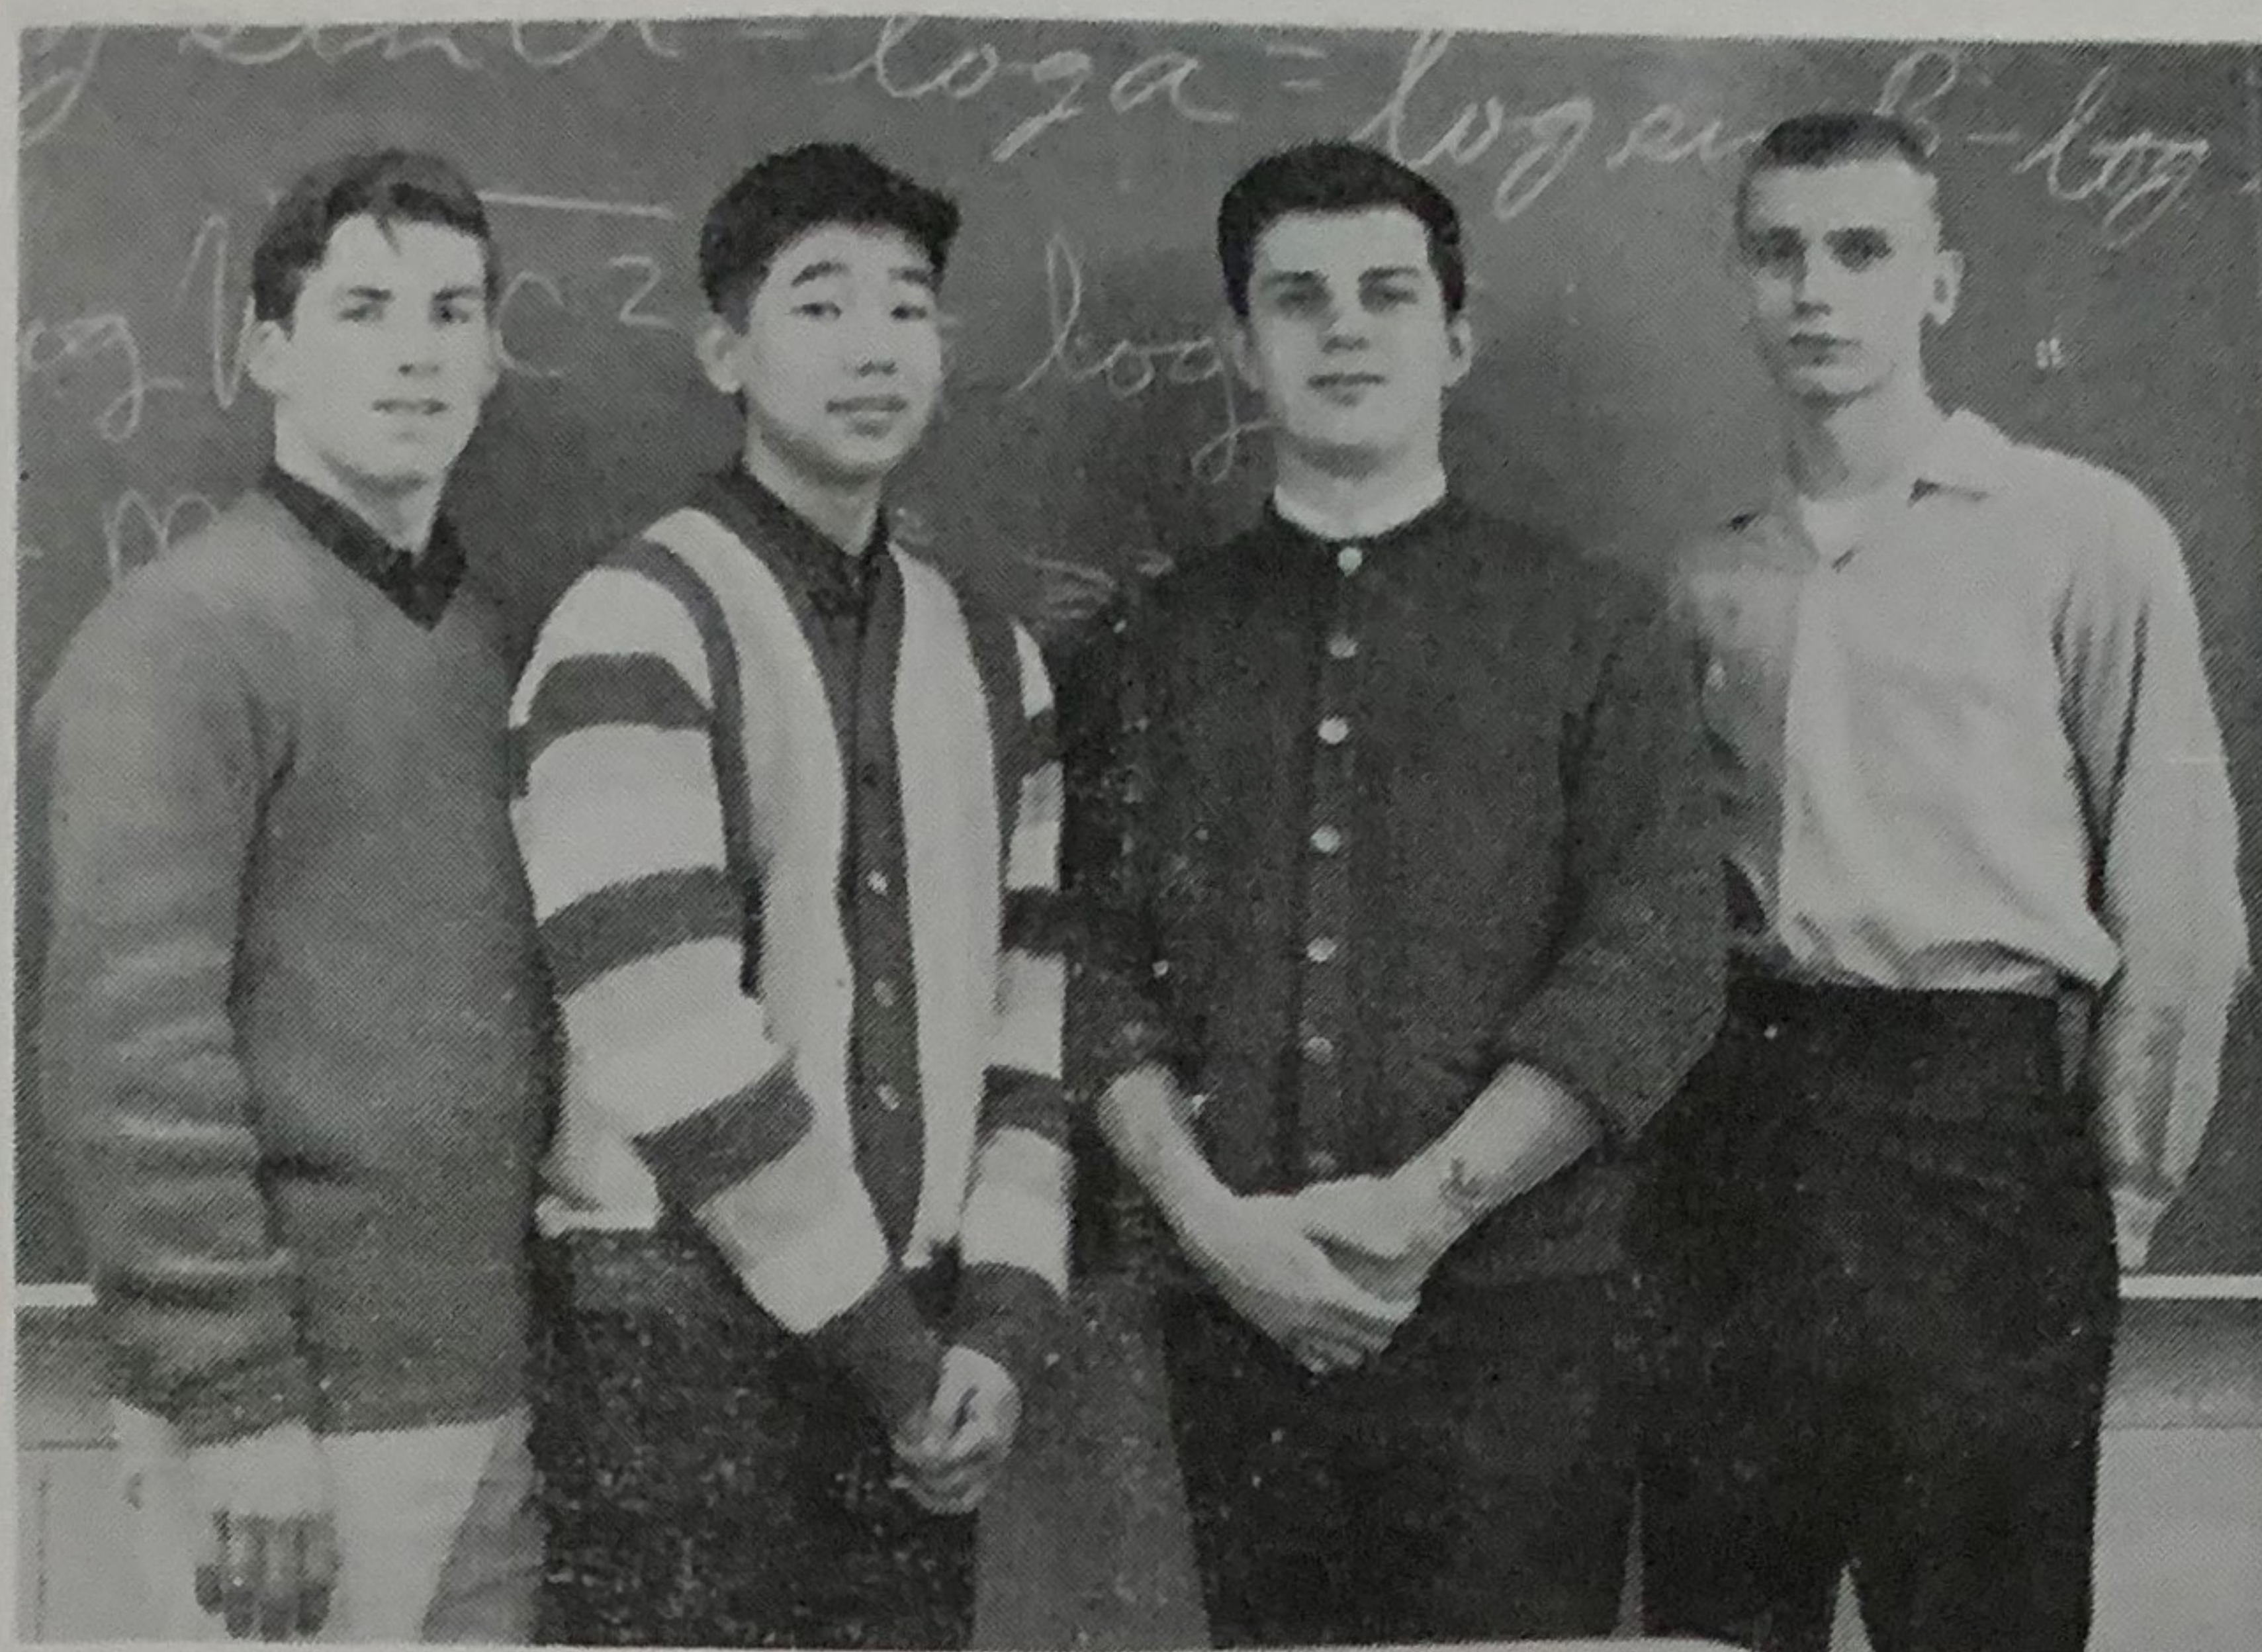

Take time to give.

It is too short to be selfish.

Take time to work.

It is the price of success.

Four Qualify for Math test Finals

Two seniors, Terry Burroughs, scoring 96.6 percentile, and Larry Kubicz, 95.4 percentile, and two juniors, Jan Ting, 98.5 percentile, and Jan Wissmuller, 98 percentile qualified to take Part 2 of the eighth annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test on December 10, 1964.

These students who qualified to take Part 2 were in the top 4% of the Part 1 participants of Lowrey. The final results will be received by Mr. Flee, head of the Math Department, in the end of January.

Originally 57 junior and senior students from Lowrey took Part 1 of the test on November 5.

The scores of Part I and Part II will be combined to determine the prize winners. Approximately $4,000 in scholarship awards will be granted to winners of the competition, according to the highest scores. Colleges in the state will award numerous scholarships to students who qualified for Part II. Also, the first prize winner will receive a gold medal and about twenty second prize winners will be awarded silver medals.

Some 22,000 students from the entire state of Michigan participated in this test.

The test is based on subject matter of the high school mathematics curriculum. The first part, multiple choice problems, was designed to test the general mathematics background of the student. The second part was of a written character, and it was designed to measure the mathematical ingenuity of the student.

Jr. Traffic Safety Council Meets

The Junior Traffic Safety Council has been created to promote safer teenage driving and of a genuine concern for traffic safety. It consists of five representatives from each Dearborn high school. Our representatives are:

Frank Perri	12 B 8
Linda Borum	12 B 1
Bruce Borum	10-B 2
Jeanette Timlick	10-B 11
Sue McKee	10-B 8

They meet with the Council once a month at 7:30 p.m. in the Dearborn Municipal court Building.

The Safety Council will sponsor a poster and speech contest about safety rewarding the winners with prizes. A car safety check-up will be free to all drivers once a year. High Schools compete in this check. The school bringing the most cars will win a trophy. St. Alphonsis is the present champion.

Dearborn schools started this program to impress upon driving and non-driving teens the need for a concern about traffic safety in their age group.

Our representatives are now working to obtain more information on traffic safety for the student body.

Scholarships

Less scholarship applications have been filed this year than was expected, but there is still time for seniors to apply

Some of our Lowrey students have reached the semi-finalist position in the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship Test which was given on November 21, 1964.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given March 13, 1965 at O. W. Best Jr. High and costs $1.00.

The National Scholarship Trust Fund of the Education Council of the Graphic Arts Industry is giving scholarships to seniors and graduates interested in management, scientific engineering design, and teaching careers in the printing industry. The SAT is required and applications must be in by January 25, 1965.

The Michigan Business Schools Association is awarding scholarships for business schools in Michigan.

Alvin M. Bently Foundation is offering scholarships to the class of 1965.

Seniors still have time to find financial aid. Universities and national scholarships funds are waiting to hear from Lowrey High School seniors.

Keep your eye on the senior bulletin board and ask your counselor for further information on scholarships.

Teachers Relax

During the Christmas vacation two of Lowrey's faculty members, Miss Konkoleski, a student English teacher, and Mr. Keiffer, a physics teacher, went to various places. Here are the stories of these trips.

Miss Konkoleski, Mr. Falvo's student teacher, attended the Rose Bowl game during Christmas vacation. She went with a group of 125 University of Michigan students. During the five days in California, she visited many places. Some of these exciting attractions were: Disneyland, Marine Land, Knotts Farm, and Hollywood. Her comment about Hollywood was that "the people there were very interesting."

She stayed at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles. When asked about the game, she replied, "It was cold and exciting." What really fascinated her that day was the Rose Bowl parade.

During Christmas, Mr. Keiffer, one of Lowrey's physics teachers, drove to Florida for a pleasure trip. He traveled the whole state and did many interesting things including watching men catch snakes in the Everglades, riding the propeller boats across the marshes, observing men catch sharks and barracuda in the ocean, and sunning himself in Miami Beach. Although Mr. Keiffer did not go to any of the colorful bowl games during the holidays, he did take in some other tourist attractions and observed the result of the last hurricane to hit Florida.

Although he has been there many times, Mr. Keiffer plans on returning again, perhaps during Easter. He stated that he would like to move Lowrey down on the beaches in Florida. He can be sure that he is not the only person with that great idea.

Annual Correction

In the last issue of the Lowrey Light we stated that Linda Wilkinson was committee chairman of the Activities pages in the yearbook. This was a misprint. Donna Daley is in charge of the Activities section and Linda is in charge of Senior pages. We should like to send our apologies to these two people and our readers.

Thespian News

Thespians are beginning a "meet the theatre" series of meetings. Members are putting on skits and learning about set construction and other aspects of the stage.

Mr. Iriwn is debating over the choice of a musical for next semester. We can be sure that we will know the title of the play and the dates for try-outs very soon.

The new National Thespian Society members will be initiated in the next few weeks.

Thespian meetings are in room 124 every Wednesday at 3:45 p.m. Why don't you join?

Guess Who?

This is one of Lowrey's Senior girls in her earlier years. If you don't know who this is here are some clues: you can find her in both the varsity and the concert band. She maintains a C+ average. After graduation she plans to go to college to study fashion designs or study to be an interior decorator. If you still don't know look on page four.

Winter Concert

The concert band is busy practicing new numbers and trying to decide which will be played in the winter concert to be given March 7, in the O.W. Best auditorium. The concert is being given on a Sunday afternoon to avoid having people come out after a long and tiring work week and then not enjoy themselves.

The program will include the concert band, stage band, and the majorettes, who will march to a blues number. A number of soloists will also be featured in both of the bands.

Individual members of the band are preparing for the Solo and Ensemble Festival to be held February 17, at Garden City East High School. For the first time in several years a brass ensemble, consisting of two trumpets and two trombones, is planning on going. The members of the quartet are Dave Dobrotka, 12B, Daryl Csicsila, 12B, Art Laverdier, 12B, and Lynne Campbell, 11B. Soloists planning to go are Mark McFarlane, 12B, Gaylon Bandy, 12B, Charles Hoskins, 12B, and Art Laverdier, 12B.

On February 10, the concert band will pack up and go to Best to present a concert for the junior high students. Every Year this is done to encourage 9A's coming to Lowrey to join the band.

Service News

Chuck Ross, Army, is stationed in Viet Nam.

Jack Tynan, Air Force, will soon be in Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Ron Ward joined the Navy and is now aboard the U.S.S. Colonial in San Diego, California.

Hall Conduct

There is one matter concerning our student body that needs to be corrected, and that is the conduct in our hallways. Too many students have forgotten completely any sense of courtesy and manners they may have known at one time.

Students are constantly being pushed into walls, open doors, teachers, and other students. Yet hardly is an apology heard.

Running in the halls is not only against the rules, it is dangerous. Many students may be hurt by running down the corridor, and hitting an on-coming student. This produces pain, anger and most likely a few lost homework papers.

Although some hallway incidents come about through discourtesy, others are caused by mere stupidity. To some people, to cause someone to drop his books and strew his papers on the floor is a very funny joke. Actually it is not funny at all. It not only embarrasses the victim of this joke, but may cost him a tardiness.

The last important matter to be mentioned is the voice capacity of some of our students. Lowrey High School is not located atop Echo Mountain. There is no need to shout so loudly just to make yourself heard.

Let us try and correct this situation. It definitely needs improvement.

How Honest?

Honesty means being truthful in every way, but, more broadly it means fairness in all actions. "Honest actions build confidence and respect for a person."

Even though honesty is the best "policy" it is obvious that there are many people who either don't agree, or just don't pay any attention to it. This has been shown by some of the many things that have been lost and not turned in to lost and found. Many 11th and 12th grade students have reported that books, especially English 2600 and 3200, have been stolen from their lockers and from the shelves outside the cafeteria during the lunch periods.

The lost and found has been thoroughly checked, only to find that not one of these books has been turned in. This then, must mean that the books stolen have either been kept by their thief, or else have been destroyed.

If you have ever had anything stolen then you know what it is like, so why would you want to do it to others.

If you are one of the persons this article is printed for, then turn over a new leaf, and turn in anything you find, no matter how small. These actions will make for much better citizenship.

There's no place like Venice — where else can you get seasick just crossing the street?

In Russia all the towels are simply marked "THEIRS."

Inquiring Reporter

The Inquiring Reporter for this issue would like to know what you would do with a Jolly Green Giant. Here are some of the replies:

Heather Clark, 12B: I'd give him to an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day.

Kathy Fauer, 10B-4: Send him back to his valley.

Marge Balough, 12B-1: I would put it on top of my car so that in a busy parking lot I could find my car a lot easier.

Becky Dagenhardt, 12B-3: I would set it out in front of the store to attract attention.

Frank Shimkus, 11B-11: I would give it to Mike Baund to play with.

Gail Katterman, 12B-5: Rob him of his green peas with pearl onions.

Judy Bolash, 12B-1: Teach it how to play basketball.

Julie Chumm, 12B-2: Wrap it up and give it to Dyanne for her birthday.

Gail Helgren, 12B-4: I'll never tell. He could come in handy at times.

Linda Altherr, 12B-1: Butter him up and send him to Mickey.

Karl Schmidt: Put him in a baggie and put him in the freezer.

Karen Fauer, 10B-4: Tell him how to make better peas.

Diane Baxter, 10B-1: Squash him in a can and send him to Mike, C.O.D.

Kathy Kerr, 12B-5: Give him to Jerry so they can HO! HO! HO! together.

Ray Berry, 11B: Open my big jaws and go HO! HO! HO!

Richard Fritz, 11B-4: Patch up the argument between him and his Amazon woman.

Marsha Brisbin, 11B-2: I'd ask him for a four year supply of green beans.

Charlie Hannula, 11B-5: I'd ask him for his autograph, because he is my favorite hero-type monster.

Ed Babicz, 11B-1: I'd ask him what's new besides HO! HO! HO!

Ron Aitken, 11B-1: I'd tell him to take me to the Amazons.

Prom Correction

In the last issue of the Lowrey Light we said that the rental fee for next year's Senior Prom would be from "$175 to $175". A correction of this is that the fee would be $150 or more.

Fads Change Rehabilitation As A Career Student Teacher Joins Spec. Ed.

Think back about three years when you were in Junior High school.

Remember the fads? Remember the short skirts, the high ratted hair, the amount of make-up you wore? Remember the white lipstick the girls wore that made them look like ghosts? How you used to roll your skirts up at the waist to make them ghosts? How you used to roll your hair on top of your head? Remember the boys' long hair which they wore in a water fall and the pointed shoes?

Well today the fads have changed. Girls are more conservative about their appearance.

The skirts are worn either to the middle of the knee or just below it. The casual look in hair styles is now popular. The old fashion permanents are out of style and the new body permanents are in. The make-up is not worn as thick as it used to be.

The fashions of teen-age girls are pastel colors of clothes and thick Mohair sweaters. Just recently black diamond nylons become a new fad.

The boys' looks and fads are also changing. They also wear Mohair sweaters and suits without lapels. The pointed shoes are going out of style. They keep their hair shorter and neater.

Are you following the fads?

Sterling Silver to Be Given to Grad

This June a top home economics graduate will receive a place setting of sterling silver flatware displayed on an attractive plaque, according to Mrs. Dotson. This will be provided to Lowrey and many other schools without cost or obligation by the Sterling Silversmiths of America.

The students who will be eligible for this award are 12th grade girls who have had at least two years of homemaking with at least a B plus average.

Each school participating in this event is sent a Homemaking Award Kit of working materials which includes a complete set of illustrations of the designs in sterling flatware. The home economics students will choose which pattern they like best for the place setting.

Before this place setting is given to this graduating senior at the honors assembly next June, it will be available in the Home Economics Department for display and study by all the classes.

A dog food recently put on the market, carries this slogan: "Tastes just like a mailman's ankle".

The hardest time to raise a family is in the morning.

Persons with physical or mental disabilities may be called handicapped or disabled. A blind girl, a deaf boy, a man who has lost an arm, a feeble minded child—all are handicapped. They need special help so they can lead happy, productive lives.

About 1 of every 7 persons throughout the world has some kind of disability. There are about 25,000,000 handicapped persons in the United States. But only 10,000,000 of them have handicaps that could keep them from leading normal, useful lives.

With special training, even severely handicapped persons can lead productive lives. The blind can learn to read. Persons without legs can be taught to walk with artificial limbs. Thus, society gains many skills and talents that otherwise might be lost.

In ancient times, hardly anyone helped the handicapped. The welfare of early tribes depended on the ability of each member to fight and to work. A handicapped person, who could not fulfill his responsibilities, threatened the safety of all. Often, he was driven away and left to die. Most ancient people believed that evil spirits caused injury or disease. The Greeks let deformed newborn children die of exposure. In Rome, parents could legally drown a disfigured infant.

During the Middle Ages, from about the 400's to the late 1400's, people ridiculed the handicapped and regarded them with suspicion. Noblemen often used cripples as court jesters. Many handicapped persons were burned as witches.

Attitudes toward the handicapped changed, beginning during the 1800's. Many persons began to regard the disabled with pity and to treat them with special care. By the 1900's, the disabled had a chance to live as full and normal lives as possible. During World War I, doctors and craftsmen began to develop efficient artificial body parts. The art of making and fitting these parts became a special branch of medicine called prosthetics. Today, government agencies and voluntary organizations offer help to persons with any type of handicap.

There is a great demand for teachers and counselors to help the handicapped. Such educators work in schools, hospitals, and social agencies, as well as in residential schools for the blind, deaf, or mentally retarded. Educational requirements for such work vary from state to state. Most states require that teachers of the handicapped have at least a bachelor's degree, and at least one year's work in their special field. Most of these highly specialized teachers are paid more than regular wages.

Additional information about career opportunities in helping the handicapped may be obtained from the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington 25, D.C.

Writers Needed F.T.A. And Fizz Chem Meet

You say you're sick of school and tired of the same old routine? Your math teacher is an absolute bore, and your history teacher is worse? Is that what's making life miserable? Do you feel depressed? You have a problem and your parents just don't understand? And now your best friend won't even listen to you? Why not let off some steam!!!! Put what's bothering you down on paper so every one else can suffer along with you.

But wait-maybe you're one of them. Perhaps little things like freezing these people without a single problem on Monday mornings after spending the whole week-end in a cold library doesn't bother you. Not to mention standing all the way to school on the bus.

Well-whatever your problems may or may not be, why not write about them? Our school is publishing long, short, serious, or humorous. We need essays. They may be in a magazine which is in desperate need. But all will be read and considered. They may be turned into Mrs. Helveston, Room 209. Oh yes, and if you are shy don't even bother writing your name—we'll understand.

F.T.A. And Fizz Chem Meet

The Future Teacher and Fizz-Chem Clubs joined together in a fun-pack-Monday, January 11th to view ed outing to the Rackham Auditorium travelogs of Colorado, South Dakota, and Michigan. After the two hour show the fifteen students, along with Mr. Keiffer and Mrs. Dotson went out for pizza and pop.

The two clubs plan to get together again as soon as it snows for a toboggan party. Separately, however, the Future Teachers plan on going ice-skating and bowling while the Fizz-Chem's go skiing.

Co-op News

Juniors interested in taking part in the Co-op training program during their Senior years, should see Mr. Pearson as soon as possible after February 1st.

Co-op students leave school at the end of the fourth, fifth, or sixth period, to work at worthwhile occupations that have training possibilities. The place of work must be approved by the school, and so must be the student.

Mrs. Gertrude Moorhead will be in our school for eleven weeks as a student teacher under Miss Mateskon in the Special Education Department. She is attending Wayne State University and will graduate in June with a bachelor's degree. Her major is in Special Education, dealing with orthopedic children.

Mrs. Moorhead is married and has two girls, ages 14 and 18. She substituted for nine years in Garden City.

When asked what she thought of our school, she said, "In the short time I have been here at Lowrey, I have been very impressed, especially with the Special Education Department."

"The things I look for and like in a student," Mrs. Moorhead stated, "are cooperation, interest, and a sense of humor."

We welcome you to Lowrey, Mrs. Moorhead.

Art News

While browsing through the art room this past week, I noticed many new exhibits.

Cliff Nealy, 12B-7, is doing a triptych, a painting done on three panels with hinges that allow it to be folded or hung side by side. His colors as well as his structure are most unique.

Other works that fascinated me included the mosaics. They are being done in seeds of various colors, sizes, and tile pieces. The seed mosaics are all representative. They are a peacock by Jim Downings, an owl by John Karolski, and flower settings by Terry Baxter and Gail Haack. There is also a triptych in mosaic being done by Sue Fought which takes the shape of instruments.

There were two abstract ceramic (tile) mosaic, too. These were done by Bruce Graham and Nick Michels.

If you are ever by the art room, make a note to stop in and see what your school is producing in the art field.

Riverside Topples Bears 81-71

Rebels Take First Place

Lowrey's varsity basketball team was handed a rough defeat by Riverside with a score of 81-71 on Friday, January 15.

Diverside and Lowrey were tied for first place in the league with two victories each. Now Riverside is alone in first place.

In the first quarter, the game was close. Both teams were quick to make baskets. The quarter ended with a score of 17-15 in favor of the Rebels.

In the second quarter Riverside kept its lead. However, Lowrey was always close behind. The half ended 38-35.

The third quarter saw the Polar Bears come alive, sparked by Doug Cole and Jerry Wood. They drove hard in the third quarter to take the lead 56-52.

Riverside used a full court press throughout the game and in the fourth quarter the Bears were visibly tired. The Rebels put on the pressure and outscored Lowrey 29-15. This was enough to win the game 81-71.

Lowrey's major weakness is in defense. Although the Bears had greater height than Riverside, it did not stop the Rebels from scoring. Dave Dyer of Riverside scored 30 points. Another Riverside player scored 26.

Lowrey, too, has an impressive offense, but against the Rebel tactics, our players were quickly tired out by the fourth quarter.

Lowrey's scoring was as follows:

Jerry Wood	26
Doug Cole	20
Joe Gary	15
Ed Wigley	8
Bob Fox	2

Reserves Win 56-48

The reserve basketball team evened their league record at 1-1 as they defeated Cherry Hill on Friday, January 8, by the score of 56-48. It made their over-all record stand at 3-2.

In the first quarter both teams looked sloppy and the Spartans held a 10-9 edge. In the second quarter the Bears got going and took a 24-18 into the locker room.

The third quarter was a see-saw affair which saw the Bears take a slight advantage 16-15 and as a result led 40-32 at the end of the quarter. The last quarter wound up as a tie 15-15 and with this the Bears won their game 54-48.

The following is a breakdown in the scoring:

Korte	16
Gerych	12
Malyszek	10
Bolash	10
Hull	4
Opp	3
Kennedy	1

When Coach Flee was asked

Pictured above is Bob Fox, taking a pass in the Lowrey game against Cherry Hill. Pictured behind the unidentified Cherry Hill player is Joe Gary, number 33.

Bears Keep Rolling

I feel it my duty, students and faculty of Lowrey, to bring to your attention a great injustice. It seems that the Haston school newspaper has been running an article entitled the "Predictor." In this article, someone on the staff of the Haston paper makes predictions about the outcome of certain athletic events. It should also be brought to your attention that in this article Haston has been running a series of "cuts" directed toward Lowrey High. So this is my answer to the great "Predictor."

Whoever you are, great "Predictor" from Haston, you can't luck out in guessing results all of the time. This was evident in the basketball game between our two respective teams, in which Lowrey played its worst game of the season and still managed an easy 63-56 victory.

As for your basketball team, the students of Lowrey would like to wish them luck in their battle for the cellar in the Tri-River League. It seemed to us that the battle for that position was between you and Southgate, but since your Knights were walked on by lowly Southgate, you will receive the honored position. Next up the line will be Southgate, with Cherry Hill finishing in the number three spot, topped by Riverside, and with Lowrey finishing first.

Now I would like to predict the outcome of one game. This is the Lowrey-Haston game on February 5. In this game I see no reason for Lowrey to hold back, so the Polar Bears should score another easy victory over Haston, despite the fact that the team will be without the services of Doug Cole.

what he thought of the game, he replied, "I was pleased with the rebounding of Bill Opp which won the game for us and the help we got from our bench."

Prudent Prognosticator

After a close first half in which our cagers were ahead by only 3 points, they put forth a great second half effort to wallop Cherry Hill on January 8 by the score of 85-57. This was Lowrey's fourth straight triumph after suffering a season's opening loss to Garden City East. It should be noted that this was the Bears' second league victory in as many games and we were tied with Riverside for first place in the Tri-River League, prior to the Lowrey-Riverside game of January 15.

First quarter play went along smoothly for Lowrey, as mistakes by Cherry Hill gave the Bears chances on which they capitalized as the score of 22-13 in favor of the Bears at the end of the quarter indicated.

In the next eight minutes, play proved to much different. A high spirited Cherry Hill team took over the control that Lowrey had earlier, and put themselves right back into the game. Although they could not muster enough points to take the lead, they only trailed the Polar Bears by 3 points, 38-35, at the half.

It was in the third quarter where the Bears showed their old form, as they again took charge of the game. Lowrey ended the quarter by outscoring Cherry Hill 30-7 which gave our Cagers a comfortable lead.

The fourth quarter was a pretty even match between the two teams, as Lowrey only scored 2 more points than Cherry Hill. This brought the final score to 85-57 in favor of Lowrey.

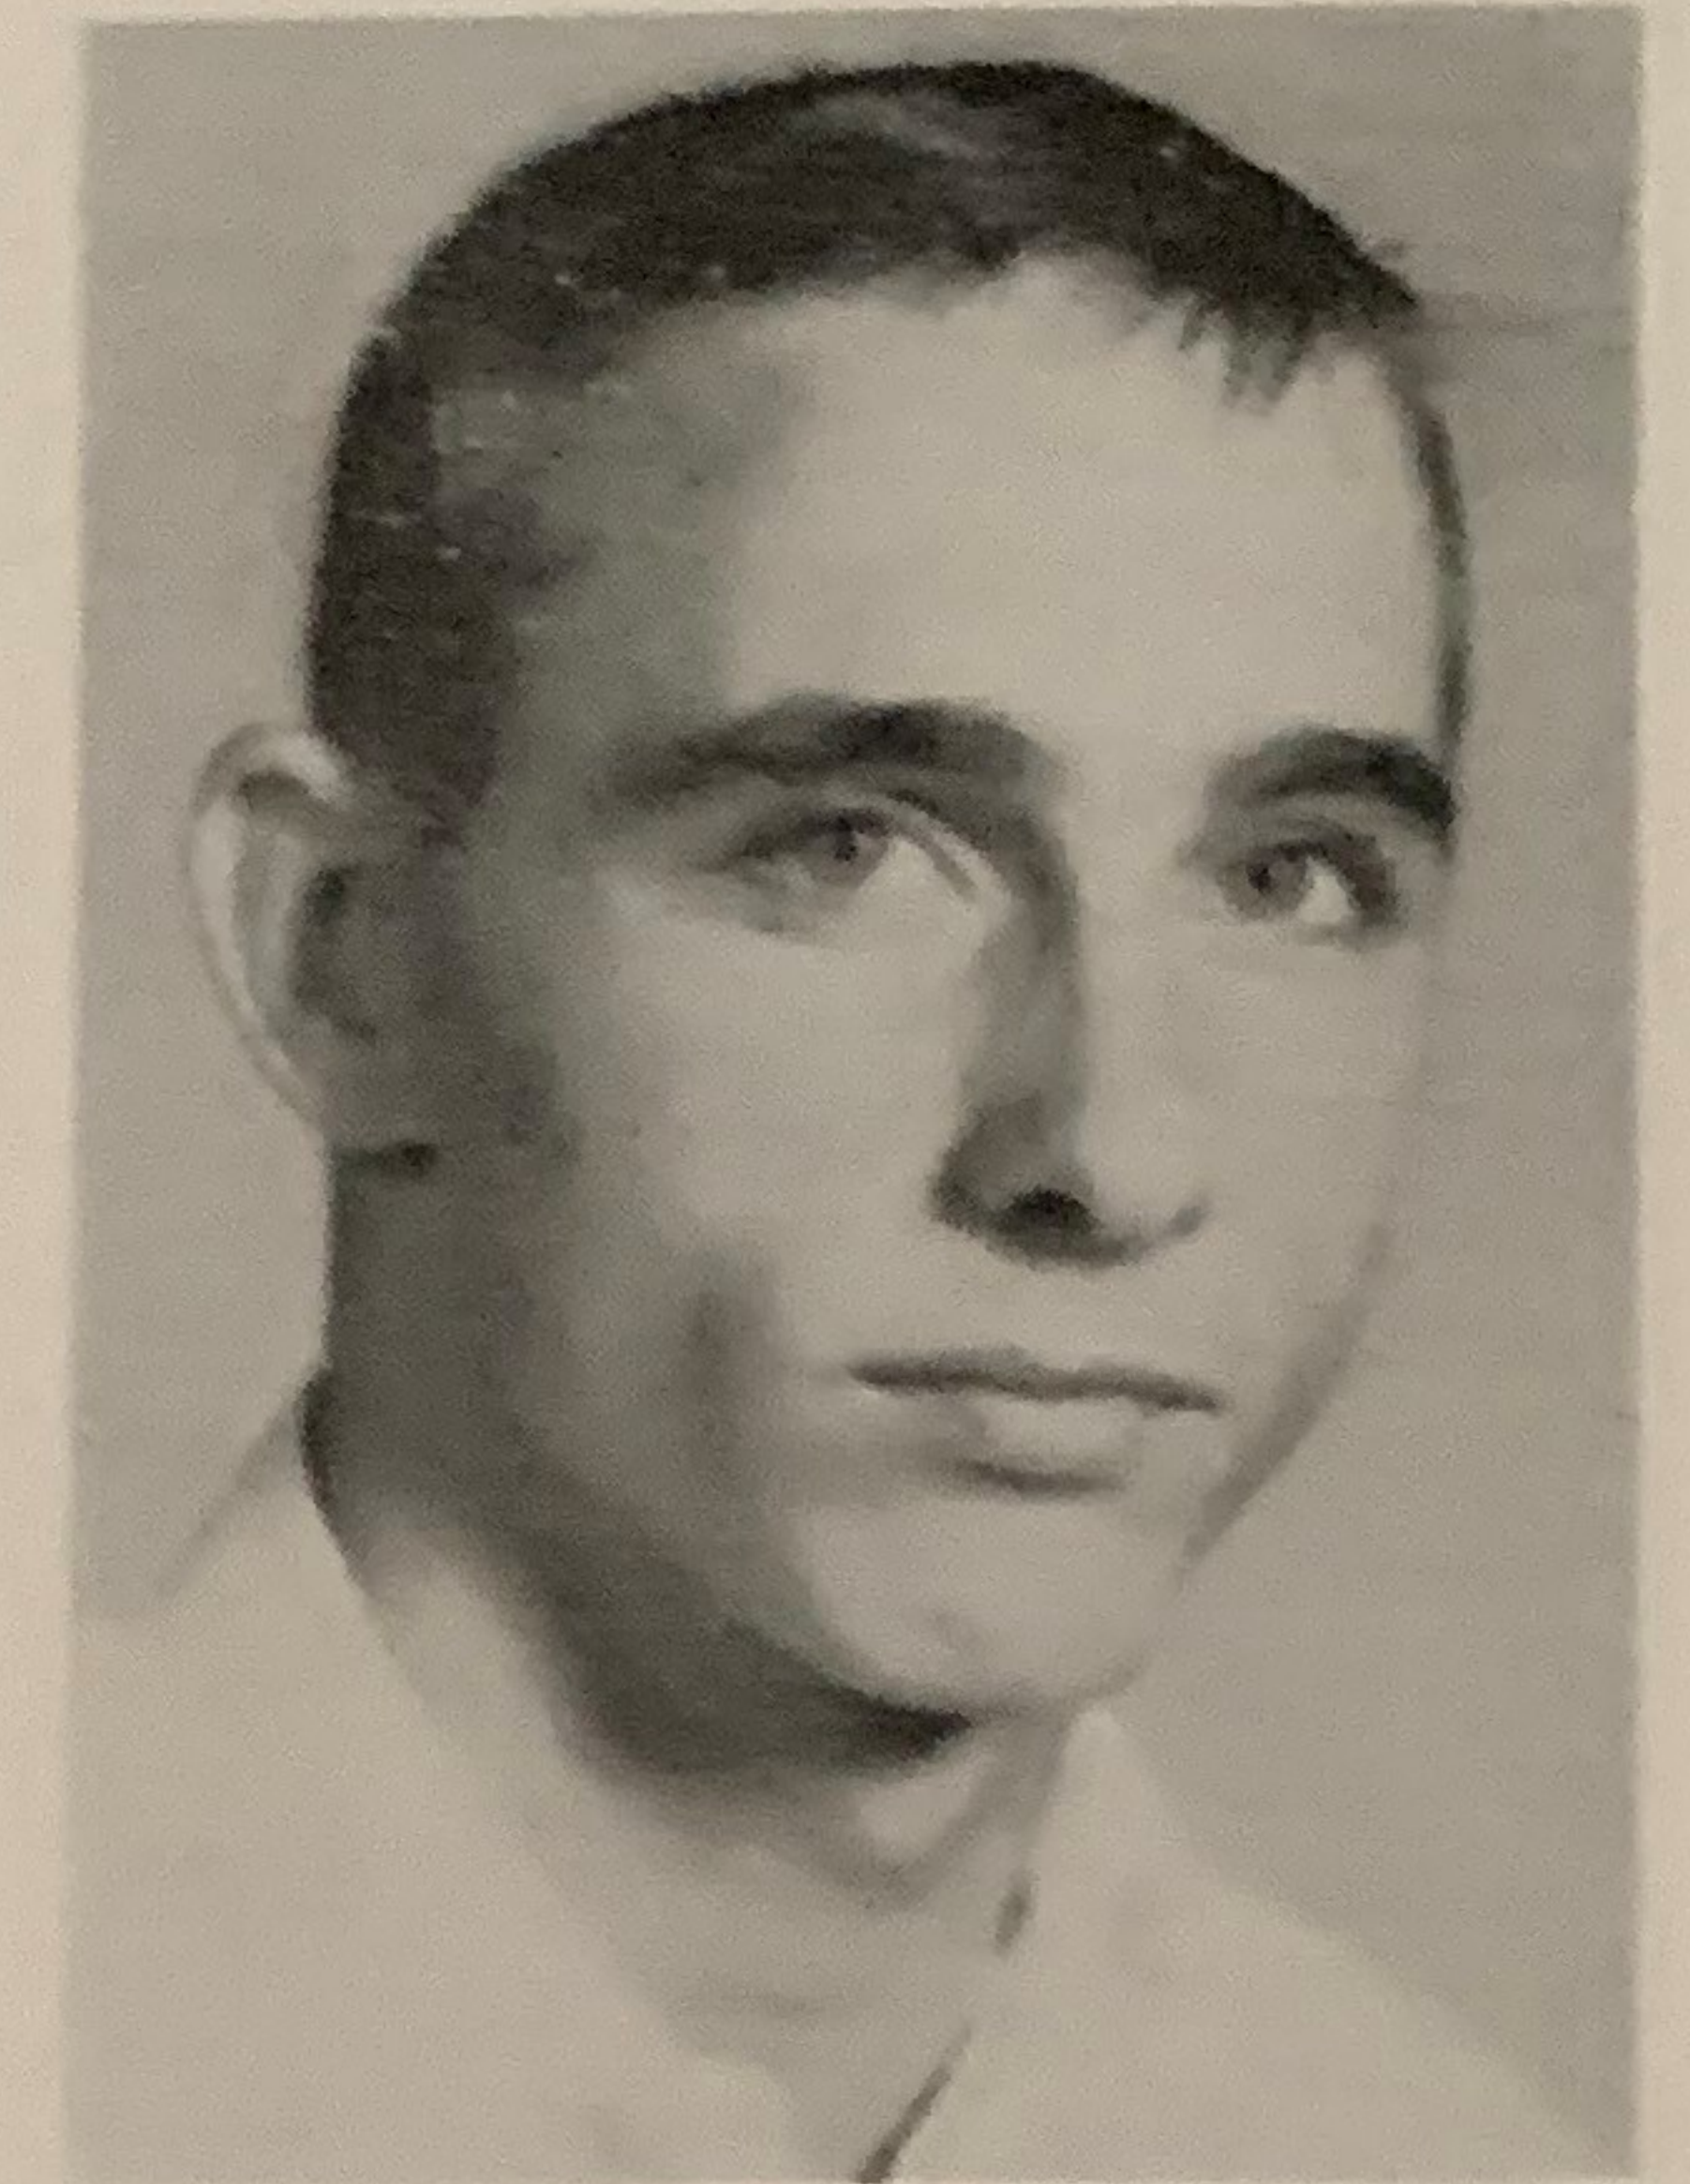

The scoring for Lowrey went as follows:

Player	Points
Cole	24
Wood	23
Gary	15
Wigley	10
Fox	9
Miller	2
Mitchell	2

Sports Spotlight

Doug Cole, 12B-2, has won seven varsity letters here at Lowrey. He has made All-City and All-League in basketball, as well as All-City in baseball and All-League in football.

Doug has a C average and is on a college prep course. He is majoring in science and math. Doug would like to attend either Western or Eastern Michigan University and hopes to play ball there. At college he plans on majoring in either physical education or business administration. Doug's favorite hobbies are athletics and pool.

When asked his greatest experience while playing sports for Lowrey he replied, "Being chosen player of the year in Dearborn in basketball last year."

Doug was glad to be part of this year's team and wishes them much success.

Last year during the basketball season, Doug set the school record for points in one year with 316 points for a 19.8 average. He broke the old record held by Bob Greco of 277 points set back in 1956.

Congratulations for the job you have done for Lowrey, and in the great success you have given our school.

G.A.A. News

The Jr. High G.A.A. is still having table tennis in the boy's gym balcony every Tuesday. The girls will continue this until March 3rd.

On March 10 they will finish volleyball (which was started before basketball season). After the volleyball tournaments are finished they will begin basketball.

G.A.A. The girls in Senior high G.A.A. have finished Table Tennis. The finalist are as follows Barb Szalay and Joann Milunouts, both in 10B. In second place were Pia Frederikson and Gail Dearvang also both in 10B.

Table tennis singles team tournaments will begin on Jan. 28.
