Campus Casuals

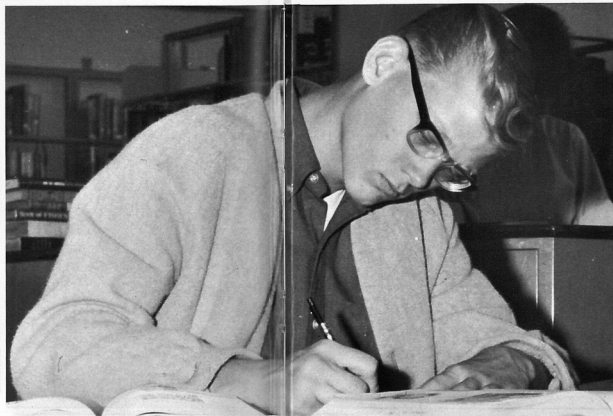

Intermission...

Amid the hubbub of campus life, students found time to relax and chat with friends, to check out the long-awaited novel, or to buy candy from the student store before hurrying back to classes and studies.

Now, about this upcoming explosion . . .

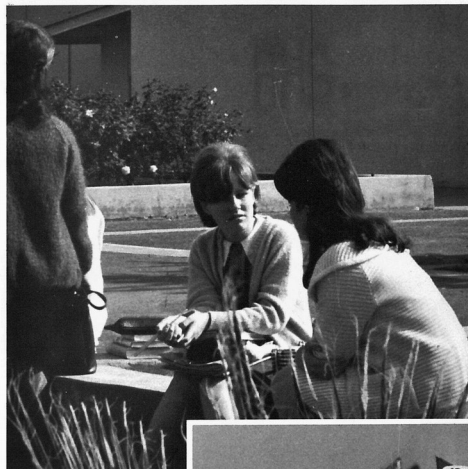

Life behind the iron curtain.

Richard Peoples

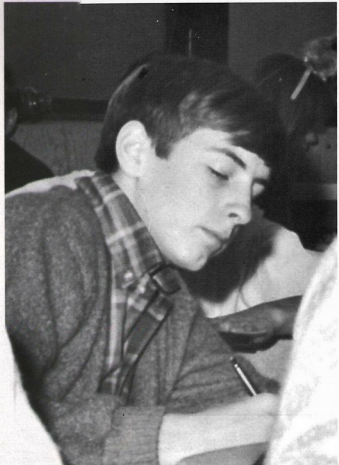

found in diligent study.

Can't miss out on that midday gossip!

Hours spent dispensing "goodies."

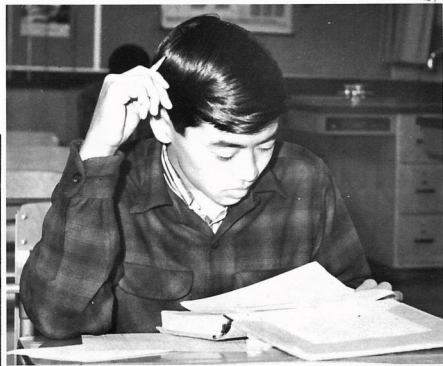

I knew I shouldn't have celebrated 'til finals were over!

finals

Mental anguish...

After much pacing the floor, a few moans and groans, and hours of furious study, we struggled through each of our finals which always seemed to creep up unexpectedly.

Now where'd I write those answers?

Advisory: a time to study.

Phhhht . . . Sulphur suckers?

Oh well, I give up!

The break: a time to relax until next final.
