13 Bolt Staffers Crowd into Cars; Travel to MSU

On Thursday, November 17, thirteen Edsel Ford High School students traveled to Michigan State University for the annual High School Newspaper Day. The students, Editor Janet Ware, 11A; Assistant Editor Jane Brundage, Lori Karbowski, Louise Wyczawski, Lynne Hamilton, Sue Rue, Kathy De Mara, Sharon Koch, Patricia Naumann, Susan Stedman, Mike Lebert, Pat Antol, and Sue Tate, all 12B's, were accompanied by the Bolt advisor, Mrs. CarolAnn Barker.

Before the journalism sessions began there was a general registration held between 8:30 and 9:00. Later in the day, the Michigan State Journalism School presented working journalism sessions for the students to help them in publishing their individual newspapers.

Some of the topics which were discussed were such things as headline writing, make-up and typography, reporting feature writing, advertising in school newspapers, and production tricks for duplicated papers. There were also classes concerning the careers which are offered in the journalism field and some of the production problems that a school newspaper may encounter. While the students were attending these sessions, Mrs. Barker was attending the special meetings that were held for the advisors and the teachers of the schools represented.

E.F.'s Third Hootenanny Proves to be Another Success

If you're one of the people who likes to lead a life of fun and excitement, you probably went to the 3rd annual Hootenanny last night. The Hootenanny was sponsored by the Booster Club. The chairman who planned the show was Kathy Gould, 11B, who is an active member in the Booster Club.

Talented Students

Participating in the show as a trio were Be Seabright, 12B, Judy Chase, 12B, and Danette Brandy, 12B. The folk-duo consisting of seniors Ron Hardesty and Marlene Strahota sang well-known folk songs. Linda Marley, 11B, again showed us her talent by singing a solo. With the help of these students and others who were in the show, and the ones who worked back stage, the show was a success. Mark Sawyer, 11B, was the M.C. and he

Junior Miss Contest

Two Senior Girls Place in Pageant

Two Edsel Ford High School seniors, Judy Chase and Marlene Strahota, were winning contestants in the 1967 Dearborn Junior Miss contest held on November 13.

Judy was chosen first runner-up by her singing performance of "Where is Love" from Oliver. Marlene, the second runner-up, sang "I Can't Say No" from Oklahoma. All the contestants were judged on the basis of physical fitness, talent, poise and a personal interview.

Last year's Junior Miss, Pat Hogan, was also an Edsel student.

Sophomores Elected To New Class Offices

This year's 10B elections were held Monday and Tuesday. Because the sophomores were new to our school and not very well acquainted with all of the 10B's running for various offices a special assembly for the sophomores was held.

In this assembly, the sophomores running for the offices, each had an opportunity to introduce himself to the class and also to give the class an account of his qualifications.

BULLETIN—ELECTION RESULTS

The following students were successful in their bid for class offices: President, Gary Krep; Vice-president, Polly Manis; Secretary, Sue Crandall; Treasurer, Dan Waite; Executive Council, Merrie Ackley, Pat Carmichael, Blair Kooi, Gary Johnson, Pam Maples, Shelley O'Brien, and Eulaine Pittenger.

Former Student Killed in Action; Military Rites Held At Arlington

Many students and faculty members may remember 1960 Edsel Ford High School graduate, John S. Cochrane, who was killed in action in Vietnam on October 24.

Active Student

John was described as "a good student and the personality of the class" by Mrs. Almerene Kaufman, his counselor. He was a member of the Student Assembly, Varsity Club and Choir. During his three years at Edsel, he earned three letters in track, two letters in football, and was also on the All-City football team in his senior year.

Career in Army

After high school graduation, John attended Taylor University in Illinois and later began a career in the U.S. Army, where he attained the rank of First Lieutenant. He was also to be awarded the Bronze Star for bravery for leading 500 Australian troops into battle last August.

Received Military Rites

Full military rites were held for Lt. Cochrane at Arlington National

12 Students Selected For Exchange Day

Who can go? Who has to stay home?

These were two big questions the Executive Council had to answer. This year our all-school exchange day is on November 29, at Dearborn High. From all the senior and junior council members, twelve had to be chosen to go. After an ordeal of drawing tags, (so no one would have the unpleasant job of choosing who would attend from the many enthusiastic and deserving members), it was decided. The honored students are seniors, Les Luchonok (Ex. Council President), Tony Vadino (Ex. Council Vice-Pres.), Dan Schewe, Be Seabright, Andrea Curia, Maureen Murtagh, and Debbie Gersell. George Barbu, Tammy Larsen, Pat Wilkie, Cathie Johnson, and Darcy Green are the juniors who will attend. On December 1, twelve Dearborn High students will be our guests for the day.

The purpose of an exchange day is to promote inter-school interest.

Cemetery in Arlington, Virginia. The rites were attended by Mayor Orville L. Hubbard.

Executive Council Solves Its Problem With I. D. Cards

Those cherished identification cards are back again this year. Everyone is looking forward to having his picture taken, along with giving needed information on each card to identify him as an Edsel Ford student.

But this year the I.D. cards have a specific purpose. The Executive Council found many non-Edsel Ford students coming to the dances without guest passes. Confusion and troubles arose.

To solve the problem the Council has decided that after pictures are taken, the sophomores and juniors will receive their I.D. cards. With an admission ticket, the card will be shown to get in to every school dance. The tentative period set for use of the I.D. cards is one year. As for now, the seniors will not receive any I.D. cards. So let's all use those I.D. cards with enthusiasm, for our own advantage.

Senior Pics Come — Hands Get Cramps

It all started about a week ago when I finally got my senior pictures. I was so happy then; that is until I realized what a nightmare it had turned out to be.

Believe it or not, at that time I was even anxious to get started writing on the photographs. I sat down at my desk, pen in hand, with a stack of pictures and even a list I had made out of all the people who requested the reproductions. I was pretty proud of the first few I wrote out; they were quite clever and I thought even Mark Twain couldn't have done better. Soon I began to get a little tired of writing them and ideas didn't seem to come as easily. I started to write down any old thing just to get it over.

Just what can you say to the person who always copies your homework and has bad breath? It isn't easy to come up with something that won't hurt his feelings yet isn't an out-and-out lie. Finally I cracked under the strain and chose the path that so many before me had chosen. Frantically I began to write exactly the same standard phrases on each picture!

Well, now here I am in the cold light of day, realizing the horror of what I have done. It's too late now; everyone has already compared pictures and they all know. But there will always be that haunting question: Is it better that I said the same thing written what I really thought of the recipients?

Matmen Anticipate Good Season

The wrestling season is here, and the prospects look good for this year's grapplers. Of the many returning mat-men are Jim Moss, 12B; Rod Machak, 12B; Frank Nastase, 11B; Bruce Ballnik, 11A; Ron Haney, 11A; Bob Skolnik, 11B; and Mike Sherman, 11B.

Last year the squad tied with Melvindale for second place in the league finals. Of the returning mat-men,

Football Season Ends Victoriously; Basketball Team Also Aims High

Well, it's that time again; time to pack up all the footballs, tackling dummies, and trophies and move into a nice warm gym to get ready for the basketball season.

Hope For Victory

Tonight the T-Birds will don their basketball uniforms for the season opener at Roseville. For the last three years the cagers have been defeated in their first game, so they would like to break this unpleasant streak and get off to a good start. Nothing looks better after that first game than a pretty 1-0, won-lost record.

Team Roster

This year's team is made up of six seniors and eight juniors. The seniors are Sam Kachaturoff, 12A; Paul Smith, 12A; Doug Bock, Dan Schewe, Steve Kough, and Pat Monea, all 12B's. The juniors consist of Dennis Aylward, Jim Beems, Bob Bores, Ted some were outstanding wrestlers last year. Ballnik took first in the Trenton Invitionals. Machak and Nastase took seconds in the league finals, while Moss took third.

So, with much experience and great anticipation, the grapplers are looking forward to another successful season. The first meet will be held on December 1 with Belleville, at home.

skin diving lessons later this year. She is also interested in art and hopes to further her education by attending the Academy of Art in Bloomfield, Michigan.

Her last comment was "I just love it here, everyone is so friendly and just great to me."

A 100% Pole At Edsel? Eva Is

Ever met an actual 100% Polish person? If you haven't, now is your chance.

This fall, Eva Kwiatkowski, entered Edsel Ford as a 10B. Eva was born in Warsaw, the capital of Poland. She came to the United States in January of 1964, after the Polish government granted her permission to do so. Now she lives with her aunt and uncle and would like to make this country her permanent home.

Eva is majoring in French, English, math and science. In comparing the Polish high school program with Edsel's, Eva remarked "I'd be taking about the same courses except I would be taking the required language, Russian, instead of French."

Eva is very interested in swimming, and has made plans to take some

by Sue Tate

Attention all students! It's still not too late to join the various clubs here at Edsel Ford. New members are always welcome, so start going to those meetings and become an active member of the student body.

Y-TEENS

Members of this club will travel to Wayne County General Hospital to work and play with the children.

The Y-Teens has been broken into two groups—Alpha Tri (for all new members) and Omega (for all old members). In order to join the Omega's, a member must earn a certain number of points.

FUTURE NURSES

Last Wednesday, a speaker from the Carnegie Institute came and spoke to the girls about medical technicians.

On December 10, Miss Young, Oakwood Hospital Supervisor of Nurses, will hold an orientation period for members of the club who have signed up for volunteer work there. Miss Young will explain the duties of the girls and their time schedule will be worked out as well.

Thanksgiving Day Presents Turkeys, Turkeys, Turkeys

Since Thanksgiving brings such advantages as two extra days of vacation, a time to get together with friends and relatives, and a repast of good food, it may also bring some disadvantages. One of the "disadvantages" is called "leftover turkey."

Perhaps one reason for this problem of large amounts of leftover turkey is the fantastic neighborhood competition. Each year families rush out to buy the biggest and heaviest turkey in the store. The whole family seems to find immeasurable pride in saying "Ours weighed 22 pounds."

But no matter how or why this problem is created, there is still the problem of what to do, or rather, what is to be done with the vast quantity of turkey that seems to escape these "hungry" Thanksgiving mouths.

The first few days after Thanksgiving are the least problematic in getting rid of some of the meat. At this time no one seems to mind having Thanksgiving turkey for dinner every night, and even the idea of having it for breakfast and lunch is agreeable.

Eventually, however, the family begins to dread the idea of mealtime, and even mother's attempts of turkey pizza, turkey stew, and turkey-burgers lose their appeal.

The climax of the whole event viewed when the family has a "turkey breakdown." Characteristic symptoms of this are fathers eating out, children begging to buy goulash at school for lunch instead of taking a turkey sandwich, and finally the dog's refusing to eat anything but "unturkey-ized" Gravy Train. Everyone is relieved when the last of the turkey is donated to Good Will, until Mother announces that it is time to buy Christmas turkey.

Journalist Spends Day In Navy; Learns of Great Opportunities

Did you know water covers three-quarters of the world, and that the United States depends upon obtaining raw materials from other parts of the world in order to survive? Most of these materials must be shipped, and it is one of the missions of the U.S. Navy to keep the sea lanes open for this purpose.

There were a few of the facts supplied to us when the Navy hosted fifty high school journalists from the Greater Metropolitan area.

The highlights of the two-day schedule would have been a trip to Grosse Ile aboard the USS Amherst, with a flight the following day over Detroit on a Navy Transport plane. But due to the adverse weather conditions, the program was cancelled. Instead, we spent a full day at the Brodhead Armory.

The Navy offers tremendous opportunities in many different fields which can be used in outside vocations. The training acquired for these vocational trades could be a valuable asset when one ends his "hitch" and begins a lifetime career. It is an important decision in an individual's life, and the Navy offers this to you on a voluntary basis.
