Acknowledgement

The Senior Edition staff would like to extend thanks to the following:

- Mr. Frank Moriconi, Nancy Arelt, and the students at LaSalle High School for the long hours they worked to make the printing of this edition possible.
- the Class of 1986 for their generous contribution toward the printing of this edition
- the teachers at John Adams High School for their considerate understanding of our deadlines and for allowing us to miss an occasional class
- Mrs. Maza for the guidance and patience she has shown us throughout the year and for simply putting up with us!

The 1986 Tower staff is now officially released from their duties (at last) and will now use the remainder of their sanity to survive the rigors of college. As for the future Tower staffs, "bonne chance" and may the editors beware.

Senior Wills

I, Beth Alderton, being of sound mind (at the present) do hereby leave to: Whitney - love, success, and a wish for no more trips to the "W.P."; Anniebelle - a "D.B.J.U.T.," fuzzy dice, a tube top, and a Fastway tape to find YOUR Harry on the strip; Kelly - a phone (may you and Marty forever be in "deep" conversation); Lisa - a big toe if you're ever lonely; Wendy - better roommates at I.U. than the Moutrays; Kristi - many more "shopping" sprees in Chicago; Larissa - a wish to get your "V's" and "W's" right; Kathy - three free lessons to the Four-Way Stop school; Chris Balint - a key to the cabinet down the steps; youth group - good luck in keeping Walka-Walkaman alive and 'YF' successful.

I, Michele Diane Ault, in a state of existential confusion do bequeath to: Sue and Diane - REAL social experiences; Adam B. - maturity to endure a REAL relationship; Rich P., Todd C., Adam and Guy - awesome senior years; Chris B. - to get rejected and have to BEG; Tarkington buddies - much love and happiness; next year's photographers (if there are any!) - GOOD LUCK!! You'll need it; Laure - mon amitie eternelle, je t'aime!; senior editors - thanks for putting up with me; Sharon, Jill, Sue, Deb, Chris, Tim, Erin and Jeff - thanks for being the best of friends; the Class of '86 - thanks for sharing the most memorable experiences of my life; and my baby sis Janeen - membership to the Beached Whales Society and an enthralling popular, friend-filled life.

I, Sharon Lyn Sarah Bain, leave to: all my KCC friends - the strength to keep it going; Amy P.V.B. - a crippled horse; Gini and Debbie - six tickets to Chicago on a horse and buggy with three 'romantic' guys; Peggy, Julie and Michelle - one hundred water balloons with all the water they need, a private beautician to braid their hair, and a personal doctor to treat bee stings; Courtney - I leave all my perfectionism even though she insists that "nobody's purfict"; Lori O. - all my ability to make up symbolic B.S. explaining faith development; and John - a big white house on a hill, two dogs, and ten kids with SOME girl.

I, Chris Balint, being of available body, bequeath to: Pooh - the ability to maintain my exquisitely high standards; Michele - all the respect I owe you, plus an increase in wages to 70 cents; Opie - a brand new Ace Hardware broom and dust pan for those garages in college; Erin K. - a rubber band to keep my mouth shut in Indianapolis; David C. - the ability to meet my vertical jump on the court and to return my serve in tennis; Ms.(Bambi) Sivak - a black mouse, courage to get my prescriptions (please), a whole popoid collection, and a reunion every July 29th on the Chicago South Shore.

I, Ann Betts, being of unsound mind do hereby bequeath to: Joan Ackerson - one chemistry and one geometry notebook which she should have kept and a sweatshirt to keep in her locker so she won't freeze; Norman Lee - one container of valve oil so he won't need to borrow any; Sean Norris - one over-sized band locker with space for his boots and a shelf that's too high; Johnna Grenert - one key to the band desk, the band records and all the headaches that go with them; Mike Navarro - a great senior year.

I, Julie Bird, do hereby will to: Missy - a special thanks for being there always when needed; Chris - lots of money, women and fun in order to stay happy; Amy - a curling iron so you can really burn your neck; Todd S. - a kiss cause you're so cute; Stoney and Charles - my body since you've asked all year; David - a lifetime of hugs to remember me by; Carol - my caring understanding and lasting friendship forever; Terri - some tears of joy. I'm glad you've stuck by me through all these years; Mom - I love you and thanks for getting me through high school; and Dad - I wish you would have been here to see me grow up! I love you, Dad.

I, Kathy Breen, will to: Ann Bybee - a new van to wreck, a house to party in (two blocks from your mom's), and my everlasting friendship; Lisa, Whitney, Beth, Wendy, and Larissa - all the memories that these past four years have given us; the future cheerleaders - all the great times I had cheering. Stick with it!; my sister (who's not as little as everyone thinks) - the will to stay young enough to enjoy JA as much as I did. I love you! Good luck in everything you do; Kristi, Kirk, and Daryl - some more great times at BK. Thanks for everything; and the Class of '86 - all the luck in the world to achieve all your dreams.

I, Tammy Brittain, being sound of mind, leave to: Pooter - all the bowling lanes to strut on; Meg - a lifetime of fish; Lee - a bigger mouth to do what you do best; Michelle J. - a candle-light luncheon with Miss "R"; Terri - a quarter to practice shooting; Kristen - what happened, your dog came FIRST; Marisa and Chris - a lifetime supply of coolers; Patty - the best of luck next year and all the legal admits "this time"; Carol - a trip to Florida but Hawaii is a longer trip.

Being of sound mind, body, and big mouth, I, Christine Buras, will to: the student body - my uttermost ability to break the rules and talk my way out of it; Mrs. Flowers - a teacher's aide that will match up to me. Good luck in finding one;

Most Philosophical winners, Tom Molnar and Kelly Keefe, ponder the real essence of life and existence.

Mr. Reed - a partying student in psychology. There are no hickeys; Patty - a friendship that will last forever; Eric - my leftover credits; Mr. David - a new child abuse buddy; the JA staff - a senior class no better than the Class of '86; Bob - all my love and trust. As of June 2 we will be together always. I will always love and cherish you. Good-bye JA!

I, Amy Burns, being of tired mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following to: the partying freshman on the Mississippi - I leave the truth when it's needed and BS the rest of the time; Peggy, Julie and Michelle - an empty beehive and great times throughout; K.A. - a dead fly, an obnoxious turkey, all our partying memories, and my friendship; Gini - the ability to stay standing while realizing my cuteness; S.B. - a three-legged unicorn; Steve L. - all Hacienda runs during J.P.'s class; Kristi - my man Hoss and an escape ladder; Anita - all the ski patrol men to kill the 'dogs' of Friday nights; Anne - a stolen pencil that started an awesome friendship; and all the K.C.C. - special thanks and goodbye.

I, Christopher E. Butler, being of dilapidated mind and great body do hereby bequeath to: Jonathan - a sex life; Comet - the ability to be sly; Doper - a babe that won't bogue on you; Brian - some taste in women; Chuck - the official title "B-Master"; Dipper - a life and the ability to stay awake past 10 p.m. at a party; the boys - some mellowness (you're just too "RAD"); last and least, Marisa - all my love.

Both Sarah Wilhelm and Brian Hull believe that the other is Most Preppy. (The winners received Mr. Kline's Mercedes, as shown in background.)

What may seem like odd attire to most is every-day-wear for Wildest Dressers Laura Glumb and John Newell.

I, David Cane, being of knowledgeable mind and lavish body do hereby give my first and last will and testament. I bequeath the following to: my sister Cathy - all of my book sense (I'll get more of it in college) and the privilege of being my sister; Chris - some jumping ability; Ann - a cure for the snittles; Julie - well, you already know; Carol - the deed to my locker; Terri - the remembrance of the fun times in your office; Creamy, Cakes and Kristi - my "Eddie" impressions; Susie, Debbie, Denise, Jen and Karie - all of the good times from this year to be remembered forever; the Anaconda gong - the phrase "Whals up"; and Patty - anything you wish.

I, Chris Cappelletti, being of sound mind and short body will the following to: "Fatboy" - a bag of funyans and a lifetime supply of lasagna that I can't handle; C. Butler - a bong for I.U. and a game to use it with; Marisa - all rights to have little ("Big") talks; M. Manley - a job for your delinquency!; J.S., J.H., C.N., S.S. and M.M - thanks for starting the year off right at the cottage!; Kristi and Coconut - Did we "G" on those pickles or run a red light?!; Lara Johnson - a pan; Marco - another squirrel; Ruth - another party and a pair of twins for you and I; Meg - boxing gloves and the best of luck; R.H., J.S., M.S., A.O., M.R., K.C., K.G. and J.C. - thanks for the best of times at J.A.; and Ann K. - a career at Wendy's!

I, Stephen Chen, being of fragmented mind, atrophied body and saved soul, do hereby bequeath to: my brother Darrell - the rest of the room and a debt - free account at Chase Manhattan; Richard - a Pizza Hut pizza and Pepsi; Jeff - a Cray IV with one terminal (you buy the rest); Zev - 64 oz. bottle of ketchup; Don, Mike and Tim - wooden boxes in boxes; the science.dept. - a consulting hotline and free classes on any program; Quiz Bowl - more years at NAC and a rigged training machine to give everyone else a chance; anyone next year who wants it - my prestigious position on the tennis team; Cheryl - a diploma and a kiss; the other "friends and dudes" - PTHHHH!; and Mr. Goodman - a bill for four Snickers Bars.

I, Ron Chrobot, do hereby leave to: my good buddy, Adam Friend - a little jumping ability, because with it I think (?) he could be pretty good; A.J. (Captain Crunch) - good luck at N.D. (Who knows, maybe someday we might run into each other); Opie, Leonard, M.K., K.C., D.C. and B.M. - thanks for making high school a real long party; Lee - there aren't enough words meaningful enough or strong enough to express my love for you. You're the best! I love you; and Mitch - thanks for always being Mitch. Something I've always wanted, C.H.V.S.P.M.I.M.Y.!!! Please.

I, Scott Clarisey, from what remaining mind and body I have, will the following to: my sister Kristin - the best three years at Adams she can possibly have. Keep up the studies and good luck with the social life. I hope you have the best; Marco - a Kleenex for new friends you might meet; Anthony, Neil and the Boys - some more New Years Eves; Ken, Mix, Dan, and Mil - some more great times that we've had; Hank - some heat, defrost and floorboard; Chro and Mitch - my vertical I once had; S.A. - my TLAH; and finally I thank all my friends for all the times we've had.

I, Courtney Clark, being of sound mind and body do hereby bequeath to: Mrs. Meyer - the 'How To' book of success and ten free lessons with a speech therapist; Mr. Hofer - the number for Cablevision and instructions to use it; Ms. Diana Grundy - a new typewriter to write her way to success; Lamon Clark and Anthony Johnson - all the right moves; my best buddy "Smokin" Ray - the biggest "bag" of fun she can handle and my friendship forever; Meg - the ten answers I got right in history; and to Pete - the ability to achieve success in and out of school.

I, Lamon Clark, being of sound mind and whimsy body do hereby bequeath to: my little bro Pat

- the ability to stay out all night without getting beat; Tony and Kilio - a bottle of Visine; Ray Newbill - my favorite parking place; Julius - the ability to stay in school; Joe B. - a gallon of white paint; and last of all, I want to leave all my love to that special girl in my life, Bonnie!!

I, Kristin Cocquyt, will the following to: Capps - a key to your house; Lara - my mom's favorite pan; Betsy - a gift certificate to Driv-Rite; Marge - a non-ending supply of cards; Ed, Chas and Doper - a pony that never goes dry; Kevin and his buddies - a great junior and senior year; Scottie White - some new raps; Kristi - a ride home so she won't fall asleep under a tree; Dipper - a couch (Get off the floor!); Allison - self defense classes; Dan - a five-day week of school and lead guitar in a band; Rufus - a Hanlon Avenue sign; Comet - the ability to pick one out of three; Jill, Amy, Kristi, Ruth, Chris, Jenny, Betsy, Meg, Marisa, Anita and Brenda - thanks for making my high school years so great.

I, Jennifer Collier, hereby will the following to: Anne O. - many great times to look forward to at Miami; Betsy G. - watch out for moving telephone poles; Steve S. - the ability to go a full round with me; Jill S. - a big apology for what came between us. I cherish our friendship and will always be here for you no matter what; Meg S. - thanks for always listening. I wish you much success in the future; Jonathan K. and John H. - a trip to Colorado with me so I can teach you how to ski; Ruth H., Chris C., Kristin C., Kristi G., Marisa K. and Amy O. - thanks for all the laughs. I'll miss all our great times; my best buddy, Amy C. - a big hug. I couldn't ask for a truer friend. It will be really hard next year without you; and, to those above and everyone else - all my love, lot of luck, and a big thanks for the fond memories.

I, Kelly Ann Copley, being of sound mind and body, will to: Darla Austin - all my history and trig grades. I also will you the strength and courage to never let anything that anyone says bother you. Be able to overlook those who envy you but display their actions in a different way. Always remember that to reach your goal in life, you must believe in yourself and not let anything that anyone says interfere; Jenny "BURPER" Wolosin - three more fun years at Adams; Edna Reeves - the ability to stay awake in her future English classes; and "BUFF BUFF" - the ability to succeed in everything you attempt because you deserve the best!

I, Chris Coussens, being of tired mind and little body bequeath the following to: my brother "Poker" - four years of good times at Adams; Mike - one "Mickey Mouse"; Zev - a perfect project; Steve - a calendar; Don - a year's supply of aspartame mouse cookies; Jeff - an Apple IIe; Michele - enough time to change shoes at lunch; Erin - a ride home without car trouble; Rudolph - a year's supply of policemen to use in "cookbook" labs; all my friends - may you have fun next year; Burger King employees - What can I say? It was fun while it lasted; and finally, Mrs. Germano, Mr. Longenecker, Mr. Shanley, Mr. Goodman and the rest of my teachers - thanks for all the help.

I, Debbie Dabrowiak, do hereby bequeath the following to: Sherrie - an invitation to my wedding and more little talks; Gini - many more Rax runs, days at the lake, and numerous calls between South Bend and Purdue; Holly - the long play version of "I'm Your Man" and lots of nights at O.T.S.; Deb and Erin - documents to certify their status of being "noses" and an open invitation to West Lafayette; Lee Anne - a new set of sheets and a shoulder at Purdue; Michele - an endless amount of French bread and a plane ticket; Deb - a double bucket; Erin - an older set of twins, a multitude of Big Gulps, and a bucket without a handle but full of Halston; and everyone - much love and thanks!

I, Andrea Denise Darden, being of serene mind and body, do will to the following loved ones that I must leave behind: my brother, Anthony James Darden - my ability to ignore the ignorance of others who wish to cause trouble constantly, and my ability to use whatever I learn, wherever I learn it, efficiently; my cousin, Theata - my ability to cope with the problems that guys present, and my endurance and patience because you'll need them with Krystopher (smile); my little "sis," Nikki Shell - my patience and my ability to control my temper; and William Carnell Phelps (Chill Will) - my crazy but caring nature. GOOD LUCK! I'll miss you all!!

I, Dan "The-Snake-Bionic-Jaw" Demler, being of sound mind and somewhat sound body will the following to my friends: Kevin "Jellfish" Kuehl - a spine so he can stand up to Lyne; Tony "I-Need-a-Girlfriend" Biggs - one of the girls that liked me, so you can have a girlfriend for more than a day; Tom "Yuk-Mouth" Biggs - a toothbrush; the "clam" lunch bunch (including Daryl D.) - a lifetime supply of grade 'A' clams; the crew at the basketball games - more good times, I'll be back; Kim W. - all the best in the world, you deserve it.

I, Tim Devetski, hereby will to: my sister, Julie - all the ambition and drive that I lacked in my three years at Adams; Joe and Coley, the seniors of the future - a soccer team with less enthusiasm and a tennis team that can make it to State; Tim and Guy, the leaders of the future - the control over the underclassmen that Ed and I mastered; Guy - a better year with less work on the TOWER and a better group of players for you to beat next year (I won't be there to tell them off for you); Karl

Bob Oppenheim and Anita Ferry, Most Gullible winners, wonder why no one else is in school. (Could it be that it's spring break?)

(no, I'm not going to will you anything stupid) - someone who is willing to hit for six hours a day (and won't throw his racket); Leanne - the money to change her name to its correct form, Lee Anne.

I, Tim Ehlers, being of superior intellect and body of high demand, do hereby will the following to: Chris McNamara, my favorite underclassman and fashion plate - all of my plaid flannels; Kevin Patrick - a real haircut and some legendary trumpet ability; Greta Fisher - the power to overcome rigid social standards and remain sane; Brad Becker - I leave nothing; Jim Emmons - I leave nothing; Adam Bauer - I only leave a bit of advice, "Watch out where the Huskies go, for that dreaded yellow snow"; and to my favorite human being, Ann Germano - I leave fond memories of the 'me' we helped to know. Live long and prosper.

I, Anita Ferry, being of sound mind and body on weekdays, will to: Mr. Reed - the "Eagle Enquirer" to keep up with all of our weekend activities; Mrs. Germano - a clean kitchen and Nancy's doll; T.P. - a bucket and mop for next time you come to my house; Tim Ehlers - all the hosing he can handle; A.B. - Kristi's garbage pantry; Kristi - a house in Jamaica; A.K. - directions to Centerville; John Haley - the ability to have one girlfriend, a manager position at K-mart, funds for the TR7 and someone else to drive it; John and Stephanie - someone who makes you feel as special as you two make me; and finally, my dad - your understanding and love, I need it.

I, Betsy Gadd, hereby bestow the following to: Jenny and Erik - boxing gloves; Anne - my driving ability (both of us combined should amount to something) and a shoulder to lean on; Ruth - safety belts for the car and a never-ending supply of Prince records; Kelly - a license for driving down wet, cemented roads and the memories of "Kridler Week"; Kristen - memories of your dog shed and a year's supply of coconuts; Chris - directions out of my neighborhood; Ron - a bunch of empty rumors; George - all of my love, forever and ever; Amy, Jill, Kristi, Chris John, Meg, Marisa, all of the above, the rest of the gang, the bops, the 2-rad's, Nick, Julie, Wendy, Hal, Larissa, etc. - my thanks for making my senior year the greatest!

I, Cheryl Gammage, will to: my cousin, Carlatina - a boyfriend, some new friends and a job; my best friend, Prane - all the luck in the world and a new car that won't mess up when it hits a telephone pole; Diona Williams - my converse and my friendship forever; Serena - all the luck in taking the men and keeping them happy; Jerry Newhouse - help in finding a new girlfriend and all the luck in giving people directions to your locker; Jevon Williams - the power and will to keep holding the hand; Mr. Connelly - some new jokes; Mrs. Reese - a new pass and firmness with students in future years when giving passes out of class.

I, Carol Gergesha, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will the following to: the volleyball team - a trip to Florida and lots of love and fun in the future; Pooter - a new pair of knee pads to wear when we go bowling; Jen - all the love and happiness you can find, you deserve it; Meg, Marisa and Tammy - fun and success at whatever you do and thanks for all the laughs you've given me; Julie - the determination and strength to accept and deal with everything that's coming your way; and finally, my little sister, Debbie - two more lovely years at Adams and all the good times that come her way in the future.

I, Kristi Gerren, being of wasted mind and body, do hereby will to: Kristin - a FOREVER party for us, a BIGGER purse and my forever friendship; Anita - doobie and pep pills for your next party; Ruth - a "good" apple and Mr. T (he's a real man); Chris and Anne K. - all rights to party at Marshall Fields; Amy and Jill - a lunch excursion and ten boxes of red cough drops; Beth - a shopping bag for Epworth; Amy B. - a bigger pantry for you and Hass; Meg, Marisa, Betsy, Anne O. and Jenny - lots of love; Burger Buddies (especially Kathy and Kirk) - "Your future is at the King. I'll miss you!"; Mrs. Germano - a Christ figure dummy doll with the will to find millions of sex symbols, and a big hug; the Cocquyt's - my thanks for caring and understanding. Do you know who this Most Changed senior is?

I, Edna Reeves, being of sound mind leave the following to: my sisters, Michele and Regina - all my love and encouragement. Never settle for less when you can achieve the best; my cousin, Darla - I can't leave JA without leaving you something. We've had our ups and downs but you've never left my heart. I leave you to be the best cheerleader JA has ever encountered and the ability to learn from your mistakes (our little spat); Tracy M., Tracey S., Theresa M., Paula S. and Montrese T. - we're still the best clique around!; and the class of '86 - may God bless each and every one of you.

I, Jennifer Rhoades, being of sound mind leave to: my little sis - three more wonderful years at Adams. I hope all your dreams come true!; Larry - all my extra credits, use them wisely; Vei - you have been the best "daughter" I could ever ask for, I love you and hope you will always be happy; Kevin and Bill - I really didn't know what to leave you, but I thought you might have wanted your names mentioned, so here they are; Julie R. - thanks for the dollar to pay for this will; Sheila, Paul and Coley - you've made my senior year the best!; and all my other friends - you're the greatest! Coley finally made it!

I, Amy Richards, being of demented mind and small body, do hereby bequeath all of my personal belongings to six of my "bestest" friends: Genni - money for a year's supply of Brown's, a new stop sign for David Street, an alarm clock for your bathroom and my pillow made for two; "Sis" - hope for the real "shady bear" to wear your sunglasses, your half of the locker back and a dance partner; Glenn - my place in the darkroom and hope that you'll receive the match to Jim's glove; Jane - all my luck for your future success with Tim, life, etc; Karl - my old locker; Dan - life insurance for your car.

I, David Richards, of wasted mind and exhausted body will the following to: Mark H. - good luck in your three years left here at Adams; Scott H. - my locker, my notebook and all my American government notes. I also wish you good luck in your senior year; Chris W., Kelsey, Dirty Rob and Ada L. - nothing but a part in this will; Mr. Saunders - a brochure of Acapulco so you can show your students about your vacation instead of boring them; Mr. Bonham - a new micrometer so you can stop harassing me about the one I dropped; and the Class of '86 - all the best.

I, Doug Richards, of sound mind and body, will the following to: Scott - all my government notes and my locker; Tony Kelsey - my ICT job; Dirty Rob - a bar of soap; Ada L. - a box of donuts and a successful senior year; all of Mr. Saunder's students - an admit to study hall so you won't have to listen to his Acapulco trip; Mr. Saunders - a video cassette tape of "Attack of the Killer Tomatoes"; Chris W. - nothing but the paper I'm writing on; and the school, faculty and student body - nothing but my memory.

I, Diane Ricker, will the following to: Teresa, Jen and April - all our memories and laughs; Tracey - my IUSB vending machine hamburger and (a last bit of advice) we're not mature enough to go to any more movies like the Canterbury Tales; Sue - that unforgettable smile you give me across the room in English. I'm glad we got to know each other; Michele - no more knocks on the darkroom door demanding pictures. (Believe me, I'll miss it!); Sarah, my co-editor, but more importantly, my friend - a pat on the back and a big hug. We've been through a lot together; Mr. Kline - my eternal gratitude for your advice, long talks and friendship; Mrs. Maza - my thanks for everything you've done for me, your trust, your patience and your confidence, but especially for being a friend; to all the above and everyone else - lots of love, best of luck, and many thanks for the great memories and friendship you've given me.

I, Lyletta Robinson, being of unused body and unstable mind, bequeath my worldly possessions to the following: Jenny, Allison and Mary - mucho alg/trig tests and massive men with biceps; Lee - control of the poster company and a great amount of patience; Sue, Kim and Julia - the Lake Forest legacy of fun in the sun and snow; track buddies - more juice parties and an 11-0 season; Connie - the ability to overlook stupid people and my cheerleading ability; Jenny Schlossberg - a hundred tapings of the Dr. Ruth show so that she can work out her problems; and all the people who helped me through - thanks.

I, Martin Rohan, being of burned out mind and body will to: the big Dipper - a car that does not exceed 30 mph, a pair of diapers and a lifetime supply of dip and Bud; Louie - an eventful, happy life in which you are always right even if you are wrong; Ted, Dan and Larry - many more parties; the swim team - a new coach and winning seasons; Cleo and the tennis team - many more great years, you are all very special to me; the Class of '86 - good luck.

I, Ryan Roth, hereby will the following to: Mr. Rensberger - a donation to your Memorial Fund; Sis - someone to take your math classes for you; Rodney - a shaver; Mr. Goodman - a "dinker" and my sincere thanks; Coach Butch - gratitude for making me a better baseball player and person; Mike, Bubs, Scotty, Roach and myself - big-league contracts with the Chicago Cubs; Adams baseball - an NIC championship and pep assembly; Jeff and Jonesy - a chance at the mile run in the Olympics; Kathy - pizza-remover; Mark - spit-remover; John - a parking space; Bob - hair-straightener and a job as peanut vender at Komiskey Park (I always knew foods class would take you places); Doug - Dr. Pepper-remover; Leslie - all my love and an aisle seat.

I, Jill Sallows, will the following to: Chris - the awesome "blue bomber"; Dipper - a date without chew; Alison - your own boyfriend; Big Mill - some Ambitions

Beth Alderton plans to attend Butler University in Indianapolis next fall, majoring in interior design and minoring in Spanish. Upon graduation, she plans to own a design studio, travel, get married, have three kids, and have a dog named Spot.

Michele Ault plans to get filthy rich, learn as many languages as possible, visit the world, take pictures, and make everyone try to see her point of view.

Sharon Bain plans to attend the University of Notre Dame and then will leave South Bend for Los Angeles, California. There she will remain single and hope to survive by selling seashells by the sea shore.

Chris Balint plans on attending Notre Dame or I.U. Bloomington to pursue a career in medicine. If not successful at this career in medicine, he plans on moving to California and becoming the United States surfing champ by 1995. He plans to make his first million or two by the age of twenty-one and to buy a new house, car, and women for general purposes.

Julie Bird will attend I.U. Bloomington this fall at which she plans to study business or physical therapy, whichever contains the best looking men. She hopes to lead a full and prosperous life and to repay her mother for all she has done for her. She hopes to have lotsa fun, too!

Kathy Breen plans to attend I.U. Bloomington and to study nursing for two years. She plans to transfer to I.U.P.U.I. and finish studying for her degree. She then plans to marry, live on an old ranch-house, and have three beautiful Arabian stallions.

Robert Brewer intends to go to California, live on the beach, have a company pay for his college, and then work for them as an E.M.T.

Tammy Brittain plans to attend college "somewhere." She plans to travel around the world and never return to the Bend.

Christopher Edward Butler plans to wing it on over to Great Britain to jam with the STONES. Then, he will start his solo career at I.U.

Christine Buras plans on going to I.U.S.B. for four years and then transferring to I.U.P.U.I. to major in pediatric nursing. She plans on living in Florida and marrying the guy of her dreams. Her biggest ambition is to drive down the streets of Florida in a '83 Camaro.

Amy Burns, at this present time and in this present state of mind, plans to terrorize one of the following unsuspecting institutions: Loyola, Purdue, Dayton, or I.U. There, she'll work on a major in criminal justice or youth ministry. And if the doesn't work out, she'll move to Rome and console the Pope.

David Cane plans to attend Notre Dame or I.U. Bloomington to study medicine. If he survives medical school, he will become a successful doctor who lives a moderate but very comfortable life, and he will take care of his parents.

Chris Cappelletti is going to try to figure out what to do with her life and continue to be puzzled at Hanover College.

After creating artificial life, Stephen Chen will replace himself with close simulacrums, all designed to ask "Why?" That done, he plans to live off his work, and touch off another inquisition by accident by attempting to convert Jews, Roman Catholics, and Human Secularists to TRUE Christianity.

After graduation, Ron Chrobot plans to pursue a degree in the business field, thus, causing him to become very wealthy. After attaining this goal, he plans to marry and live a very exciting life. Where he will attend is undecided.

Scott Clarisey plans to attend Butler University and major in accounting. He then plans to live in Indianapolis upon graduation and start a hotel chain with Marco.

Courtney Clark plans to attend Hampton University this summer and pursue a career in business. After she's made her first million, she will throw an all night bash at her summer house in Florida. Be there or be square!!

After graduation, Lamon Clark will attend college and then look for the perfect deal!!

Jennifer Collier plans to attend Miami of Ohio and study in the field of business.

After graduation, Kelly Ann Copley plans to further her education by attending a business administration college. Her main goal and outlook on life is to become a successful businesswoman and to, one day, own her own business.

Chris Coussens plans to go to Purdue University and major in a science, not physics. After college, she hopes to obtain a job somewhere and do something. Other than that, she has no ambitions but to rid the world of the pseudo-science, physics.

Debbie Dabrowiak plans to attend Purdue University to study pharmacy. After she becomes a "pharmacist in green," she will hunt down a husband. She hopes to be able to travel extensively before having children.

Andrea Denise Darden plans to attend Purdue University and major in medical technology with a minor in computer programming. After graduation, she hopes to get a job in Chicago, start a musical career, and settle there.

Dan Demler plans to go to Ferris State College and study building construction technology and industrial trade education. When he's through, he will move out of South Bend to somewhere fun.

Tim Devetski plans to travel south to Georgia Tech in Atlanta. He will major in aeronautical engineering, and after fulfilling his R.O.T.C. obligation of four years in the Air Force, he will attempt to enter NASA's astronaut training program as either a payload specialist or a navigator.

In the future, Tim Ehlers hopes to travel to Tibet and study the teachings of the Dali Llama. He then hopes to use his knowledge to either gain the presidency through Transcendental Zen politics or to run the wheel of fortune in a traveling carnival.

Betsy Gadd plans to drive a red Porsche, own an estate on both coasts, become president of AT&T, and most of all, MAKE MONEY!!

Cheryl Gammage has the ambition of becoming one of the best lawyers, along with Patrick Woodard. She also has the ambition of marrying Brandon R. Hudson one day.

Carol Gergesha plans to continue playing volleyball in college but is undecided on which school she will attend. She plans to major in either business or engineering.

At this point, Kristi Gerren plans on attending the University of China to study Han-fei-tzu's legalist philosophy and hopefully learn the influences that the garden designs have had on the Americans. She doesn't really know what's up after college but hopefully will use Chinese meditation and chill in Minnesota.

Chris Gilchrist plans to attend Purdue University and study engineering. He will replace Neil Pearl, the drummer for "Rush," and dream impossible dreams.

Laura Glumb plans to attend I.U. and major in business. She will graduate as valedictorian, become head of a very large and powerful Chicago company, marry rich, and drive a red Porsche. But, if for some strange reason this doesn't happen, she will stay right here in river city and work at Seven-Eleven.

Lisa Golden plans to attend I.U. and become a rich and famous businesswoman.

After graduation, Laure Goudard should inherit two million from an old uncle, and therefore, she won't have to work too much. She'll probably retire at twenty; student life is very hard nowadays!!

Sarah Greene plans to go to Indiana University at Bloomington with a double major in music and partying. Afterwards she wants to be a professional partier and accompany all over the world, or maybe be a professional accompanist and party all over the world.

After graduation, Diana Grundy will be a successful journalist with a masters and a Ph.D. in public relations. After this is accomplished, she'll have time to marry Antoine Wilson and have a few children.

Ava Lizette Hall plans to attend Wichita State University where she'll major in telecommunications and receive a masters in fine arts. After graduating from college, she plans to create a new Coke flavor—maybe Raspberry Coke or even Strawberry Coke. She is accepting any contributions or ideas for her Coke success.

Jill Halloran plans to attend Purdue and study engineering. She also plans to be a golden girl. She hopes to have fun this summer. Some day she plans to be well off, and she would like to continue her dancing.

Jane Handley plans to retire to Canada with a mysterious baseball player to await the coming of the third World War and the end of life and civilization as we now know it.

Ruth Hanlon plans to attend the University of Notre Dame next year. She wants to major in everything and some day be a Young Life leader. (That's the ticket.)

Missy Harris wants to enjoy the summer to the fullest. If she survives, she is going to Ball State. There, she is going to have a good time. After that, she wants to move to where it's warm, enjoy life, and make a lot of money so she can retire early.

This summer, Derek Hayes plans to have a lot of fun in the sun and party a lot. By fall he hopes to settle down, try to get passing grades at I.S.U., and try not to total any of the airplanes he'll be flying.

Holly Hedman plans to go to Purdue University to study how to properly have a "HISSEY" in a long white coat.

Tim Henry plans on attending Indiana State, if they pay his way. He plans on majoring in manufacturing engineering and minoring in beach combing. If that doesn't get him rich, he will rent out condominiums to all the deprived high schoolers in Florida.

Rachelle Lynn Hetterson plans to throw a "K.A." graduation party; upon recovering from that, she will attend Indiana University. At I.U., she plans to attend several classes. After receiving her B.A. in criminal justice, she plans to go to law school. After law school she will be having another party...

Melissa Higgins plans on attending Purdue University this fall where she will be studying in the school of health sciences. She, some day, wants to be moderately rich and live on a ranch with lots of animals. Besides that, she just wants to be happy and enjoy life.

After her existential crisis, Susan Hobing is anticipating a job with Godiva Chocolates, Inc. Until that time, she has plans to establish a conspiracy to undermine and expose the scandalous motives behind Judge Wapnar. If this fails, she and Erin Laughlin will go door-to-door selling Oxy-10 to POW's in West Germany.

Michael Holdread's ambition is to win a lottery and become rich and famous. He would buy the Chicago Cubs and keep spending. Since this could not possibly happen, he will go to I.U.S.B. and become a science teacher.

David Hoover plans on becoming Pope by the age of twenty-seven or king of Poland. If that does not work, he will become a seat belt tester.

Mindy Horlander plans, upon graduation, to move into an apartment, continue working in the accounting/secretarial fields, get married, and have a happy life and family. She would also love to travel the country.

Laura Horning's ambitions are to finally graduate and move to Florida where she plans to marry John Tarwacki. They will live happily traveling where the navy takes them with their two kids and their German shepherd.

Karie Horvath plans to attend Notre Dame or Valpo and major in something chemically inclined. That is, until "they" come to take her away. Ha, ha!! He, he!! Ho, ho!!

Brandon Hudson's hopeful ambitions are to go through I.U.'s medical school without a nervous breakdown, play college soccer, and get married in four years to you know who. He will make her very happy and his parents proud. He will set up a practice and live a well deserved happy life!

Jason Hudson plans to attend Ohio State University where he'll play soccer and major in optometry. He wants to be an optometrist somewhere in the South and be wealthy. He hopes to play pro-soccer and later settle down in the South.

Brian Hull plans to be unemployed the rest of his life and spend his social security and welfare checks on Lotto. Once he wins Lotto, he plans to find utopia and live happily ever after. Or, he plans to attend Butler University, marry the girl of his dreams upon graduation, and live a humble life.

Brenda Hutchins intends to figure out what she wants to do in life while reclining and soaking up the Florida sunshine and deepening that rich, gold bronze of a tan. For all we know, maybe she'll take that up as a career!?

Michelle Jacquay's future ambition after leaving John Adams is to get a degree in fashion or interior design. From there, she wishes to move to a big city and use her degree toward a well paying job.

After high school, Michael D. Jobe intends to party, live it up, have fun, get by, and most of all, get a condominium on the beach. He will invite the whole senior class to his condominium in Ft. Lauderdale for a week to just party.

Anthony Johnson's ambition is to claim an old castle deep in the heart of the Black Forest for five years and walk about Europe with nothing but a backpack and a mountain lion.

John Johnson plans to attend Indiana University for a B.S. degree in law enforcement and computer science. Afterward, he plans to go into the naval service for six years. Then he will practice his trade to the best of his ability.

George Jones plans to stay out of trouble, make a lot of money, live a long life, and make everyone important to him proud of him. Class dismissed.

Kelly Keefe will attend the University of Notre Dame next fall to study diplomacy and foreign affairs. Upon graduation, she plans to marry an Arabian prince, stay barefoot and pregnant for five years, get divorced, and lead a life of celibacy in an Israeli kibbutz.

After graduation, Marco Kennedy will be on a quest; a quest to find out why the moon follows him when he drives at night. After that, he will attend college and major in communications, but not until the assignment is complete. He is really interested in Marquette and Butler.

Erin Kerrihard plans to attend DePauw University and major in education. After that, she will become friends with Pat Sajak and become rich and famous by replacing Vanna White on the Wheel of Fortune.

Mary Kline's ambition in life is to go to college at Purdue University to get a Ph.D. in clinical psychology. After that, she would like to move out West, start her own practice, and raise a family.

Becky Kloostra plans on attending Valparaiso University for her first year, then winning the Publisher's Clearing House "all new ten million dollar prize," and spending the rest of her life doing whatever her little heart desires.

Jonathan Kronstein will attend the University of Notre Dame. Afterwards, he will probably go to graduate school and major in something normal and realistic. Upon graduation, he'll get a normal and realistic job, marry a normal and realistic wife, and have normal and realistic kids. (Is this too ambitious?)

Kevin Kuhl's ambitions, after he graduates from this fine institution, are to first attend Vincennes University and study pre-law. Then after two years there, he plans to transfer to Florida State for two more years. Then he will attend law school for three more years and finally become a rich and famous lawyer.

Anne Kusbach plans to go to college somewhere, sometime, somehow. She plans on studying something that has to do with children. She will then travel for a year or two and maybe be a nanny.

Terri Landen plans to attend Indiana University at Bloomington or Manchester College to obtain a degree in accounting. After graduating, she plans to get a well-paying job, live someplace besides South Bend, and be happy.

Neil Lannuier is going to Jamaica to form a Reggae band with a group of blind Nepalian monks. They will tour communist countries in their amphibious Partridge family bus. OR! He will have a promising career in sports medicine with a dog, a house, two kids, a wife, and a pink armchair.

Erin Laughlin plans on attending Indiana University and will study communications/journalism. After college, she will replace Jane Pauley on the Today show and eventually marry Anders Jarryd.

Kathy Lee plans to attend college at DePauw (or wherever she is accepted) and take afternoon classes (like in kindergarten) in such subjects as biology and chemistry, avoiding physics. If she makes it through college, she will become rich and marry the man of her dreams, alias Mark.

Todd Leopold will go to boot camp in July and then attempt to live the Navy life. He plans to see the world and ride the waves.

Tracy Maefield's ambition in life is to attend Indiana University and to obtain a degree in business management. Upon achieving her goal, she would like nothing better than to become a successful business person and to have her own business.

After graduating from John Adams, Amy Maike plans to attend I.U. Bloomington where she will continue studying business and might add a few interests. After I.U., she will probably become Mrs. Michael Craig Jensen and move to Hawaii. There, they will live as beach bums along the shores of Maui.

The ambition of Joe Markiewicz is to have a monster truck, become rich, and marry the love of his life, Julie.

Donald Marti...ambitions? What ambitions?

Lee May plans to attend Purdue University and obtain a major in biology. Then she will move to Florida and hopefully land a job as a marine biologist.

After graduation, Laura McCahill plans to sleep all summer long. After that, she hopes to study business at Manchester College, graduate, get very rich, retire young, go shopping every day, and live happily ever after.

Kim McDaniel's ambition is to one day be the best at everything she does. Who knows, one day she might become president.

John Miller plans to study pharmacy at Purdue. The biggest task to this is being a roommate of Jason Yazel. Within the next year or two, he also hopes to increase his record in track and field to the double digits.

Sara Miller, after graduating from John Adams, plans on following the stars and finding the true meaning of the Big Dipper, then traveling somewhere for an unknown period of time. Then, she plans on attending college in Chicago.

Scott Miller will attend St. Olaf College in Minnesota. After college, he'll go to South Africa to find himself and become Desmond Tutu's mentor. Later, he'll disappear to South America and embezzle the money of a banana republic and then return to the U.S. to become an evangelistic preacher.

Kevin Murphy plans to attend Harvard University for two weeks and get kicked out after violating his probation. He'll then move back to South Bend and spend the rest of his life at the Ritz with his new wife, Jo-Jo.

John Newell is planning to go to I.U. He'll either go into some kind of science or photography. He doesn't think he'll be a businessman because he couldn't STAND to wear a suit every day! He thinks he'd like to live in a suburb of Chicago. He doesn't care too much about being rich. He just wants to have a fun, happy life.

Lance Newsome's ambition in life is to be the best at whatever he does, mostly to go to college and run track. He hopes that he will some day make the Olympic team for track and field.

Jeff North will attend Purdue University in the fall and begin work on a computer science degree. After graduation, he intends to look for a job relating to computer science.

Anne O'Malley plans to study communications at Miami of Ohio (perhaps she'll be the next Jane Pauley?). She then hopes to marry the love of her life and settle somewhere in the mountains of Colorado or in a posh Illinois suburb. In other words, she wants fame, fortune, AND happiness!!

Karla Ollman would like to go to I.U.S.B. and study childcare. She wants to spend the rest of her time taking care of her boyfriend Sergio and a beautiful little girl named Amber. She wants to just be happy—not rich and not famous, just happy.

Bob Oppenheim plans to attend college at Indiana University. There, he plans to study communications dealing with sports. He would also like to become a basketball coach at a high school or college level. After college, he would like to get a well-paying job pertaining to these two fields.

Amy Orlando plans to attend the University of Colorado for a year or so, major in skiing, then transfer to Miami of Ohio, find a rich husband, and party with her school friends.

After graduation, Tiffany Paraska plans to catch up on all the sleep lost during high school so she can stay awake during classes at Evangel College in Springfield, Missouri, where she plans to earn a degree in medicine. Then she'll marry some gorgeous doctor who'll give her everything she ever wanted.

Denise Parent plans to attend either Notre Dame or the University of Dayton and major in something. After college, she plans to get a well-paying job and marry someone.

Gayle Payne plans to go to Ivy Tech. and study chemistry and biology. She plans to become a lab technician and live a rich life (hopefully).

Roseanne Puzello is going to the University of Dayton to major in psychology.

Mike Quimby plans to join the Inter-Galactic Space Patrol to fight the slimey--slop creatures from Planet Ex-Lax. There, he will start a proczarist empire taxing only people standing in water and anyone who lives above the drill press factory unless they own a hypedrive space toothbrush or if they are in the musical group "Mr. Science and the Lab Rats."

Marisa Randazzo plans to attend college and pursue a degree in business. She hopefully is going to continue to play volleyball throughout college.

Edna Reeves's ambition in life is to obtain a marketing and business management degree at the University of Indiana. After accomplishing that, she would then like to open her own fashion boutique. Her ultimate ambition, however, is to be the very best she can be in whatever she does.

Amy Richard's ambition is to further her photographic studies by attending the Art Institute of Ft. Lauderdale. She hopes to acquire more skills which will enable her to better understand the tasks of a photo-journalist so that she can travel the world taking pictures for newspapers, magazines, etc.

David Richards plans on working in a machine shop or the post office. He is also considering starting a small business of his own.

Doug Richards plans to work in a machine shop and eventually start his own business. He also plans on having a summer cottage on Gravel Lake where he hopes to spend most of his time when he's not working.

Diane Ricker plans to attend the University of Notre Dame or Indiana University. She wants to major in journalism/business management and one day be the editor of a major magazine or newspaper.

After graduation from some prestigious institution of higher learning, Lyletta Robinson will work with the Chicago Bears as an assistant trainer for five years, after which she will buy the Indianapolis Colts and turn them into Superbowl material. After an early retirement, Lyletta will relax at her Scarsdale mansion.

Martin Rohan plans on going to Holy Cross Junior College next year. After college, he plans on living in happiness and contentment just chillin' out.

Ryan Roth plans to study electrical engineering at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, get married, settle down in the Great Lakes area, raise a family, and then, maybe, buy the Detroit Tigers and play second-base for a few years.

Jill Sallows plans to spend the next ten years or so on a beach off the coast of Florida. She will use the time to bask in the sun and drink margaritas, hopefully meeting the guy of her dreams.

Theresa Sayer's ambitions in life are, after graduating, to start her career either in accounting or in office work and to study calligraphy on the side. After she gets her career established, she hopes to spend her life in happiness with her special someone.

Mark Seng plans to attend Wittenberg University where he will study accounting. He will be the first ten million dollar lottery winner and will put his accounting skills to use trying to figure out how to spend all his money. He will then marry a beautiful blond woman.

Dawn Sivak, after living in Bloomington for four years, will move to a beach in Malibu, California, and live happily ever after with a tan and a couple of surf punks. Later, she will take over Larry "Bud" Melman's buses and appear nightly on the David Letterman Show.

David Slabaugh plans to attend Purdue University in West Lafayette to earn a degree in either engineering or medical technology.

Mike Spross's ambitions after school are to keep his present job at Bendix, spend as much time at the beach as possible, keep in touch with all his friends, and know Jackie forever.

Tracey Steward plans to attend Northwestern University and major in journalism. She hopes someday to work as a famous and successful magazine writer.

Paula Stewart plans to attend the University of Houston to major in business administration. After receiving her degree and becoming a successful businesswoman, she plans to spend the rest of her life with the person she loves most, Chris.

After his graduation, Pat Stoler would like to further his education in the sanitation department in order to get an apprenticeship in Chicago. After achieving his goal of being the best garbageman possible, he wishes to go on and own his own sanitation department.

Stoney Suski plans to go to college, get a good education, and play football. He was thinking of taking the custodial arts program and cleaning the girls' locker room. When he gets out of college, he's going to make a lot of money.

Meg Sweeney plans to join the Peace Corps in the fall of 1986. She then plans to be assigned overseas, perhaps in Africa or Cambodia, living a life of adventure and romance.

After studying architecture at Ball State, Dan Swingendorf plans to make a million dollars, to move someplace where it's sunny, and to spend the rest of his life trying to get a tan.

Steve Swope plans on attending the University of Evansville where he will study biology, business, and literature. After college, he hopes to pursue a career in marine biology or become a very, very wealthy business tycoon. On the other hand, he just might end up on the California beaches living a life of sin.

Montrese Threatt plans to attend Indiana University at Bloomington and prepare herself for a glorious career as a lawyer. Upon her success, she plans to marry and settle down with her loving boyfriend and her one child.

Jen Van Es's first ambition is to catch up on all the sleep she missed these past four years. Then she plans to attend the University of Notre Dame and major in biology with a possible minor in journalism. If this doesn't work out, she's going to move to Florida and become a permanent purist.

After graduation, Cindy Varga plans to move south and start a career as a medical secretary and maybe study to be a medical assistant.

After graduation, Jill Vascil is going to Purdue University for four years and majoring in management.

Karl Vogel plans to attend Indiana University and become a successful businessman. After that, he'll move to San Diego, get married, and raise a family.

Tony Walbert plans to attend Purdue next fall and major in electronic and/or audio engineering. After graduating, he's going to California to pursue a career in music with "The Mob", to own large houses and fast cars, and to meet interesting ladies.

Debbie Weaver plans to attend I.U. for two years while having fun at the college life. Then she plans to go on to the Medical Center in Indianapolis for three years to become a physical therapist and will hopefully get a job on the east coast at the Boston Medical Center.

Mike Welter plans to move south.

Shelley Marie Westcott plans to attend Michigan State and pursue a medical career.

Upon graduation, Scott Wilcox plans to attend college, become an accountant, and sell rare goods. After making his first million, he plans to split it with his favorite teacher, Mr. Kline.

Sarah Wilhelm plans to attend Arizona State University and major in international business with a minor in advertising, journalism, and suntanning.

April Williams plans to have fun (after attending school for so long). Then, she plans to go to college and hopefully major in psychology or fashion design, if she can make up her mind.

Tony Wingo wants to be a lawyer when he gets older and make it through college and law school with flying colors. Also, he wants to help those who help themselves and push righteousness because God doesn't like ugliness.

Zev Winicur plans to attend college after high school and to attend medical school after that so he can tell people they're too fat without being rude. He wants to make a name for himself in the world, so some day a sign outside Adams will say, "Zev Winicur slept here."

Corrie Wolosin plans on attending Dartmouth College and becoming a world-famous electric violist.

Patrick Woodard plans to attend the University of Michigan or Notre Dame and major in political science or international studies. This will lead to law school where he'll study criminal or corporate law. After completing this, he'll either join a law firm or work as an agent for some corporation.

Jill Wygant is planning to attend I.S.U. to study theatre arts. After school, she'd like to travel across the country and then go to Australia for awhile.

Jason Yazel is planning on attending Purdue and majoring in business. If he can survive the studying and John Miller's nerf hooping, he will graduate and become a rich and famous businessman.

Football:

High standards set for future

The Adams football campaign started out as the focal point of attention for the fall gridiron season. Some people whispered about possible trips to Indianapolis. Others murmured about another basketball upset and looked at the team with skepticism.

The players themselves weren't quite sure of exactly what they could do as evidenced by their 48-6 trouncing of LaSalle. Guard Scott Miller said of this, "We had no idea what we could do. We weren't quite sure how good LaSalle was, so we played them like it was our last game."

The next week marked the first full week of school and a matchup against Riley. The Wildcats were coming off of a big win over Clay and were expected to be tough. They didn't disappoint the Eagles as the score was never more than two touchdowns away. But the final verdict showed Adams on top, 27-21.

The coming game against Penn was a long-awaited matchup in the schedule. Anthony Johnson called this game "the turning point of our season." It turned out to be everything expected—hard-hitting, error-free. The only thing not expected was the final score: Adams 17, Penn 14.

By this time the Eagles were state-ranked at number four and heading into a battle against tenth-ranked Elkhart Central. It started in typical fashion with the Eagles jumping out early. Late turnovers and penalties, however, hurt the Eagles and the final score read 13-12 in Elkhart Central's favor. This was the only scar on the Eagles record until the final game.

The next week's practices for Adams were flat after coming off the loss against Elkhart. "Everybody figured it would just happen magically without a team effort," according to Jeff Terlep. The game showed this as the Panthers held the Adams scoring machine nearly scoreless in the first half. However, a nice chat with Coach Farrell at halftime seemed to warm up the Eagles a bit as they crushed the Washington Panthers 20-0.

With the end of the conference race now in sight, the Eagles were at the top of the standings with Penn and Elkhart Central. The desire for the Conference crown really showed as the Eagles make a highly-touted Michigan City Elston team look bad with a score of 38-12. "We really fired up for that game. We knew we could win next week if we could get past Elston," said Ron Chrobot.

Next week's matchup with Clay was approached with a hunger. A win against Clay would guarantee at least a share of the NIC crown. Clay appeared to be a bit underrated as the score was somewhat close. Tackle Jim Thompson said, "What are you talking about, we killed them!" The final score was 23-0 and Adams had its first NIC crown in a decade.

A non-conference game that supposedly didn't count for anything was next. The St. Joe game, however, is always looked forward to as a grudge match of bitter enemies and the victors get the bragging rights of South Bend. The game was played in a downpour, but tempers flared as St. Joe started multiple fights. The height of St. Joe's frustration came when Coach Teegarden was ejected for referring to a referee's maternal heritage. When the end finally came the score read 17-14 Adams. In the locker room after the game Tom Roscheck was heard to say, "Weez da' mo fo's now."

The new sectional format allowed all teams a berth in the playoff contest and paired Adams against Gary Wirt. There wasn't much to say about the game; there were some good brawls and Wirt had a good band, but the score read 38-12, a rout for Adams.

The next week marked the start of road trips for Adams. The Eagles travelled to Gary Andrean which was actually in Merrillville. The game was supposed to be played on a football field but the Gary groundskeepers thought it was more like a mud wrestling match, and the field showed it. "It was like a great big cereal bowl and we were the cereal," said Daryl Davis. The sloppy conditions made it a game of the 'have-nots', but Adams came out on top 14-0, its third shutout of the year.

The next game was the most publicized in Adams history. With all other Michiana teams out of the playoffs, Adams became the pride of South Bend and the sole representative of the NIC. This was the Hobart game and the Eagles were pumped up to knock out No. 1. "We knew if we won we had a shot at state, but if we lost it was all over," said Mike Trott. The game was close in the first half with the score of 7-7. The Eagles, generally a second half team, looked forward to finishing the game and the Brickies. But the Brickies prevailed in the second half, scoring twice. The end of a long, productive season finally came with the score 20-7, Hobart.

The Eagle's final record of 9-2 was the best in a long time. The players who didn't know what they could do, finally found out as they staked a reputation and a high mark in the NIC and in the state. Coach Farrell summed it up by saying, "It's one of the seasons you never want to end; this is a great team."

Carrying on the J.A. tradition

The boys' tennis team had no true leaders and no top state contenders this year, but rather, they relied on emotion and heart to win some big contests. The road to semi-state began when sophomore Karl Roemer scored an incredible upset over Scott Smith. Prior to that match, Smith had not lost a regular season dual match in his entire career at Penn. Adams went on to win that match by the narrow margin of 3-2.

The next hurdle that this team would face was rapidly approaching, and the Eagles would be up to the task. Elkhart Central was showing fine performances of late, especially at number one singles and number one doubles. However, senior Chris Butler and junior Tim Foley provided a stunning victory in approximately forty minutes over Elkhart Central's number one doubles team. Junior Guy Hamilton and senior Tim Devetski then provided the other two wins that the Eagles needed, leaving Roemer's match less vital. Adams survived this match, winning 3-2.

The next real test for the Eagles didn't come until the second round of the sectionals when they met a tough and rather outspoken Clay team. Adams thought that it would have tough matches at all the singles spots and one of the doubles, but even the most optimistic of them did not expect the incredible performance of senior Martin Rohan and junior Adam Friend. Rohan and Friend turned in the fastest match of the year, easily disposing of a fine Clay team.

But even after the number two doubles and number three singles were off the court and the score was 2-0 Adams, the win was still in doubt. Roemer had won his first set, as had Hamilton and Butler-Foley. But in the second set, all of the aforementioned three lost their momentum. Only another one of Karl Roemer's heroics pulled the Eagles from near defeat.

The Eagles went on to win sectionals. And then came regionals... Roemer would again save the team with a last-second victory. Down three match points, he would come back to win. Again the team of Rohan-Friend came through and again the score was 3-2 Adams. The victory was in hand.

First round of semi-state meant the moment of truth for many of the Eagles. They were nervous and could almost envision the state finals. Although they were down early, they came back to win in three third set matches. The final score indicating an Eagle win, 3-2. The finals of semi-state pitted the Eagles against Munster. Perhaps the only highlight was an excellent performance by Hamilton as he improved his season to 18-3. State was not for the Eagles in 1985; the final score saw them on the low end of a 4-1 score.

The volleyball team, once again, completed a successful season. The Eagles, led by senior co-captains Tammy Brittain and Marisa Randazzo, finished off the season with an overall record of "Sports have always been a popular activity here at John Adam. But in addition to their pleasurable aspects they have also served as a means to compliment classroom education."

17-11 and a conference record of 6-3. The Eagles once again proved to be one of the toughest teams in the area, as eight of their eleven losses were divided among three top teams—St. Joe, Mishawaka, and state runner-up Plymouth.

This year's squad was dominated by six talented and aggressive seniors—Tammy Brittain, Carol Gergesha, Terri Landon, Leslie (Pooter) McCloskey, Marisa Randazzo, and Meg Sweeney. The underclass also contributed many talented players. Juniors Patty Dennin, Kathy McMahon, Julie Stevens, Sue Turczynski, and Mary Ugland all contributed to the Eagle efforts. Sophomore Rita Deranek also contributed to these efforts until she became ineligible due to an injury.

The '85 Eagles did accomplish many feats throughout the season. They placed third in the St. Joe Invitational, losing only to state runner-up Plymouth. The Eagles also turned in an excellent effort in the Adams Sectional. They posted a win over LaSalle in the semi-finals, 11-15, 15-4, 15-5, to advance to the finals against St. Joe. Here, the Eagles, very determined and aggressive, beat the Indians in the first game, 17-15. But Eagle errors and a lack of communication in the next two games allowed the Indians to take another sectional crown as Adams dropped the games, 9-15, 9-15.

Throughout the season, the Eagles were led by the powerful service of Sweeney and Brittain; the hitting attacks of Gergesha, Landon, McCloskey, McMahon, and Randazzo; the defense of McMahon, Randazzo, and Sweeney; and the setting duties of Deranek, Sweeney, and Brittain.

The girls' swim team started off this past fall with very little enthusiasm, but due to Mary Cooper, a first year coach at Adams and also a previous graduate, the Seagals were able to pull together and form the unity and determination which they needed. Coach Cooper commented, "The season was productive. The girls learned a lot, but most of all they learned to work diligently." Led by senior co-captains Ruth Hanlon and Wendy Wolfe, the Seagals were able to pull out five wins and eight losses. Letterwinners this past fall included seniors Anne Kusbach and Sarah Wilhelm; junior Mary Manley; sophomores Jane Hipsak, Cathy Kennedy, Wendy Levin, Rivka Medow, Michelle Thompson and Becky Wolfe; and freshman Tricia Davis.

The diving team, coached by Adams graduate Elizabeth Sechrist, also had a remarkable turnaround this past season. Sophomore Rivka Medow had a super performance at sectionals, enabling her to qualify for the state meet in Indianapolis. Also diving for the Seagals was freshman Audrey Holcomb.

Under the direction of new head coach Randy Issacson, the boy's cross country team had both a rewarding and exciting 1985 season.

When the season opened, there were high expectations on the boys' team. The team was led by a strong returning group of runners. Leading the way were Jason Yazel, Neil Lannuier and James "Dean" Williamson. Juniors Jason Ehlert and Tommy Taylor were expected to be running strong.

Along with the returning runners, newcomers and freshmen filled out a strong team. Senior Brendan Max ran for his first time and proved invaluable. Junior Matt Kelly, and freshmen Troy Jankowski and Dale Jacquay helped round out the team.

The season had its ups and downs. The squad performed well at times and poorly at other times, but the team straightened out down the home stretch. They pulled out a strong third place finish in the City Meet. And they were only a few points away from making it out of sectionals. Yazel was the sole harrier to advance out of sectionals. He continued through regionals and semi-state and placed in the top thirty-five at the state meet. Yazel's impressive season also included winning the City Meet. His graduation will leave a big gap in next year's team.

If the happenings of the season happen to be too brief, it is because of something that seemed more important than our win-loss record. It was our 'family' attitude and togetherness. The guidance of Lannuier, Williamson and Yazel brought the team through some tough times. Along with the wisdom of Brendan Max, they tutored the youngsters and challenged all to be their very best. They made practice fun and the whole year enjoyable. Lannuier said, "We've always had a winning tradition. This year we joined that tradition with a sense of closeness." And that is what made this season a winning one.

Winter Sports:

Strong potential establishes optimism

The boys' swim team finished the year with a 2-11 record under first year coach Mary Cooper. The highlight of the year was a strong fourth place in sectionals. In that meet, P. H. Mullen qualified for state in the 200 and 500 while Larry Piser earned the distinction of being one of the best athletes in the junior class by qualifying in diving. Unfortunately neither did very well at state.

Co-captain Pat Brother's graduation will leave a gaping hole in the 200 IM and 100 fly, and his talent will be missed. The hopes of next year's success will ride on the shoulders of Mullen, Piser, Jeff Terlep, Rusty Cobb, Shane Bennet, Tom Olson, Jeff Gramza and Paul Ford.

At the awards banquet, Mullen received the MVP for the second year while Brothers earned the first Sportsmanship Award and Gramza won the Spark Plug Award.

This year in wrestling, the Eagles were lead by captain Troy Lentz. The team's 1-14-1 record tells very little about the team's season. Four of the losses were by less than five points, and when pitted against teams like Penn and Mishawaka, for whom wrestling comes as naturally as shucking corn, a team hardly has a chance of winning.

M.V.P. Troy Lentz went to regionals this year and did very well. Eddie Dabros, the excellent sophomore, won almost every match and won the Sportsmanship Award. The three returning letterman, Eddie Dabros, Chris Loux and Martin McNarney are expected to lead the youthful Adams wrestling team next year, and with the added junior high wrestling, the team will definitely be a competitor in the future.

The girls' basketball team began with three losses but buzzed through the season while capturing the CO-NIC Championship. They ended the season with a NIC record of 8-1. The team was held together by the outstanding leadership from the co-captains Diana Grundy and Terri Landen. Meg Sweeney and Tammy Brittain added more outstanding senior leadership. After losing only one senior from last year's squad, the Eagles were stacked with experience. Through difficult games such as the one against St Joe, the number one team in the state, these seniors led the way. The Most Valuable Player award, presented by the Adams Monogram Club, was presented to Diana Grundy and Terri Landen. The Kiwanis Club of South Bend presented their award for a Scholar-Athlete to Terri Landen. Sue Turczynski, a junior, received the sportsmanship award. Several other players were also honored throughout the area.

Coach Dave Hadaway's boys' basketball team had another up and down season, but one of their "peaks" was reached at the right date: tournament time. After finishing an even 11-11 season, they came together defensively with superb performances against the favored Washington Panthers. They then went on to clobber Clay in the semifinal, and then fell to a tough Mishawaka team in the finals.

The team was led by co-captains Ron Chrobot and Jeff Mitchell, who provided the scoring thrust for the team. Both made the all-Metro and all-NIC squads. Sophomore Alfonso Mack manned the point guard position, with Terry Bridgeman skillfully backing up. Juniors Tony Wilson, Adam Friend, Torrence Fitzpatrick, and Ted Scheel sharpened their front line skills during the season and will lead the team in 86-87.

Spring Sports:

High expectations for "hot" teams

At the conclusion of last season, the John Adams baseball staff was looking forward to a great season this year, but the team has been hampered by tough injuries. Last year's MVP junior Dave Zielinski, and major college prospect, co-captain Tom Molnar are out for the season: Zielinski by a football injury and Molnar via a knee injury early in the baseball season.

There have been a few good signs, though, and the team expects to improve immensely as the season moves on. Freshman Gary Watkins has been very impressive at shortstop, needing only experience. Senior co-captain Mike Halterman, the team's leadoff batter is now at center-field. Fellow co-captain Ryan Roth is at second base, and senior Tom Rosheck handles third. Another good sign has been the early season hitting of right fielder Jeff Terlep, a junior. The pitching staff is led by senior veteran Scott Wilcox and junior Sean Gray, both impressive pitchers and hitters.

The boys' soccer team is clearly one of the school's most successful programs. Since the genesis of varsity status in 1981, Coach Jim Tallman's teams have lost just three regular season matchups. Three losses in six years! This year's squad may certainly be the best in Adams soccer's short history.

Captains Ken Cunningham, Jason Hudson,

Brandon Hudson, and Anthony Johnson head a talented senior class. Cunningham, J. Hudson, Matt Helmcamp, and Marco Kennedy lead an exceptional defense, while goalie B. Hudson seldom lets the ball through the net. Johnson, Brendan Max, and Pat Woodard are main producers in the offense, which has scored droves of goals this year.

The junior class is skilled and talented, and are led by defenders Mike Trott, midfielders Kevin Max, Joe Loux, and Ricardo Fallon, and forwards Adam Friend and Matt Kelly.

This year's girls tennis team is loaded with potential (and not only in terms of future years). Co-captains Sara Miller, Lesley McClosky, and Lee May lead the doubles teams with leadership and experience, with sophomores M.C. Patton, Terese Martinov, and Kay Grisson vying for the fourth spot.

Sophomore Marie Koscielski and freshman Marta Roemer are two talented, aggressive hitters at number one and number two singles. The teams strength lies in these two, and another young sophomore, Carrie Hamilton plays at number three singles.

Despite the losses of previous letterwinners and the small numbers, the 1986 J.A. girls' track team has won more meets in the first half of the season than they have in three years. New blood in the coaching staff and the large percentage of underclassmen have contributed to the new outlook the team has taken. First year coaches Sheri Bolden-Simpson and Randy Issacson have contributed the team's recent success to the intense dedication of the girls. Led by co-captains Shonda McDonald and Dawn Sivak, the "Eaglets" qualified five individuals for the sectional track meet. Freshmen Cathy Cane and Kasi Bolden along with veterans Shelly Biggs, Shonda McDonald and Terri Forrest are hopeful that their sectional performances will vault them into the regional meet.

With a strong first place finish in the South Bend Classic, the boys' track team exploded into seventeenth place in the high school rankings. Led by hurdler Glenn Watson, sprinters Ron and Don Walls, John Johnson, Lance Newsome, and Jevon Williams, the team has taken on a new air of confidence. The long-distance runners are steadily improving with the help of veteran runners Jason Yazel and Tommy Taylor. Other team members who have contributed to the overall success include: Prescott Woodard, Jim Heying, Jim Thompson, and Brian Max.

Congratulations, Sue, on a great year in Publications.

Bill and Jane Hobing

P.S. It'll be good having our daughter "back" in the family again, we haven't seen much of her this year.

Letter

Where have the four years gone? I'm sure when you walked into John Adams in the fall of 1982, it seemed so very far away. Well, it has arrived. I'm sure there is a large degree of mixed emotions. There is a sadness of leaving long-time relationships, but excitement as you look to your future—some in further schooling, others into the job market, in the service, marriage, and travel. There is so much to look forward to and so much yet to learn.

Your class, like others before you has set the tone for the school. I've been impressed with many of the leaders of the class—from the Powder Puff win, to many resounding wins in the pep assemblies, to the exciting football season, science award winners, Quiz Bowl champs, and on and on.

The Class of 1986 can indeed be proud of your four years. You were a joy to work with, and a pleasure to be around on behalf of the staff and administration, and especially from me, the best of everything to all of you.

William M. Przybylski
