India today holds a strategic position between Communism and Democracy. If India falls, Asia, and probably Europe is lost to Communism; while, if she does not bow to communist aggression there is a good chance that Democracy will be victorious throughout the world. Thus, India has become a key nation, a nation holding a position of great importance in the world of today. In order to hold the friendship of a nation, it is necessary to understand its people. That, as Dr. Nilkanth Chavre pointed out, is what we Americans have failed to do. If India's people ever needed to be understood and helped by us Americans, it is now. We certainly can't afford to lose her friendship at this stage of the game.

I had the very great pleasure to speak with Dr. Chavre personally when he appeared here. Few persons whom I have met seemed to have the wisdom, the modesty, and the cosmopolitan qualities of Dr. Chavre. It would be well worth while to heed his criticism and remember his words.

NORTHWESTERN HAS PLAN FOR THREE-YEAR COURSE

As a result of the international crisis and the national emergency, Northwestern University today announced a new policy of permitting freshmen to begin their college work in the summer session without waiting until fall.

Dr. Payson S. Wild, Jr., Vice-President and dean of faculties at Northwestern, explained that, beginning in June, entering first-year

ODE TO THE TOURNEY

With regrets to Clement C. Moore
 'Twas the nite before tourney and all through the town
 Every person was anxious till game time came around.

The score signs were hung by the stage with most care,
 In hopes that our team's score first would appear there.

The players, the dear ones, awaited in bliss,
 Each head on a pillow, each mind on a Miss.

The day finally came, that the players awaited,
 They sprang from their beds to see their teams rated.

Then away to the last game they drove in a rush
 For coaches' good luck message, the finishing touch.

"As rapid as eagles—I want you to come..."
 Seaborg whistled and shouted and praised only some.

"Now, Weissert; now, Deiter; now, Dillon and Oakes!...
 Fight, Miller! fight, Parker! fight Shenny and Doakes.

Till the end of the half — till the end of the game,
 We'll fight and by gorry, — We'll bring Adams no shame!"

So till the end of each half — the Eagles they flew
 Throwing the ball, and dribbling it, too.

Throughout the game, each boy was rested,
 For substitutes had been all thoroughly tested.

Two referees were there, standin' and talkin',
 Two l'il coaches, standin' and squawkin'.

Such was the tournament, thrillingest night —
 Happy tourney for some, but each gave a good fight.....

--Marlene Shcolnik

students may embark upon a program of university training immediately after graduation from high school.

Under the new Northwestern policy it would be possible for a student to complete a regular four-year course in three years by attending all summer school sessions during the three-year period.

"Northwestern, in adopting such a policy, recognizes that it has a special obligation to young men to make its offerings available in as extended a scale as possible prior to the time when such men are called into the army, navy, or air force.

"Arrangements have also been made to house freshmen on the campus during the summer session and to advise them in regard to both their scholastic and extra-curricular problems."

B'S WIN IN OVERTIME

In an extremely close ball game at East Chicago last Tuesday the Eagle 'B' squad downed the Rough Riders, 33-32, in a rather hectic overtime. The score was 8-7 at the first quarter, 16-up at the half, and 23-up at the third quarter, and 30-all at the end of the game. Rocky Ferraro was the Eagle savior when he sank a side shot in the last few seconds of the game to clinch the decision for the Eagles. Kedzie was high-point man for Adams with 12 points and Ferraro had 8.

Adams Loses to Elkhart and Roosevelt

Elkhart 66; Adams 45

In spite of our team's efforts last Friday night, we were unable to march home from Elkhart with a victory. Indeed, the outcome was quite different as the Blue Blazers trampled the Eagles, 66-45.

The beginning of the game was hopeful. After the first few minutes the Eagle defense proved to be ineffective. The score at the end of the quarter was 17-5.

The second quarter brought a slight revival from the Adams squad. They started to hit and get rebounds. They were at a loss as to what to do about the big boy on the Elkhart team, Likens, 6'8". By the end of the quarter they were still lagging badly behind, 43-18.

The third quarter looked for a few minutes like it might bring an Adams comeback. The Eagles began to press the efficient Blue Blazers and gained a little. They only gained to turn around and lose it again. Third quarter score was 52-31.

The fourth quarter was much a repeat of all the others. The Eagles were fighting as hard as they were able to. Final score, 66-45.

Don Oakes scored 22 points and Shennenberger scored 13 points.

"B" team score: Elkhart 50, Adams 34.

ROOSEVELT 52; ADAMS 45

Last Tuesday night in East Chicago Roosevelt's auditorium the Eagles met a foe determined to send them home with a loss. The game was played before a very sparse crowd with as many Adams rooters there as East Chicago fans. From the start when Adams gained the tip-off, it looked like a conquest for the Eagles. Adams started playing rather conservative ball and were using a man-to-man defense like their opponents. The Rough Riders were picking the rebounds and started to edge the Eagles. In the second quarter Roosevelt picked up momentum and appeared to hit on most everything. The Eagle defense was a little tighter, but they weren't getting the rebounds yet and consequently they had fewer shots. The halftime score was 27-20.

The third quarter brought a considerable pickup in the Eagle ball handling and fight, but the Riders were deadly on under the basket lay-ins and long shots. The fourth quarter was about the same as the third with the Eagles trying, and scoring, but East Chicago just didn't miss much.

In points, Oakes was again high for the Eagles with 15 and Pfaff nosed in for a close second with 14 points.

Adams to Play Host; Let Us Do Our Duty

During the coming sectional, we students of John Adams should be particularly aware of the correct and incorrect way to conduct ourselves at a tournament. A great deal of responsibility rests with us. We will be playing host to all of the teams participating in the tournament. As hosts, it is our duty to set an example for the visiting students and fans. We should at all times be on our good behavior and display that spirit of fine sportsmanship which is the true spirit of John Adams. Let us act like ladies and gentlemen so that our guests will enjoy themselves and want to visit our school again.
