SCOUTS HOLD OFFICES

Norman Grimshaw, Star Scout of Explorer Post 523, was elected to the office of Mayor of South Bend for a day. Previous to his election, campaigns, conventions, and balloting had been held by the scouts of this county to teach them some features of the political life of the community.

Winners on the Freedom ticket from Adams besides Grimshaw included Charles Bowman, county clerk; Tom Vermande (alumni), county recorder; and Fred Dressel, county commissioner.

The successful candidates on the Liberty Party slate from Adams were Jack Halpin, judge of Circuit court; Robert Root, county auditor; and William Dean, one of the five city councilmen.

The following were appointed to their offices by Grimshaw: Tom Olshewsky, city police chief; Robert Johnson, fire chief; Ned Dugdale, city attorney, and Charles Rench, city engineer.

These boys held their respective offices in the government of the city on Monday, Feb. 9, 1953.

Play to Be Broadcast

A tape recording of the play "Jack and the Beanstalk" recorded by the dramatics class will be played over radio station WHOT today at 1:15.

Members of the cast are: Robert Nelson, Kay Cantwell, Naomi Shulman, Michael Phillips, Margaret Strong, Norman Asper, Sandra Wright, Robert Johnson, and Estelle Zoss.

The production director is Mr. Galon Miller of the School City Visual Education department; Mrs. Hazel McClure is dramatic director.

T. B. LEAGUE MEETS

The Jr. Tuberculosis League held its monthly meeting February 11. Our representatives, Mary Agnes Gingrich and Robert Walcott were both present. Following the regular business session Miss Alice Hixon, head of the Dairy Council of St. Joseph County, spoke to the group on nutrition.

The board reminded all the representatives to be sure to have as many posters from each school entered in the T. B. poster contest as possible. Posters must be in the T. B. office by March 9. All who enter a poster are invited to attend the next board meeting on March 11 at 3:00, when the prizes will be presented to the winners.

CLUB NEWS

Jr. Red Cross: Geraldine Goepfrich is to be in charge of a bake sale which will be held at the Public Market on February 21. This project will finance a party to be given at the Old Folks Home early in March.

KEY TO THE KINGDOM

Tolerance has always been a touchy subject with me. Many times I have engaged in discussions with others and I have raised the question as to whether or not we should be merely tolerant or go further and be understanding.

It is really no task to be tolerant. One only needs to endure the other fellow. But to understand the other fellow is a difficult thing to do. I have seen many people that are tolerant, but I have seen few that even attempt to understand people. Therein lies a challenge for today's youth.

Instead of observing "Brotherhood Week" with posters and displays, let's make Brotherhood an individual enterprise. Each one of us might attempt to study members of other races and religions. We might then come to understand those that do not have the same color skin and those of different religions.

Brotherhood Week is nearing its end. Let's make our attempt to understand a year-round proposition. Let's concentrate for fifty-two weeks on being an understanding person.

There is the challenge for youth. Can we meet this challenge? Can we get together and understand rather than endure? Can we keep this concept of understanding a year around proposition? If we can, we are united in a common humanity.

—William Clark.

THE POOR UNSUNG HEROINE — MOTHER

As you sit on that hard hard chair under the cold glare of Mr. Crowe in that horrible study hall trying to concentrate on a dull book, your mind is full of worry. Will Joe call tonight? Did I pass my history test? Does Joe like Mary instead of me? Why didn't he call last night? You are convinced that nobody in the whole world leads a more troublesome life than you. I'll bet I know someone who does. Your mother! No? Well, just lend an ear!

The clanging of the alarm clock heralds the day and your mother raises her head off the pillow, crawls out into the cold to turn off the alarm, shut the window, and turn up the heat. She has been up most of the night with a sick headache and she has had all of four hours of sleep. But, nevertheless, she staggers downstairs to get breakfast. Father likes his eggs soft, his toast dark; the girls like their eggs hard, their toast light; Junior likes Corn Flakes and no toast; everybody like orange juice except father, he drinks his coffee black. The aroma of breakfast brings the family downstairs. Instead of a "Good morning!" it's "I've got to have a lunch," "We've got 7:30 Glee Club." "Where are my clean socks?" "Is breakfast ready?" "What'll I wear today?" "Did you press my trousers?"

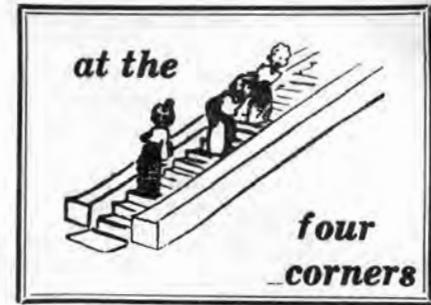

The next forty-five minutes pass in a mad rush from bedroom to bathroom to bedroom, down stairs, upstairs, to the bedroom, to the bathroom, downstairs and finally out the front door. At last she's alone. But her day has just begun. The beds have to be made, the groceries bought, the dog fed, the dishes washed, the ironing done — all before lunch.

When Junior and the girls come rushing home at noon with ten minutes to eat she listens to what the nasty teachers have done, who's going with whom, plans for the evening, the discussions of the afternoon tests and the griping about the gym exercises.

Finally, the front door bangs shut for the last time and again she is alone. She lingers over her last cup of coffee and thinks of her own problems. She mentally figures out her budget. She decides how to fix over your formal and what to have for supper. Mrs. Jones calls and your mother is told all about Mr. Jones' back trouble, the price of meat, and the Brown's new car. The conversation ends in time for her favorite serials, "Young Doctor Smalsnik," "Hope is Infernal" and "The Misguiding Light." At 4:00 the gang comes home and heads for the kitchen. 'Mid coke bottles and cooky crumbs she gets supper.

This being Friday night, after supper, Junior and the girls go "out." She and father are left to themselves to talk business or listen to the radio. About 10:30 father turns in and again your mother is left to her own thoughts. Undoubtedly, she will wait up for you and she will be the last one in bed.

You think you lead a rough life? Nothing like your mother's!

We pause to extend formal apologies to Janet Burke and Bob Shula. It seems some ambitious reporter confused Burke and Miller.

For a bit of bright cheer in the day, take a look at Pat Bourdon's orange blouse.

Missing milium should be returned to Miss Valenti as soon as it's found. Urgent!!

Walkin' and talkin'—Sue Hawk and Jim Worley, Pat Wilson and Paul Linscott; dating also—Frances Hutchins and Dan Kieffer (Wash.), and Doris Hensler and Buzz Szabo (Wash.).

See Jean Woolverton and Pat Grant for a recital of an interesting song about basketball — and the team, of course. It has that personal touch.

Seen swinging and swaying at the dance for that purpose: Ann Williams and Roger Stouffer.

That spring feeling already? Look closely at Liz Jarvin and Bill Waechter, and Kathleen Rose and Joe Rich.

Deanna Palm hasn't seen her name in Four Corners recently, so we'll put it here. We wouldn't want her to be unhappy.

Dick Northrop is finally going steady. The lucky girl is Nancy Conrad, of Niles.

Who once said he didn't date? Jerry Thompson is rumored to be interested in Sue Angus, and vice versa.

Webster's definition of dancing: the act of leaping, springing, or taking steps in a ore or less rhythmical manner.

Please forgive the green eyes of those who are thinking about Kay Oedekerck, Jewel Reitz, and Sandy Schwalm; they are suffering the fate of Florida confinement.

Reminder to Mrs. McClure—it pays to put out an attendance slip each period.

And then we have Mrs. Carmichael, of the faculty, who likes to go in the cafeteria (oops, lunch room) to pester Jim. All we want to know is where she hides the Hershey bars.

Seen around: Sue Charlesworth (Central) and Tom McHenry.

New on our steady list: Mary Ann Wilson (Central) and Mike Handley, and Punky Crowe and Tom Goldsberry.

Have-you-heard? — Sandy Wright and Bill Reinecke.

The first-hour Office Practice class enjoyed a very interesting and informative tour through the new office of the Remington-Rand company last Friday morning. They're certainly glad Miss Roell knows the right people.

Sonja Hoover is certainly happy that she didn't have to wait for the appearance of the Wabash Glee Club. Fred LaCosse was home for the week-end.

And then we had Marianne Reish and Sonny Stone. It seems this couple has hit the rocks. What a resounding crash that was!

SENIOR SUPERIORITY OR "SENIOR-A-ITIS"

This poem is about some seniors Who attend John Adams school. It isn't nice to gossip, But I'll just have to break that rule.

So gather close, my students, And hear what I have to say, Oh! get out of here you seniors, You're not invited today.

Have you noticed the way they act, When you try to say hello? They just turn up their little noses And pass by very slow.

And when we underclassmen Are walking through the hall, We have very little room to share Because seniors take it all.

They're late for all their classes, But they do not seem to care. When they're asked the reason why, All they do is simply stare.

And all the tricks of skipping school Seldom elude dear teacher She usually can tell which senior goes down town, To see a double feature.

When the seniors willingly come to school The teachers truly are amazed. And when they're called upon in class These seniors sit witless and look dazed.

When at assemblies, seniors say Who wants to hear that stuff? And when the program is partly over, They think they've had enough.

We students often get disgusted When seniors won't do what we expect. And by the time that school is dismissed, Oft they make us feel a wreck.

But lo! what would we do without Our upperclassmen dear? Why we will know just how to act When we're in our senior year
—Julie Harris.

Without tolerance, without understanding of each other or without a spirit of brotherhood, we would soon cease to exist as a great nation.

Mr. Lawrence Martin, Adams new biology teacher received his training at Indiana State Teachers' College, Terre Haute, Indiana, and at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana where he belonged to a fraternity then called the Trojans.

Before arriving at Adams, Mr. Martin taught twenty-two years at Nuner, four years at Central, and two years at Clinton, Indiana. He thinks Adams is a fine school and adds that he will like it even more after a month or so (the new biology room might have something to do with this.)

Photography, tape recording, and gardening are a few of his interests. He enjoys television, too. Mr. Martin thinks beefsteak is marvellous. His dislikes are few.

Mr. Martin is married and has three daughters, two being graduates of Adams; he also has three grandchildren.

What is your biggest classroom problem?

Mrs. McClure: "Getting the students to want to learn."

Miss Moberg: "Producing eight copies of a book when there is only one to fill a sudden need."

Miss Law: "Keeping the waste paper out of the desks and the furniture in order."

Mrs. Knebel: "Trying to make Spanish drills interesting for the students."

Mr. Crowe: "Too many people."

Mr. Thompson: "Myself."

Miss Kaczmarek: "Keeping people inspired so they will get their lessons each day."

Charity Without Noise

There is a tendency especially noticeable in these days to forget one should not boast of the good works which he performs. True charity does not blow bugles. Too many persons give money to worthy causes not so much to help others as to draw attention to themselves.

If you help another man, either directly or by aiding in his harvest when he is ill, or indirectly by contributing to a money-raising campaign which will bring him benefits, keep the matter to yourself and your family. The inner glow of satisfaction will light your life far more brightly than any spotlight that you can attract by shouting your virtues in the market-place.

PICTURES DISPLAYED

The winning pictures from the Annual National High School Photographic Awards Contest, sponsored by the National Scholastic Press Association, have been hanging at John Adams during the past week.

The classes of pictures accepted in the competition were: Babies and Children, Young People and Adults, Scenes, and Animal Life.

If you have not had an opportunity to see the pictures in the library or in Room 209, do so soon; the exhibit will be taken down on February 27.

EAGLES DROP AWAY TILT TO BLAZERS

The Adams Eagles led only twice, 9-7 and 11-9, in their game with the often-shooting Elkhart Blue Blazers. The Blazers weren't exceptionally hot, but they took 82 shots to win the game easily 72-58. They hit on 27 of them for about 33 per cent.

Led by sharp-shooting Jack Tillman with 6 and Ray Ball with 4 points, the Blazers moved to a 17-13 first quarter lead. Jerry Thompson, Larry Kedzie, and Rocky Ferraro got 6, 4, and 3 respectively to score all the Adams points in the first frame.

Elkhart moved into a 35-23 half-time advantage, mainly on the strength of the 10 points scored by Tillman to bring his first half total to 16.

The Blazers continued to move in the third period as Ronnie Lucas poured in 10 points in addition to 8 scored by Tillman. Thompson got 5 for the Eagles, while Kedzie and Dale Gibson got 3 apiece. Elkhart led at the end of the quarter 61-37.

Adams dominated play in the final period, outscoring Elkhart 21-11. Tom Goldsberry led the Eagles in the fourth period with 7 points, while Thompson dropped in 6 free throws to bring his night's total to 22 points.

Kedzie got 8 and Goldsberry added 7 more to rank behind Thompson in the Eagle scoring. Tillman and Lucas got 23 and 17 respectively for Elkhart.

B-TEAM DROPS GAME AT ELKHART 65 - 48

The Adams "Bees" found the going awfully rough as Elkhart's "bees" trounced them 65 to 48. Adams couldn't find the range during the first quarter, and as a result, the Blazers piled up a 35 to 22 half-time advantage. During the second half, the Eagles started a determined drive which closed the gap to 35 to 28. Then Elkhart again started rolling with the help of their strong rebounding power, and at the end of the 3rd quarter, were leading 42 to 33. Then in the fourth period, Elkhart stopped for no one, winning with a 65 to 48 score. Troeger and Green were high for the Adams "Bees" with 16 and 13 points respectively. This makes their season record 14-4, with a 7 won and 4 lost record against conferences foes.

EAGLES WIN TWO "Frosh" Basketball IN CAPITOL ELKHART

The Adams varsity journeyed to Indianapolis Broad Ripple last Saturday and returned with two victories. Due to a misunderstanding the varsity second team was forced to play the Broad Ripple reserves in the warm-up game. They won fairly easily, but not by a big score after a brief 29-27 score in the third quarter. The final score was 58-49 with Tom Troeger and Dale Gibson leading the Eagles with 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the varsity game Adams grabbed and 11 point lead at the half and with the exception of a 44-40 score in the third period held on to win without too much trouble.

Dick Begley and Ken Seamon led Broad Ripple in the first period with 4 and 5 points, respectively. Larry Kedzie with 6 and Jerry Thompson with 4 points led the Eagles. The quarter score was 12 apiece.

In the second frame Adams moved into a 34-23 lead as Kedzie and Thompson combined to dunk 10 and 7 points respectively.

Broad Ripple outscored the Eagles 19-14 in the third quarter, but Adams was still on the long end of a 48-42 score at the end of the frame. Thompson got 6 points while Larry VanDusen came through with 4 more to lead the Eagles in that frame.

Each team scored 14 points in the final frame as Adams moved to a 62-56 decision. Thompson got 5 and Kendzie 4 points to lead the Eagles last period drive.

Thompson and Kedzie tied for high point honors with 22 points apiece. VanDusen was third with 7, while Kreitzman added 6 more to the Eagle cause. The victory gave the Eagles a season record of 13 wins and 6 losses going into last night's game with Fort Wayne North Side.

The freshmen team traveled to Elkhart to play Elkhart Roosevelt on Thursday, February 12. This was a much wanted "revenge" game as this was the team who defeated the freshmen in the final game of the Conference Tourney. This game was played on about the same pattern as the previous meet and the game ended with Adams on the short end of a 45-34 score.

Both teams treated the nets badly in the first quarter as the period ended with Roosevelt ahead 18-16. The Eagles bounced back in the second quarter as both teams cooled off. The Eagles left the floor at intermission leading 24-23. The third quarter was played on even terms and ended with Adams still holding a one-point margin, 30-29. As in the previous meeting of the two teams, Roosevelt had too many guns for our freshmen in the fourth quarter. Don Severeid led the Eagle attack with 16 points.

The freshmen "B's brought back only consolation of the day by taking a close decision from the Elkhart Freshmen 29-28. Lynn Wickizer was high for the game with 7 points.

WASHINGTON-CLAY

The Adams freshmen basketball team played in the new Clay gym last week and returned with two overwhelming victories. The "A" team won by the score of 51-22 and the "B" team won 49-23.

In the "A" game neither team could score much as the first half ended with the freshmen on the long end of a 14-9 score. Then the roof fell in on the Colonials as Adams launched a 37 point upsurge in the second half. Don Severeid was high for the night with 24 points.

In the "B" game the freshmen completely swamped the Colonials right in the first quarter and then coasted to a 49-23 margin. William Spencer was high for this game with 19 points.

INTRAMURAL

In the top game of this week's intramural play Jones defeated Halterman 28-27 to throw the league into a three-way tie for first place. Loar led Jones with 11 points while Halterman and Hartz scored 10 apiece for the losers. Hawblitzel defeated Quinn 35-23 and Berta dropped Dyszkiewicz 21-14 to move into the first place tie with Halterman. Hawblitzel got 13 and McKeon 10 in their win, while Beiser and Keller each got 6 for Quinn. Pearson lead Berta with 6 while Beale got 5 for Dyszkiewicz.

In the other game Finch squeaked past McCallister 27-26. Finch with 13 and Jurgovan with 7 led the winners. McCallister and Flanagan were high for the losers with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The leaders' records are 6 wins and 3 losses.

If you really believe in the brotherhood of man, and you want to come into its fold, you've got to let everyone else in too.
