McINTYRE REIGNS AT ADAMS-CENTRAL GAME

Barbara McIntyre, a senior from homeroom 111, was chosen as queen of the Adams-Central football game by the Adams student body. Barbara was escorted onto the field by Bob Ziker and crowned by Mr. Russell Rothermel. Sue Nelson and Carolyn Nace carried the crown and bouquet of roses which were presented to Barbara. After the crowning, Barbara and Shirley Bill, Central's queen, exchanged bouquets.

Other candidates for queen and members of the court were Donna Huffman, Drude Koren, Jeanne Weiss, and Marcia Hoelscher, seniors; Marilyn Rainier and Rosie Griffith, juniors; and Sue Schwanz, a sophomore. Escorts for the girls were Don Rowe, John Ross, Pete Sherman, Ron Wallace, Joe Barnette, Tom Horn, and Bob Lott.

The Adams and Central bands played the music for the half-time ceremony at School Field at which time the queens were crowned by the school principals.

Sophomores to Hold Annual Party Nov. 16

The Sophomore Class will hold their annual party and dance in the Little Theater on the evening of November 16. Entertainment will be planned and refreshments will be served. When the Tower went to press, a meeting of the sophomores and faculty advisors had not been held. Plans and committee heads will be published in the next issue.

Statistics of Polio Shots of Adams Students

Recently students of Adams were asked to fill out questionnaires concerning whether or not they had had their polio shots. Mrs. Dorothy Chamberlain, school nurse, has announced the results of this survey of Adams students and polio shots.

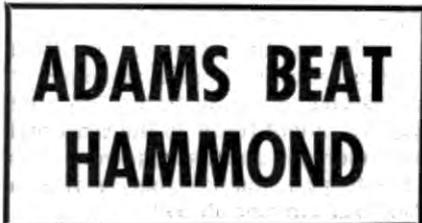

In the 12A class, 17 out of 40 students have had at least two shots which is 43% of the class. The 12B class has 48% of the class who have had their shots which is 97 students out of 198.

Only 16 out of 43 students, or 37%, in the 11A class have had polio shots. In the 11B class, 112 out of 197 students have had their shots which is 57% of the class.

The 10A class has 51 out of 91 students having had shots which is 56% of the entire class. There are 66% or 164 out of 245 students of the 10B class who have had at least two shots.

Out of 98 students of the 9A class, 58 students or 59% have had shots. The 9B class has the highest percentage, 73%, or 196 out of 266 students who have had polio shots.

The total enrollment of Adams is 1178 students and 711 have had at least two polio shots. This is about 61% of the total enrollment.

Ross and Barnette Attend Boys State

Last June 9, Ed Ross and Joe Barnette, seniors, left South Bend to attend Boys State at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana. Boys State, which is sponsored each year by the American Legion, is a convention for Indiana boys. Its purpose is to acquaint boys with Indiana governmental procedures on the state, county, and city levels.

Immediately upon their arrival, Ed and Joe registered for political parties of which there were two. Both boys were members of the Nationalist Party. The party of opposition was the Federalist Party. The boys then signed up for special schools, as they were required to spend one hour each day in specialized training. Joe graduated from the Speech School, and Ed graduated with a perfect score from the Police School, which entitled him to a position on the city police force after general elections.

The 850 boys who attended Boys State were divided into citizens of cities, and two cities were equivalent to one county. Ed was a citizen of McIntyre City in Gates County, and Joe was a citizen of Lutes City in Nelson County.

The typical day at Boys State began with classes on governmental and voting procedures in the morning. During these classes, they learned the fundamentals of elections and offices for which they were eligible to run. During the afternoon, the boys had spare time and one hour of specialized training. In the evening, party caucuses and demonstrations were held. The most important caucus occurred before the general election.

A primary election, in which the boys declared their party affiliation, was held before the general election, which was the most important phase of Boys State. During party caucuses, the candidates were narrowed down to one from each party for each elective office. Joe and Ed were pleased when the Federalist nominee was elected governor. After the elections, the winners carried out the duties of their offices and appointed their officials. The cities, counties, and state governments were conducted similar to actual procedures in Indiana.

Ed was elected circuit court judge from Gates County. He had the occasion to handle two court cases while in office. Joe was elected to a post on the city council. His duties were to help make laws and ordinances of his

Assembly on Nature Film Nov. 14

An assembly featuring William N. Parsons and his film, "A Journey Into the Forest," will be presented to the Adams students on November 14. Mr. Parsons is from the state of Maine and his partner in filming wildlife movies is Mr. Henry Briggs. These two men spent five years preparing this particular movie.

The story of this movie is built around the life of the Black Duck. The ever present threat of the villain, Snapping Turtle, as he pursues the mother duck and her small brood keeps the audience in suspense. This movie is acclaimed as one of the most intriguing ever edited for a lecture. It is filmed in color and brings authentic wildlife sound which was recorded in the field. The sounds which you will hear are not sound effects, but actual sounds.

Special film awards which have been received by the Parsons-Briggs team are the International Film Festival, Venice, Italy, 1952; International Film Festival, Edinburgh, Scotland, 1954; Columbia Film Festival, Ohio, U. S. A., 1954; and Scholastic Teachers Magazine, 1955.

city. He also participated in the prosecution of those who violated the law.

The boys thought the most rigorous part of the convention was the marching which they were required to perform several times each day. In spite of this, Ed and Joe enjoyed themselves and regretted having to return home on June 16.

WHAT THE TOWER ADVERTISING AND BUSINESS STAFFS DO

When someone speaks of working on the school newspaper, one most often thinks of being on the writing staff. Quite often one does not realize that writing a story is only one of the many jobs which goes into the production of each week's edition of the paper. A most important function in the publication of each issue is the work which the advertising and business staffs perform.

The advertising staff is charged with the responsibility of securing sufficient advertising to abet the financial condition of the paper. In these days of rising costs maintaining solvency is one of the major problems confronting the editors of any paper. At present student support of the newspaper through subscriptions is not sufficient in itself to provide the necessary funds to cover production costs. Therefore, income from subscriptions must be supplemented by the sale of advertising space to local businesses and patrons of the school.

The complaint is often heard by members of the TOWER staff that too much space is devoted to advertising but it should be remembered that this advertising is an important source of income.

The duties of the advertising staff begin even before the opening of school in the fall. They must get out and contact "John Q. Public" and convince him that it would be a smart thing to invest in advertising in the JOHN ADAMS TOWER. This calls for a considerable amount of legwork on the part of these staff members. Not only must they solicit ads from past advertisers, but they also must seek new advertisers to replace those who decide not to renew their ad for the current year.

All of this work must be done well in advance of the first issue of the paper. In addition to earning credit toward a TOWER service pin, advertising staff members also secure invaluable business experience by meeting local businessmen and attempting to sell their product — advertising space in the TOWER.

However, the jobs does not end when the contract for advertising space is signed. Many advertisers desire to have the copy in their ad changed frequently and the advertising solicitor must see to it that the copy is kept up to date; and when necessary, even write the copy himself. Also, the advertising manager must always be on the lookout for potential advertisers and direct his staff to these sources.

Another task for which the advertising manager is responsible is the keeping of accurate records so that when billing time comes around, he can turn over to the business manager the needed information for the issuing of statements.

Duties performed by the business manager of the paper are not quite so complex. He is responsible for the preparation of the statements which are sent to the advertisers at specified times. Nevertheless, he must make sure that each statement which is mailed is absolutely correct.

These jobs, as have been described, continue all through the year, from the first issue to the final Senior Issue. Those who work on these staffs get the same sense of satisfaction out of seeing the paper on Friday morning as the writing staffs get out of seeing their stories in print.

The business end of the production of the newspaper is entirely different from that of the writing but it is very important. If anyone is interested in the business section of the paper staff, you are urged to sign up for either the advertising or business staff. Remember, if you don't have any talent in writing or you think you don't have any, but you would like to be on the staff of the TOWER, there are many different staffs from which to choose — advertising or business being only two.

NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles to inform TOWER readers of the functions of the different staffs of the TOWER. Subsequent articles will deal with other phases in the production of this newspaper.

Barb McIntyre Spends Summer in Norway

The T. S. S. Arosa Kulm moved slowly out of New York harbor, past the Statue of Liberty, and out to the Atlantic. It was June 25 and 700 American Field Service students were on their way to Europe. After twelve days at sea, we finally arrived in Bremerhaven, Germany, where we debarked. We then proceeded to a nearby town, Bremen, for a day of sight-seeing. I found Germany very interesting with its cobblestone streets and quaint cottages. That same night we scattered out for our different destinations. We were headed in all directions of the continent. I was going north to the Land of the Midnight Sun, Norway.

I arrived in Norway after two and one-half days of travel by train and ferry. My new family met me at the railroad station and although we were hampered by the language problem, we soon became fast friends. I spent seven weeks in Norway and left there loving these people who live in the land of the Vikings.

Norwegian scenery is breathtaking. The mountains, pine trees, and rivers combine to create a majestic picture in all directions. I lived on a large farm in one of the fertile river valleys in approximately the middle of the country, not quite to the Arctic circle. Agriculture is the main industry of Norway, while lumbering and fishing rank second and third, respectively.

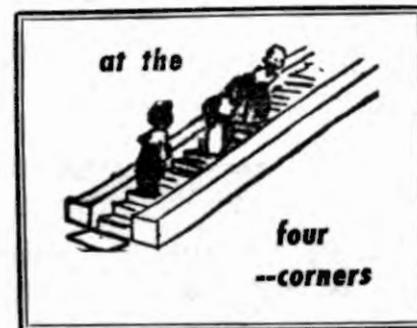

We ate five meals a day: breakfast, dinner, tea, supper, and tea in that order. The food is delicious, especially the pastries. We had mostly fish and potatoes for the main meal. I spent my days bicycle-hiking, working in the hay fields, or simply relaxing at home.

Sports play a very important part on the Norwegian scene. Norwegians excel at skiing, which is the most popular winter sport. Football, which they call soccer, is a popular competitive summer sport. Handball, volleyball, and badminton are also played for enjoyment during the long summer evenings. It was light until 10 or 11 and the sun rose again at 3 or 4.

Norway is a relatively poor country compared to the United States. Manufacturing does not play such a great role. Woolen material, however, is one of their outstanding products. Hand-knitted articles are numerous and finely made.

The area in which I lived was heavily damaged during the last war but no ruins remain. Two nearby towns were completely bombed out by the Germans and have since been entirely rebuilt. The Norwegians are energetic and ambitious and take great pride in this swift reconstruction.

When my seven weeks were up, I was truly reluctant to go. But I finally left after making them promise to come someday to America to visit me. The 700 AFSers then met in Paris for a short stay. We saw all the famous sights — Eiffel Tower, Arch of Triumph, Lourve Museum, Notre Dame, Palace of Versailles, and many others. This exciting stay was climaxed by the beautiful French reception at the Grande Hotel in Paris. The next day we caught trains to the coast and once more crossed a gangplank — this time to go home to America after a fabulous summer abroad.

Things are still in an uproar after the excitement of last week's game. We are all proud of the team and stand ready to support them in tonight's game.

ATTENTION, PLEASE — IMPORTANT: Linda Bourdon is not and was not engaged to Ernie. We hear though that she is expecting him to visit her during Thanksgiving Vacation. Have fun, Linda!

Some of the girls who are happy to see the fall term of college going strong again are: Bev Twigg, Carol Fitzsimmons, Jeanne Weiss, Gayle Heyn, and Rosie Griffith, who have been attending N. D. Victory Dances frequently.

Sue Metcalfe entertained after the Washington game. Lucy Wappenstein & Tom Horn, Patti Bolling & Justin Kronewitter, Barb McIntyre & Tim Brown, Joan Burkhart & Pete Sherman were only a few of the couples there. Evidently they all had quite an appetite. Statistics are: 99 bottles of pop and 12 lbs. of Bar-B-Q — downed quickly.

Some of the Junior A gals had a slumber party recently. The events of the evening (or rather morning) included a marriage with a phone book, a long distance phone call to Kansas City, modeling, coffee in all sort of containers and a deep discussion on a "peeping Tom." The two bravest girls dozed off at 6:00 a.m.

Margo Weaver played the role of the perfect hostess with a houseful of kids, eating, and talking. Quite a gang collected, but Margo welcomed everyone.

A certain person unfavorable to Jim Messick, recently returned to South Bend for a week-end.

Mathematics Puzzle Problem

Answer to last week's problem: The solution to the given equation is 2.5 factor, $(2x-5)$, has the value zero when "x" has the value 2.5. Division by zero is impossible in mathematics so the factor, $2x-5$ cannot be divided out.

Problem: Jim Ralston found his first week at college rather difficult because he could not meet all his bills so he wrote home for more money as follows:

SE.ND
+ MO.RE
MON.EY

If each letter represents a number, the same letter representing the same number each time, how much money did he request his father to send?

Government Classes Hold Political Activities

"Recognize the senator from Texas." These and other similar statements were recently heard in Mr. Alonzo Goldsberry's sixth hour government class where students were in the midst of a session of Congress. There were four bills in debate which pertained to their class. These bills were chewing gum in government class, no homework on days after games, wearing school colors on game days, and saying the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag before class.

The fourth hour class held mock trials in accordance with the study of state courts and criminal procedures. The third hour class, who are citizens of Adamsville governed by Mayor Goldsberry, was in the uproar of a political convention. There was one major issue that divided the party — that is using the guillotine as the nationwide means of capital punishment. They have also held a mock session of the United Nations.

The fifth hour class held a city council meeting during their study of government. They are now in the midst of the "Eaglecrat" national political convention.

Each class has a committee consisting of three students who plan the course of study and activities of the class under the guidance of Mr. Goldsberry.

John Stackhouse; Carolyn O'Meara, Ray Woodward; Judy Uvardy, Eddie Ross; Pat Wozniack and Dan Gregory.

Quite a few alums of Adams were home last weekend for the dance and game. Among them were: Dave Koto, Rich Ensign, Bob Nelson, Jerry Badger, Jim Leighty, Rich Szabo, Don Smith, Butch West, and John Waechter.

Bonnie Hewitt had a party after the victorious Central game and during the course of the evening fed and entertained a large proportion of Adams' students.

Eagle of the Week

Ila Mae Reeve is the Eagle of the Week for this week. A senior A from homeroom 212, Ila is 5'6" tall, has eyes of blue, and short brown hair. She was eighteen last September.

Ila is very active in the Booster, Drama, and Jr. Walton Clubs. She recently represented Adams at the Indiana Junior Academy of Science. Her report on "The Regeneration of The Planaria" won honorable mention in a contest for the best Girls Scientist in Indiana at this meeting which was held at Indiana University, October 13. In February, Ila will enter a paper on her experiment of the planaria in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

Ila has no pet peeves. Her favorite TV program is "Shower of Stars." She likes to see a boy in charcoal brown pants and sweater, white shirt, and cordovans. Ila plans to enter Purdue University to study pharmacy.

Ila has this to say about the Junior Academy of Science, "It is a wonderful opportunity for high school students to be recognized for their work in the field of science."

Nancy Whitlock lost a dark beige suede jacket Saturday after the Central game. If anyone has any information about it, please contact Nancy in homeroom 212.

BAND

After completing the last of their half-time shows at football games, the Adams band has begun to work on concert and contest music. A new system of tryout is being used this fall. The members of the band have organized new committees to keep the band room neater. New picture themes are also being used for the room. Tentative plans are to have band and orchestra concerts annually in the spring and to present a Pop Concert. The band consists of 75 members.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra having just completed a performance with the North Central Orchestra is now concentrating on music for concerts and contests. Future plans include playing in the All-City Orchestra and solo and ensemble contests which will be held in January and February.

GIRLS RECREATION

Members of the Girls Recreation who meet every Wednesday at 3:15 in the gym are Marilyn Webster, Joyce Bushman, Bonnie Miller, Wanda Downham, Lillian Szeweski, Sandy Langel, Rosemary Aptger, Virginia Holdmann, Barbara Geans, Shirley Durgin, Karen Engle, Lois

Miller, Elizabeth Hall, Marilyn Locke, Mary McNamara, Pat Taylor, Bonnie Coker, Carol Tetzlaff, Drude Koren, Pam Miller, Jo Longfellow, and Nancy Olszewski.

They are planning to participate in competition with other girls recreation clubs of other schools. Any girl interested in sports is invited to join this club.

PREP GLEE CLUB

The officers of the Prep Glee Club for the 1956-57 year are Joe Dickey, president; Port Lederer, assistant president; Julie Ebling, vice-president; Dixie Davis, assistant vice-president; Judy Widmar, Kitty Clark, secretaries; Sandy Severns, Donna Diamond, librarians; Sue Nelson, Terry Lehr, Lee Chaden, Ann Bennett, robe committee.

Throughout the year 130 members of the Glee Club will be participating in various activities. This fall the members are organizing and learning music for the Christmas service. Next spring they will participate with the Senior Glee Club in the "Pop" Concert or the Easter program depending on which is presented.

The purpose of the Prep Glee Club is to prepare students for Senior Glee Club and to teach them the fundamentals of correct singing.

John Adams Bids for NIHSC Title Tonight

Adams vs. Hammond At 7:30 Tonight

Last Saturday night the John Adams Eagles wrapped up their first clear-cut ENIHSC title in the history of the school. They were running all over the field against South Bend Central in winning 21-0. The Eagles scored in every quarter except the second. Touchdowns were made by Johnny Turner, Barry Grady, and Gene Phillips. Central was unable to score during the contest.

An interesting note on the games between the twin-city teams was that none of the teams has scored against Adams. Adams has beaten Mishawaka, Washington, Central, and St. Joseph by the score of 21-0. They toppled Riley 20-0.

Tonight the Eagles will play Hammond High School for the Northern Indiana High School Conference title. Last year Adams played East Chicago Roosevelt and got beaten 13-7, but tonight Adams will play a Bernie Krueger coached Hammond team. The Hammond team has won seven, lost one, and tied one this season.

Several student buses will make the trip to Hammond along with the many cars that will transport fans to the Calumet city. Adams has been allotted 3,000 tickets for the game although the Hammond field only seats 6,500. Support our championship team.

Beagles Defeat Cavemen

The Adams "B" team won their final game of the season by defeating Mishawaka 12-6 in a hard fought battle all the way. The Eagles drew first blood in the second quarter with a 40-yard touchdown pass from Jim Dowdy to Bob Sheets. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The score remained in Adams' favor until four minutes remained in the game when Mishawaka on a 60-yard drive went over for a score but missed the extra point. Thus the score was 6-6 with less than four minutes left in the game. Then Dowdy threw a pass to John Thompson who lateraled to Robert Hall who went over for the second score. The Beagles missed the try for the extra point, and the score read, with one minute and 30 seconds left to play, Adams 12, Mishawaka 6. Adams was able to control the ball for the remainder of the game.

The record of the "B" team for the season is 5 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie. This is one of the best records ever compiled by an Adams "B" team. The members of the team and coaches are to be congratulated.

EAGLETS END SEASON

The Adams Eaglets won their fourth straight gridiron victory by defeating Elkhart North Side 32-6 at Elkhart on October 24.

The Eaglets remained unbeaten this year on their home field when they defeated Mishawaka 7-6 on November 1. This last game of the season put the Eaglets' record for this year as 6 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie.
