Gail Levy Addresses Assembly

Gail Levy addressed students attending the Back-to-School Assembly, Friday, September 9, on "A School System in a Democracy."

Suzanne Smith was in charge of the assembly and acted as mistress of ceremonies.

In accordance with the purpose of the assembly, to welcome old and new students and to encourage them to make the best of their year, Suzanne repeated this quotation by Stephen Grellet:

"I expect to pass through this world only once; any good therefore that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now, let me not defer or neglect it for I shall not pass this way again."

Teachers Introduced

The teachers new to Adams were introduced by Mr. Rothermel. Leila Harjanne, the exchange student from Helsinki, Finland received a rousing welcome from the student body.

Frosh Shown AHS Facilities

The annual Freshman Show Ya Roun' took place Tuesday, September 6, in various parts of the school to acquaint freshmen and new students with John Adams.

The Show Ya Roun' is the first Student Council project of the year. It helps to orient the freshmen and new students to the school building and faculty, and aids in making them feel more at home.

Caroline Jones was in charge of the project. Working directly with the guidance office, she and her committee planned and carried through the day's program.

After the pep assembly on Tuesday, the freshmen reported back to their home rooms. Groups of students went to each freshman home room to demonstrate with the help of dummy combination locks the proper way to open a locker. They also explained correct care and usage of the locker.

The frosh were then excused to the halls to find their lockers and try to open them. Show Ya Roun' guides stationed in the halls were ready to assist when needed.

At the assembly, Mr. Rothermel spoke on school attitudes and the value of an education. He also explained the lunch hour schedule.

Following the assembly, guides took the freshmen and new students on a tour of the building. They were shown points of interest, school departments, and some of the classrooms.

Tower Circulation Drive Ends

The TOWER circulation staff will close its strenuous drive to gain TOWER subscribers at 4 p. m. today.

For the first three weeks of school, a crew of TOWER salesmen under the direction of circulation manager Natalie Bethke have visited every home room in the school.

TOWERS have also been offered for sale every day before and after school at the TOWER office as they will be after school tonight for $2.50.

Highlights of the subscription drive included a skit at the first pep assembly, and a talk by editor Al From to the Back-to-School Assembly.

The drive also included a special offer to subscribers who purchased subscriptions during the first two weeks of school.

As of the beginning of the drive's third week, subscriptions were far short of the 1200 goal of the staff.

Additions to Faculty

Eight new faces were added to the Adams faculty this year. They are: 1st row, Miss Gretchen Rouch, Miss Judith Dautremont, Mrs. Ruth Weir, Mrs. Barbara Bunte. 2nd row, Mrs. Janice Brewer, Howard Lieberman, Eldon Ruff, Miss Fernande Martineau.

Boosters Pick L. T. As Site for Romp

The Adams Booster Club voted Tuesday to hold the annual Eagle-Bear Romp in the little theater on September 30 rather than at the Howard Park recreation Center.

The announcement ended the possibility that the dance would be held at the Howard Park Recreation Center. This possibility first came about when Mr. Paul Boehm, Sr., of the City Park Dept. extended an invitation to Principals Russell Rothermel of Adams and R. T. Ferrell of Central that the dance be held at the center.

Both schools' booster clubs voted that the annual affair be kept in the Adams Little Theater. The dance will follow a pep rally-bon- (Continued on Page 3, Column 3)

NHS Honors "A" Students

The National Honor Society honored the 33 students who received straight A's for last spring's grading period Thursday, September 15, at the Honor Breakfast.

Mrs. Millar Speaks

The main speaker was Mrs. Irene Pyle Millar, a member of the Board of Education. She spoke of college entrance requirements, advisable practices for applicants, and other facts college hopefuls should know.

Colleen Riley, Kay Kenady, Ann Price, and Suzanne Smith were in charge of the arrangements for the breakfast, which began at 7:50 a.m. in the Adams cafeteria.

Jim Bunyan, president of the Honor Society, welcomed the guests and introduced Dr. Alex Jardine, Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. Rothermel to the students.

The students who attended the Honor Breakfast because they earned five A's include: Suzanne Smith, Ann Price, Debbie Opperman, Al From, Ann MacLean, James Mueller, Paul Levy, Jim Bunyan, Lynn Ehlers, Peggy Haines, Elizabeth Hodges, Ted Tetzlaff, Joanne Schultz, Terry Smith, Claire Carpenter, Dave Martin, Pat LeKashman, Mary Rummel, Claire Cook, Sheldon Friedman, Carol Gebhardt, Peter Hayes, Marcia Hupp, Charles Divine, and Joanne Williamson.

Those who had four A's were: Kurt Juroff, Dan Janicki, Faith Johnson, Bob Johnson, Sherry Clarke, Chuck Clarke, Margaret Weir, and Margaret Zechiel.

Nine Teachers New to Adams

Nine additions have been made to the Adams faculty for this school year. The TOWER will introduce each in this and following issues.

Miss Judith Dautremont, a tall blonde from Springfield, Ohio, is a member of the English department at Adams. She graduated from St. Mary's College last spring with a B.A. degree. Now she is working on her master's degree at the University of Notre Dame. Miss Dautremont is participating in a new program called M.A.T. (Master of Arts and Teaching). Under this program she teaches three classes a day and attends classes totaling nine hours a week at Notre Dame.

Her interests in college included art and dramatic musical productions.

Her roommate at St. Mary's, Miss Fernande Martineau, happens to be in the M.A.T. program, too, and is likewise a new addition to the English department.

Actors to Present Fall Play Oct. 6, 7

Riotous laughter and applause are expected reactions to the melodrama "Pure as the Driven Snow, or A Working Girl's Secret," to be presented October 6 and 7 by the Adams Drama Club and Thespian society.

The play, written by Paul Loomis, is a caricature of the old melodramas popular at the turn of the century.

The cast of characters includes the following:

Purity Dean	Caron Moore
Leander Longfellow	Martha Reuter
Mortimer Fronthingham	Steve Lumm
Jonathan Logan	Ron Moyer
Zamah Logan	Dan Dalberg
Jed Lunn	Mike Fineran
E. Z. Pickens	Eric Svendsen
Imogene Pickens	Tom Granger
Mrs. Hewitt	Sally Valentine
Alison Hewitt	Charlotte Jardine
Letty Barber	Bill Stoner
Nellie Morris	Doug May
	Steve Lumm
	Martha Reuter
	Caron Moore
	Cookie Mickelsen
	Colleen Riley
	Sue Ashenfelter
	Suzanne Smith
	Cheryl Zerbe
	Marsha Plant
	Judy Rux
	Barb Arens
	Mary Ann Kotzenmacher

The play is under the direction of Mr. William Brady. Suzanne Smith is assisting him as student director. Steve Lumm is the production manager, and Ron Moyer is the stage manager.

MAKE THE MOST OF AN EDUCATION

As September rolls around in the year 1960, another school year is upon us. For some it will be the last, for others it will only be a beginning to four years of high school.

This year 450 freshmen have invaded Adams for the first time. The entire TOWER staff would like to welcome them and wish them much success during their stay here.

As the upperclassmen already know and the freshmen are fast finding out, Adams offers a wonderful educational opportunity for every student, whether his interests lie in a college prep course, the field of business education, or the area of shop and manual training.

It is up to us to take advantage of these opportunities. A student can only receive the amount of education correspondent to the effort he has put into working for it.

However, Adams offers much more than just an educational opportunity. There are many extra-curricular activities in which its students can participate.

When colleges rule on the admittance of students, they look at the students' activity record along with their academic record. Whether a student wants to take part in a music organization, a publication, a sport, or any other type of club, he should join one, two, or three and make the most of them.

But still there is another side to Adams. In addition to the class parties, individual organizations put on such programs as music concerts and the SENIOR CARNIVAL which every student should attend.

We strongly urge every Adams student to do three things: (1) take utmost advantage of the educational opportunities offered here; (2) join the activity or activities of his choice; and (3) support school sponsored programs.

SUPPORT A FREE MOVING TOWER

Among the duties of each high school student is to support his high school paper.

At Adams the TOWER is not a profit-making organization. Yet, without the support of the entire student body the TOWER can not operate freely.

If necessary funds from subscription money do not come in, the TOWER staff may find it mandatory to hold back many of the features that it had planned for its readers.

First on this list are pictures and cartoons. If funds are not sufficient, all excess pictures and cartoons are the first to go. The allotted $500 for pictures may be cut to $200 and the number of pictures will be sliced proportionally.

If this doesn't make ends meet, there is another possibility. The number of issues could be reduced. Instead of 30 issues a year, we may print only 25.

Still another possibility for cutting expenses remains as a last resort. That is making the SENIOR ISSUE a regular four page issue rather than an eight page edition.

It is our hope than none of these steps will have to be taken. With the support of the student body they will not.

Time For A Lark

The community of South Bend can be extremely proud of itself for receiving a citation from the editors of Time Magazine for its outstanding support of the Studebaker-Packard Corporation and for presenting the "Time for a Lark" celebration which is sponsored by the magazine.

Certainly this award did not come without reason. For years the S-P Corporation has been the largest industry in this area. And for years South Bend has supported it well.

There have been times when the company has prospered, and times when it has barely existed, but the people of South Bend have given it their support through thick and thin. Approximately one-fifth of all automobiles driven by South Bend motorists are Studebaker products.

In 1958 the corporation was at a low point. Then it came out with the Lark. The citizens of South Bend gave the Lark its utmost support. South Bend went up with the Lark.

It seems only fitting and proper that our community should be honored for backing the Studebaker-Packard Corporation through bad times as well as through good times. It is an award South Bend justly deserves.

Mr. Editor

EDITOR OF THE TOWER:

We are living in a time of history when everything is modern. We have modern architecture, ways of transportation, and communication. Adams has a building that will rank along side of any school building in the country. We have a school paper that is as good, if not better, than that of any other school. We also have a yearbook that we can all be proud of. But Adams is behind, in my opinion, in one thing, our school rings. Ever since the beginning of Adams the same design of ring has been used. And when there is talk of changing the ring people say that it's a tradition and it can't be changed. The album had a traditional design, but the editors changed it and made it an even better book. We can not be proud of an "old fashioned" ring. I believe that since we, the students, wear the rings that we should have some say in its design instead of school officials choosing the design for the student body year after year.

Students View the News

Each year the festivities for the Adams-Central football game include the Eagle-Bear Romp, a pep rally and dance.

In the past the pep rally and bonfire have been held at Potawatomi Park with the dance held in our little theater.

However, this year, the schools have received an invitation from Mr. Paul Boehm, Sr., of the Public Park Department to hold the dance half of the affair at the Howard Park Recreation Center.

The following is the manner in which Adams students answered the questions: "At which location would you rather the dance be held? Why?"

Kathy Delahanty, a senior, feels that the general attitude of the Adams students concerning the location of the dance has been disappointing. She says, "Perhaps we do not look at it from all the angles."

Kathy believes that the most vivid argument against holding the affair in the little theater is that the little theater is uncomfortably warm, but adds, "To me Howard Park would be miserably cold."

She adds, "In deciding in favor of the lesser of two evils, I definitely feel that we should stay at home (little theater) and only have one reason to complain, the heat."

Rita Cosper, a junior, is "definitely" against having the dance at Howard Park. She feels that it would both break a long-time tradition at Adams and make it possible for a great number of students from schools not involved to attend the dance, if it were held outdoors.

She continues, "But one of the most important things to consider is the uncertainty of the weather. I think everyone would have more fun in the little theater, even if it's crowded."

Senior Larry McCammon gives the following answer:

"I would prefer the Eagle-Bear Romp to be held in the John Adams little theater. I shall explain why not only I, but also many other students from both John Adams and Central feel this way."

"In the first place, there is the question of the weather. How successful would the dance be if it

EDITOR OF THE TOWER:

A big orchid to the cheerleaders who are doing a grand job keeping the school peped up and backing the teams. The signs in the halls are great and the B-cheerleaders deserve credit.

With one win and one loss under our belts now, the footballers continue in the rough conference schedule. Now is the time not to give up but to back the team all the more. Fort Wayne North will be no easy team to beat and with the Central game coming up with all its activities, school spirit should be at a fever pitch.

Let this enthusiasm extend into your school work and other school activities and continue to make this a great year.

Students should take advantage of the opportunity to air their views in the Letters to the Editors column. Letters must be signed by their writers and should be turned in to the TOWER office.

WANN'A FLUNK? TRY THIS WAY

Want to know how to fail in four easy steps?

Don't be disillusioned. It's really not as hard as you might think.

We can guarantee you success if you try your very best.

STEP ONE. Fail to bring your book to class. To make this really effective, try the excuse "I didn't think I'd need it today" or "I left it in my locker."

STEP TWO. Don't do your homework. This just does something to the teacher. To give this step that extra boost, ask the teacher one day before the grading period ends if you can do some extra credit work.

STEP THREE. These are called diversionary tactics. First talk to any student near you, especially when the teacher is giving instructions for the test. Secondly, give him that blank stare when he is going over a point for a third time.

Thirdly, get some loud sounding gum and create a steady rhythm during the lecture. And last of all, ask your instructor, "When will we get our test back?" just as he starts to give you your homework assignment.

STEP FOUR. Stay home on test days. Don't worry about making up any tests; let the teacher worry about that. And to polish it all off, give an excuse like, "I just didn't feel good yesterday" or "My dad's great uncle's niece died and I had to go to the funeral."

These are just the basic maneuvers. Experiment! Be an original flunker! If you're going to do it, do your best.

Published every Friday from September to June except during holiday season by the students of John Adams High School, 808 South Twyckenham Drive, South Bend 15, Indiana. Telephone: AT 8-4635. Price: $2.00 per year.

Well, isn't it great to be back in school again? Welcome back to all of you, especially the Freshmen this is the only time throughout the year we will capitalize that word). We wish you all the best of luck this year, you'll probably need it!

Leila Harjanne, our student from Finland, should be a real help to all chemistry students. The reason—in her country the metric system is the only way of measuring. However, don't feel cheated, while you are spending sleepless nights over liters, meters, and grams, poor Leila is spending sleepless nights over quarts, inches, and pounds. Such a world!

Mr. Crowe has made a point of calling Jane Taylor "Miss Kentucky". He stated this fall that he didn't recognize her from the back because she got her hair cut.

And then we have Miss Knoll who spent her summer at a boy's camp (she says they were little boys but not too little). Also, she carried her typewriter with her when they went into the woods on nature hikes. Sounds like quite a summer, doesn't it?

When Margaret Weir failed to answer a question loud enough, her English teacher asked her if she was afraid of her. The teacher? Mrs. Weir, her mother!

Have you heard about Gene Chamberlain? He drove around all summer with this sign in the window of his car:

GIRL WANTED!

Congratulations are in order for Judy Bennett. She was the first one on the wall this year in Study Hall 105.

The first-year French students are getting a bang out of their French names. We have such notables as Fifi Price, Gigi Adams, Loulou Nickle, and Froo-froo Le-Kashman.

WHAT'S NEW?

That's what we thought you'd like to know. So, each week we will present a fashion column for both girls and boys covering hints on the latest styles, hairdos, make-up, social events, and what to wear where. Questions you might have about what to wear will be answered right here. Interviews with the buyers of our downtown stores will give you the best insight on what's new. Maybe you will join the fun of being a pace setter.

Plums, plums, and more plums. Everyone is going plum crazy! Bold or muted, plum is the color to work into your wardrobe this fall. Watch for it in dyed-to-match skirts and sweaters, something really big again this year. You'll see this wild color everywhere, even in accessories.

Skirts are short (just below the kneecaps) and pleated with special emphasis on the pleats. There are knife, unpressed, and hip-stitched pleats from which to choose. Fun to co-ordinate with pleated skirts: a trio of jackets, the box, the cardigan, and the ever-popular blazer, minus collar. You'll find braid trim on many jackets this season.

Muted and darker in blend is the word for plaids. Shirtwaist and cotton dresses are darker, and can be worn from now right on through to spring. Madras was the fad plaid last year, and it has come back again full-force in co-ordinate outfits, dresses, and chesterfield raincoats.

Many thanks to Wyman's Department Store, Sears Roebuck and Company, and J. C. Penny Incorporated for giving us information on What's New.

More to come: Teen-o-Scope will present another fashion show, even bigger and better this year, in late spring. A series of ten fashion classes will start next week. Registration, which is one dollar, will take place along with the first class on September 28 in the little theater. Any girl who has taken the classes is eligible to model in Teen-o-Scope. The classes will be limited in enrollment, so be sure to register at the first class.

DIE-HARD SCHOLARS TELEPHONE AUTHOR

Eight industrious Adams seniors have found that the best way to get the information is "straight from the horse's mouth."

With an outline on the reason that Thornton Wilder wrote THE BRIDGE OF SAN LUIS REY due on Friday morning, Jan Barley, Bill Brooke, Jack Champaigne, Dave Davis, Pete Firestein, Dean Johnson, Eileen Olcott, and Fred Sjoquist found themselves in a public library exhausted of material on Thursday night preceding.

But being determined scholars, they were not slowed any in their academic pursuits by this lack of information at the library. They found the address and phone number of Wilder and proceeded to the home of Davis.

Here they placed a long-distance call to Wilder's residence in New Haven, Connecticut. They received no answer.

Still they were not disappointed. Friday night Sjoquist and Brooke representing the group sent a 60-word telegram to Wilder's home, requesting that he call them collect last Sunday at 2 p.m.

Saturday afternoon they received a return wire from the author's secretary telling them that he was out of town and that they should try to call him this week.

At last report they were still trying.

Each year there are many new boys that desire to play that heroic game of football. But before these he-men come onto the practice field, the following important questions must be answered.

1. Name
2. Name used at school last attended
3. Age (any application from boys over 25 will not be seriously considered)
4. Weight. Height. (anyone weighing less than 100 lbs. will be considered for water-boy, while those weighing over 300 lbs. will be useful as blocking dummies.)
5. Can you read and write? If not, please have application blank filled out by Notary Public.
6. Salary at school last attended
7. Will you expect more or less this year?
8. How often will you expect pictures and feature stories about YOU?
9. Do you photograph well? Are you camera shy?
10. When will it be convenient for you to go to school?
11. Shall we send a taxi for you each morning?
12. Will you be in school after the football season? If not, where shall we send your weekly check?

So you want to play football? GO AHEAD!!

GRIDDERS FALL TO PANTHERS AFTER ROUTING WASHINGTON-CLAY

The Washington Panthers demonstrated great running power in their 25-12 triumph over the Adams Eagles last Saturday night at School Field.

In the ENIHSC clash, the Panthers gained 272 yards rushing in comparison with 30 yards gained by the Adams eleven. The Eagles failed to gain yardage on the ground in the second half.

Adams was forced to punt from its own 29 shortly after the opening kickoff. The punt was partially deflected and traveled only nine yards to the Eagles' 38 yard line. Washington moved from there to the Adams one-yard line before Richard Kraft plunged over for the score. There was no further scoring in the first half; thus at the midway point, the Panthers led 6-0.

The West-siders moved 66 yards for their second touchdown of the evening after receiving the second half kickoff. Ashley Carothers and Kraft were key men in this sustained drive. LeRoy Krempec's point after attempt was then blocked by Adams end Jim Ward.

In the third period, Washington received an Adams punt on its own forty and marched 60 yards for another tally.

Howard Frazier took the ensuing kickoff on his own 18 and returned 82 yards along the sidelines for the initial Adams score. Moments later, Lou Fleming ran a Washington punt back 84 yards to account for the second Eagle touchdown. This cut the Panther margin to 18-12.

On the following kickoff, Washington moved 54 yards for its final counter. The score came on a 16-yard dash by Kraft. Alfred Carter's extra point attempt was successful and the final score stood at 25-12.

On Tuesday, September 6, the Adams Eagles opened their 1960 season by trouncing a determined but outmanned Washington-Clay eleven 41-7.

The Eagles took a 7-0 lead the second time they had the ball by grinding out a 77-yard drive, climaxed when Dave Stout plunged over for the score from the one-yard line. Kurt Eichorst's conversion attempt was good and Adams was off and running.

The South Bend squad tallied twice in each of the first, third, and fourth periods, with halfback Mickey Stricklen being the only player to cross the goal line twice.

Adams chalked up 12 first downs to Clay's eight and amassed a total of 277 yards rushing as compared to 121 for the Colonials.

Although the game was an interesting one from the spectator's standpoint, play was a bit ragged at times due to the occurrence of nine fumbles in the contest.

Gibson Leads Thinlies For 1960 Season

The Adams cross-country team dropped its initial meet of the year to Michigan City by a score of 22-39. Forrest Hurlbut turned in the fastest Eagle time with a mark of ten minutes and twenty-eight seconds.

The Eagle runners will face the 1960 season under a new coach. He is Mr. Dale Gibson, an Adams graduate with the class of 1953. While at Adams, Gibson competed in both basketball and track.

After his graduation, he studied for four years at Dennison College in Granville, Ohio, where he received a Master's degree in the field of social sciences.

Netters Drop Match On Wildcats' Courts

Adams High's tennis squad dropped its opening match to Riley by the narrow margin of three to two. The match was played on September 13, at the Wildcat's home courts.

The only winner in singles competition for the Eagles was Jim Hull who defeated Jim Niemann of Riley 6-0, 6-0. In other singles action, Jim Fischer lost to Riley's Jim Perkins, 12-10, 6-2, and Vic Vargo dropped his match to Ray Zernick, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

In doubles competition, Vargo and Hull (A) defeated Zernick and Dave Gapski, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, while Fischer and Tom Ries were losing to Perkins and Bob Bernhardt, 6-3, 6-0.

There was one happy note for the Adams netters, however, in the fact that the Adams B-team romped over Riley by a score of four-to-one in a match also played at Riley on the same day.

The Adams tennis coach, Mr. Ernest Kaepller, expects definite improvement over last season's record of only one victory, five defeats, and one tie match.

Beagles Lose, Tie In Opening Contests

On September 12, the Adams Beagles took the field against the St. Joseph Indians 18-12 last Thursday. The Eaglets looked very impressive in their first game against a team that had won two previous games.

Six days earlier, the Beagles opened their 1960 season on a sour note dropping a 12-6 decision to the Central Bears. Adams held a 6-0 lead at halftime, but the Bears battled back to win it in the second half.

Although the season's record stands at no wins, one loss, and one tie, this squad should improve with experience and student backing.

Although the Eagles dropped their initial ENIHSC encounter to a surprisingly strong Washington eleven last Saturday night, Adams fans need not feel that the 1960 season is a total loss at this early stage of the campaign. Despite their 0-1* conference mark, this team could easily be the spoiler in the race for the Eastern Division crown.

Regardless of the fact that their play was a bit ragged at times against the Panthers from the West Side, this squad has enough experience and desire to wind up the season with a winning record.

The freshman squad is to be commended for their fine effort against St. Joseph on September 15. The Eaglets gave an indication of good things to come in future years for Adams fans as they outplayed the Indians in gaining an 18-12 win.

BEAGLES LOSE, TIE IN OPENING CONTESTS

The Eagle freshman football team defeated the St. Joseph Indians 18-12 last Thursday. The Eaglets looked very impressive in their first game against a team that had won two previous games.

The fresh scored two early touchdowns in the first half but their conversions failed. The Indians then scored late in the second and early in the third quarters, but their conversions also failed. With two minutes remaining in the fourth quarter and the score tied at 12-12, the Eaglets started a march that ended when Ronnie Seach scored with 35 seconds remaining in the game.

AHS Tries To Even Conference Mark

Tonight the Adams Eagles travel to Fort Wayne to tangle with the Redskins of North Side High School. Coach Bob Scannell's charges carry a record of one victory and one defeat into tonight's encounter, and have a ENIHSC mark of 0-1. Last season's battle, which was played at School Field, was a thriller with the Eagles finally coming out on top by a final score of 26-20.

On Monday, September 19, the Adams Beagles traveled to Goshen to play the Redskin Bees. Due to the late publication date, however, no score on that game is available. The team then returns home to face the Mishawaka Maroons on September 26.

The Freshman footballers will host Elkhart West Side on September 22, before traveling to Mishawaka to face the Cavemen on Thursday, September 29.

The Adams tennis squad, coached by Ernest Kaepller, traveled to Elkhart to engage the Blue Blue Blazers on September 22, before facing Michigan City's Red Devils two days later on the Adams courts. The Eagle netters will then visit North Side of Fort Wayne and Mishawaka on September 27 and 29, respectively. The team's record so far this season stands at no victories against one defeat.

The Adams cross-country team, under new coach Dale Gibson, ran against Bremen in a meet held at Bremen on September 20 before going on to Goshen to a quadrangular meet involving Adams, Goshen, Mishawaka, and Washington. Tomorrow, the Eagles journey to Culver to compete against Culver and Buchanan, Michigan. Then on September 27, the thinlies will host Niles, Michigan and Washington-Clay, before competing against Central, Michigan City, and Washington on September 29.
