

Varsity Cagers To Open At St. Joe Nov. 20

Sophomores To Play Key Role As Only Haak, Butsch are Returning Lettermen

By STEVE BERMAN
Tower Sports Editor

"Yes, our success will be based on the experience we gain, game by game." These were the words head basketball coach Warren Seaborg related in an interview last week. "Our strength lies mainly with our two returning lettermen, Bogden Haak and Vic Butsch, and how well last year's successful freshman basketballers fare against varsity competition." Thus, as Coach Seaborg prepared to begin his 15th year at the helm of an Adams quintet, a question mark crossed his face.

Only two lettermen return from last year's cagers. Bogden Haak, a senior guard who played in fourteen games last year, scoring 38 points and shooting a respectable 67% from the charity stripe, returns, as does Vic Butsch. Butsch is also a senior guard, who last year was one of only four players to see action in every game, scoring 128 points on 54 field goals and 18 out of 24 from the free throw line. Emerson Carr and Shaun Floyd, both sophomores last year who earned their letters, moved to Central and Fresno, Calif., respectively.

Sophs Challenge

Last year's frosh basketballers, the most successful freshman team in Adams' history, comprise the nucleus of this year's team.

Kent Ross, a tall, aggressive-type of player, will probably open the season at the center position but will be challenged for the starting role by senior Pete Toth. Sophomore John Kaiser will see action at one of the forward spots as will junior Dean Lovings who will also probably alternate with Haak and Butsch at the guards. Chuck Supercznski is vying for the other forward position but is being challenged heavily by Dick Foley and Ron Bethke, both seniors.

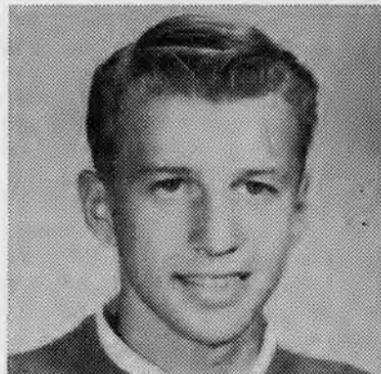

Junior Larry Williams, a small but ball-hawking guard who jumps as if he were a center, is putting in a serious bid for a starting position as a guard. Sophomores Dave Gordon and Larry Williams (another Williams to confuse the sportscasters) are trying out for varsity positions.

Footballers Just Start

Other members of the present team include Mike Aronson, Phil Williford, and Ernie Rosin. Coach Seaborg has not cut the team down yet, due to the fact that the football players began practicing only this past week. As in past years, Seaborg will probably carry only 12 men the entire year and must cut this list down to 10 players by sectional time in February.

The Eagles show only one new team on the schedule this year, Warsaw. The contest is scheduled for Dec. 5, at Warsaw. Warsaw, a team that went undefeated this season in football and finished in the top ten in the state, replaces Wabash, a team that dropped the Eagles last year on a last minute basket, 64-63.

Next Friday, Nov. 20, Coach Seaborg's squad will travel to St. Joseph where "scalping" is the word. The Indians, who were upset, 67-64 by Adams last year, lost their top scorer Mike Canfield via graduation.

The following Wednesday, Nov. 25, Adams travels to the Steel City where they will play their traditional pre-Thanksgiving game against Gary Lew Wallace. Last year the score stood 67-53, in favor of the Eagles. Lew Wallace usually has a fine team and this year is no exception with height being its greatest asset.

First Conference Game

Goshen is the first Northern Indiana conference foe for Adams when the Eagles travel to meet the Redskins on Dec. 11. Muncie South Side, a team that is rapidly becoming a basketball power, will visit South Bend on Dec. 18 and 19. On the 18th the Rebels will face Clay and the following night they will try for a repeat 72-50 victory performance against the Eagles.

Mishawaka has again invited the Eagles to its Holiday Tourney to be played on Monday and Tuesday of the week beginning Dec. 28.

In the second-half of the '64-'65 campaign, the Eagles face seven conference foes plus an always-tough Gary Roosevelt five. The Gary Roosevelt game must be termed as last year's highlight game. The Panthers invaded the Adams gymnasium last January ranked number one in the state. After the first three quarters the Eagles were holding

Washington Rates As Best in Area

The Washington Panthers could very likely represent this area as a state-wide powerhouse this coming basketball season. Coach Subby Nowicki's team should have a very successful season with many returning from last year's fine squad. Floyd and Lloyd Kerr return to face a formidable schedule that includes Benton Harbor, East Chicago Roosevelt, and two Hammond teams. Senior George Johnson, an outstanding rebounder, also returns.

Coach Jim Power's Central Bears could prove to be Washington's strongest competition in the area. Juniors Karl Simon, Leon Davis, and Richard Smith all will be back this year as graduation took only the brilliant Mike Warren and jumpin' Jimmy Ward.

But the Bears this year face probably the toughest competition in Indiana high school basketball. Not only must they contend with the Northern Indiana Conference, but they also face such powerhouses as Indianapolis Washington, Kokomo, Gary Roosevelt, East Chicago Washington, Muncie Central, Anderson, and a Lebanon team which plays a team from New York City this year boasting the nation's longest prep winning streak and a seven-foot center.

New Coach at Riley

Riley will have John Byers, John Nelson, and Tony Shelton returning for new coach Bruce Smith's Wildcats. Dennis Baldwin leads the list of returnees at Mishawaka. St. Joseph, who just recently emerged as the state's number one football power, is anticipating a very successful season, with Ken Hass, Mark Hurtubise, and Jim Sniadecki returning.

The Elkhart Blue Blazers, last year's regional champs who bowed to eventual state runner-up Huntington in the semi-state, lost the nucleus of their team. Mike Franger is the only veteran varsity performer returning as the Blazers lost Ted Reasoner, Dick Penrod, and Dean Foster from last year's quintet.

Michigan City, Fort Wayne North, and Goshen are in the rebuilding stages as the Red Devils lost last season's top two conference scoring leaders, Vernon Payne and John Selke. Payne and Selke finished one-two in the

Basketball Season Ticket Sale To Start On Nov. 18

The sale of basketball season tickets will begin in home rooms on Wednesday, Nov. 18 and will continue through Saturday, Dec. 12.

This year the Booster Club will be assisting Mr. William Pryzbyz, ticket manager, with the sale of the season tickets. There is a ticket representative assigned to selling season tickets in each home room. These representatives collect the money and applications from the students and issue them their tickets the next day. By using this method, the Booster Club hopes to give every student an opportunity to purchase a ticket.

The prices for the season tickets are $3.00 for students and $6.00 for adults. This covers all nine of the home games this season. The single game ticket will cost 50 cents for students. The price of single adult tickets is $1.00. A saving of $1.50 can be made by purchasing a season ticket. A season ticket also eliminates the bother of buying a ticket before each game.

Season ticket holders have other advantages. Only season ticket holders may sit in the bleachers while all others must sit in the balcony. Perhaps the most important benefit is that season ticket holders have first choice on seats for the tourney games in February.

Mr. Pryzbyz has set this year's goal at 800 tickets. Every student is urged to purchase a season ticket to help support both the team and the school.

scoring race with averages of 22.6 and 20.5 respectively.

Around the state no quintet stands out in pre-season calculations as being head-and-shoulders above the rest. Last year's state champs and runners-up, Lafayette and Huntington, respectively, were both hard-hit by graduation.

Columbus, rated number one at the close of each of the last two regular seasons, lost its great star, Jerry Newsom, and the fourth member of 1964's "Fieldhouse Four," Evansville Rex Mundi, was also hurt through graduation.

Clubs to Operate Concession Booths

John Adams clubs will again operate concession booths at all Adams basketball games. Each week different clubs will sell everything from candy bars to hot dogs to cokes to popcorn.

All profits from concession stands go into a general fund of the school out of which participating clubs will be paid for operating the stands. Only those clubs which are not self-supporting are allowed to operate concession stands.

Mr. Fred Schwanz is the coordinator of the concession booths.

Pep Band to Play

The John Adams concert band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Ralston and Mr. Larry Shafer, will provide a pep band which will play at each of the home basketball games during the coming season. Any band member who is qualified may be a member of the pep band unit. The pep band's participation at games will include the playing of the National Anthem, the school songs of Adams and its opponent, and other entertaining numbers.

It's That Time Of Year B-Team Cheerleaders Hard At Work Since Beginning Of School Year

It all began back on Oct. 1, the earliest possible date for Indiana high school basketball teams to begin practicing the king of all Hoosier sports. It won't end until Saturday, March 20, 1965, when ten happy boys, a school bursting with pride, and a state exhausted from excitement, realize that the end has come to another season.

What is it? Simple — it's Hoosier Hysteria, the time of year when millions of usually sound, sane Indiana citizens become zany with the thrills accompanying basketball in this basketball-mad state.

Let Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Texas have their great high school football teams. Let California and Illinois have their ranks of record-breaking prep swimmers. Indiana has its Hoosier Hysteria and rare is the Indiana basketball fan who won't defend his state's high school cagers as the best anywhere.

Just look at some of the super-stars Indiana has contributed to the national basketball scene. Foremost, of course, is the fabulous Oscar Robertson of the professional Cincinnati Royals, who, in our opinion, is the finest all-around cage player in history. Robertson played his high school ball at Indianapolis Crispus Attucks and led the Tigers to two consecutive state championships, in 1955 and 1956. He went on to become the first three-time collegiate scoring champ in history at the University of Cincinnati, and now is one of the great stars of pro ball.

OTHER RECENT HEROES

There have been others, too. Ron Bonham, another University of Cincinnati All-American, starred at Muncie Central, leading the 1960 Bearcat squad to a state runner-up place.

And then there was Mel Garland, Indianapolis Tech star who captained last year's Purdue squad; Dick Barnett of Gary Roosevelt, now with the Los Angeles Lakers; and of course those great Indiana University heroes — Jimmy Rayl of Kokomo and the VanArsdale twins of Indianapolis Manual.

Right here in South Bend we've had high school players who were outstanding, also. Remember Adams' Buddy McKnight, who thrilled Eagle followers back in 1958-60? Or Deacon Davis, the rebounding center of Adams' 1958 sectional champions? Or John and Sylvester Coalmon and Herbie Lee of Central's 1957 state champs? Or Adams' Eddie Butler, the mild-mannered center who was great here in 1960 but went on to become greater at Ball State.

A MORAL TO THE STORY

These are but a few of the many idols of local, area, and state fans — players who have made Indiana basketball everything that it is. And some more young men will soon be adding another page to the illustrious history book.

Yep, it's good ol' Hoosier Hysteria. If you know the thrills accompanying it, we know you're looking forward to more this season. If you've never before discovered the excitement, we hope that this is the year that you do.

And what easier chance is there to see Indiana basketball than to buy a season ticket and go out and support that team that we hope will fulfill our high hopes in the coming season. Let's ALL be out at St. Joe on Nov. 20 and ALL be here on Dec. 4 when our Eagles open their home season against Clay, because it's that time of year again.

The "B" team cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Mary Jane Bauer, all show great promise for next year's varsity team. The "B" team not only helps support school spirit, but it is also their responsibility to make the signs and posters that are seen at pep assemblies and games. In a sense, the cheerleaders are the outside contact for the school and do much to promote friendly relations.

Gaye Harris, a junior, is captain of the "B" team. Gaye is interested in art and is a member of orchestra and Senior Glee Club. She had experience as a cheerleader in 6th, 7th, and 8th grades and was also on the "B" team squad last year. She likes cheerleading because it gives her a feeling that she is doing something for the team and the school.

Sharon Daniel enjoys active sports and has a special interest in classical dancing, swimming, and horseback riding. A junior, this is her second year on the "B" team.

Margaret Gilbert's interests also include dancing and swimming. A junior, she is a member of the Booster Club, as are all the cheerleaders.

Marilyn Miller, a sophomore, was a cheerleader in elementary school as well as at Jefferson Junior High. She says there is a lot more to cheering than just yelling and jumping around—there is a lot of work involved. She feels it is a great honor to be able to represent Adams.

Judy Nyikos, a sophomore, is a member of the Senior Glee Club. Judy feels that cheerleading is good experience and appreciates the opportunity to evoke school spirit.

Jean Ann Miles, a junior, spends her spare time horseback riding, skating, and practicing modern ballet. She agrees with the other cheerleaders that the students should be "heard."

The two male members are John Daugherty and Allen Pixley. John is interested in track and is a member of the Senior Glee Club. Allen is active in Screen Club, Ushers Club, and track.

It is interesting to note that all of the girls have hobbies such as swimming, dancing, and horseback riding and the boys are engaged in sports such as track which are all designed to keep them active. It is no accident, therefore, that this is a group with a tremendous capacity for keeping alive school spirit and encouraging the students to support the teams.

All the cheerleaders agree that it is their duty to be 100 percent back of the "B" team and encourage them by enthusiastic cheering because the "B" team of today is the varsity team of tomorrow. The group would like to offer their congratulations to all of the teams for a job well done. They were also very enthusiastic in their praise of Miss Bauer for all of the time and effort she contributes in sponsoring the group.

Athlete Dean Lovings Named Eagle of Week

Participation and valuable contributions to both varsity football and basketball have earned Dean Lovings the honor of being "Eagle of the Week" for the Tower Basketball Issue.

Most of Dean's interests center around athletics. In addition to playing football and basketball, he is a member of the varsity track team. At Perley School, Dean became interested in all sports. He added that watching sports telecasts on television increased this interest. In junior high school at Jefferson, Dean was a football, basketball, and track star.

During Dean's two years at Adams and in the past football season, he has shown both the talent and knowledge of an outstanding competitor. Of his three sports, basketball is Dean's favorite; however he said that all athletics provide competition and relaxation, both of which he considers important. Dean thinks, "young people with interest and ability in an area should step forward and participate," rather than sit back or criticize.

Dean's future plans are based on his strong interest in athletics. He tentatively plans to attend college and become an athletic coach.

A BASKETBALL PLEADS ITS CASE

Oh! My aching air valve! My bruised side! I've had about enough! Cheerleaders get their pictures in the Tower and Album and so do the players. Students pay 10¢ a line in the basketball edition of the Tower to cheer the team on, but nobody pays a penny for me. Why, if it weren't for me, there wouldn't even be a basketball game. Who am I? Just the most important thing during the basketball season. I'm the basketball!

One would think that I would be treated with respect. Think of all the long, pain-enduring, hard work I have performed for the sake of Adams. After school, I am thrown on the floor for well over two hours. They like to slap me down, and, as soon as I get up off the floor, they slap me down again. Oh my aching head! Then as they leave to cool off under a soothing shower, they toss me into a cramped box in a stuffy little room. Is that fair?

Come to think of it, I really can't get too mad when the crowds scream to "make that basket." At least I have a second or two of free gliding time, untouched by human hands. Hitting the rim sort of scratches, but it is better than crashing into the backboard. Besides, going through the basket sort of tickles. Just when I am beginning to feel good, all the players jump for me while the spectators scream like a lynching mob, "Get that ball!"

There is one time when I'd love to yell right along with the crowd. At the end of the game, if I could, I'd yell a billion times louder than the winning team. If they think they are happy, think of me! And if the losing team thinks they've got it bad, what about me? I can't even cry.

Most people don't even know that my first name is Wilson. It's too bad because it is very rhyme-able. Just think . . .

"We love Will! He fills the bill." or maybe . . .

"Rah rah Willie! Willie is a dilly!"

Well, even if you don't say the Exceptional speed, rebounding, and fair height are Adams' assets this year while shooting ability is being worked on extensively in practice. To sum it up, it is felt that if there are no key injuries, such as last year, and if the ref-

 the Eagles might surprise many people

Seagles Look Forward To Another Great Year

Bang! That's the sound that many enthusiastic swimming fans will hear on Dec. 1, when the Seagles take to the water against Valparaiso at 4:00 in the latter's home pool.

Coach Don Coar's defending conference champs will open the 1964-65 season with 13 returning lettermen. Co-captains Bob Nelsen and Chuck Busse, both members of the state champion freestyle relay team last year and Busse an individual victor in the 50-yard freestyle, lead the veterans returning.

Other lettermen include senior Joe Condon, an individual medley and butterfly specialist; junior Tom Decker, a distance and sprint freestyler; Jeff Hauffaire, a junior sprint freestyle and his brother Joe, a sophomore distance freestyler. Another sophomore, Paul Goetz, earned his letter last year and was a member of the 1964 State champion medley relay team.

Also, senior Tom Heck, who swims the butterfly; junior Reid Lichtenfels, a diver, and Mike Nova, the team's strongest breaststroker, return to varsity competition this year. Chuck Swinsick, a junior backstroker, Gert Walter, a distance freestyler, and manager Bert Stallman all earned their letters last year and will be back to fill the void left by six graduating lettermen.

Show Potential

In addition to the returning lettermen, there are other boys who show potential for the '64-'65 campaign. Jon Ries, a junior freestyler, and Richard Altman and Gary Gibboney, two sophomores, will be contending for varsity positions. Scott Madison, Steve Schragar, and Gary Sechrist are also showing varied ability in practice. Mike Fitzgerald and Mark Huey as well as Rich Rosenstein also figure in Coach Coar's plans this year.

Riley and Central should prove to be the toughest competition in the immediate area and Culver Military Academy and St. Joseph, Mich., loom as threats to upset the Seagles. Coach Coar is also in the progress of trying to schedule a meet against Battle Creek, Mich., a team that finished third last year in the Michigan State Meet and was described as being better than last year's Indiana State Champs, Columbus.

Edged in Finals

Last year's Seagles compiled a dual meet record of 12-0, while finishing second in the City Meet, first in the Kokomo Invitational, first in the Sectional, and second in the State meet. The Seagles were edged by Columbus, 51½-48 in the Indiana finals.

Coar will be in quest of his first State championship after three consecutive second-place finishes.

FIVE LETTERMEN GREET COACH ARONSON

Coach Morris Aronson is expressing hopes of another fine season for his 1964-65 wrestles. He points out the fact that the wrestlers will not have a squad wholly composed of seniors due to the fact that three out of the five returning lettermen are juniors or sophomores.

Captain Gary Zalas leads those returning to face another tough schedule of very respectable opponents. Gary, who last year earned a second place in the State Meet losing in the waning seconds, will probably still wrestle in the 103-pound class. Sophomore Doug Rothkoph, who last year wrestled in the 93-pound category, returns as a letter-winner, as does Jim Russell, who last year represented the Eagles at 112 pounds. Junior Gene Turner also returns as a letterman. Senior Tom Quimby earned his letter last year wrestling in the 154-pound class.

Aronson also mentioned that many other boys who did not receive their letter last year or who formulated the "B" team will be back to comprise the nucleus of this year's team. This list includes Dane Donaldson, a letterman in football and baseball, Tim Hostrowser, who will probably either wrestle in the 180-pound class or in the heavyweight class, Ed Driver, and Spencer Rowell. In the lighter weight classes, John Mosby, John Earl, Henry Shaw, and James Madison will return.

Jim Groves and Greg Burnside also return.

Coach Aronson also expressed dissatisfaction in the weight problems of some of the boys. He related that Dick Wesolowski, in particular, is having trouble meeting his weight class.

An interesting fact that Aronson expressed in an interview, was that out of the top 20 teams in the State of Indiana, South Bend contributes five of them.

The Eagles last year compiled a record of 9-3 and 4-2 in the conference for a third-place finish. The schedule:

Varsity, B-Team Lose; Frosh Win

Last week marked the termination of another football campaign for three Eagle grid teams. The varsity eleven, coached by Jerry Planutis, Lennie Buczkowski, and Vince Laurita, lost to Michigan City, 26-20, on a come-from-behind effort by the Red Devils. The defeat left the Eagles with an overall mark of 2-6-1, and a conference record of 1-4-1, which left them in seventh place.

ADAMS 20; MICHIAN CITY 26

The Eagles drew "first blood" in a game last Friday evening, Nov. 6, against the host Red Devils. Vic Butsch, who finished the year scoring 30 points, scored on a one-yard plunge to vault Adams into a temporary 7-0 lead.

Early in the second quarter, an Adams lateral that went astray was fielded by Red Devil back, Fred LaBorn, who raced 20 yards to paydirt. Another Eagle fumble led to City's second score as Red Devil fullback, Fred Keen, scored on a one-yard slam up the middle. The score, which now stood at 12-7 in favor of Michigan City, was about to change hands again in the 26-point splurge in the second quarter.

Mike Aronson capped a 62-yard drive with a quarterback-sneak, and Tom Walls scored on a 10-yard run to provide the other Eagle tallies. Greg Burnside was perfect on two conversions.

An aerial from Chuck Lamm to Ralph Wright and a 9-yard sprint by Ralph Barnes accounted for the remainder of the Red Devils' 26-point output.

BEAGLES 6; WASHINGTON 19

Coach Virgil Landry's "B" team charges closed out their 1964 campaign with a record of 7-3 as they suffered their third successive loss last Monday, Nov. 2. The Washington Panthers defeated the Beagles 19-6, as Larry Wilson provided the only Adams' score late in the fourth quarter.

FRESHMEN 12; LA PORTE 6

The Adams freshmen footballers concluded their 1964 season last Thursday, Nov. 5, with a very respectable 6-2-1 mark. The frosh, coached by Morris Aronson and

Freshmen Prepare For Season Opener

If one were to look in Coach Don Truex's eyes this year, he would see a 20 in one eye and a zero in the other. This is to remind Coach Truex that he is riding on a 20-0 record of last year's frosh and is also anticipating another fine year in 1964-1965.

Approximately 40 boys reported to the one-time Adams' star on Oct. 1. This is the largest turnout that Truex has ever had. Truex relates that this year's team is not as tall as last year's but has shown its willingness to play in scrimmages against the B-team and has fared extremely well. The team is very quick and alert and should be hard to stop on the fast-break.

The freshmen have the unearthly task of reporting to practice at 6:30 in the morning when the majority of us are still sleeping. The frosh play their games on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Truex plans to keep about 15 boys to carry this year's hope of another year of "roses." The schedule:

B-TEAM HOPEFUL OF SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Approximately 18 basketballers are currently trying out for 12 positions on Coach Bob Rensberger's "B" team cagers. The Beagles are rapidly preparing for their season opener on Friday, Nov. 20, against St. Joseph.

The B-team this year will consist mainly of sophomores and those juniors who do not make the varsity. Coach Rensberger hopes to meld the boys into a workable unit, and he realizes his task is difficult due to the fact that many of the boys have never played together before. Rensberger, though, is hopeful of another successful season with a goal of no less than last year's record of 11-9 in sight.

The team lacks overall height and shooting ability, but they possess a fair amount of speed and seem to move the ball rather well. At present there are no juniors on the team but coaches Seaborg and Rensberger plan to "taxi" many boys back-and-forth between both squads.

The Beagles play the same schedule as the varsity and home games start at 6:45 p.m.

Student Forecasts

Throughout the basketball season we will ask students to predict certain games in comparison to our consensus. The purpose of this contest is to see how close the Adams' student body can come to matching our prediction-expert who turned in a record of 41-7-3 for the football season which is a percentage of .854. Details of the proposed contest will be explained in a later issue. It is our hope that student-participation will be encouraging.
