SPONSORS ANNOUNCE JUNIOR OFFICERS

Newly elected officers for the class of 1968 were announced this week by sponsors Mrs. Joyce Katona and Mr. Charles Bonham.

Those elected are: Mark Beaudway, president; Kathy Miller, vice president; Karen Kamp, secretary; Judy Veris, treasurer. The other candidates for office will serve on the junior class cabinet.

The elections were held in the junior homerooms on Tuesday, October 25.

Junior class officers and cabinet are responsible for the planning and organization of the junior class dance next spring, and they assist with senior class elections.

PRACTICING FOR THEIR ROLES as world leaders are Model U.N. participants Les Goldsmith, Crys Olson, Ed Peters, Anne Bednar, and Jim Ehlers.

Delegates Prepare For 3rd Annual South Bend Model United Nations

The third annual Model United Nations Assembly will get underway Friday, November 18, at 3:00 p.m. at Riley High School.

Thirty-four Adams students are among the approximately 200 delegates from Adams, Central, Clay, North Liberty, Washington, Jackson, LaSalle, and Riley high school.

During the sessions the delegates are expected to forget temporarily their American ideas, and they must assume the attitudes and outlooks of the nations they represent. Each participant must do much research into the history and current situation of his country.

The Adams students participating in this year's Model United Nations are: Larry Eddy, Roger Campbell, and Dennis Collins who will be representing Algeria. Representing Austria will be James Widner, Sam Richards, and Janet Nelson. Pat Gaston, Anne Bednar, and Crys Olson will be the representatives for Ceylon.

Representatives for Greece will be Cindy Gay, Kathy Taelman, and Steve Campbell; Israel, Nancy Katz, Randy Smith, and Paul Berebitsky. Pam Martinov, Keith Dickey, and Mary Whitlow will represent Nepal. Nigeria will be represented by Lemuel Joyner, Larry Magee, and Cora Brunton.

Senegal's representatives will be Barbara Jacobs, Sue Gentner, and Carol Feldman. Mollie Sandock, Jan Crane, and Judy O'Hair will be representing the United Kingdom. For Russia, the representatives will be Richard Rosenstein, Les Goldsmith, and Jim Ehlers.

Adams exchange student Roland Perrenoud will represent his country of Switzerland, and the representative to Japan will be Takashi Matsushima. Rhonda Kaley will serve as an alternate. Ed Peters will be presiding over the Assembly as President.

The representatives of the assembly will divide into committees and discuss these topics: representation of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations, sharing the costs of future peace, and pressure on South Africa to abandon the policy of apartheid. Each committee will form a resolution to be presented to the General Assembly for debate and vote.

After these subjects and others are discussed, the committee reports to the whole assembly and a vote is taken to see what is decided. English will be the official language. The Model U.N. also includes bloc meetings and a banquet for all delegates.

Peters, as president, cannot vote but opens and closes each plenary session and also directs the discussion of each of the sessions. He insures observance of the rules, and accords the right to speak. He also puts any questions to a vote and then announces the decision made.

The first part of the assembly will end Friday at nine p.m., but will begin again Saturday morning at 8:30. The Third Annual South Bend Model United Nations Assembly will end Saturday, November 19, at twelve noon.

City Co-op Program Offers Opportunity To Work and Study

Several Adams students are participating in this year's distributive education program. This course is designed to introduce students to the "working world" while they are still in high school.

Students in this program attend morning classes at Adams and hold afternoon jobs. The types of jobs vary according to the students' interests and jobs available to teenagers.

Adams students in the program are under the supervision of Mr. John Calvert and Mr. Len Buczkowski.

Participating students include: Kathy Sayers, Sue Gentner, Linda Brazeau, Sue Platner, Sue Whitaker, Dennis Alexander, Dennis Henry, Duene Pascoff, and Kay Law.

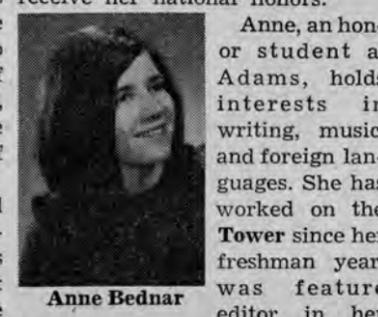

ANNE BEDNAR RECEIVES DAR GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD

Anne Bednar, John Adams senior, has been honored this year by being chosen the 1966-67 Adams recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award. Selected on the basis of leadership, dependability, service, citizenship, and patriotism, Anne was chosen by a special board of faculty members from Adams.

The D.A.R. award is presented annually to outstanding girls attending South Bend high schools by the local Schuyler Colfax Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

On Saturday, December 3, Anne and other D.A.R. winners in the county will take a test challenging their knowledge in local, state, and national history, and current events. The winner of the county contest will proceed to the state competition, and the Indiana winner will go to Washington, D.C. to receive her national honors.

Anne Bednar

junior year, and is editor-in-chief of the Tower this year. Last spring she was inducted into Quill and Scroll and this year was elected Scribe of the club. She is also working with Rhonda Kaley as reporter for the South Bend Tribune high school page.

In music, Anne plays alto saxophone in the concert band, and has been a member of that group for the past four years. As a member of trios and quartets, she has received state honors for ensemble performance. She also plays piano writing, music, and is a member of Concert Choir.

Following a summer of study in Mexico, Anne has decided her future career will involve the use of foreign languages. She is especially interested in the problems of American relations.

Anne is also chairman of the Eagle Ethics Committee and represents that committee in Student Council. She is a member of National Honor Society and Mu Alpha Theta, and has been named a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Competition.

"Closeness Through Clothes" Slogan for Clothing Drive

The Student Council clothing drive for 1966, "Closeness Through Clothes," is set to begin Monday. Collection of clothing in the homerooms will continue through Friday.

Headed by general chairman Morris Shapiro, this year's drive seems headed for success. Enthusiasm among students may be seen by the large group of volunteers gathered by the committee chairman.

The clothes are being collected this year to aid needy children in Appalachia who would not be able to attend school without them. All sizes and types of still serviceable clothes are needed. Students are urged to clear out closets, basements, and attics of old, outgrown, and unused clothing which could be of use to the Appalachian school children.

Collection of the clothing will be handled by Student Council homeroom representatives. Prizes will be given to the homerooms collecting the most clothes.

In addition to homeroom collection of clothes, student committees will also canvass area retail stores and laundries for clothes.

The clothing drive is divided into nine committees this year. Each committee has one or more chairmen. Committees and their members are: the Correspondence Committee which will write letters to area businesses such as clothing stores and laundries asking for their help. The chairmen of this committee are Sally Weiler and Sue Browne.

BULLETIN

Seniors taking the SAT test at Adams on Nov. 5, should arrive by 8:00 and enter the auditorium door. Coats should be taken to the north and south mezz. Students should enter the auditorium test center through the main door only, and should have their test ticket ready. The admission tickets should, however, be retained for information to be put on the answer sheet.

All students with last names beginning with A and coming before Taylor, Warren, should report to the auditorium test center. Anyone with names from Thur to Z should report to the first floor cafeteria.

Recreation Board Plans Activities For Coming Season

The high school recreation board is a cooperative effort of the South Bend high school student councils and the South Bend Department of Public Recreation to stimulate and provide wholesome recreational activities for high school students.

This is the third year that the board has been in existence. During the past two years, the board has sponsored such things as a hootenanny, talent festival, car rodeo, style show, novice swim meet, summer teen center, bridge lessons, chess lessons, dances, and sledding parties.

The board also sponsors a teen lounge which is open Sundays from three to eight P.M., Tuesdays from three-thirty to ten P.M., and Thursdays from three-thirty to eight P.M. Activities at the lounge include pool, ping-pong, American shuffleboard, and basketball. The teen lounge is located in the Newman Center at Howard Park.

On the teen council board from Adams are Richard Altman, Dave Eastman, Delores Moody, and Brent Myers. Cindy Roessler and Todd Bingaman are Adams representatives on the recreation board.

A JOB WELL DONE BUT NOT COMPLETE

We congratulate the student body on the support they have shown the football team this year, and we certainly congratulate the team on a wonderful season. It's been a great year so far, with our football team as yet undefeated, cross-country with only one loss, and tennis team with a winning season. Sports "spirit" is on the rise.

We can remember when, only two short years ago, sports spirit was at what seemed an all-time low. Congratulations to the student body on needed improvement.

But perhaps you've noticed, I haven't yet used the term "school spirit." There is a noticeable difference between enthusiasm over a winning team and school spirit. Certainly sports spirit is a necessary part of school spirit, but it is only part.

While Adams sports spirit is now high, we question the quality of Adams school spirit. School spirit is the pride which students have in all aspects of their school—academic, extra curricular, physical, and mental.

We question our school spirit when we see a student kick his locker, or write on his desk, and when we hear students laugh and play around during the school song and the national anthem. Does Adams have high school spirit when a band and orchestra concert is poorly attended, when students talk through an assembly, or when the newspaper is subscribed to by only less than a third of the school?

Sunday, October 23, 1966, the South Bend Tribune ran a student opinion article asking the question, "Is school spirit a thing of the past?" The only quote from Adams said, "Definitely not—when your team is on top." We consider that opinion an insult to John Adams school spirit and to the attitude which is being considered typical of Adams students.

School spirit should be the attitude which makes a student body back Adams activities and teams because they are representing the school, and not because they happen to be winning. Such spirit continues whether the team wins or loses.

It's about time that we took time to examine our school spirit, to divide it into the necessary parts, and to raise each part to the height which our sports has reached this year. It's time to realize that sports spirit and school spirit are different, and that while our sports spirit is high, our school spirit needs improvement.

STUDENTS MUST FACE RESPONSIBILITY

Service to others is one of the means by which an individual can exhibit goodness of both himself and others. When people are in need, and we as students respond to this need, we are benefiting as much, if not more, than those we are aiding.

Be generous with your sharing with others who are in need. Be thankful that you can be the donator and not the recipient. It is much easier to give than to receive, as being dependent upon another can be a frightful and humiliating experience.

We as students tend to forget the problems of our surrounding world. We are enclosed and greatly absorbed in our own little world, forgetting that we are just one small segment of a vast and complex society. There are others in great need of those necessities that we take so much for granted.

We as students of John Adams High School have an obligation to fulfill. The week of November 7th, the John Adams Student Council is holding its annual clothing drive. This year our theme will be "Closeness Through Clothes." As students working together, let's make this year's "Closeness Through Clothes" the most successful clothing drive ever to be held at Adams. This can only be made possible through YOUR efforts.

There are children in these United States that cannot attend school simply because they have no clothing to wear to school. You can help! Give and give until it hurts . . . because then, and only then, will you learn to appreciate what you have, and what others would like to have.

Recreation Board Sponsors Lounge At Armory Center

Are you bored with life? Don't have anything to do? Try the Armory. Its purpose is to provide a place for entertainment and studying in addition to promoting constructive leadership.

Set up by the South Bend Recreation Board, the Armory caters to high school youths who wish a place to go to have good clean fun. Its activities include a juke box playing currently popular records, three ping-pong tables, pool tables, and a gymnasium. Facilities for studying are also provided. Dances may be held there with the permission of the Recreation Board.

Representatives are selected from each school. Todd Bingaman, Lemuel Joyner, and Cindy Roessler are the representatives from Adams. The Teen Center Council contains one person from each class and meets every third Wednesday night at the Armory which is located on South Eddy Street.

Ron Bella is the sponsor of the High School Recreation Board.

To those who are interested, the Armory is open Tuesday 3:30-10:00, Thursday from 3:30-8:00, and on Sunday 3:30-8:00.

Scorpions Take Pleasure In Work

Did you know that if you were born between October 23 and November 22 you are a Scorpion? Strength and determination are the essence of your personality, because when you were born, the Sun was in that part of the Zodiac known as Scorpio.

Scorpio is a fixed Water Sign, presenting some type of conflicts sometimes, for the Fixed element can make you more static than changeable at times, while water is the symbol of your emotional nature.

Scorpions are generally people who take pleasure in work, for it is easy to accomplish a lot with the talent they possess. They are an extremely ambitious brood, who do not want to surround themselves with luxuries. And finally the Scorpion has obtained a keen financial judgment which makes it possible for him to work in the field of high finances.

Nobody would ever call a Scorpion a miser, but the truth is that they tend to be rather tight-fisted about money. A Scorpion does well in operating his own business. He also saves money in a rather plodding manner, but is given to some extremism.

For the Scorpion, October brings changes and surprises. Progress is inevitable, and even those things which one would like to see stay the same way forever will someday change.

November promises a different story. A flock of financial opportunities will become available to the Scorpion. The tough job will be separating the good from the bad. They may find it impossible to do this by themselves, but persons experienced in this field can be very helpful.

Are you seeking love? Is happiness your quest? Whatever the burning question, Astrology has an answer for you!

The pumpkin grass waves goodbye, goodbye to departing autumn

In the lemonade days of summer, when we were asked to write this column, we envisioned great literary, social, and political influence for ourself. This column was to have been a synthesis of Walter Lippmann, the Saturday Review, and Esquire. However, our preoccupation with autumn has borne us to the status of lone harbinger. Though the season is on the wane, we intend to keep on writing about it until the middle of July.

Beautiful sadness people trying to cheer me cannot know autumn

"Operation Gothic," our modest proposal for converting Adams into a medieval university, has not been fully appreciated. Several upperclassmen have given verbal support to the suggested freshman induction, but no one has recognized the advantages of speaking Latin and wearing academic gowns.

Since it would take about four years to learn to speak even simple Latin sentences, most students could graduate without ever having to recite. Academic gowns, while seeming to be another step toward regimentation, would provide great freedom and comfort. The style of such gowns is set, but the manner in which it is worn as well as the type of clothing worn underneath are left to the discretion of the wearer. Swimmers could get by with wearing only trunks.

Our street department has provided a means for funding this project; YIELD signs. A band of students, armed with bows and quivers, should be assigned to each sign. To obey the sign and the law, every motorist would have to yield to the students and hand over his cash. In this manner, "Operation Gothic" could be realized aesthetically and profitably.

Football Fathers To Be Recognized By Booster Club

On November 5, during the Michigan City pregame football show, the Booster Club will honor the Dads of the sixteen senior varsity football players. The Dads will be introduced while the band plays some appropriate music in the background. Each of the fathers will be presented with a five-by-seven color picture of his son in action.

A special section of the stadium will be reserved for the honored guests of the night and each will be given a boutonniere. The Booster Club hopes everyone will try and come a few minutes early so that they may take part in this pregame festivity.

CLUB NEWS & ACTIVITY

"Room 147? Turn right at the first corridor." — If you ever get lost at Adams, just ask an Usher Club member for directions. The Usher Club, sponsored by Mr. Clarence Stillman, is a dedicated service club at John Adams. Unlike many of the other student groups in our school, the Ushers Club is organized solely as a service to the school.

At football games, pep assemblies, and at all sports events, it is the members of the Ushers Club that keep the order and the peace. The members serve their school at PTA meetings, Open House, Graduation, and at National Honor Society Induction.

Members can earn monograms and rings by serving in the club, while gaining an experience in working together with others. New members are welcome at any time during the year. The Usher Club president this year is Leo Hintz.

John Adams Waltons

The John Adams Waltons is another of the service clubs at Adams. Sponsored by Mr. Ernest Litweiler, the members of this club serve the community through various conservation projects. Projects include forest conservation, planting of trees in the spring, wildlife conservation, and feeding of the birds at the Isaac Walton League camp grounds.

The Adams Waltons belong to the Indiana Junior Academy of Science. Meetings are held in room 210 under the direction of Richard Whiteman, president, and regular events include interesting and entertaining programs.

Red Cross Youth

Guided by their sponsor Miss Mary Giannuzzi, the Red Cross Youth aim to serve the community to the best of their ability. The John Adams Red Cross Youth is just a small part in the national organization.

Throughout the year, this group busies themselves with such projects as packing Christmas gift bags for servicemen in Viet Nam, raising money for national projects, and help in nursing homes and children's hospitals. In the near future, the county-wide Red Cross Youth will be sponsoring a bake sale at the Town and Country and Broadmoor shopping centers and at K-Mart.

This year's president Sue Gregor encourages every interested student to join.

CLOTHING DRIVE OPENS ON MONDAY

The homeroom competition records will be kept by the group with Dave Eastman and Jim Westfall as its chairmen.

In charge of packing and mailing the clothes will be the committee headed by Tony Pfeiffer and John Daugherty.

Also Weighing and Recording, Carol Feldman, Sue Gentner, and Mary Whitlow; Publicity, Jan Crane, Sam Richards; and Prizes, Julie Hamilton.

Those in charge of the weightometer, the machine used to weigh the clothes, are Julie Hamilton, Barb Allen, and Diane Kovas.

The neighborhood pickups will be handled by Cindy Roessler's committee.

The chairmen of homeroom pickups are Wendy Rubin, Cindy Anstead, Pat Riley, and Nancy Busch.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES TO TEACH STUDENTS TO OPERATE BUSINESS

"Business and Youth—Partners in Progress," is the motto of Junior Achievement. Begun in 1919 in New England as a trade school it has spread throughout America. The South Bend chapter was formed in 1953.

Junior Achievement is now an International organization having branches in Mexico, London, and some South American countries, although in London it is known as The Young Business Enterprises. Recently, the Peace Corps asked J.A. to start organizations in more South American countries.

All high school juniors and seniors are eligible to join, and are put in companies at random to avoid cliques, and to try and tie schools closer together. Each company decides on a product to make, then elects officers, rents equipment, and begins manufacturing their product. To gain capital they sell stock and at the end of the year, they pay dividends and pay the value of the stock to the stockholder.

The whole organization includes advisers, counseling firms, contributors, stockholders, and customers.

Along with a weekly television show put on entirely by achievers, some of the products made this year include bird feeders, window cleaner, key chains with school emblems, and beer steins. One company is making photo electric cells for turning on lights when it gets dark outside.

The total number of companies in the South Bend-Mishawaka chapter is thirty-one. Each company has a sponsor from the South Bend-Mishawaka area including U.S. Rubber, Bendix Corp., Dodge Manufacturing, Gas Company, Associates, South Bend Tribune, Drewrys Limited, and Bell Telephone.

The Achiever's Association meets regularly with prominent people in the area to discuss problems, techniques, and improvements.

Most products sell fairly well.

Like any corporation, Junior Achievement pays a 48% tax, after which the money is distributed to the stockholders in the form of dividends.

At the annual Awards Banquet held in May, over $2,000 worth of awards are presented. Among the awards given are: President of the Year, Best Vice President of Sales, Outstanding Achiever, and Salesman of the Year. The Dale Carnegie Scholarship is presented on the basis of leadership and entitles the winner to receive the Dale Carnegie Course, presented by Bowton Associates.

Mr. Coar has stopped playing water polo, because he always gets dunked. He has a theory, that once he went under for so long, that his boys pulled him up by the hair, and that's why he's bald now!

In Mr. Schutz's class, Tom King rather thoughtfully asked, "What day does Thanksgiving fall on?" After a few minutes of deliberation, Mr. Schutz replied, "The day the founding fathers dropped it on."

During class, Mr. Coar remarked that Mike Fitzgerald has great lung power. Memel Elling said, "Yeah, hot air!" Mr. Coar looked back at Memel and replied, "And what do you know about Mike's lung power, Memel?"

During sixth hour physics, Mr. Cussen heard someone say his name. He promptly looked up at the ceiling and said, "Yes?"

While discussing a poem by T. S. Eliot dealing with fog, and a poem by Carl Sandburg comparing fog to a cat, Miss Rosenfeld remarked that Sandburg had a nicer pussycat.

While everyone else sits there gossiping, Georgia McFarland and Judy Kronewitter sit in fifth hour speech class playing three dimensional tic-tac-toe.

While Bob Ostrander was drawing a graph on the board, Andy Nickle said, "Hey, it looks like a baseball with wings." Wr. Whitcomb replied, "why don't we send him to help the Cubs?"

Simpson Founded South Bend Model U N

On November 18 and 19, 180 South Bend high school students will not be Americans. Instead, they will be Russian, or African, or German, for they will be participating in the model U.N.

The main reason for the formation of the model U.N. in South Bend was to give the students interested in social studies an outside source of work and information. In 1963, Mr. Douglas Simpson and Mr. Richard Thompson visited a similar model U.N. at Hillsdale College in Michigan.

The Hillsdale U.N. is for outstanding high school social studies students from all over Michigan and is usually attended by about 500 students.

Using the Hillsdale U.N. as a basis, Mr. Simpson and Mr. Thompson formed the South Bend U.N. The major difference between the Hillsdale and the South Bend U.N.'s is the size. Mr. Simpson feels that our U.N. is more efficient because all the students participate, they are all better informed, and are better organized.

The students who participate are chosen by the social studies teachers at the high schools. There are no basic requirements and top grades are not an essential factor. The most important thing is that the students participate in discussion and are able to deal with other people.

On the other hand, the more important figures in the assembly are chosen very carefully. For example, the president of the General Assembly is chosen by the teachers observing the assembly.

The most outstanding junior, in terms of participation and ideas will generally be chosen to be the president the following year, if the student would like to have the position. This year's president is an Adams student, Ed Peters.

Mr. Simpson describes it as "a very colorful event which would be interesting for anyone attending."

RED DEVILS VISIT EAGLES TOMORROW

HARRIERS COMPLETE BEST SEASON EVER

A sixth place finish in the LaPorte Regional last Saturday brought to an end the most successful cross-country season in the history of Adams. Coach Dale Gibson guided his team to sixteen dual meet wins and saw his team finish on the high end of the score only once (low score wins in cross-country).

Win City

In addition to a near perfect dual meet record, the harriers also won the City Meet and the Sectional and finished sixth in a tough field at the LaPorte Invitational. The City Meet victory was the fifth straight for Adams. The string started in 1962 and has continued ever since.

The lone defeat came at the hands of a very strong Elkhart squad. Three members of their team have rounded a two mile cross-country course in less than ten minutes. As a team, they have not lost a dual meet for five years.

The leader of this year's Adams team was junior Jack Driver. Besides winning a majority of the team's meets, he set a new record for Adams' runners on the Potawatomi Park course. His time was 10:01.5. He lowered his time to 10:01, but he did not win that meet so it did not count as a record.

Seniors on this year's team were Phil Thompson, Cubie Jones, Horis Russell, Ed McNulty, and Jim Houghton. Underclassmen, in addition to Driver, were Kevin Walter, Jim Manuzak, Phil Hamilton, and Bob Whitlock.

GOSHEN AND LA PORTE FALL

An up-set minded team from Michigan City will invade School Field tomorrow night at 8:00 to meet Coach Jerry Planutis' high-flying Eagles. Last week the Red Devils won their first game of season after losing eight and tying one. They downed Clay, 35-34.

Adams will not be able to take Michigan City lightly, though, in going after their eleventh straight win. A victory would not only complete an undefeated season for the team, but it would also clinch the first NIC title for the team since 1956. So far this season, the Eagles have rolled over eight straight opponents.

Tommie Walls will lead the Eagle attack with 124 points and an 11.3 yard rushing average. Before the game, the fathers of the players will be honored at a special Dad's Night ceremony.

In a hard fought game on Oct. 21, a fired-up Adams team handed the LaPorte Slicers their second loss of the year, 14-13. A standing room only crowd of over 8,000 watched the game in LaPorte.

Adams' two scores came on a 47-yard pass from Doug MacGregor to John Kaiser and a 17-yard run by Tommie Walls. Bob Roberts booted the two extra points. With only ten seconds remaining in the game and Adams leading 14-13, the Slicers tried a field goal from the ten-yard line. It failed and the Eagles were assured of the seventh win of the year.

Defense Outstanding

The defensive unit also did an excellent job in holding the high-scoring Slicers to two touchdowns. They were led by Scott Campbell, Tom Colip, and Herman Humes.

A week later Goshen gave the Eagles all they could handle during the first half before they finally fell, 52-19. First half touchdowns were turned in by John Kaiser, Herman Humes, and Tommie Walls, who scored two. Kaiser scored after taking a Doug MacGregor pass.

Walls, MacGregor, Phil Williford, and Pat Jackson contributed second-half touchdowns.

Beagles Win 6th Drop only Second

Coach Buczkowski's "B" football team took a 6-2 season record into their season finale last Monday at Washington. They were trying to get back on their winning ways after dropping a 7-6 decision to Riley on Oct. 24.

The Wildcats scored first and added the extra point. Quarterback Rick Sayers scored for the Beagles in the third period, but the point-after failed.

A week earlier, though, the "B" team picked up their sixth win of the year at LaPorte. The Slicers fell easily, 21-0. Mike McGann scored one of the TD's on a 65-yard run right through the LaPorte defense.

Freshman Lose, Tie LaSalle

A 7-7 tie with LaSalle last Thursday brought the season record of Coach Aronson's freshman football team to 2-4-1. The LaSalle game concluded the season for the class of 1970.

Halfback Tim Madison scored the Adams' touchdown on a six-yard run and also scored the extra point on a run. The Lions' lone score came on a two-yard plunge.

On Thursday, Oct. 20, Washington downed the frosh 14-7. Once again, Tim Madison scored the only touchdown of the day for the Eagles. This time an 11-yard sprint around end did the trick. The Panthers were able to cross the Adams goal line twice with two-yard plunges.
