CAGERS OPEN SEASON FRIDAY AT ST. JOE

This year's returning basketball lettermen: starting in the upper left hand corner, Phil Williford, David Gordon, Larry Wharton, Tom Taylor, John Kaiser, and Kent Ross.

"The game is scheduled for Friday night, it will be played in St. Joe's gym, tip-off time is 8:00, and you can count on us being there." These were the words Coach Don Barnbrook used last week to answer the question, "What about your opening game?"

With this comment, Coach Barnbrook returned to the floor of the gym to work with his second Adams basketball team. Awaiting him were abundant height, adequate speed, and six lettermen among the fourteen boys hoping to see varsity action this season.

Because of the particular talents of the team members, he is working on a new type of offense that they should be able to use effectively. As last year, a man-to-man set up will probably be used when the opposition has the ball.

Six Return

The six returning lettermen are all seniors. Between them, they saw considerable action throughout last season's 13-win and 8-loss campaign. They are, in order of descending height, Phil Williford (6-6), Kent Ross (6-5), John Kaiser (6-3), Tom Taylor (6-2), David Gordon (5-10), and Larry Wharton (5-9).

Williford led this group in scoring last year with 274 points for a 13.7 average. Ross wasn't far behind, though, with 272 points. In the rebounding department, however, Ross held a slight advantage.

Gordon was the only other starter in the group. He played a guard position and led the team in steals with 39. Dave also had the third best shooting percentage on the team.

Although Taylor and Wharton did not start regularly for Coach Barnbrook last year, they did play a big role in the team's success as substitutes. Larry particularly played well against Goshen as a guard and Tom came off the bench in the LaPorte game and did an outstanding job at forward.

Kaiser, one of the top shooters on the team, was injured during the majority of last season. A football injury slowed him up at the start of the campaign and just when he thought he was alright, he re-injured it.

A senior, non-letterman, Bob Storm, heads the list of hopefuls from the "B" and freshmen teams. He stands 6-3 and has a good chance of breaking into the starting lineup although he did not letter.

Terry Schaper, a junior who transferred from Marion this year, Mike Downey, Mark Beaudway, and John Williams are also making a strong bid for the varsity squad.

Coach Barnbrook feels there is much competition for top area honors. He includes Warsaw, Goshen, Riley, Michigan City, Gary Roosevelt, and Central in the group that should be "real tough" by sectional time.

This year's schedule remains the same as last year's except for two changes. Lafayette Central Catholic has been added to take the place of Hobart, and a South Bend Holiday Tourney will replace the Mishawaka Holiday event.

The South Bend Holiday Tourney will be played on December 20 and 22. The eight city teams will compete for what also must be termed the "City Championship," because all of the city schools will be involved. It should also be a good indication of the February South Bend Sectional outcome, also.

After traveling to St. Joe this Friday, the Eagles will return home to entertain Lafayette on November 23 and Clay on December 2.

Season Tickets Offer Advantages In Price, Seating and Sectional Seats

Basketball season ticket sales began November 7 with the distribution of order blanks in the homerooms. Students and adults may continue to purchase tickets until the first home game on November 23 with Lafayette Central Catholic.

The season tickets cost $3.00 and are good for the nine home games.

Orders for tickets should be placed with homeroom representatives. The tickets will be delivered several days later. This method gives every student a chance to purchase a ticket.

Adults may purchase season tickets either through students or through the ticket office. The price of adult season tickets is $6.00.

There are many advantages to purchasing a season ticket. The best of these is a saving of $1.50 over regular admission price for students and $3.00 for adults. A season ticket also eliminates the bother of buying a ticket before each game.

Another advantage is that student season ticket holders may sit in the cheering section in the bleachers while all others must sit in the balcony.

Most important of all, season ticket holders will be given first priority in the issuance of sectional tickets next February.

GLEE CLUBS BEGIN PREPARATIONS FOR ANNUAL VESPERS

The annual Christmas Vespers will be given by the Adams Glee Clubs December 4 at 4 P.M. under the direction of Mr. Robert Hoover and Mrs. Janet Leininger.

The Vesper program will also be presented to the students in an assembly on December 2.

The groups performing in the Vespers will be the concert choir, mixed chorus, girls chorus, and the prep glee club.

The Christmas Vespers will also mark the first time the concert choir members will wear their new robes.

Coaches Barnbrook, Hadaway and Griffith Set High Goals for the Three Basketball Teams in 1966-67

Don Barnbrook will open his second season as varsity basketball coach at Adams on Friday when the Eagles meet the St. Joe Indians at St. Joe. Mr. Barnbrook is an Adams graduate and received his degrees from Olivet College and Indiana University. Last year Mr. Barnbrook came to Adams from Riley, where he was golf coach, to coach a successful Eagles team to a 13-8 winning season.

Last year's basketball team also won the Holiday Tourney and tied for first place in the conference. Included in its victories was a win over Michigan City, the 1966 State Champions.

Coach Barnbrook is looking forward to a very successful year with a team that's strong on offense and tall in it.

David Hadaway will also open his second season at Adams with the B-team. Mr. Hadaway is a graduate of South Bend Central; he went to Mississippi College and received his master's from Notre Dame. He came to Adams last year from a post as head basketball coach at Greene Township. Mr. Hadaway was able to leave behind his past loyalties for Central and Greene Township and lead the B-team on to a very successful year. Last year's B-team completed their season with a record of 14 wins and 6 losses.

Mr. Hadaway

So far the B-team has shown good attitude and much improvement in their practice sessions. On the whole, Coach Hadaway feels he has a fine team which he hopes can repeat last year's fine record.

Adams has one new basketball coach this year. Mr. George Griffith will coach the freshman basketball team. Coach Griffith attended high school for two years at Fort Wayne South Side, then he went to Brighton, where he finished his secondary education. He attended Ball State University.

Mr. Griffith

Coach Griffith comes from Nuneaton, where he taught history and physical education and coached football and basketball. Besides coaching here at Adams, Mr. Griffith also teaches health and physical education.

Coach Griffith faces quite a task this year in following last year's freshmen team which completed the season with a 19-2 record. He is, however, looking forward to a bright season with eighteen small, but speedy freshmen.

Planutis' Team Completes Record Breaking Season

The first undefeated season in the history of the school. The first conference title for the school in ten years. These are only two accomplishments of the 1966 John Adams football team.

Coached by Mr. Jerry Planutis, this year's team accomplished something that had eluded the first twenty-five Adams grid teams, a perfect record. Twice before had Eagle teams come within one game of achieving the feat, but never was one successful.

NIC STANDINGS (Final)
Washington	5	1	0
LaPorte	4	2	0
Mishawaka	3	3	0
Elkhart	3	3	0
Riley	2	4	0
Goshen	1	4	1
Central	1	5	0
Michigan City	0	5	1

Undefeated seasons are harder to come by than conference titles, but even this feat had escaped twenty-three of the previous teams. Not since Coach John Murphy's tenure in the middle 1950's, had much thought ever been given to such accomplishments.

But by the beginning of this season Coach Planutis and his staff were thinking along these terms. They felt anything less would not be success.

STATISTICS
Adams		Opponents
107	First Downs	159
2550	Rushing Yardage	1320
873	Passing Yardage	855
166	Passes Attempted	167
55	Passes Completed	76
17	Passes Intercepted	2
30	Punts	33
31	Punting Average	30
13	Fumbles Lost	13
638	Yards Penalized	322

Statistics (found in this article) are not the only tangibles that prove success. Intangibles, such as team and school spirit, and personal and team goals, are what really build success and championship status, though. This team obviously had both tangibles and intangibles.

Although it is hard to single out one person on a football team that is the most important, there is usually one that is close to that status. This year's Adams standout was Tommie Walls. His personal records and statistics are endless and too numerous to print here, but everyone knows they are to be found.

Running close behind Walls, though, were several players. Included in this group are Capt. Doug MacGregor, Scott Campbell, John Kaiser, Tom Colip, Phil Williford, George Wilkins, and Herman Humes.

Also, Mic Spainhower, Bobby Roberts, Brent Best, Dave Robinson, Tom Koehler, Tom Kruyer, Jim Aitchison, Larry Enders, Terry Redman, Jeff Tulchinski, Chris May, Pat Jackson, Bert Fleming, and Bob Sedam.

Going on, Mike McGann, Joe Waechter, Joe Broadstreet, Tom Westfall, Rick Sayers, Jim Smith, Bill Helms, Paul Berebitsky, Ken Cole, Scott Jordan, Bob Morlan, Bill Nicksin, and Mike Kluszczynski.

In other words, behind Walls was the entire varsity team.

As if to climax the year, five Adams players were named to the All-NIC team by the South Bend Tribune. On the offensive unit, of course, was Tommie Walls. Doug MacGregor, John Kaiser, and Scott Campbell were also on the squad.

Kaiser also made the defensive team, as did Tom Colip. Kaiser is one of the few players to ever make both teams.

Honorable mention went to Phil Williford, Dave Robinson, George Wilkins and Herman Humes.

Coach Don Coar Enters Seventh Year As Swimming Coach With High Hopes

A graduate of Riley High School, Mr. Don Coar has been a math teacher at Adams for six years. Of these six teaching years at Adams, Mr. Coar has spent all of them as the swimming coach here.

Mr. Coar received his master's degree from Ball State after completing undergraduate work there and attending St. Louis University and Washington University both in St. Louis, Missouri. He also received a Certificate of Meteorology from Ball State.

Although he started with the thought of coaching football, because of his background and association with Mr. Fedders, his high school swim coach who is now the assistant swim coach at Michigan State, Mr. Coar switched his field to swimming and became the swim coach at Adams.

While in the Air Force, Mr. Coar was a weather forecaster. His interests have changed, however, and occasionally he will shoot a few holes of golf. Along with golf, as could be expected, Mr. Coar does a little water skiing. Of this he says, "It's not that I don't know how or don't like to, but I usually don't have time."

When asked about his summer activities, Mr. Coar replied, "When I'm not going to school, I'm usually working around the pool." The new pool is a great help to the swim team. It saves them the bother of going out to Washington or over to the YMCA to practice.

He says he's not disappointed about not being able to coach the football team. When asked if he had any doubts about this year, Mr. Coar gave a grin and answered with a firm "No."

STATE CHAMPION SEAGLES OPEN DEFENSE OF TITLE DECEMBER 1 IN ADAMS POOL

A trophy symbolizing the Indiana State Swimming Championship and their very own swimming pool now belong to Coach Don Coar and his Seagles after years of hoping and dreaming.

Last year, after a record of three second places and one third place, the swimmers finally achieved the coveted title of state champion.

The team has already set its goal for the year. They are going to win a second straight state championship and even improve on last pionship will take a lot of hard work but these boys are capable of doing it," he continued.

He regards Columbus, Southport, and Kokomo as the toughest teams Adams will face this season. Columbus and Southport finished second and third, respectively, in last year's state finals.

As far as the conference is concerned, Riley and Central will probably offer the toughest competition. The Seagles have won the NIC for the last five years.

the second-place individual medley relay team, also.

The co-captains were elected by their fellow swimmers at the close of last year's campaign. Both feel it a great honor and responsibility to be in such a position.

Diver Gary Gibboney, who finished third in the diving finals last February, Scott Madison and Joe Hauflaire, both members of the second-place freestyle relay team, and diver Richard Altman round out the list of returning seniors.

Juniors

The junior lettermen are headed by Mike Fitzgerald. He is the current state champion in the individual medley and holder of second place in the 400-yard freestyle. His championship in the individual medley qualified him for the All-American high school team.

Other junior lettermen are Frank Fahey, a butterflyer, Jim Herreman, a breastroker, Jerry Decker, a freestyler, and Tim Bath, a backstroke.

Two sophomore lettermen also return this year. They are Bill Fitzgerald, Mike's brother, and Tom Shrager. Bill finished fourth in the 400-yard freestyle last year, while Tom took fifth place in the 100-yard freestyle.

Coach Coar believes sophomores Scott Wise and John Ford and freshman Jeff Clark will also help the team a great deal this winter.

Last year the Seagles compiled a 14-0 season record, won the city, conference, and sectional meets before they won the state title.

year's record by reducing their individual times.

Chances Just As Good

Coach Coar feels the chances of this year's team repeating in the state meet are "just as good as they were last year. A state cham-

THE SIEVE
By Peters

Padraic Clarey had a great liking for folklore and a great disliking for generalizations. He thought it significant that both these things were valuable tools of conversation. Had he approved more of generalizations, he might have cited "Sloanes Incan Cabbage Adventure", to demonstrate the value of using one's dislikes. But he didn't.

It must have been the reflection of the Globe lamp on the waxed bar-top that started Harvey Sloane, American Tourist and proud of it, talking about basketball. It started him talking on everything else. The gleam would catch the glaze over his eyes, and transfer their dullness to his mouth.

"Lookit this wood shine. Just like a basketball court. Nothing like basketball. All sports are alike; its just that one sport'll get to you, like basketball gets to me. I'll be glad to get back home where they invented it and where I can see a game."

"You know, Harvey, the Incas invented a type of basketball that we could play. We'll need a vertical hoop, a gold ball, and lots of spectators. No trouble. The winning scorer can demand all the possessions of the audience as a reward. It's part of the ritual."

The neon "O" in the "Bit O Erin" Tourist Restaurant, we specialize in green fried chicken, was a bit high, but so was Harvey. With gold-spray painted cabbage in hand he came charging across the time line of Sligo Street.

With the aid of a lamp-post, he dunked for two, then slipped down and through the plate-glass window. The spectators were not too enthusiastic about South American culture.

Padraic didn't like begging to policemen, but it kept his friends in or out of jail, whichever was most useful.

Six Vibrant B-Team Cheerleaders Anxiously Await First Game

Have you noticed the posters around school that wish our teams good luck and the hoops at each of the games? The B-team cheerleaders — Audrey Niespodziany, Terry Waters, juniors; Barb Allin, Joni Samuels, Jo Ann Pitts, and Nina Zeiger, sophomores, are responsible for these.

Since they were chosen last spring, the girls have been practicing about three times a week throughout the summer and on into the school year. They will continue practicing through the basketball season. Because they practice so much, the girls' extra curricular activities are limited almost entirely to Booster Club, in which they attempt to boost the spirit of the club and the school.

At pep assemblies, the girls cheer in the balcony with the underclassmen and they cheer at B-team games. They are looking forward to the basketball games since they are held immediately before the varsity games and they will get their first chance to cheer before a large crowd. Since this year's B-team will be next year's varsity, the cheerleaders feel that it is very important to cheer these boys on to victory.

The girls feel that cheerleading is very important to them because it gives them a feeling of doing something for the school as well as the team.

Audrey Niespodziany is in Booster Club, Apparatus Club, Synchronized Swim and is Tower homeroom representative.

Barb Allin's time is occupied by being a Student Council representative, Album representative, and in Booster Club.

Booster Club, Mu Beta, and Young Life occupy the time of Joni Samuels.

Jo Ann Pitts is in Booster Club. Terri Waters' time is spent in Booster Club, Mu Beta, and Girl's Sports Club.

Booster Club, Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, and Apparatus Club are all attended by Nina Zeiger.

ARONSON ENTERS TENTH YEAR AS WRESTLING COACH

So far this year everyone has known Mr. Morris Aronson as one of the freshmen football coaches or as an ardent math teacher, but with the coming of the winter sports season, Mr. Aronson takes on a new face and becomes our wrestling coach.

Coach Aronson came to Adams in 1957 and coached the fourth wrestling team in the history of the school.

Mr. Aronson

Since 1957 wrestling has gotten bigger and bigger, while Adams wrestling teams have gotten better and better. In 1965 they won the conference and sectional titles. In the same year 103-pound Gary Zalas captured a state championship for himself and brought much due recognition to the wrestling team.

When interviewed at the beginning of last year's season Coach Aronson was quoted as predicting a "typical year". During this "typical year" Coach Aronson's team not only went undefeated, but they captured the Conference, Sectional, Regional, and finally State titles. John Mosby won a state championship, and Bill Hill and Horis Russell placed second down state.

This was some typical season, Mr. Aronson. However when asked if he thought the success of last year's team would effect this year's team, Coach Aronson replied that he did not think the success of a previous team would have any affect on this year's team; "another year — another team."

FIVE RETURNING LETTERMEN AWAIT WRESTLING OPENER

"It's too early in the season to tell," was wrestling coach Morris Aronson's comment to the question, "Will Adams win the state championship in wrestling again this year?"

Thinking of a second straight state title was the farthest thing from the wrestlers' minds as they began practice last month. The thing uppermost in their minds was first winning a place on the varsity.

The grapplers first meet will be two weeks from today at Michigan City. Two nights later, Friday, December 2, they will take on Central here at Adams.

Lettermen

Five returning lettermen will form the nucleus of this year's team. State runner-up and captain of the squad, Horis Russell leads the group. His goal is to win the state title this year.

Other lettermen include Jim Madison, Chris Norris, Tom Walls, and Tom Kruyer.

When asked who top contenders are in the individual weight classes, again Coach Aronson said it was too early to tell. He did mention though, that the 95 and 103-pound classes might be hard to fill.

Phil Reid is a top contender for the lightest class, while Earl Wolf and Jim Madison are contending for the 103-pound division.

Wayne Welter and possibly Madison will probably see action in the 112-pound class. All of the positions are still wide open, though, with a lot depending on

Last year, Coach Aronson predicted "a typical year." His team won the state title, so if "a typical year" results again the Eagle matmen might have another state trophy.

Captain John Mosby won the state championship last year, while Bill Hill and Horis Russell captured second places. Together, this was enough to take the state title.

Wrestling practices are held every night after school in the new gym. The team goes through about forty-five minutes of strenuous calisthenics and then go into actual wrestling. This work is all done in heavy sweat clothes.

On the day of a meet, each wrestler must weigh within two pounds of his weight class. Each boy is weighed before school begins in the morning and if he is overweight, he must somehow get down to weight before the meet.

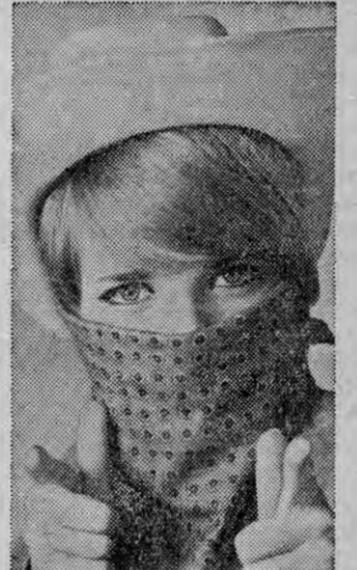

Why did everyone want to swipe Mr. Cussen's ticker tape to use as streamers at the football games?

Miss Rosenfeld's second hour English class was discussing Richard II. She asked who he was and someone replied, "He was Richard the Lion Hearted." She said that was wrong. Richard the II was weak. Then Robert Lapham said, "Richard II was Richard the Chicken Hearted."

During homeroom, Mr. Aronson remarked to Steve LaCluyse, "You got your cast off, huh?" Tom Kruyer then commented, "No, they just put another cast on that looks exactly like his shoe."
