CURTAIN RISES ON OKLAHOMA CAST

SCHOOL MUSICAL OPENS THURSDAY

The ever popular hit "Oklahoma" by Rogers and Hammerstein will be presented by the Adams Music and Drama Departments May 4, 5, and 6.

Director of the production to be staged is Mr. William Brady. Set designs and art effects will be provided for by Mr. William Smith, with Cora Brunton as his chief assistant. Mrs. Sharon Pollack Griffith will be choreographer, with Miss Susan Ganser as her assistant. Accompanist for "Oklahoma" will be Jeff Urband, and Sally Weiler will be student director.

The hit production will be presented by the combined music groups: the orchestra, singing and dancing choruses, and the leading characters. Heading the list of main characters are: Curly, played by Tom Budecki and Roger Larson; Laurey, played by Cathy McMillan, Neva Powers, and Judy Nikyos; Will by Dean Darsee and Roger Larson; Ado Annie, by Kristi Mickelson, Neva Powers, and Nancy Groff; Aunt Eller, by Kathy Kuhn and Molly Sandock; and Ali Hakim, played by Ross Klahr and Larry Gutenburg.

"Oklahoma" is the story of a young couple, Curly and Laurey, who are in love although Laurey tries not to show it. Curly's main rival is Jud, a hired hand on Aunt Eller's farm. The height of their

LANDRY ACCEPTS POSITION AS HEAD PRINCIPAL

It has been announced that Mr. Virgil Landry, assistant principal has accepted the position as principal of Adams next year. Before coming to Adams, Mr. Landry taught physical education and social studies at a small school near Marion, Indiana. He was also head football coach there.

He has now been at Adams for four years, teaching physical education and serving as track coach and assistant football coach. For the last two years at Adams, Mr. Landry has been Assistant Principal. He has been teaching for fifteen years.

CANDIDATES FOR STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT REVIEW THEIR PLATFORMS IN TODAY'S ELECTION

Election of next year's Student Council officers is being held today. Students may vote during study halls, at noon, and after school at the auditorium entrance.

The candidates for president are: Dan Schuster, Greg Pawlowski, and Dave Eastman. Vice-presidential candidates are Dean Abbott, John Tirman and Cindy Roessler.

Running for secretary are: Sue Sommer, Patty Keating, and Janet VandeWalle.

Candidates for treasurer are: Sally Weiler, Sue Brown, and Jim New.

These candidates were selected by the Student Council's screening board and were presented at Wednesday's assembly.

Articles by each of the Presidential candidates appear below.

GREG PAWLOWSKI

My reasons for wanting to be Student Council President, although somewhat varied, are all founded on a basic desire to improve student representation. I believe I am qualified to help mold the Student Council into a more effective student government. An efficient system of student representation is the only means for students to make known their complaints and suggestions. The stronger the support of the organization which represents you, the students, the better the chances are of your desires being considered by the school administration. If everyone of you is willing to work together in backing the Student Council, every possible action will be taken to see that your wants are fulfilled.

Furthermore I would like the opportunity to be Student Council President in order to change the image of the Student Council. At the present time the council remains aloof from the rest of the student body and therefore is regarded as a group of "selected" individuals rather than a representative of the student body.

I would, therefore, welcome the challenge and the opportunity to help bring about these necessary changes and improvements.

DAVE EASTMAN

The president of the Student

Council is the student body's chief spokesman. He has the responsibility not only to run the Council's meetings, but also to represent the student body to the best of his ability in student-faculty relations. I am running for the office because I feel I am qualified to represent the interests of the majority of students.

It is my opinion that improved student-faculty relations are needed. If elected president, I will instigate a plan which will help bring about improved relations. One major feature of my plan would be the attendance of the principal or assistant principal at one Council meeting per month.

I feel that a full-time, active publicity committee is needed to stimulate interest. Suggestion boxes should be placed throughout the halls so that all student questions and ideas can be considered by the Council. A revised Leadership Clinic would also bring in new ideas to benefit all students.

I am running for the office of

TWENTY-FOUR ADAMS SENIORS ARE NAMED STATE SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Twenty-four Adams seniors were among the 3,700 winners of Hoosier Scholarships for next year.

These awards, given by the Indiana State Scholarship Commission, were granted on the basis of class rankings and scores on College Board Scholastic Aptitude Tests.

Winners are: Anne Bednar, Paul Berebitsky, Patti Bickel, Todd Bingaman, Dennis Collins, Jan Crane, Ron Cukrowicz, John Daugherty, Gary Finger, Holger Henn, Linda Ivimey, Rhonda Kaley, Nancy Katz, Bill Kryder.

Also: Roger Larson, Judy Nyikos, Karen Petersen, Bill Ritter, Dennis Sanders, Sandra Schwartz, John Shahan, Keith Vanderbosch, Jo Ann Von Bergen, and Jim Widner.

THREE ARE NAMED SERVICE CLUB REPRESENTATIVES

Three Adams seniors have been selected to attend meetings of area service clubs during April and May.

Todd Bingaman will attend the Lions Club luncheon meetings. Larry Magee is going to Kiwanis Club and Andy Nickle to Rotary Club.

Todd is a member of Band, Orchestra, National Honor Society, and Student Council.

Larry Magee belongs to Honor Society, Math and Chess Clubs, and plays in the Orchestra.

Andy is President of the Student Council, a member of Booster Club, and Honor Society.

VOTE!

The right to vote is as much a responsibility as a privilege. The students of John Adams High School have the privilege to vote for their Student Council officers, and they have the responsibility to voice their opinion.

Last year less than half of the student body bothered to vote in the Student Council elections. The other 50 per cent preferred to wait until after the election and gripe about the results or to wait until this year and gripe about the job Council is doing.

Voting here at Adams is not an inconvenience; the Student Council does everything it can to make it easy for every student to vote. This year the voting machine will be set up a day earlier so that juniors who are going on the history trip may vote. Any student may vote during his study hall, lunch hour, or before and after school.

The Student Council and its officers are our voice in the school. It is the responsibility of every student to VOTE.

Juniors Find Bus Ride the Non-Educational High Point of U.S. History Trip to Dearborn

Once again it is the season of buses with movable seats. It is also the time to bring out the miniature size decks of cards to use on the buses with movable seats. Then, of course, food to eat while using the decks of cards on the buses with movable seats, and remember the money that was to go for a snack at the next rest area on the toll road but went for that last game of poker played while eating the food while using the miniature cards on the bus with the movable seats. In other words, it's the time of the year again for the Junior Class U.S. History trips.

One trip is already over with because on April 14, one bus load of enthusiastic Adams students headed out for Dearborn, Michigan.

These trips are very interesting and reveal a person's true nature as he or she rides on a bus with movable seats. The biggest problem of the whole trip is the fact that it starts at 4:30 a.m. This would not be so bad if it were 4:30 in the afternoon, but this happens to be 4:30 in the morning. So naturally, most kids sleep for some time on the bus. There are always those few, though, who can't stand to waste the time sleeping and so discover all kinds of devices to wake everyone else up.

A little while later, all are awake and the bus driver is about ready to go to sleep now. If the movable seats are those special kind, when the tired sleeper wakes up, he sits up and immediately the seat comes up and smacks him on the back, and everyone sings, "Oh Oglethorpe woke up finally!" For those contact wearers who went to sleep with their extra pair of eyes in, they now find that they should have stayed awake.

Now the card games begin and soon the aisle is filled with kids who are playing two or three games at once. Several others sit in the front seats talking with the bus driver or the chaperones. Then a loud cry of, "turn up the radio," is heard. About this time the bus driver begins wishing he had taken that other job he was offered. Sure it payed less, but it was sure easier on the nerves!

Finally, after several sandbox stops, the destination, Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Michigan, is arrived at.

Soon the buses head home. Everyone is lively as they stop at the University of Michigan for supper and a good look at all of the guys and girls there. After eating supper there and getting acquainted accidentally with several college cats, the chaperones intervene, and soon everyone is back on the bus.

By the time a weary bus, a nervous bus driver, and a bunch of bedraggled high school students arrive in South Bend, the parents are there waiting in cars. The day is over.

Applying for Work — A Shaky Experience

A very nervous girl walks up to the big building. Her hands are sweating and her knees seem to be hitting each other so hard that they seem they will break. Up the steps she goes and into a large hall. After reading the sign, she follows the arrow and soon arrives at a room that has lettering on the door reading Personnel Office. Bravely she walks in afraid that if she has to open her mouth, her teeth will begin chattering. Speaking to the secretary at the desk she states, "I'd like to apply for a summer job."

This is the experience many people have had, are having, and will have in searching for a summer job. Getting into the place where one wishes to apply is the hardest part though for this seems to take a terrible amount of courage, especially if it's the first time.

Pretty soon though, the assistant personnel manager comes out and has the girl take a seat and hands her a piece of paper and pencil. "Just fill that out and I'll be with you in a minute."

With shaking hands, she writes her name, spells it wrong and erases it. She can't remember her social security number so that space remains blank. Then comes the list of activities in school and the questions about what other jobs the applicant has had and why the applicant no longer has them.

Soon comes the part about typing ability and shorthand experience.

Finally the whole paper is filled out as well as the girl can do it and the assistant manager comes back. He then escorts her to his office where he goes over the paper and asks her questions about the blank spaces. Then he asks, "Do you have any questions?" She eventually thinks of a few to ask him about what kind of job she might get, and when she will be notified that she got a job.

Soon goodbye is said and she hurries out the door into the fresh air. Now all sorts of questions flood her mind. Now she can relax.

School Musical, Oklahoma Runs Three Nights

(Continued from Page 1) rivalry comes at a box social given by Aunt Eller, Laurey's aunt. In the end Curly and Laurey finally marry and Jud is killed. The setting of this musical is in Indian Territory which later became the state of Oklahoma.

Tickets for the production are available from music and drama students, and may also be purchased at the door. Prices are $1.00 for students, $1.25 for adults. At the door, tickets will be $1.25.

CLUB NEWS & ACTIVITY

CHESS CLUB

Pawn to Queen-4 . . . checkmate! And so ended the first Indiana High School Chess Tournament at Arlington High School in Indianapolis on April 8, 1967. Adams emerged from the mass of thirty-one teams into a third-place position.

This event, the first of its kind in Indiana, was the result of an idea brought up by the all-city Indianapolis YMCA chess team. This 100 member team of high school students meets weekly at their YMCA for practice and instruction. When the team reached the point that it possessed many excellent players, it decided to hold a state tournament, confident that it would win at least the top five places.

Adams gave Indianapolis Warren a run for their money in a fight for second place. Although Adams tied for second, the judges awarded the second-place trophy to Warren, giving Adams the third-place trophy. Indianapolis Arlington took the championship trophy.

The tournament was run in accordance with the International Chess Association rules. The four boys who represented Adams at the state contest, in order of the position which they placed are: Mark Bravin, sophomore; Lyn Zeiger, senior; Ernie Szasz, sophomore; and John Spigle, junior. John Spigle was undefeated at the all-day tournament.

Mr. Ernest Szasz, Sr., coached the team. Mr. Jesse Whitcomb is the club's sponsor.

MATH CONTEST

Have you ever been stumped for half an hour, turning and twisting a geometry figure, trying to see a solution? Ever racked your brains trying to remember the right formula for an algebra-trig problem?

On April 15, 1967, at the new Elkhart High School, nine Adams mathematicians represented their school at the Regional Invitational Math Tournament. Coached and sponsored by Mr. Morris Aronson and Mr. Volney Weir, these students have worked especially hard to learn their math.

Sophomores at the contest took a test comprised of strictly modern geometry. The three sophomores from Adams who went to the contest were: Ruth Ann Goldner, Mark Bravin, and Kathy Kruyer.

Juniors were: Craig Steinke, Mike True, and Chris Larson.

Seniors included John Held, Larry Magee, and Lyn Zeiger. The juniors and seniors took the same comprehensive math test which included many problems on trig and log functions. An hour and a half was allowed to take the tests, but even the best students had to struggle to even come close to finishing.

West Lafayette won the contest with a team total of 34 points. Crown Point won second place with 32½ points. Valparaiso took third with 19 points. Adams came in fourth with a total of 18 points. In all, 10 teams participated.

Individual ribbon winners were: Mark Bravin and Craig Steinke, first-division ratings; Mike True, second-division rating; and John Held, third-division rating.

Booster Club wishes to announce the results of the election of officers for the school year 1967-68. The new president is Pam Martinov; her vice-president is Nena Zeiger. Karen Kamp will take over as secretary, and Sue Gregor will keep the treasurer's books. Karen McLure will be keeping order as the new sergeant at arms.

Candidates Speak

president because I believe I am qualified to bring about changes and create a new wave of interest in school activities which will benefit all the students of John Adams High School.

What is the most frequent statement one may hear about Student Council: "Student Council is a farce." "It's a rubber stamp for the administration." "What has it done for me?" Yes, I admit that Student Council should do more for the students in our school, but more important is, "What have you done for Student Council?"

With your support, this is what I would do for you next year: 1. Most important is to keep in mind that Student Council is your representative, and therefore, more projects should be initiated for you, the student. 2. Find out what you want Student Council to do for you, and then base our program of activities on this. 3. Make you aware at all times of what Student Council is planning and what it is planning to do. 4. Streamline Council's organization. Make the duties of the officers more meaningful, and the board less powerful. Give more responsibility back to the homeroom representatives and to the students outside of Council.

With your support, all of these problems can be solved. I ask you to join me in my rebellion for more effective and efficient student government.

The Game of Kings Fascinates Many Players

Chess, a game of intellect, was probably originated in Persia (present day Iran) in about 500 A.D. It spread eastward to India, where the rules of chess were stabilized. For centuries thereafter, chess was to be played only by kings and nobles.

The game of chess is fascinating. Two players each receive an army of sixteen men to be maneuvered on a board of sixty-four squares. The basic rules of chess are simple; the combinations almost infinite.

The idea of the game is to attack the opponent, penetrate his defenses, and check-mate (capture) his king. The maneuvering takes such skill that it is no wonder that the game is included in the curriculum of many educational institutions and most military schools.

This traditional game of kings is available to all John Adams students. Anyone can learn the simple rules, then, if he develops strong military skills, he may get a chance to play against some of the state's strongest players.

LANDRY ACCEPTS POSITION AS ADAMS' HEAD PRINCIPAL

Mr. Landry has a family of four. His two sons attend Marshall School and are in the fourth and seventh grades. Interested in music and sports, they participate in both. His wife is one of the counselors at LaSalle High School.

Mr. Landry attended St. Anne's School in St. Anne, Illinois, which is near Kankakee, Illinois. He then attended Butler College where he earned a B.S. degree, and then Ball State where he earned his M.A. At the present, Mr. Landry is taking some courses at Indiana Extension.

Mr. Landry feels that it will be a tremendous challenge to help provide an educational program which will meet the needs of every student. He does not plan to make any major changes, but believes that small changes are necessary to keep pace with the demands of society.

Hoping that soon there will be a day when every student will want to develop his potential to the fullest, he feels, "It is tragic when a young man or woman does not choose to prepare himself adequately for a happy and successful life."

Baseball Team Will Visit Goshen Redskins Tonight

Tonight at 4:00, the Adams Eagles nine will travel to Goshen to play the Redskins in a NIC game. The Eagles will try to improve their 1-1 Conference record.

The Eagles, coached by Lennie Buczkowski, got off to one of their best starts in years. After beating their first six opponents, they lost to Riley and Culver. The season opener was played with Mishawaka on April 4. The score was 11-1 with Doug MacGregor going the distance, allowing two hits. The next day, Adams beat LaSalle 5-4, with Greg Pawlowski getting the victory. On April 6, St. Joe succumbed to Bob Storm's 16 strikeouts, losing 6-2.

The first conference game was played with Michigan City. Adams won 9-5 with Storm getting the victory. On April 15, Adams swept a doubleheader against Niles. The first game went 10 innings, 7-6. The second game was 6-2. Adams lost their first game against Riley, 10-2, and Culver beat them 12-1 on April 22.

Looking ahead, Adams will play host to Michigan City on May 1. The next day, Adams plays Clay at Bendix Park. Last year Clay beat Adams, 8-5. The following day, Adams will try to get revenge on Riley.

Golfers Await Four NIC Foes

Four conference golf matches are on Coach Veryl Stamm's golf team's schedule next week after they play host to St. Joe on Monday night.

The Eagles and Washington will be the guests of Michigan City on Tuesday, and on Thursday Adams and Riley will visit Central.

The linkers began their season on April 11 by downing Bremen. On April 14 they split a pair of matches, beating Lakeland and losing to Riley. The following day, they lost to Warsaw while downing Riley and Culver M.A. On April 17 Elkhart fell to the Eagles.

April 20 turned out to be a bad day as the team lost to both Elkhart and Mishawaka. Adams plays their home matches on the Erskine Golf Course.

TRACK TEAM TAKES SECOND PLACE IN GOSHEN RELAYS

Paced by individual stars Scott Campbell, Ken Butts, John Jackey, and Larry Preston and the relay teams, Coach Neil McLaughlin's debut in the Goshen Relays was successful. Finishing with 49 points, the Eagles were second only to powerful Elkhart.

Campbell won the shot put with a throw of 57 feet 2 3/4 inches and Butts won the 100-yard dash with a :10.0 clocking. Jackey took a second in the pole vault and Preston a third in the long jump.

Adams' indoor season was completed back on March 29 with the running of the Washington Invitational at Notre Dame. The Eagles amassed a total of 111 points to outdistance second-place Washington by 41 points.

The trackmen opened their outdoor season by overwhelming La-Porte, 88-29, on March 31. On April 6 the Eagles took first place in all 14 events and dumped Goshen, 91-27.

In their next three meets St. Joe, Mishawaka, and Penn were beaten rather easily.

The Eagles' five-meet winning streak came to an end on April 20 when Elkhart barely edged Adams, 59-58.

Despite losing to the Blazers, who have not lost a dual meet since 1963, Eagle trackmen were able to set three new school records. The half-mile relay team, made up of Ron Collins, Ken Butts, George Wilkins, and Tom Walls, set one with a time of 1:31.4.

Jackey erased his own pole vault mark with a jump of 13 feet. Campbell threw the shot 56 feet 2 1/2 inches to set another. He broke that mark in the Goshen Relays, though.

One of the surprises on this year's team has been Phil Thompson. Until this season he had never run the 880-yard dash, but has run the distance in 1:57 already this year.
