Planutis Voices Optimism As Cavemen Await Eagles

by Howard Berman

With less than 84 hours away, the 1967 campaign of the John Adams football Eagles will be underway. At Mishawaka Saturday night, the Eagles will face the Mishawaka Cavemen.

Head coach Jerry Planutis, heading into his seventh season, is looking to this season with optimism. With fourteen returning lettermen and a good crop of sophomores and juniors, the Eagles will definitely be in contention. "The outstanding feature of this year's club," according to Coach Planutis, "is the desire and determination of these boys."

Coach Planutis cites that Washington, Riley, and Elkhart are the "toughest teams we will face this year."

PLAYERS' PAPP PROGRAM

When asked about the players' goal, Coach Planutis said that they have set up a "PAPP" program. "PAPP" stands for: pride, attitude, poise, and perfection.

Senior captain Dave Robinson leads the 1967 squad and lettermen who saw the most action last year. Among these fourteen lettermen, nine are seniors. The backfield looms as one of the strong points with seniors Mike McGann and Joe Waechter holding down the halfback slots. Pat Jackson will fill the fullback gap which was left by the 1966's most valuable player, Tommie Walls. Junior Rick Sayers will move up to the first-string quarterback. As targets, he will have juniors Richard Davis and Jim Smith.

SENIORS HOLD SEVERAL KEY SLOTS

The line will consist mainly of seniors. Tom Koehler will hold the center position. At guards, there will be Tom Kruyer and Dave

TICKETS

The price of a single ticket at the door will be $1.25 for students and adults, and $.75 for students under the ninth grade. Single tickets sold at school will be $1.00 for adults and $.75 for students. Mr. John Schutz replaces Mr. Bill Przbys as ticket manager.

Fourteen New Faces on Faculty

There are fourteen new teachers at Adams this year. They are: Mrs. Margaret Meyers, English, Mrs. Karen Lariner, English, Mr. Robert Reed, social studies, Mr. Sam Companion, social studies, Mr. John Koellner, science, and Mr. Rick Kraft, science.

Also, Mrs. Joan Sullivan, French, Mr. Alex Benko, freshman counselor, Mr. Harold Howell, DCE business, Mr. Ron Hodgson, allied arts, Mr. Roy Dayhuff, physics, and Mrs. Marjory Starkweather, librarian.

Adams has two teachers who will be teaching and studying at Notre Dame. Both Mr. James Lopach and Mr. Thomas Plastino will be teaching English three periods per day.

Mrs. Doris Stuban will be the secretary for the two assistant principals and Mrs. Susan Kindt will be the principal's secretary.

Landry Assumes Principal Role After Two Years As Assistant

Mr. Virgil Landry appears pensive as he begins his first full day's duty as Principal of the city's largest high school.

Mr. Virgil Landry, formerly assistant principal at Adams for the last two years, is now the principal at Adams. Before coming to Adams, Mr. Landry taught physical education and social studies at a school near Marion, Indiana. He was also head football coach there.

He has now been at Adams for four years, teaching physical education and serving as track coach and assistant football coach. He has been teaching for fifteen years.

Mr. Landry has a family of four. His two sons attend Marshall School and are in the fifth and eighth grades.

Mr. Landry attended St. Anne High School in St. Anne, Illinois, which is near Kankakee, Illinois. He then attended Butler University where he earned his M.A. At the present, Mr. Landry is continuing his graduate work at Indiana University.

Mr. Landry feels that it will be a tremendous challenge to help provide an educational program which will meet the needs of every student. He does not play to make any major changes, but believes that small changes are necessary to keep pace with the demands of society.

Hoping that soon there will be a day when every student will want to develop his potential to the fullest, he feels, "It is tragic when a young man or woman does not choose to prepare himself adequately for a happy and successful life."

Band Featured at Toronto, Then Goes to Niagara

Excitement reigned as a portion of the Adams band met in the bandroom for the first rehearsal of the new music that was to be memorized by Monday July 30, which was only two days hence. Gradually the nervous excitement died down as everyone got to work at the business on hand.

This was it! The band now really had a chance to work hard for something unusual and very worthwhile; they had been asked to perform a pre-game and a half-time show at a professional football game in Toronto, Canada.

ONLY SIX BANDS

In Toronto, there are some 120 high schools and only six of them have bands. Therefore, they try to bring in bands to promote music in this Canadian city. To do their part, the Toronto Argonauts, a professional football team requested a good band for their game against the Montreal Alouettes, and Adams was recommended.

Hours of practice followed. During the rehearsals each member experienced his or her own feelings of defeat, stupidity, and anguish when band director Norval Withrow or Larry Schafer, or drum major Ric Oswald screamed,

"You're out of step," or "Your squad is lost again! You did a right pinwheel instead of a right flank!"

This small spark grew as 99 band members, 15 chaperones, and 2 directors boarded the four chartered buses on Thurs. Aug. 10, and headed northward.

LUXURY ABOUNDS

About 8:30 that evening, the entire group arrived at the Valhalla Inn. Since the Argonauts were paying for everything except three meals, no one had expected luxury to await them. It was soon found, however, that the Argo-

Darsee to Keynote All School Assembly

The annual Back to School Assembly this year will be highlighted by its alumnus speaker, John Darsee. Mr. Landry will also give a short speech, and the mixed chorus will sing a medley of songs from the musical, "Brigadoon."

Dean Abbott is in charge of the assembly; its purpose is to introduce the new teachers at Adams and to welcome them and all students back to another school year. The assembly is planned for Thursday, Sept. 7, 1967.

The TOWER Has Changed Frosh Given

Anyone need only to glance at the Tower to see the change that has been made. Over the summer months the staff has worked to uncover new ideas and methods of news reporting. After much hard work an entirely new process of printing was selected to enhance the quality of the Tower.

Starting with this first issue, the Tower will be printed offset instead of by letterpress. An offset press actually photographs the paper so that pictures and artwork can easily be used. By the other way, letterpress, the type had to be set and pictures had to be engraved. Offset will allow the use of many more pictures than in past years and even hand drawn cartoons, advertisements, and editorial comics.

A high school newspaper is by no means an easy job to undertake. Much time is spent with the layout and format as well as with the actual reporting and writing. Full cooperation by the entire school in backing the Tower is needed so that many of the ideas which the staff wishes to incorporate can become realities. Writers, typists, cartoonist, and artists can be helpful in making our newspaper the best it has ever been. A newspaper is not just for news but also for opinions. If at any time you, the individual, has an opinion you would like expressed write it down and give it to any member of the Tower Staff. Let the staff know what is happening so we may publicize it before the event takes place, not afterwards. Make your high school newspaper a community effort, not the job of a few.

The Tower Staff hopes that with the opportunities opened to us by our new printer, Ramarr Printing and Publishing Company that we may better serve you and your need for a weekly newspaper. However, we do hope that it will become a total school effort. The Tower in the future with your help can be a means whereby opinions, stands, news, gossip, and school spirit can be expressed to meet a basic need of communication.

Riverview Trip

Again this year, the band began their annual trip to Riverview Amusement Park in Chicago on August 29. They went to Riverview to march in the annual Mardi Gras parade.

A thorough inspection of the band was made by a panel of judges, and the band was graded on such things as style, appearance, tone, and uniformity, and then received a score.

After visiting with the other people who were going to march, the band was called to attention and the parade began.

After a good marching job, each member received free tickets to the rides in the park, and everyone enjoyed the entire trip.

SCHOOL SONG

All hail to the Scarlet and Blue,
To you we are loyal and true,
We're cheering your name
As you fight on to fame
As the Eagles go flying through,
Rah! Rah!
There's no time to rest
Adams High,
Keep doing your best
Adams High,
So fight till the job is done
And fight till the team has won
A victory for you Adams High.
Go, Adams, Go!
Go, Adams, Go!
Hit 'em high, hit 'em low,
Go, Adams, Go!

Tour of Adams

Yesterday five-hundred eighty freshmen and eighteen new students were introduced to John Adams High School. The day proved to be a hectic one for both confused freshmen and their supposedly calm guides. The class of '71, complete with fourteen homeroom teachers, is now a group of high school students.

BUSY FIRST DAY

Their first day of high school was pictured like this. Each freshman was shown how to operate his locker at about 10 A.M. Then they were dismissed and asked to come back at one that afternoon for a short assembly in the auditorium. There, they were introduced to the principal, Mr. Landry, the two assistant principals, Mr. Przybysz and Mr. Sriver, the nurse, Mrs. Chamberlin, and the head custodian, Mr. Shreeve. These introductions were followed by a welcoming speech by the Student Council President, Greg Pawlowski. Next on the agenda were the cheerleaders who helped the frosh get acquainted with a few of Adams' victory chants. The assembly ended with a short style show in which the freshmen were shown the proper school attire for Adamsites.

REFRESHMENTS

To finish the first day of school for the ninth graders, punch and cookies were served in the cafeteria, followed by music, provided by "Brand X", in the Little Theater.

The annual "Show Ya Round" at Adams has made high school a reality for the class of '71; a reality the sophomores, juniors and seniors have already faced.

Booster Club Plans Big Year

While most of the Adams student body was vacationing or just blowing the summer, the Booster Club has made posters and ordered booster tags; they have even started to plan the Eagle-Bear rally and homecoming with Central by now. Much of their time has also been spent planning the two bus trips for away football games at Elkhart and LaPorte.

The first meeting of the Booster Club will be held Friday, September 8, in the cafeteria. Club dues will be 50 cents for the entire year. Don't forget to join the Booster Club to boost all of the Adams teams on to victory!

Mr. Przybysz & Mr. Sriver Give Adams "New" Image

Something new is in store for Adams this year; there will be two assistant principals instead of only one. Mr. William Przybysz will supervise student activities, and Mr. Monte Sriver will supervise the educational services at Adams.

Mr. Przybysz

Mr. Przybysz is married and has two children. Debbie will be entering the second grade at St. John the Baptist School this fall.

ATTENDED CENTRAL

A resident of South Bend all of his life, Mr. Przybysz attended Central High School and then Ball State University where he earned both his bachelors and masters degrees.

Mr. Przybysz has taught at Adams for seven years, sponsored the Booster Club for the past two years, and also served as ticket manager. He feels that it is an honor and a privilege to be chosen to be an assistant principal, and is looking forward to his new position.

Mr. Sriver is also married and as yet has no children, but his wife is expecting. She formerly taught school in South Bend at Marshall School, and at an elementary school in Plymouth.

IMPRESSED WITH STAFF

Mr. Sriver, a native of Rochester, earned both his bachelors and masters degrees from Ball State University. Before coming to Adams, he was a mathematics teacher, student counselor, and assistant principal at a high school in Plymouth. Mr. Sriver has been teaching school for seven years. He is impressed with the school in general, its staff, and also with what he has learned about Adams' student body.

Mr. Sriver

Kraft Only Newcomer to Staff

This season will begin Coach Gerald Planutis' seventh year at the helm of the John Adams football team. In that seven year span, his record is 24-25-5. But in that record, Mr. Planutis has to show the 9-0 record compiled by last year's championship team. Adams won the Northern Indiana Conference and was rated third in the state. So far he has two winning seasons in a row.

Mr. Planutis feels strongly towards football and of the helping to prepare the physical and mental attitude of the boys.

ASSISTANTS HELP PLANUTIS

Everyone knows that the head coach can't do everything. Mr. Planutis has a very good staff working with him. Mr. Lennie Buczkowski begins his fifth season with Adams. Mr. Buczkowski works with the quarterbacks and is coach of the B-team. Starting his second year at Adams is Neil McLaughlin. He is the defensive line coach.

Mr. Morris Aronson replaces Veryl Stamm as offensive line coach. Coaching the freshmen is Vince Laurita and Richard Kraft. Mr. Laurita begins his fifth year as assistant coach under Jerry Planutis. He will be coaching the freshmen. He is also the chief scout for the team. Mr. Richard Kraft begins his first year at Adams coaching the freshmen. He replaces Coach Aronson.

Thus the assistant coaches have their "hands full" in trying to mold a group of boys into conference champions.

Frosh Stumble Thru Obstacle Course

You see, I walked into this place, and it was huge! I saw the walls, the ceiling, and all of these other kids coming at me...

When I picked myself up, I strolled nonchalantly over to a map on the wall and found an arrow marking the spot where I now stood. I then, after much searching, found my homeroom. Even though I had been there yesterday, I just couldn't quite remember which hall it was in.

Finding it on the map was one thing, and finding it by walking was another. One would almost think it was the Christmas rush!

ELEVATOR PASSES?

I finally made it to my room and was greeted by someone selling elevator passes. I politely refused but I wish I would have just shook my head because my voice squeaked.

My classes went pretty well. I was calm enough in English to say that Mark Twain wrote The Human Comedy, and I managed in Spanish to answer a question addressed to me by saying, "Ya, Fraulein." The best class was civics where I gave a short speech on the laurels of communism. I'd just read a book recently on the evils of communism, so I decided to reverse its philosophy and shake up the class a little.

A BAFFLING LUNCH HOUR

Then came lunch, and man, did that ever baffle me! Someone or something, put me on "E" lunch and the only people arounds were these big seniors. Well, I tried to remember what they told us; the cafeteria lunch line serves the plate lunch and other things, the upstairs lunch line serves ala carte (or was that plate lunch), and one or the other lunch lines in the back serve plate lunch or ala carte but which served which, I was not sure. Why, I didn't even know what the plate lunch was. I got in one line and as I struggled to see over the shoulder of a tall senior to read the menu, my glasses were knocked off. As I picked them up I dropped my money. By then everyone was staring, so I picked up most of it, but rather than crawl all over the floor to get it all, I just kicked the few pennies under the door. No one even saw me, I don't think.

I ended up eating a cucumber sandwich and a lettuce salad swimming in chocolate milk because I had been very clumsy in opening the milk carton. When anyone stared at me, I just told them I liked it that way.

Things went pretty well the rest of the afternoon except when I turned on the water faucet at the drinking fountain too high, and came up with my face and front part of my hair soaked. I bumped into a person who was later greeted as Mr. Aronson, I walked into an open door, and I was five minutes late for fifth hour, but it's all to be expected for a frosh spending his first day at Adams.

Cheerleaders Anticipate Opener

If some Tuesday or Thursday summer evening you strolled past Edison Junior High a surprise awaited you. It would seem as if from nowhere a pretty girl ran toward you and yelled "Audrey." Then Jo Ann, Barb, Karen, Joni, and Terry could be heard as five more girls ran and formed a V formation. They were cheering. Who were they, and whom were they cheering when apparently no contest of any sort was taking place?

These girls are the members of John Adams varsity cheering squad and were practicing for the opening football game. Led by captain Terry Waters, Audrey Niespodziany, Karen Kamp, Joni Samuels, Jo Ann Pitts, and Barb Allin practiced for one hour every evening.

GIRLS ATTEND CAMP

After school was out, the first week of June, the six cheerleaders headed for cheerleading camp in Hartland, Michigan for a week. There they virtually lived a life of cheering. Rising early in the morning they cheered their way to breakfast, cheered back to make their beds, cheered in two one hour class sessions, cheered for lunch, and cheered for dinner. Then they and their one-hundred fifty companions from thirty schools in Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, and Ohio, presented their progress to the camp every night.

IMPROVED STYLE

The girls claim to have improved their style. They now use straight arm gesticulation. They have also learned some new skits and yells.

The girls all belong to Booster Club. They plan to cheer the teams on to victory.

Band Highsteps to Toronto, Niagara

nauts were not misers. The Inn was a fabulous motel with a small swimming pool and beautiful rooms. The extra large pieces of roast beef for dinner further confirmed the fact that their hosts were not cheap.

The buses reached the Canadian National Exhibition which is like a huge permanent fair. Here was the stadium. Here nerves began to tingle as the band went through the motions of the shows on a new field. This time there were no hash marks, no rodden down grass, no special little holes to tell the marcher where he was supposed to be standing. The rehearsal went very badly and a group of scared kids returned to the Inn with the hope that the old cliché, a bad rehearsal means a good performance, was true.

After a smorgasbord lunch served by French waiters, the band split up. Some went swimming, some slept, and others went to a shopping center to spend time and money.

Then, it happened! This was really it! The small spark that had been in each person grew into a big flame of excitement, thrill, and a nervous desire to do the very best. The 99 members stood on the field before 30,000 people, ready to put on the best pre-game show ever. The crowd really cheered as they went through various patterns playing "I Love A Parade." They then stood in a maple leaf formation and played "Oh Canada," then did double time off the field to a tremendous round of applause.

Several cheers were done for the Argonauts, but the team just looked bewildered as if no one had ever done the cheer "Charge" for them before.

NEAR PERFECT

Then came the big fifteen minute halftime show. No one lost their hat or music. It wasn't perfect, but near to perfect. The crowd gathered around the field to watch the entire thing and then show their appreciation by honest applause. The feeling of, "We did it! We knew we could and now we have proven it to everyone!" Every band member, and especially the directors felt the proud feeling of accomplishment.

The Argonauts won the game 14 to 7. The band then made an unscheduled appearance at the Toronto city hall for about 100 people. Giddy laughter was heard as everyone stepped on each others toes while trying to do the same show they had done on the football field by marching in place, but doing the dances.

All the kids packed up the next morning. The four buses went to Niagara Falls to add an additional thrill to the trip, then headed for home.

TP HOUSE

The following evenings revealed the band's appreciation to Mr. Withrow for all of his hard work. His house saw rolls of pink and blue toilet paper and a roll of paper towels.

TEAMS BUSY PREPARING FOR OPENERS

CC Boasts 4 Returning Lettermen

With first-year coach, Dan Poe at the reigns, this year's cross-country squad should be one of Adams best. With four returning lettermen, including Jack Driver, who set the school record last year, and Kevin Walters, the thin-lies will be shooting for high stakes. The other lettermen are Bill Manuszak and Phil Hamilton.

Coach Poe said that it will be hard to replace Phil Thompson but with hard work and team effort it will be a very successful season.

CROSS-COUNTRY SCHEDULE
 FRI. Sept. 8 at Central
 TUES. Sept. 12 Bremen
 THURS. Sept. 14 Michigan City
 TUES. Sept. 19 at Penn

*THURS. Sept. 21 Central at Riley
 TUES. Sept. 26 Clay at Niles
 *THURS. Sept. 28 LaPorte at Mish.
 *THURS. Oct. 5 Mich. City at Goshen
 TUES. Oct. 10 Jackson
 *THURS. Oct. 12 Elkhart at Wash.

The harriers will travel to Central for their season opener. The runners are shooting for an undefeated season. Last year's record was 15 wins and 1 loss.

During the following week, the boys will host Bremen on Tuesday and Michigan City on Thursday. Their meets are run on the 2-mile Potawatomi Park course and begin at 4 o'clock.

Robinson, Jim Aitchison will also be vieing for a guard slot. Tackles will be juniors Jeff Tulchinsky and Terry Redman, Ken Cole will also help out.

The punting and kicking specialists will most likely be Paul Shapiro doing the kicking along with Mike Fox. Punting will be done by Shapiro, Waechter, and sophomore Ed Freel.

Other players who should see a lot of action are junior Bert Fleming, who should back up Sayers and on defense, senior Joe Broadstreet, center and defense; junior Vince Fragomeni who will be on the line; and senior Chris May who will be playing guard.

The Eagles seem to have a strong bench, which is very important because if some player gets injured, a quick replacement must take his place.

FACE EIGHT CONFERENCE TEAMS

Because of the new conference, the Eagles will be facing eight conference foes. After the Mishawaka game, the Eagles return home to face Michigan City. On September 22, Adams travels to Elkhart and then return to host Central and Riley. After the LaPorte and Washington games, the Eagles will play their only nonconference game against Clay.

CENTRAL 1ST FOE OF B-TEAM

Today at 4 P.M., Coach Len Buczkowski will lead his B-team football players against Central on their home field. Last year, the B-team beat Central.

The Beagles will be out to better or equal last year's impressive record of 7 wins and 2 losses.

The B-team consist mainly of sophomores and juniors who do not see much action with the varsity. All coaches work with the B-team to help them get ready for the varsity.

"B" TEAM FOOTBALL

Netters Await Riley Fifty Boys Greet Coaches Laurita & Kraft

A squad of approximately 50 members greeted Coach Vince Laurita and first-year coach Richard Kraft for the opening session of practice on August 15. A determined freshmen squad will try to improve on last year's record of 2 wins against 6 set-backs.

The coaches must try to accomplish several things with the freshmen. First they must prepare them for varsity action in future years. They must also instruct them in the basic fundamentals of football.

The frosh open their schedule by playing Mishawaka at home and then traveling to Riley and St. Joseph's the following two weeks.

Freshmen games are played on Thursday afternoons at 4 P.M. Home games are played on the field behind the school.

Three returning lettermen greeted first-year coach Bob Saunders as the Adams tennis team began practice. John Norris, Mike True, and Dave Beatty will make-up the nucleus of this year's team. Other boys that Coach Saunders will rely on are Dave Woo, Dennis Kelly, and Bob Brickley.

Coach Saunders feels that Goshen and LaPorte will be the teams to beat in the area. The players hope to improve on last year's record of 5 wins and 4 losses.

Something new in the schedule this year is a state tournament to be played. Coach Saunders hopes to see many of the people cheering the netters on.
