OUR CHEERLEADERS

The perverse attitude of our cheerleaders this year has cost us our ECIC title.

Cheerleaders are supposed to lead the crowds into chants, and excitement; to raise the morale of the crowd, as well as the team. But along with their superficial spirit, there were their sullen faces!

We saw them, and the team, obviously, did also. There was no encouragement on their part, whatsoever!

They stood on the sidelines, as the crowd began, and ended with their own cheers, with no help from the cheerleaders. When the crowd subsided, they tried to decide on a cheer to do, with no predetermination.

How can our school spirit be boosted when those who stand for spirit are so inept?

I, in representation of the student body, sincerely hope that the cheerleader tryouts will prove fruitful in providing for our school better and more efficient leaders for our athletic events.

Debbie Napora

LONELINESS

if we were one
perchance we may still be alone
for if we seek the same
our lives are drought.

listen within
hear thy own thoughts
dream for the pleasure
of them not turning out.

Deb Makarski

I know that a lot of you feel that S.A.C. hasn't done too much lately. But, until someone- anyone- starts to take a little interest in what is going on in this school, we might as well be working in a tolatarian state, run by teacher's and the Board. But,
I don't think that this is what you really want. Or is it?

Angie Cassidy

I am enjoying spending time with our family, including 5 grandchildren.  WHO REMEMBERS NAKED SWIMMING FOR GUYS?! People still don't believe me when I tell them. Guys couldn't wear swimming trunks, but had to wear bathing caps. I still can't figure out the logic in that. Some of us made the best of it by running and sliding on the pool deck with our bare bottoms. I wonder if the girls peeking through the doors enjoyed the view.....And who didn't pay their towel fee and took 2 towels?!

Gosh there's not enough room...after college the first time, worked for Prior Aviation in the flight department – both charter and flight school. Met Naval aviator and future husband, Tom. Married in 1983 and moved to Troy, MI. Started my own business for 25 years and continued with my education graduating from Central Michigan University. While my client, St. Mary's College, fell under the leadership of Madonna University, Madonna kept me on. Served as coordinator for the state continuing education program in the College of Education, Teacher Certification and Professional Development where I got state approval for teacher programs offered by national companies. Covid forced an early retirement which I wasn't ready for. Was offered position at Caswell Window and Door in both customer service and accounts receivable. Currently work part time and enjoy every minute!!

I got a degree from Buffalo State College in electronics engineering technology. After seeing the increased usage of computers in the early 1980s and the deficiency of most engineers in this area, I started course in computer science at UB in 1987. I've worked at Sierra Research, Motorola and GM Lockport in the engineering departments along with several smaller companies.
