New Tube Station for Hoboken?

The Port of New York Authority's acquisition of the Hudson Tubes may cause major changes in all Hoboken public transportation facilities.

It may also, as the Chamber of Commerce warned some months ago, have a detrimental effect on property values in the existing transportation center at the Erie Lackawanna Terminal.

A NEW SYSTEM map, released by the Port Authority, eliminates the existing PATH station beneath the Erie-Lackawanna Terminal.

Instead, shown as a "possible PATH extension" is a new line from the proposed transfer station to the existing PATH tunnel beneath Henderson Street near Observer Highway.

The possible extension calls for trains to make a right hand turn from Observer Highway into Henderson Street.

A PORT AUTHORITY spokesman said no definite decisions have been made regarding the relocation of the Hoboken station.

12 Men Hold Up Shipment

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (UPI) — An Italian freighter with a cargo of Russian material for Cuba was stalled in this South Italian port today because 12 crewmen refused to continue the trip.

Port authorities said that under maritime law the freighter, "Airone," an Italian-owned liberty ship, could not sail from here unless and until the 12 men are replaced.

THE INCIDENT was the first involving an Italian ship on the Russia-Cuba run.

The use of merchant ships from Italy and other NATO countries to carry Soviet supplies to Cuba has stirred sharp criticism in the United States.

Italian government officials recently joined in deploring the shipowners' action and hinted that legal action might be taken against shipowners "colluding with the enemy."

Polio Vaccine

States Told to Halt Type 3 for Adults

By United Press International

Most of the nation's health authorities have adopted a wait-and-see attitude about the cherry-flavored Sabin Type III polio vaccine.

If U.S. Surgeon General Luther Terry was taking an extra measure of caution in recommending that adults not be given Type III, state and local health authorities were pretty much in agreement.

Suspend Type 3

Most made no plans to cancel immunizations scheduled with Types I and II, but where live-virus Type III immunizations already had been planned they were suspended pending further study.

Terry, after a day-long meeting with Public Health Service and other medical advisors, made the recommendation Saturday.

He said the nation's mass immunization program using the Sa-bir vaccine should continue with all three types for those of school age and with Types I and II for adults.

Decision Local

But Terry stated that the final decision on how to administer the immunization program would rest with state and local authorities.

He said a special report was being prepared and its results would be made public "within the next few days."

The health committee sessions were touched off after the Canadian government ordered an end to use of the Type III vaccine because of its possible link with polio cases.

To Designate Spacemen

HOUSTON (UPI) — Nine young men who have been secretly training for months stood ready to officially claim the title of "astronauts" today. Their destination — the moon, in five years or less.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it would reveal the new spacemen-elect to the world today in Houston, the new "space center" where they will prepare for their glamorous but dangerous missions of the future.

To one of the nine is expected to go the most coveted role in the nation's multi-billion-dollar manned spaceflight program—commander of the nation's first manned expedition to the moon in this decade.

Ted and Ed Surer Than The Bookies

BOSTON (UPI) — Teddy Kennedy and Eddie McCormack both predicted victory today in tomorrow's battle for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator. But they were so cautious that they sounded like a couple of fellows trying to whistle their way past a political graveyard.

"I will win, but it will be very, very close," Teddy said.

"I'm confident I will win, but I'm not predicting by how much," Eddie said.

Teddy is Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy. Eddie is Edward J. McCormack Jr., state attorney general and nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack.

President Stays With In-Laws

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — President Kennedy today faced a busy week that will take him to four cities and, thanks to the jet age, still permit him to have four days of relative rest and relaxation on the shore of Narragansett Bay.

The Chief Executive planned a leisure schedule here today at the home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss. He had planned to devote today to the second of America's Cup yacht races, but this contest has been put over until tomorrow.

And tomorrow the President and his wife planned to take a helicopter to Boston to vote in the Massachusetts Democratic primary, in which his younger brother, Edward, is seeking his party's senatorial nomination.

Congress Acts to Back JFK on Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate and House committees were working today on a resolution to give congressional backing to any action President Kennedy might take in the Cuban crisis.

The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees called Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to testify at a joint closed session on a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee was considering a companion measure sponsored by chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., and Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee.

Although Kennedy has not asked for any such backing from Congress, he told his news conference last week he would welcome the resolution if Congress wanted to enact it.

Sociologically Speaking

Families Aren't What They Used to Be

Population growth is under greater analysis today than at any other time in history, according to Dr. William J. Bertsch of the sociology department of St. Peter's College, Jersey City.

Dr. Bertsch was one of three demographers who addressed the population panel of the American Catholic Sociological Society at Catholic University in Washington.

TOPIC of his discussion was the "historical development and change in the concept of family size." He outlined how the term "family" has changed throughout history.

Before the advent of industrialization and urbanization, for example, he said, the family included aunts, uncles, in-laws and any other distant relatives who lived under the same roof.

Nowadays, however, the basic family unit is made up only of the mother, father and children, according to Dr. Bertsch, because it is no longer necessary for a large number of persons to live together to produce the basic necessities of life.

THE SALARY which the father earns today is sufficient to pay for the food, shelter, and clothing which is required by his family, he said.

Staunch concern over what constitutes a family has been made necessary, Dr. Bertsch says, by the efforts of sociologists to define more clearly the terms they use in population studies.

"The theme of my talk was the use of caution in referring to the family in historical studies," he said.

And perhaps today, when the world is rapidly approaching the stage where the population will double itself every 25 years, some caution in citing trends might be a definite necessity.

Time to Get Asian Flu Shot Is Now

Nationwide outbreaks of Asian flu are expected this fall and winter. The virus caused widespread illness and deaths among babies, children and the aged in 1957 and 1960.

According to Dr. William A. Loori, medical director of the Department of Health, influenza vaccination is recommended for young children, people over 45, expectant mothers, and anyone who suffers from a chronic weakening disease.

Klan Boosts Barnett

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — About 1,000 Ku Klux Klansmen met here yesterday and pledged support for Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett's defiant stand against integration.

Robert Shelton, imperial wizard of the Alabama Klan, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said his group is ready "to go to the assistance of any official that will defy President Kennedy and his invasion of the rights of sovereign states."

'Ole Miss' To Decide On Negro

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Gov. Ross Barnett appears before a reluctant state college board today to ask that it defy a U.S. Supreme Court edict and halt the admission of the first Negro student to the University of Mississippi.

Barnett already has called on board members to resign if they are unwilling to join him in the "righteous cause" of maintaining segregation at "Ole Miss."

THE 12 - MEMBER authority, which must determine whether to obey a court order to admit James H. Meredith, failed to reach a decision on the matter at a meeting Friday.

Hornung, Unitas, Galimore,
Crow Up to Old Heroics

By NORMAN MILLER

The Cleveland Browns may have the National Football League's "new look" but there's nothing wrong with the "old look" of such stars as Paul Hornung, Johnny Unitas, Willie Galimore and John David Crow.

Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland abandoned much of his old conservatism and let his Brownies try some razzle-dazzle yesterday in a 17-7 victory over the New York Giants. The Browns looked like the powerhouse of old with a more spectacular attack.

HORNUNG, the "Golden Boy" of the champion Packers, began the new N.F.L. season much the same as he ended the old one. He scored 28 points and led the Packers to an easy 34-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings.

Unitas also looked like the quarterback of the Colts' championship clubs of 1958 and '59 as he threw four touchdown passes. Two of these came within slightly more than two minutes of the final period as Baltimore rallied to beat the Los Angeles Rams, 30-27.

Contenders Dropping By Wayside

By MILTON RICHMAN

When it comes time for the champagne, both the Yankees and Dodgers may have to drink it glass backwards.

No team likes to back into the pennant. There's somewhat of a stigma attached to it, like coming up through the service entrance instead of the front door.

NEVERTHELESS, that seems to be the common course the Yankees and Dodgers are headed on in their aim to meet each other come Oct. 3.

Practically everybody who is anybody in both pennant races lost yesterday.

The Yankees lost . . . the Dodgers lost . . . the Giants and Reds lost . . . and the Angels lost.

Prep Loses Ed Vroom For Season Laurie Stars For Lincoln

It seems inevitable that every time St. Peter's Prep scrimmages Englewood, one of the Preppers winds up with a broken leg.

Such was the case for the third straight year Saturday as senior defensive corner backerup Ed Vroom suffered a fracture of the left tibia in the waning minutes of the Englewood workout. He'll be out for the season.

DESPITE VROOM'S injury, there was some joy in the Prep camp over the performance of sophomore quarterback Ron DiMiglio. DiMiglio appeared to have won the starting signal calling nod after his impressive performance. The classy operator excelled with his ball handling and passing.

The defensive play again highlighted the St. Peter's workout with Englewood scoring early in the workout and then being held for minus yardage the remainder of the afternoon. Len Mrozak, Pat Wallace and Glen Grieco bulwarked the defensive forward wall.

Retтино Stars

Jersey City's Lou Rettino scored a touchdown on a two yard plunge as Villanova opened its season with a 31-6 win over West Chester State, Saturday. The Wildcats' fullback was one of the stars in the win.

7:30 4 IT'S A MAN'S WORLD

A very delightful and promising series created by Peter Tewksbury, the man who produced, directed and wrote My Three Sons during its first year on television. Four very personable and talented young actors have the leads here; Glenn Corbett as Wes, young Michael Burns as his younger brother Howie, Ted Bossell as the irresponsible and charming Tom-Tom and Randy Boone as Vern, a would-be guitarist and folk singer. In this episode, the first three boys are living on a house boat moored on a river in a fictitious town based on Marietta, Ohio. Vern appears in this story, but he only has one scene with Howie and never gets to meet the other boys. The characterizations and dialogue are the big thing in this series, which has less plot than most. But once you meet these boys and their friends and neighbors, you will like them enough to want to know them better. Jan Norris plays Wes' girlfriend. (Premiere, 1 hour)

8:30 4 SAINTS AND SINNERS

This is a series with a newspaper background and a large cast of regulars. Nick Adam is a reporter; John Larkin, the city editor; Richard Erdman, the photographer; Robert F. Simon, the copy editor, and Barbara Rush, who appears periodically, the Washington correspondent. Lola Albright, Brian are the guest stars in this first episode. "Dear George, the Siamese Cat Is Missing." Lola plays a distraught wife whose husband is a kidnap victim. She has been instructed to place a classified ad in the classified section but because it is a Saturday, the classified section is closed. So the city room gets on the story, and keeps it quiet, only someone leaks the kidnaping to a scandal sheet and the victim's life is endangered. A well-acted, slick show. (Premiere, 1 hour)

10:00 2 HENNESEY

Hail and farewell, Chick Hennessey. This is the final show in the series. You are all invited to the wedding of Chick (Jackie Cooper) and Martha (Abby Dalton). This is a very nice show, with a proper blend of humor (as they prepare for the ceremony) and dignity. (Repeat.)

Gretel, that country's entry in the historic race, and the people involved in sailing her. Then in America, cameras followed the selection of the Weatherly and the trial races. Up to date coverage of the race, which began on Saturday, will be cut into this show. You will also see the dinner given by the Australians, with President and Mrs. Kennedy among the guests. (1 hour)

10:30 2 STUMP THE STARS

This is Pantomime Quiz back with a new name, a new master of ceremonies (Pat Harrington Jr.) and new players. Regulars will be Beverly Garland, Mickey Manners and Jan Clayton on one team and Sebastian Cabot, Ross Martin and Diana Dors on the other. Guests for the first show are Jerry Lewis and Jayne Mansfield. (Premiere.)

Beautiful Jersey: The Hope Increases

Encouraging developments have occurred in the Garden State and elsewhere since we began these editorials against growing ugliness in New Jersey.

In our part of the state there is increased awareness of the dangers involved in air and stream pollution and a greater understanding of how blight starts, how it progresses, and how it can be slowed down or halted.

IN AWAKENING public opinion against growing ugliness, this newspaper has pointed out the dangers of pollution and blight. These forces, which rob the Garden State of so much of its natural beauty, often menace health, too.

The suspicion grows stronger daily that there's a link between air pollution and lung cancer. All of us know how the air we breathe can bring on coughing and irritate the eyes. Air pollution reduces visibility. At night it can dim car lights to a dull amber, often contributing to crashes that result in injury and death.

The damage from pollution is staggering. Air pollution in our state alone costs more than $40,000,000 each year in damaged crops. And contaminants in the air, which often peel paint from buildings, cost untold millions more. Even when the pollutants are not strong enough to peel paint away or change its color, the begriming effects—the ash sent into the air by factories to float down on homes—force conscientious property owners to paint more often than should be necessary. How many more millions this costs can only be guessed at.
