Good News

The news that St. Peter's Prep contemplates a new building program is the best news Jersey City's Downtown area has had in a long time.

It was not too many years ago when there were doubts that the Prep even would stay in Jersey City.

Those were the years when the Gregory site was still a rubble-strewn field used only for squatters parking their cars near the Tube station.

In those years there were recurrent reports from real estate men in Union and Bergen counties that "inspection tours" seemed to indicate the Prep would relocate.
