

The Missing Super Bowl I Tape

Both NBC and CBS televised the game, but sadly there is only one known tape of that first Super Bowl in the possession of a third party. The NFL is currently negotiating to obtain that tape.

However, newly discovered footage has been provided to WPHAN, a/k/a “The PHAN” (Prep Highschool Athletic Network).

Look closely and you’ll see Q.B. & MVP Bart Starr (#12) dazzling the sellout crowd. Also on display is the the vaunted Lombardi power sweep lead by Right Guard, Fuzzy Thurston (#64), and Right Tackle, Forrest Gregg (#76). In this clip you’ll also see the awesome running game displayed by Running Back, Jim Taylor (#43) who dominated play throughout the game.
