St. Peter's Prep will defend county crown with some new faces

By Brandon Gould/The Jersey Journal
on March 31, 2014

With several of the names and numbers that filled his scorebook a year ago now gone, St. Peter's Prep coach Pat Laguerre has used this preseason to focus on the players that will lead the new-look Marauders.

Moving on from a talented senior class that carried Prep to the Non-Public, North A semifinals last season, the fourth-year coach is now eyeing the likes of seniors T.J. Ward, Mike Cirilo and Vinny Sita, as well as juniors Corey Caddle, Kyle Bowes, Mike Marino and Dan Cooney, to take the torch and carry a young Marauder squad in 2014.

"Losing (13 guys) can make you a little nervous, but this is where you rely on the kids who played last year — the Wards, the Bowes, the Cooneys, the Caddles," said Laguerre, who also guided Prep to a county title last season. "I think those guys will be challenged this year, but I think they'll respond well."

Ward will be the headliner of that bunch after a 2013 campaign which saw him selected to the First Team All-Hudson and Second Team All-Non-Public squads. The senior shortstop is headed to the University of Hartford to play baseball next year.

"We know what T.J. is going to be on the field and I think he understands now that he needs to take a more active role and more ownership of the team," said Laguerre. "He's going to be the one to set the table for us and he's embraced that role."

For Ward, the biggest adjustment as the go-to guy for the Marauders this preseason has been working to acclimate some of Prep's younger players to the nuances of the varsity level.

"I've been lucky to have strong senior leadership in the past, so it's been fun to take over that role and show the younger guys some things," said Ward, who went 2-for-3 in last year's county title game. "They come up to me with questions after every game and every practice and I think they'll pick things up as we go along and we'll have a good season."

However, Ward isn't alone in bringing the new guys into the fold, as the Marauders' junior class also brings back a wealth of experience and talent.

Caddle, who will play center field and pitch this year, was honored as a Third Team All-Hudson selection in 2013, while Bowes (left field), Marino (second base) and Cooney (closer) all provided valuable innings for a Prep team that went 26-4 and finished No. 6 in The Star-Ledger Top 20.

"I'm going to take a lot of the responsibility as the shortstop and returning guy, but I don't feel much added pressure at all coming into this year," said Ward. "Guys like Caddle, Bowes, Marino and Cooney are going to be a big part of our team, play every day and produce even more than they did last year.

"Their play is going to be pretty important this year and I know they're ready for it."

On the mound, Prep will be tasked with replacing Ryan O'Connor (Second Team All-State), Anthony Pacillo (Second Team All-Non-Public) and Ryan Finn (Second Team All-Hudson). In addition to Caddle, Laguerre hopes to use juniors Joe Kopacz, Antonio Velardi, Anthony Colegrove and Stephen Kellner as well as sophomore Nick Cerbone to fill those voids.

St. Joseph (Mont.) transfer Nick Camilleri will manage the pitching staff, taking over behind the dish for the Marauders.

While a lot of those names lack the fanfare of the ones they are replacing, Laguerre still believes that Prep can expect to have a strong year in 2014. The season starts tomorrow with a contest against Marist at Veterans Stadium in Bayonne.

"Even though the cast of characters is different, this team isn't depleted in terms of talent, so I haven't preached anything different this year and the expectations are going to be the same," said Laguerre. "It's going to take a little bit of time to get experience and there will be some tough periods and some adjustments, but I expect us to hit the ground running.

"I'm just hoping to stay healthy, stay together and let our talent dictate where the season is going to take us."

Baseball: Brilliant outing by Antonio Velardi propels St. Peter's Prep past No. 9 Bergen Catholic

By James Kratch/For The Star-Ledger
on April 02, 2014

Antonio Velardi considers himself a strikeout pitcher, but the junior right-hander from St. Peter's Prep did just fine for himself Wednesday by letting his fielders do most of the heavy lifting.

Velardi only fanned one hitter against Bergen Catholic but was sensational nonetheless, tossing a two-hitter as St. Peter's Prep posted a 2-0 triumph over the Crusaders, No. 9 in The Star-Ledger Top 20, at Breslin Field in Lyndhurst.

"I was able to throw all three of my pitches today," said Velardi, who also walked one batter and did not allow a runner past first base. "My changeup, curveball, fastball, everything was working good."

Velardi's only strikeout came in the first inning, when he got Bergen Catholic's John VanDeMark looking to end the frame and strand a runner who had reached base via error. From there, the remaining 18 outs all came in the field – nine in the air, eight on ground balls.

St. Peter's Prep coach Pat Laguerre felt the second out of that first inning – when second baseman Mike snared a hard shot to the right side on the lip of the outfield and threw out Bergen Catholic's Jordan Attilio, robbing him of a hit -- was Velardi's biggest out.

"I thought (Marino) making a diving play in the hole, I think that gave (Velardi) confidence that he could go out and compete in the strike zone," Laguerre said. "They are good hitters, and Antonio has good stuff. He's a swing or miss kid. They did a good job of putting balls in play. He knows he can throw pitches down the middle of the plate and we'll make plays."

Velardi also produced at the plate, delivering an RBI single to score Nick Cammelari in St. Peter's Prep's two-run second inning. Dan Cooney scored the other run for the Marauders (1-1) when Bergen Catholic starter Jared Finkel balked him home. Corey Caddle was 2-for-4 with two stolen bases and Mike Cirillo was 2-for-3 for St. Peter's Prep. Cammelari had the only extra base hit of the game with a double in the second inning.

Finkel went all seven innings, allowing eight hits with six strikeouts and an intentional walk. Erikson Nichols and VanDeMark had hits for Bergen Catholic (0-1).

"I tip my hat to that kid, he threw a hell of a game," Bergen Catholic coach Mark DeMenna said. "He battled. We were on him for most of the game, but they made the plays."

CREW

Our Team was founded in the spring of 2010 out of the Passaic River Rowing Association (PRRA) Boathouse in Lyndhurst, NJ.

We compete against high school rowing programs from all over the tri-state area as well as teams from Maryland and Pennsylvania. The team currently consists of 40 members and is still growing.

Before a rower can participate, he must complete the following steps; must pass the swim test and watch a safety training video. Practice runs 5 days a week during the Fall and Spring seasons with indoor training during the winter on Prep's Rowing machines.

Program History:

- In the Spring of 2010 the Novice 4 took 1st place at the Passaic River Sprints in Lyndhurst, NJ.
- In the Fall of 2010 the Novice 8 finished 2nd at the Head of the Hudson Regatta in Albany, NY.

Boys Volleyball season preview, 2014: Teams to Watch

St. Peter's Prep of Jersey City, which returns a solid nucleus including second team All-State setter Tyler Lee, Spencer Shickora and Shayron Taylor, looks poised to return to the NJSIAA finals for the first time since 2010.

"Our team motto this year is 'No excuses, No regrets,'" said Maurice Washington who begins his second season as head coach following the retirement of legendary Don Guide. "Our team goals are (to go) undefeated in Hudson County league play, win the county title, state sectional title and states title. Tyler, Spencer and Shayron are all returners with the determination and drive to bring titles back to Prep this season."

Bridgewater-Raritan downs St. Peter's Prep for Bloomfield Tournament Title

By John Christian Hageny/For The Star-Ledger
on April 05, 2014

At the end of nine hours of volleyball, Bridgewater-Raritan's record remained unblemished and it had the hardware to show for it.

The Somerset County school went a perfect 9-0 in pool play, downed Bloomfield and then St. Joseph of Metuchen in the playoffs before it defeated St. Peter's Prep, 25-21, in the final of the eighth Bloomfield Invitational yesterday.

Setter B.J. Blair ran an effective set throughout the day-long grind, which featured 15 teams from across the Garden State, as the junior setter utilized Matt Morin, Niko Lambert, Dan Kim, Mitchell Repak and Dan Gallagher to help Bridgewater-Raritan win the event for the first time in school history.

Despite the dominating performance, coach Corey Romanak still sees room for improvement, which does not bode well for the rest of the state.

Despite the dominating performance, coach Corey Romanak still sees room for improvement, which does not bode well for the rest of the state.

"I just saw a team gaining confidence every step of the way," said Romanak, The Star-Ledger Coach of the Year in 2005. "Every time we step on the court we see something special. The intangibles... We're not where we should be right now, but we're headed in the right direction."

"I see unlimited possibilities," Blair said. "We've come a long way, but I know we can go farther. I'm excited for this year. I think we can do a lot. So far we are undefeated."

Bridgewater rolled through double pool play, then defeated host Bloomfield, 25-15, in the quarterfinals and St. Joseph, 25-22, in the semifinals to meet St. Peter's Prep of Jersey City. A well-conditioned team, Bridgewater never lost stride in the final.

"Our conditioning in practice is key," Morin, a junior, said. "Coach keeps us in good shape. We just put our hearts into this and never gave up. We just kept playing. We're just a real well-rounded, tight-knit team. Danny, Niko, B.J. and I all play club together. We spread the ball around and kept our blockers ready."

St. Peter's Prep, led by Tyler Lee, Spencer Shickora and Shayron Taylor, edged Fair Lawn, 26-24, in the quarterfinals and defeated a surprising Don Bosco Prep team, 25-15, in the semifinals.

"I saw a real fighting spirit," Shickora said. "A lot of these games we came from large deficits. This last game we were down as many as eight, but we brought it back to within three. I'm proud of that. We just have to work on our consistency."

"We played flat. We were off and on all day," St. Peter's Prep coach Maurice Washington said. "At the end of the day, defense is what's going to win. We needed to stay more aggressive."

"You can't let any balls hit the ground. You have to play aggressive. This will be a good stepping stone for us. All around it was a good tournament for this team." -- Maurice Washington, St. Peter's Prep
