Future Bright For St. Peter's Prep Basketball Program This Year - by John Kelly, Jr. '04

Trevis Wyche, Sean Cummings, and Matt Halchak depart. Juniors Austin White, Vic Jusino, Sean Ryan, and Austin Roche return this year with a bevy of young talent behind them.

Freshman big man Najja Hunter had 18 last year versus Kearny and 8 points in the Marauders opening playoff win over Paramus Catholic. Junior Chris Wright provides defensive toughness and if he can exhibit the savage rebounding ability shown versus Plainfield it will help.

Emerging Youth On The Marauder Ice

Marauder Radio Network

The Marauder hockey team said hello to many new faces after graduating twelve senior varsity players last year. Although the team lost much, Coach Goodrich did not back down and again put together one of the toughest schedules in the tri-state area.

Aside from playing in the Gordon Conference, the best high school hockey conference in New Jersey, the team faced off against the Portledge School (New York), the Lawrenceville School, and last year's Public A state champion, the Randolph Rams. The squad finished at 7-16-1 in many players' first career varsity season. Despite the youth, the team advanced to both the quarterfinals of the Gordon Cup and the second round of the Non-Public state tournament for the second straight year.

Rocky Coviello '14 led the team in all scoring categories with 14 goals, 14 assists, and 28 points. Sean Crowley '15 was a close second netting 12 goals and collecting 10 assists, while Vinny Addeo '13 registered 13 goals and five assists. Also emerging on the team were Ryan Pezzola '14, Augie Burkhardt '16, John Martucci '14, and Brendan Smith '14.

The goaltending tandem of Jonathan Labella '15 and Scott Andreas '16 sprung into the spotlight, and Marauder fans should be very excited about the play between the pipes for the next few years. The hockey program continues to grow under Coach Goodrich, and this year the team awaits the challenges of playing the area's best teams. The team will return 18 of 22 varsity players.

Favorite: Delbarton is the hockey program by which all others in the Garden State are measured by. Led by the entire first team All-State forward line of John Baiocco, Josh Melnick and Alex Hagerty, the Morris Township school rebounded from a loss to Christian Brothers in the final of the 55th Gordon Cup to come back and shut out Don Bosco, 4-0, in the final of the NJSIAA tournament on Mar. 9 in Newark. The title marked Delbarton's sixth straight and 10th state title overall.

Following the graduation of its entire first line, however, along with the loss of Kevin Delaney, Trevor Incledon, Kevin Lewis, J.C. MacLean, Michael Pesce and starting goaltender Brian Forness, and Delbarton may be at its most vulnerable in years.

"We have a lot of question marks," Delbarton coach Bruce Shatel, who has led Delbarton to eight of its unmatched 10 state titles, said. "We have a lot of work to do. We are going to be big and physical. That's all I can guarantee right now."

St. Peter's Prep boys ice hockey erupts in first period on way to 7-2 victory over St. Augustine

By Brandon Gould/The Jersey Journal

on December 11, 2013 at 10:40 PM, updated December 11, 2013 at 10:47 PM

NEWARK — After being knocked back on its heels in the opening stages of the first period, the St. Peter's Prep ice hockey team needed just a single minute to get back on track in its 7-2 victory over St. Augustine Prep today at the AmeriHealth Pavilion.

The Marauders struck for three goals in a 61-second span during the first period, propelling them to their third victory of the season. Senior forward Ryen Pezzola notched two goals, while sophomore Augie Burkhardt finished with a goal and three assists, helping Prep improve to 3-1 this season.

Forced to play a man down after a hooking penalty put St. Augustine (1-2) on the power play just five minutes into the game, the Marauders seemed to be in a tight spot. While the South Jersey team got several shots on net during the man advantage, the St. Peter's defense and senior goaltender Jon Labella (34 saves) held strong and killed off the penalty — a stand that sparked the Marauders on the other end of the ice.

“(St. Augustine) got some opportunities and we didn't do too well on some of our defensive shifts, but (Jon) Labella was there to save us a bunch,” said junior forward Sean Crowley. “He really gave us a lift today.”

With the power play at its end, the Marauders (3-1) surged forward on offense, slicing through the Hermits back end to set up a goal a mere 14 seconds later from Burkhardt. That tally was only the beginning, as St. Peter's scored two more times courtesy of senior Sam Burkhardt and Crowley in a span of 61 seconds.

Senior Mike Zawiskowski would also score later in the period to give the Marauders a 4-0 lead heading into the first intermission.

“We're playing as a team now,” Crowley said of the Marauders' success in the opening period. “We were really focused before the game and came out hard and just got it done (in the first period).” The second period carried much of the same for the Marauders, who watched senior Rocky Coviello and Pezzola send shots into the back of the net. Meanwhile, the St. Peter's defense somehow managed to keep the Hermits off the board in spite of facing the task of killing three power plays — a feat accomplished thanks to stout performances in the defensive zone and in net.

“Jon played great today, but I don't think we really let up too many quality shots,” said interim coach Chris Gannon, who has been filling in for head coach Mike Goodrich since the fourth-year head coach recently tore his Achilles tendon.

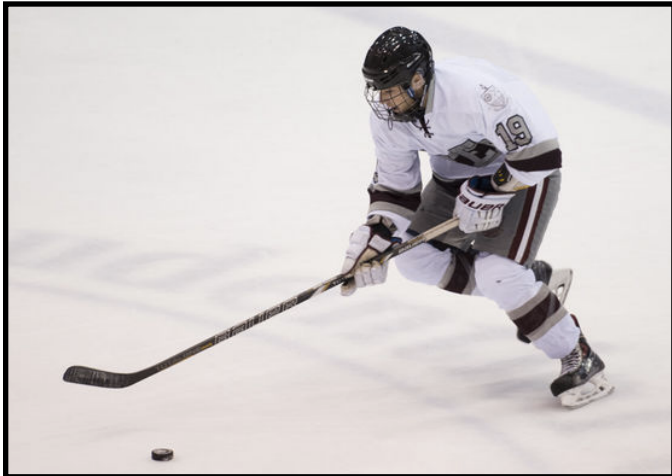

“We had a lot of bodies in front of the puck before it was able to make it to the net a lot of the time. There were a lot of shots, but they weren't just easy, single shots on net.”

The shutout would come off the books in the game's final period as the Richland-based school lit up the scoreboard twice, but the final 15 minutes of play did not take away from the overall lesson of the game, which was won with a concerted effort.

The two Gordon Conference opponents will meet again Friday, as Prep travels to the Mt. Laurel Igloo for a 4:40 p.m. puck drop.

“We want to be seen as a tough team, a team that works together,”

Athlete Spotlight: Mike Russo '14

Mike Fernandes '14, Petroc Staff Writer; December 9, 2013

Michael Russo, a Cedar Grove native, and Brown University's newest wrestling commit, began to wrestle when he was in third grade.

Ever since then, Mike has had a passion for wrestling. He wrestled all throughout middle school and as high school drew nearer, Mike needed to decide on what school he would attend.

Russo cites his mom and his "Freshman for a Day" experience as the deciding factors in his decision to come to St. Peter's Prep. His mother grew up in Jersey City and was familiar with the school; this made it easier for her to introduce the school to her son.

He placed 6th in states last year at 113lbs and placed 7th overall at Junior Nationals in the same weight class. Although he would like to win an individual state title at 120lbs this year, his main goal is to lead the entire team to a state title.

Mike was chosen captain for a reason; he has tremendous leadership abilities and often leads by example in the weight room and on the mats. He is very well-respected among the wrestling team.

State Wrestling: James Fox of St. Peter's Prep wins 189-pound State championship

By DONALD J. BROWER
on March 06, 2011 8:56 p.m.

St. Peter Prep's James Fox reflected on a recent tragedy at his school, which motivated him en route to becoming his school's first NJSIAA tournament champion.

Fox used his superior footwork and hard-hitting ground attack to defeat Jackson's Dallas Winston, 7-0, to capture the 189-pound championship at Boardwalk Hall in Atlantic City on Sunday.

"I have never medaled in any state tournament in my life," said Fox, who was the 189-pound champion and won the Outstanding Wrestler award at the prestigious Beast of the East Tournament in December.

"I just buckled down and fought my best. I did this one for B.J. (Giannone)."

Giannone was a classmate and close friend of Fox, who passed away after a swim meet on Jan. 31. The loss of his friend motivated Fox.

James Fox, St. Peter's Prep, defeats Dallas Winston, Jackson, 7-0, for 189-pound state championship

"BJ used to talk to me all the time and said I could be a state champion," Fox said. "I just kind of laughed it off and we changed the subject. After he died, I promised I was going to win it for BJ. I'm proud to have kept my promise to my friend."

Weapons

Foil, épée and sabre are the three weapons used in the sport of fencing. While it is not unusual for fencers to compete in all three events, they generally choose to develop their skills in one weapon. Foil and épée are point-thrusting weapons. Sabre is a point-thrusting as well as a cutting weapon. The target areas differ for the three weapons, though all three are scored electrically.
