Dockmen Demand 30 Hours Shippers Say It's Impossible

A 30-hour work week and double-time for overtime was demanded today for an estimated 30,000 longshoremen working in Atlantic coast ports from Maine to Virginia.

The demands were made by the International Longshoremen's Association at the opening of negotiations in Manhattan with the New York Shipping Association for a new three-year contract to replace one expiring Sept. 30.

THE SHIPPING Association said the requests were "impossible" and "irresponsible." The cost would be more than $100,000,000 a year, it said.

The demands for the Atlantic coast district were expected to be reflected in other contract bargaining sessions for the Gulf coast district which opened today in New Orleans.

Atlantic coast district longshoremen now receive a $3.92 hourly wage and the work day is eight hours. They want a six-hour day with no reduction in pay.

Thomas Gleason, executive vice president of the ILA and chairman of its wage contract committee, said last week the union would seek to "benefit the long-

Police Takeover Of Project Safety Put Off a Month

Jersey City police have postponed for almost a month their takeover of protection at Housing Authority projects, the Police Department announced today.

Sullivan Detective Agency guards will remain on duty at the projects until police start patrolling them, a Housing Authority official said.

THIS IS EXPECTED to take place the last week in July. Plans had called for police to take over project protection July 1.

The delay is necessary so that 18 policemen, who were sworn in Tuesday, can complete 160 hours of training at the Police Academy. This is required by state law.

Gus Grissom's Homecoming Spacebound

MITCHELL, Ind. (UPI)—The site of Saturday's homecoming for astronaut Virgil (Gus) Grissom had to be changed because it was getting too successful.

Estimates of the anticipated crowd reached 30,000 so the site was shifted from Spring Mill State Park to the Lehigh Cement Co. plant's more spacious grounds.

Believe 3 Escaped From the 'Rock'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Authorities worked on the assumption today that three bank robbers who disappeared from Alcatraz have become the first prisoners to escape from the island "Rock" in its 28-year history as home of the nation's most dangerous convicts.

There was still no indication whether the three men were alive or perished in the treacherous waters that surround the federal prison in San Francisco Bay.

Davidson, Parkes South Hudson Bat Co-Champs;

Athletes Dominate Adamcik Top Pitcher

Sophomore Al (Sandy) Davidson of Bayonne and senior Joe Parkes of St. Peter's Prep with late season batting surges are the co-batting champions in the South Hudson Baseball League, according to figures compiled by The Jersey Journal.

Davidson with 11 hits in his final 19 times at bat finished with 22 hits in 44 at bat for a robust .500 norm. Parkes, who didn't see action in the first six St. Peter's games, went 11 for 16 in the final four games to wind up with 17 hits in 34 trips for a .500 mark.

Bayonne completely dominated the batting statistics by gaining six of the top 12 places and four of the top five. Following Davidson and Parkes are Bayonne's second baseman Jerry Divock (.444), third baseman Steve Attardi (.438) and rightfielder Wally Welter (.423).

Behind the top five are Lincoln's George Mitchell (.409), St. Peter's Dennis Barrett (.400), Bayonne's Dan Nelson (.395), Dickinson's Bernie Verlingo (.384), St. Michael's Nick Simonetti (.362), Snyder's Calabrese (.353) and Bayonne's Harris Herman (.346).

Ironically, both Davidson and Parkes weren't in the starting lineup in the first league tilt. Davidson was inserted into the game in the fifth inning of Bayonne's initial encounter while Parkes didn't get his chance to break into the Prep lineup until centerfielder Tim Hawkes suffered a leg injury.

A total of 21 South Hudson batters managed to hit .300 this season. In other categories, Attardi was the runaway leader in RBIs with 26, Divock led in doubles with eight, Attardi and Mike Meloney of St. Peter's were tied in triples with three with Attardi and Jack McGeough of St. Peter's deadlocked in home runs with two apiece.

The batting and pitching records:

Rain Seen Break for Palmer Didn't Need Extra Practice

(Special to The Jersey Journal)

OAKMONT, Pa.—The weatherman made a good friend of Arnold Palmer yesterday when he sprinkled the Oakmont Country Club with steady morning rains that cancelled final practice rounds that were scheduled on the eve of the United States Open.

"Palmer knows this course like the back of his hand," commented Jersey City's Ed Kringle, who was slated to tour the 6,894-yard par 36-35-71 layout at 12:54 p.m. today. Kringle, whose playing partner is Tom Blaskovich of the Baldoc Hills Country Club of Irwin, Pa., said he was disappointed on losing out on the extra practice.

The Visiting Editorial

Old Glory: Symbol of Liberty for 185 Yrs.

In keeping with its policy of presenting all sides of questions, The Jersey Journal from time to time prints Visiting Editorials written by those qualified to discuss specific topics.

Today is my birthday. I am 185 years old, yet I've not grown old or feeble. Instead of weakening, following these many years, I've grown stronger.

For more than nine score years, I've been the banner of hope and freedom for generation and generation of Americans. Born amid the first flames of America's fight for freedom, I am the symbol of a country that has grown from a small group of 13 Colonies to a united nation of 50 great states.

I AM CALLED many things by many people. To some, I am known as "Old Glory." To others, I am the "Stars and Stripes," or the "Star Spangled Banner."

My birth is argued by two sides. Some say I was created by Betsy Ross, though historians dispute it.

I recall the first time I was displayed in front of an armed enemy. That was on August 3, 1777, at Fort Stanwix. The white stripes and stars came from the soldier's shirts; a captain's cloak supplied the blue of the Union and the red stripes came from the flannel petticoats of the women of the garrison. They were very proud of my design; I didn't let them down.

Continental Congress passed a resolution establishing my design on June 14, 1777, but did not specify the arrangements of my 13 stars, and therefore I had many various designs.

George Washington once described me as possessing the "stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separated by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

In January, 1794, I was redesigned to have 15 stars and 15 stripes. On September 13, 1814, Francis Scott Key wrote the "Star Spangled Banner" in my honor. In 1847, I was carried with General Quitman's division when he entered through the "Halls of Montezuma" in Mexico City. I was unfurled at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba in 1898 and accepted surrender of the Island of Guam in June, 1898.

The Doughboys and Marines carried me through the battles of Belleau Wood, Chateau Thierry and I was in the Meuse-Argonne offensives in World War I, too.

Brave men in Army uniforms carried me to the beaches of Normandy and unfurled me in shell-rocked French villages all the way to the Rhine. Navy men were at their guns below me in the Battle of the Coral Sea and Army men and Marines planted me on scores of little-remembered islands before I was raised over Japan in 1945.

As a part of the United Nations forces in Korea, I was carried from Pusan, through Inchon and Seoul, to the Chosen Reservoir . . . Then came Lebanon and more recently, Thailand . . . I have many, many memories.

Men have followed me into battle with unwavering courage. They have looked upon me as a symbol of national unity. They have prayed that they and their fellow citizens might continue to enjoy the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness which have been granted to every American as the heritage of free men.

So long as men love liberty more than life itself; so long as they treasure the priceless privileges bought with the blood of our fore-fathers; so long as the principles of truth, justice and charity, or all remain deeply rooted in human hearts, I shall continue to be the enduring banner of the United States of America . . . for I am OLD GLORY!!
