

FOURTH HALL OF FAME HONORS NINE

Egendorf, Helms, Klein, Krauss, Mark, Rothman, Saxon, Triplett, Westheimer Inducted

A stormy, rainy night outside did not dampen the enthusiasm inside for the fourth Cheltenham High School Alumni Association Hall of Fame induction ceremony on April 16, 1993. Held for the first time in the high school, the ceremony itself topped off a day that included a luncheon, a tour of the high school, and a chance for the nine inductees to speak to individual classes of current Cheltenham High School students.

The ceremony, conducted by Master of Ceremonies and Hall of Fame member Ronald Shapiro '60 saw Jeanne Friedmann Westheimer, '32, David S. Saxon, Ph.D. '37, H. Lewis Klein, '45, Perry Triplett, '47, George Krauss, Sc.D. '51, Richard Harrison Rothman, M.D., Ph.D. '54, Mary Ellen Mark, '58, Andrew Egendorf, '63, Doris Reiting Helms, Ph.D. '63, accept their Hall of Fame plaques and express their gratitude and share a few fond memories with family, classmates, former teachers and friends.

Jeanne Friedmann Westheimer, '32 was an Assistant Dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at Harvard University from 1967 to 1980, where she developed and implemented projects to solve student problems in the graduate school.

Dr. David Saxon, '37, the only

Front row, left to right: Richard Rothman; Jeanne Friedmann Westheimer; Andrew Egendorf. Back Row: Joseph Rodgers, C.H.S. Principal; Doris Reiting Helms; George Krauss; Perry Triplett; Betty Cataldi, Program Chairperson; H. Lewis Klein; Ronald Cohen, Alumni Assoc. President.

inductee who was unable to attend, was president of the University of California from 1975 to 1983, where he was responsible for the operation of the University's nine campuses and three national research laboratories. Saxon served from 1983 to 1990 as M.I.T.'s Chairman of the Corporation, or head of the Institute's board of trustees.

Lou Klein, '45, was the executive producer of Dick Clark's American Bandstand in the early 1950's and he is now president of Gateway Communications, Inc., a broadcast group which operates many stations throughout the East. He was named the Broadcast Pioneers Chapter's "Broadcaster of the Year" in 1983 and he received the same award in 1990 from the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters. Since his induction, Klein was named the 1993 recipient of the Pennsylvania

Continued on page 3

Three seniors receive Alumni scholarships

CHS Alumni Association Board member Charles Stamm, '67 presents CHS Alumni Scholarship award winners, left to right, Michael Rosenzweig, Andre Rubin and Daniel Becker their $500 checks

The Cheltenham High School Alumni Association, for the 15th consecutive year, has presented three graduating seniors with scholarship awards. This year's three $500 awards brings the total Cheltenham Alumni Scholarship presented to over $30,000. The winners this year are Daniel Becker, Michael Rosenzweig, and Andre Rubin.

Daniel Becker, who received the prestigious Phi Beta Kappa award at the Cheltenham graduation this year,

Continued on page 2

Panther Spotlight

Madeline Crusemire, '42 retired June, 1992 after 46 years of loving and dedicated service as a first grade and kindergarten teacher at Glenside Elementary. Ms. Crusemire retired as the longest tenured teacher in the history of the School District of Cheltenham Township.

Andrea White, '77 is a senior automation instructor at the Library of Congress. She was recently appointed coordinator of a career enhancement project within Collections Services, the largest department in the Library of Congress.

Sheldon Mandel MD, '63 an orthopaedic surgeon, is Chief of Surgery at Montgomery General Hospital.

Elizabeth Wilson, '68 is the accompanist for the Masterwara Chorus. She also plays harpsichord for their annual Carnegie Hall series of Handel's Messiah.

Lawrence Sichel, '68 is a Buddhist monk. He has recently been Abbot for the Centre Zen de Paris and Empty Gate Zen Center in Berkeley, California. He is now Abbot of the Cambridge Zen Center in Massachusetts.

C.H.S.'s Chicago Computer Combo

Two former Cheltenham wrestling teammates have pinned down a big one in the custom computer software business. Troy Henikoff and Ed Goff, both from the class of '82, have carved out a nice niche in the highly competitive computer software industry. With Henikoff as president and Goff as vice-president of software development, the two have seen their Systemetrics Software Solutions grow into a thriving Chicago-based company. Their product line consists of five software products for hospitals that can be found in 47 states across the country. In addition, the two Brown University graduates continue to produce custom software for such notable clients as Hyatt Hotels, McDonald's, Bally's and Computer Associates.

Brian Dooley, '83 is the co-founder and Vice-President of the Green Mountain Archery Association in Williamstown, Vermont.

David Mancinelli, '74 is the used car manager at Bryner Chevrolet in Jenkintown.

Jody Serago, '77 has won the Buyer's Choice Award from Modern Jeweler Magazine, a prominent industry publication. He also recently won a regional Jewelers of America competition which puts him in the running for designer of the year.

Anita Blau, 61 recently received the prestigious "Women on the Move" award from the Albuquerque, New Mexico YWCA for her leadership in education and her community activism.

Steve Brown, '69 plays guitar and sings with his rhythm and blues band The Dukes of Destiny. The band released its first album in 1991 and is currently recording its second album.

Lee Stollman, '84 is an agent with the world's largest talent agency, the William Morris Agency in California. He represents such stars as John Stamos, Anthony Edwards and Bo Derek.

Netanyahu elected party leader

Benjamin Netanyahu, '67 former ambassador to the United Nations and the United States and deputy prime minister of Israel was recently elected head of the Likud party. Netanyahu follows party founder Menachen Begin and former Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir in this position. As Likud leader, Netanyahu appears in line to be his party's nominee for prime minister in the 1996 elections.

An author and diplomat, Netanyahu is seen frequently on American television as an expert on international terrorism. His latest book delves into the historical background to the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Alumni scholarship winners

Continued from page 1

will be attending Princeton University in the fall. A National Merit Scholarship winner, Daniel was editor-in-chief of the yearbook, number one man on the varsity tennis team and a member of the Student Council Executive Committee. Daniel was also a volunteer for Dr. Albert Wong, an oncologist at the Fox Chase Cancer Center and at Jefferson University. He plans to attend medical school and then specialize in oncology.

Michael Rosenzweig, senior class treasurer, will be attending the George Washington University in the fall and majoring in liberal arts. At graduation, Michael received the Faculty Memorial Award, the highest service award presented each year. Michael was active for the past four years in the Cheltenham Theatre program and the touring ensemble. He was also a member of the Student Council Executive Committee and a member of S.T.R.I.V.E.

Andre Rubin will be attending The College of the University of Chicago with a major in philosophy in September. For the past four years he has been most active with the World Affairs Club and the Debate Team of which he was co-captain this year. Andre has also been a member of the touring ensemble and the CHS cross country team. A recipient of a Merit Scholarship letter of commendation, Andre also placed in science fair competitions during his Cheltenham years. Andre plans eventually to teach on the college level.

Judge Honored

Judge Norman Levy Shapiro, '45, of the U.S. District Court of the Eastern District of PA and an original member of the Cheltenham High School Alumni Association Hall of Fame became the first recipient of the Sandra Day O'Conner Award presented by the Philadelphia Bar Association to the person who has done the most to promote women in the legal profession. Supreme Court Associate Justice O'Conner was in Philadelphia to present the award to Judge Shapiro.

Fourth Hall of Fame honors nine

Continued from page 1

Association of Broadcasters' Gold Medal.

Perry Triplett, '47, has carried out his lifelong quest to bring respect to Lucretia Mott, and his work has recently been rewarded by the creation of the LaMott National Historical Landmark. He is also a nationally-known engineer and is a member of several organizations including the Abolition Society of Pennsylvania.

Dr. George Krauss, '51, is a leading expert in the field of metals, as he has authored several books on the subject and has lectured throughout the world. He is currently a professor at the Colorado School of Mines where he is also the Director of the Advanced Steel Processing & Products Research Center.

Dr. Richard Rothman, '54, has had a medical career devoted to orthopaedic surgery, and he currently serves as the Chairman of Orthopaedic Surgery at Thomas Jefferson University and the Chief of Orthopaedic Surgery Pennsylvania Hospital. He founded the Rothman Institute in 1970, the center for joint replacement surgery at Pennsylvania Hospital.

Mary Ellen Mark, '58, is renowned as one of the top photojournalists and photoessayists of our era, her works the first computer designed specifically to run "Artificial Intelligence" programs. He later worked with consumer advocate Ralph Nader to establish the citizens' watchdog groups known as "Nader's Raiders". He is currently working at Agile Systems, Inc., another company which he founded. Agile is about to market a state-of-the-art patent in the computer field.

Dr. Doris Reitinger Helms, '63, after a brief stint as a biology teacher at Cheltenham High School moved on to become head of the biology department at Clemson University until she was promoted to Associate Dean of Instruction in 1988. She has used her knowledge not only to further research in the field of biology but also to develop realistic learning aids for the teaching of biology at the high school level. The Doris Reitinger Helms Award for exceptional Service to Science Education was created by the South Carolina Science Council in 1982 in honor of Helms' efforts.

Ron Shapiro '60, left, Master of Ceremonies, introduces the nine new inductees at the Hall of Fame ceremony. Mary Ellen Mark '58, right, accepts her Cheltenham High School Alumni Association Hall of Fame plaque.

having been published in 26 books and in innumerable magazines. She is known for photographing emotionally stirring scenes that show humanity in its truest light.

Andrew Egendorf, '63, was co-founder of Symbolics, Inc., the company which manufactured and sold

Show your pride in Cheltenham: Join the Alumni Association today.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION AND INFORMATION FORM

Name _____ CHS Class _____ Date _____
Maiden name (if applicable)

Address _____ Phone _____

Occupation _____

Recent Accomplishments _____

Make tax deductible check payable and mail to:
 CHS Alumni Association
 P.O. Box 217
 Wyncote, PA 19095-0217

___ Life Membership $25
 ___ Century Membership $100

___ M ___ C

Retirements Hit Cheltenham BIG

Mr. Cheltenham - Bob Trimble, Dr. Pell, Coach Lenny Lithgow, Band Director Ron Dellecker and science teacher Charlie Whiskeyman lead the list this year of retirees from Cheltenham High School.

The Pennsylvania legislature this year passed an early retirement incentive program for teachers which in part explains the unusually high number of retirements from the Cheltenham School District. Cheltenham, which had the oldest average age of any school district in the state, saw 34 teachers take advantage of the program. These teachers take with them 915 years of experience and memories of teaching in one of the finest school districts in the country. Although you may remember these teachers from other schools, they are listed below with the school from which they retired and their years of service. We will miss them all!

Name	Yrs.	School	Name	Yrs.	School
Carol Brown	22	CHS	Frederica Foerster	37	Myers
Waymon Butler	26	CHS	Barbara Goldstein	22	Myers
Ron Dellecker	36	CHS	Connie Goldstein	23	Myers
Jack Fine	22	CHS	Doris Graff	25	Myers
Leonard Lithgow	32	CHS	Robert Guildin	30	Glenside
Harry Pellegrini	28	CHS	Murriell Hayes	25	Glenside
Joseph Stefanisko	25	CHS	Dolores Koller	23	Cedarbrook
Alice Stempen	20	CHS	Lorraine Linder	22	Cedarbrook
Robert Trimble	37	CHS	Nancy Jaffe Myer	18	Glenside
Charles Whiskeyman	31	CHS	Lillian Rothman	24	Wyncote
Anne Marie Bartels	24	Wyncote	Dan Rondeau	23	Elkins Park
Dorothy Bogusz	30	Wyncote	Florence Schwartz	30	Myers
Carole J. Brown	24	Glenside	Nita Slutsky	23	Cheltenham Elem.
Dora Crawford	38	Cheltenham Elem.	Ruth Simon	23	Myers
Anne Edelman	21	Elkins Park	Marcia Stein	23	Glenside
Jeanne Fedesco	33	Cedarbrook	Al Trautwein	23	Elkins Park
Ed Ferguson	38	Cheltenham Elem.	Janet Vart	34	Cedarbrook

Jackson Enters Hall

Reggie Jackson, '64, "Mr. October" became the 216th member to be inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY on August 1, 1993.

Among the huge crowd present to honor Reggie were his father and mother. His sister Delores and brothers Martinez Jr., Clarence (Joe) and Jim, all of whom are Cheltenham graduates were also in attendance. Several other Cheltenham alumni attended the ceremonies including George Beck, '65, Ron Newlin, '65, Chuck Marshall, '62, Joe Hewlett, '63, Melvin Payne, '66 and Betty Cataldi, '62. Mr. John Kracsun, Reggie's Cheltenham football coach, also made the trip to Cooperstown.

CHEL TENHAM HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSN.
P.O. BOX 217
WYNCOTE, PA 19095-0217

Address correction requested

NON PROFIT ORG.
U.S. Postage
PAID
WYNCOTE, PA
19095
PERMIT NO. 55

*Dated Material
Please do not delay*