LEARNING TO LISTEN

On the whole we find students clamoring for more and better assemblies. Yet, we also find that students do not appreciate assemblies that are offered. Bear in mind that every program that is presented in assembly requires an effort on someone's part. As such it should at least be acknowledged. Several plays have been spoiled merely because the audience has not been polite enough to try and enter into the mood of the presentation.

Next Thursday and Friday mornings, the play, "Ebb-Tide", is being presented in assembly. "Ebb-Tide" is a play of suspense rather than of ribald comedy. It promises real enjoyment to the audience if the student body will cooperate by accepting the mood.

ACT YOUR AGE!

"Act your age, but don't creep!" How well this time-worn expression fits many high school students. We are in a habit of taking up with one of two extremes. Either we act much younger than we really are, or we try to act twice as old as we are.

Our recent squirt gun menace was a good example of us acting as we did when we were in perhaps the first or second grade. To illustrate the high school student acting older than he really is, we have people who try to act as if they were married, or at least in college. These young sophisticates act bored with it all, and they term the actions of the average high school student as merely "kid stuff."

Not only is a person judged by the company he keeps, but he is also judged by the actions he takes. Let's not unconsciously put ourselves into one of the two classes just mentioned! Let's act our age, and the world will think much more of us!

COLLEGE PROSPECTS

Who should go to college? This is the question many of us are asking now.

There is no fixed rule established on who should or should not go to college, but there are a few qualifications which should be taken into consideration.

First—Are our grades satisfactory? A "B" in high school usually averages about a "C" in college.

Second—"Am I really interested in entering college? Many hours must be devoted to hard study, and much reading is required.

Third—"Can I afford it?" We should be able to meet the first year's expenses without outside help, but it is possible to obtain money through scholarships, funds, or working.

If we measure up to these qualifications, then we should seriously think about entering college.

PLATTER CHATTER

By Jim Cole

A new band under the heading of Larry Kent made its debut into society a few weeks ago. Although a little rough around the edges (in the brass and reed sections) this band has great possibilities in South Bend, and its outlying suburbs. The most noted and appreciated musician in this new outfit was a very young piano player who hails from John Adams. He displayed his best on Larry's idea of the "One O'Clock Jump", which was made famous by Count Basie and crew. Larry didn't possess a vocalist (female), but one of the members of his sharp crew served in this capacity. Someone should refer him to the South Bend Conservatory of Music. Their rates are cheap.

Perhaps the most talked of orchestra to arrive in the spot light of fame this year has been Les Brown, who has currently been heard from the College Inn in the Hotel Sherman. Well, the great event has finally come! Les Brown will play at the Palais Royale on a Sunday night, March the 8th! Be sure and save up your pennies (you'll need plenty of them, too) and go, because your investment will be well rewarded. He will really send you! Some exceptional records for the week are:

"Tuesday at Ten", by Benny Goodman; "Five O'Clock Drag", by Duke Ellington; "Harlem Confusion", by Bob Chester.

FACE THE FACTS

Hello there . . . has anyone seen a really happy face recently? Looks like mid-winter blues has got us—eh? Well not quite . . . Junior X cast members walk around with their knees clanking but it's almost over, huh, Jimmy Crothers? Wonder if Gemberling remembers another Junior X? And say, are we seeing a new twosome in the persons of Bill Moore and Virginia Filby? . . . Pipe Joey Smith's original moccasins and get her to tell you the story of creation. And speaking of clothes, Lora Ann Stephenson has a white gabardine raincoat that we wouldn't kick out of our closet. Say, fellas, where are those gray buckskin shoes you were all sporting a little while ago. . . we thought they were cute. Of course, this should be left to Jim, but "Gloomy Sunday" is a record that sounds like a funeral but makes you laugh. Really worth the price . . . g'bye now.

JOLLY JOE

Your ace reporter has been fortunate enough to gain an interview with J. Joseph Peil.

Mr. Peil, as all know, is a very important man about South Bend Central. What with his duty as Student Council president, vice-president of the Senior class, not to mention his activities in Smilers and his addition to our intellectual standards.

Mr. Peil's likes are: women . . . peanut butter . . . women . . . Glenn Miller . . . Harper's Monthly and College Humor . . . women . . . Bob Hope . . . Clark Bars . . . and then, of course, women.

As to his dislikes, there are none, with the exception of a few things, such as: dressing up . . . Guy Lombardo . . . French horns . . . orange juice . . . programs that last only 15 minutes when you'd like to listen to them an hour . . . coconut . . . cows, barns, and most anything pertaining to the country.

At this point our conference was interrupted. It seems a little blond was walking down the street, alone and unprotected, so out gallant J. Joseph Peil hurried to see if he could offer his assistance as escort.

PARODY ON TREES

Boy's Version

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free;
A girl whose hungry eyes are fixed
Upon a meal that cost two-bits;
A girl who doesn't ever wear
A lot of do-dads in her hair—

Girls are loved by fools like me,
'Cause who the heck would kiss a tree?

Girl's Version

I think that I shall never see
A boy who quite appeals to me;
A boy who doesn't flirt or tease;
A boy who doesn't even wear
A slab of grease upon his hair;
A boy without a silly grin;
A boy who keeps his shirt-tail in.
These fools are loved by girls like me,
But I think that I'd prefer a tree.

BOWL A FRIENDLY GAME

"Keep out of the gutter!" "Don't get behind the 8-ball!" Oh, excuse, please, the 8-ball is pool and we want to talk about bowling. Ah well, pool yourself together, kids, and let's have a discussion on a bowling date.

You take the girl-friend out to bowl for her very first time. After explaining the fundamentals (hmmm, that's something we missed out on), you begin to "play." Finally, you get the ball into her paw—tiny, isn't it? (I mean the ball!) Whoops, better let go of it, just the ball is supposed to go down the alley.

Say, did we say this was the first time she bowled? At the end of the game (my, we got here in a hurry), we find that she has won 196 to—oh never mind that //3/4@*--&&&$! unquote.

Anyway, there are always plenty of other things one can do on a date.

GETTING ALONG

"My parents don't seem to understand me," is a quotation frequently heard. One heard even more often is, "Those kids of mine are driving me crazy."

Most of us are in the middle of one of these family muddles. We can't seem to agree on points such as dates, getting the family car, and such similar subjects. The younger of us insist on having things wholly our way. Our parents agree 100% on this, only the pronoun is changed a little until it means "their way." The situation is at a deadlock and no solution to the problem is at hand.

How about compromising? After all, three great compromises saved the Constitution of the United States and it may save your family harmony.

What, No Tax?

Upon finding a rodent—a mouse, youse guys—in the palatial mansion of the Lane family, Mama Lane set one of those things known as a mouse trap. Not having any cheese in the house she put a dime in the cheese's place and left a note saying, "We don't have any cheese but here's a

WHAT LINCOLN SAID ABOUT WASHINGTON

"This is the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the birthday of Washington. We are met to celebrate this day. Washington is the mightiest name on earth—long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty; still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name an eulogy is expected. It can not be. To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name and in its naked, deathless splendor leave it shining on."

—From a Speech, Feb. 22, 1842.

This eulogy is one hundred years old but the years have not detracted from the interest we have in the first president of the United States.

Grapplers Snatch Runner-Up Spot In State Meet

Morey and Jaronik Win Blue Ribbons

The Bruin grapplers gained 21 points and the runner-up spot in the state wrestling meet held at Indiana University February 21. Gaining blue ribbons for Central were Morey and Jaronik; while Flowers captured a second, and R. Quimby placed third. Jaronik finished the season without losing a match, and it was the first defeat for Quimby. In three years R. Quimby has wrestled some forty bouts and lost only three of them. The team is losing only two boys by graduation, Morey and LaVelle, and should prove a strong contender for next year's title. Table of points:

- Bloomington, 32.
- Central, 21.
- Southport of Indianapolis, 20.
- Bedford, 19.
- Ben Davis, 18.
- Washington, East Chicago, 15.
- Clark of Hammond, 14.
- Hammond High, 11.
- Central of Muncie, 7.
- Roosevelt of East Chicago, 7.
- Crawfordsville, 1.
- New Albany, 0.
- Rushville, 0.

Mermen Take Third at Purdue

Coach Elbel's mermen met stiff opposition down-state last Saturday in the annual State swimming meet held at Purdue University. The Bruins captured third place with 28 points, just behind Hammond and Lew Wallace with 36 and 29 points respectively.

There were two state records broken; a new time of 2:27.8 was set by Stewart of Whiting in the 220 free style to rub out the old mark of 2:31.3 set by Kuehne of Central in 1935; also Pritchett of Wiley High School in Terre Haute, established a new record of 55.8 in the 100-yard free style doing away with the old record of 57.7 set by Marsh of Central in 1935.

What do you say we back our team tonight at the sectionals and really show them we're not kiddin' about the Indianapolis trip this year? Reports show that the student support has been poor this year in comparison with other recent years. You can give up that trip, or dance, or show for a couple of hours to come out and root for the boys. Here's hats off to all of you who bought season tickets. We don't mind sharing the glory, so let's be in on the other end too. Some tickets are still available.

Coach Elbel's mermen have completed their season with a record of two wins against six losses in dual meets. They have just won their sixth straight conference title and captured third place in the state meet. Leaving the squad this year are Gene Kujawa and Bob Slocum in the free style, Captain Ted King in the diving and Allen Porter in the breast-stroke.

He also broke the state record in the 100-yard free style in last Saturday's state meet with the time of 56.2. He came in second, however, and was thus not credited with the new record . . . Coach Kindy's Junior High basketball team wound up the season last week-end with a pair of wins and one defeat. On Wednesday, Feb. 18, the Cubs lost to Harrison, 28-19. The victories were chalked up against Washington, there, Friday, Feb. 20, 23-17, and Muessel lost Monday in their gym, 39-20. The season's total was 12 won and seven lost, and Central finished in a tie for second in the league. Hoover and Gaines were the leading scorers in the first semester and Winston, Scott, and McCarthy captured scoring honors in this semester.

ROLICKING BEARS ROMP OVER ELWOOD FIVE, 37-33

Central's "Rollicking Bears" romped over a fast-breaking Elwood quintet, 37-33, at the Elwood gym Friday night.

Lead by lanky Parson Howell, who is again hitting his old stride, the Bears unleashed a barrage of baskets to lead 12-2 at the initial gun. The second period found the Bears with the tables turned upon them; as the scrapping Elwood five scored 16 points to Central's eight to leave the Bruins in a scant 20-18 lead, at the intermission.

The latter periods found both teams turning on the pressure and as the third period came to a close both quintets were tied at 29-all.

With four minutes to go, Elwood smashed into the lead 33-30, but the "never-to-be-outdone" Bears put on a Frank Merriwell finish to win 37-33.

Keep 'Em Flyin'

I aim to be a secretary and sit on my boss' lap,
 And so I go to typing class with all the other saps.
 The first thing we must do, of course, is cut off every nail,
 While teacher bellows out, "Keep your eye upon the rail!"
 I buy a pack of paper, and a book so clean and new
 But it won't look so pretty when this semester's through.
 Although I punch and work and fret I know it does no good,
 But if I keep pursuing it, I'll be the master yet.

THE SHOP SCOUT

By Madelon Marcus

Two small British boys were gazing at a butcher shop window. One of them pointed to a number of hams hanging from a large branch.
 "Look, Tom," he said. "Look at them 'ams agrowing up there."
 "Get away," said the other. "'Ams don't grow."
 "Well that's all you know about it," said the first scornfully. "Ain't you ever 'eard of an 'ambush?"

INTRODUCING—

It is this week,
 We hit our peak,
 For a game with "Jag"
 Is in the bag.

Bill Jagodzinski is 'neath the spotlight this week. To fans he is known as "Jag" or "Bashful". The latter because he is a woman-hater.
 "Jag" came from Muessel junior high where he played basketball from the sixth through the ninth grades. He played B team ball while a sophomore and is now a junior playing varsity.
 He stands 5:11 and weighs 149 lbs. He is a forward and wears number 39. "Jag's" outstanding feat of the season was his scoring the last two points against Elkhart to decide the game. He plans to go out for baseball in the Spring to join Mr. Wood-en's ranks as a shortstop.
