HUMAN RELATIONS INSTITUTE SCHEDULED

An estimated 250 students representing all the city schools will assemble at Washington-Clay High School this Friday for a day-long Institute on Human Relations. Sponsored by the National Council of Christians and Jews, the Institute will include an address by Dr. Harold Hunt, Superintendent of the Chicago Schools.

Each student is to be assigned a small discussion group, which will attempt to solve the problems which confront the teenager in one of the following areas: Student-student, student-parent, student-school, student-community, and interracial and inter-religious relations.

A partial list of the representatives from Central has been compiled and is as follows: Miss Virginia Mark, faculty, Roz Johnson, Dave Nowacki, Dick Havel, Phyllis Burger, Ella Chacho, Dianne Oursler, Marilyn Fodge, Nancy Johnson, Jeanne Martin, Pat Klingbeil, Jo Ann Howell, Alice Abroham, Marilyn Lessler, Sally Stratton, Rita Payton, Anne Knoblock, Harold Kabay.

V. C. Harter, E. H. Kuhny, Janice Hoffman, Sarah Allen, Judy Mellow, and Ellen Frank are serving as members of the Institute planning committee from Central.

STUDENTS HONORED

Two Central students received state-wide recognition at the Junior Academy of Science meeting which was held in Valparaiso, Indiana, Saturday, October 18. David Nowacki was named the outstanding boy in science in the state of Indiana. Gail Diamondis was elected to the office of state secretary of the Junior Academy of Science.

Correction, Please!

The INTERLUDE would like to correct a mis-statement which appeared in the Carlton Studio ad of last week. It should read as follows: Notice to Seniors whose Home Rooms have not been booked for sittings: "If you want photograph finished for Christmas, please call the studio now."

GOOD CITIZEN TO BE CHOSEN

Every year, the Schuyler Colfax chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsors a contest in St. Joseph County to select a girl, a senior in one of the high schools in the county, who is most deserving of the title of Good Citizen. The girl who will represent Central and participate in the county contest must possess the qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism to an outstanding degree. The students of Central will choose the representative from Central by November 20 of this year. Central's Good Citizen will be given a test which will be used as the basis for selecting the county winner. From the county winners a State Good Citizen will be selected by judges appointed by the State Regent and State chairman. The State winner will receive a $100 Series E Government Bond, a pin, and a Certificate of Award. Each Good Citizen will be given a Certificate of Award from the National Society of D. A. R.

The 1951 winner in St. Joseph County was Patricia Morse of Washington-Clay High School. She also placed fifth in the state contest which was won by Dianne Shoemaker of Warren Central High School in Indianapolis.

Last year, Indiana was second in the United States with 439 Good Citizens.

Centralites Will Study State and National System of Government

In 1951, the General Assembly of Indiana passed a law designating that within two weeks prior to any general congressional or state election, students in schools of Indiana in grades 6 through 12, inclusive, should have five full recitation periods of class discussion concerning the system of government in the State of Indiana and the United States. Included in these periods of discussion will be our methods of voting, our party structures, our election laws, and the responsibilities of citizen participation in government and in elections.

Therefore, since November 4 is election day, and in accordance with this law, the students of Central will study the state and national system of government during the week of October 27. Since all of the students at Central are not taking courses in social studies at the present time, the instruction in government will be given in the English classes of those who do not have a class in social studies. The English classes in which the discussions will be held are English I, II, III, and IV.

The social studies teachers will not be able to teach the English classes, as they will be instructing their regular classes. Therefore, students from some of the Civics classes taught by Mr. C. L. Kuhn, will go into these English classes for one period every day for five days to work with the English teachers during the recitation periods. Those students who will aid in the instruction are:

Bob Hansen, Marcia Cole, Dianne Pearce, Paul Listek, Ken Dempsey, Holly Bowlin, Arnold Spellman, Barbara Layman, Marietta Coble, Mary Stowers, Bruce Hering, Dick Havel, Carolyn Lamenski, Dick Schutt, Nia Scopelitis, Marie Diamondis, Joan Whiteman, Sally Shaw, Mary Mathews, Jack Ogden, Lloyd Milliken, Sally Stratton, Kay Duane, Dianne Oursler, Sandra Vincent, Lyla Wrate, Kay VanDerbeck, JoAnn Draper, Jo St. John, and Rosalind Johnson.

At the present time, there is approximately only 51% of the eligible voters of the United States exercising their right to vote, whereas in Australia, 90% of the eligible voters cast their ballots at elections. It is hoped that through these five periods of class recitation and discussion, a more vote-conscious public will arise.

BAND ACTIVITIES

The Central High School Band, under the able leadership of Mr. Singleton and Larry Lauterbach, drum major, is again putting on superior half time shows at our football games.

As was witnessed at the Hammond Noll game, the band is not only capable of putting on serious numbers, but humorous ones as well.

For the Mishawaka game the program, once again very effective, was centered around the queen.

The last game of the season will feature a special program without the field lights.

DEBATE

Six students from the debate squad enjoyed the thrill of their first contest when they met students from Nappanee and Howe Military Academy in round table discussion contests. Out of six students who survived the preliminary rounds and entered the finals, three were Central students; George Beamer, DeVon Bates, and Rita Tanner. George Beamer was declared the winner by the judges, and Rita Tanner ranked third. Henry Kerr of Howe was given second rating.

Friday evening (Oct. 24) five of the Central debaters are presenting a panel discussion at the Mishawaka Rotary Club dinner at the Hotel Mishawaka. On the panel will be Ramond Cook, Rita Tanner, Eloise Van Natta, Judy Mellow, and Dave Nowacki acting as Moderator.

Let's Think for Ourselves

In an era of pop-up toasters, automatic coffee-pots, and hydro-matic gearshifts, people, too, are beginning to react with pushbutton precision.

Push the "Thank you" button, and out comes "You're welcome." "Pardon me" — "Certainly" . . . "You don't mind, do you?" — "No, of course not." Perhaps in small everyday matters our parrot responses will do us little harm, but we are liable to find ourselves caught in a snare unless we learn to do some quick, decisive thinking.

The inverted question is an old trick, used to produce "I guess you're right" results. Adults use it on children, because children will usually agree: "You don't want to go out today because it's so cold, do you?" — "No, it's too cold . . ."

It is bad enough to act and then think: it is worse to act and never get around to thinking. Perhaps we have to admit, a little shamefacedly, that many of us are doing the latter more and more. It may be a trivial matter: "You don't want to see that movie, do you?" or it may be all-important: "You can get across — that train's not coming very fast."

Those who act by pushbuttons are the unknowing stooges of the smooth operators. We must know where we stand, have a leg to stand on, and then — stand on it.

Who's Acheson?

A poll taken last spring of a cross-section of the country showed the disgusting but not too surprising fact that from one-third to one-half of our people do not know who Dean Acheson is; don't know to what the thirty-eighth parallel refers; can't tell you who Joe McCarthy is; never heard of RFC; show no glimmer of recognition when Tito is mentioned.

We, as teenagers, for the large part feel that we're too young for "that stuff" to concern us. What does it matter to us? That's for our folks to worry about. We pass it off lightly — we go blithely on our own sweet way, until, it hits us in the face, perhaps with a draft card. Then we turn around indignantly and say, with the innocent voice of Young America, "What are we fighting for?"

Perhaps there are many of us who would be wiser to first find out where we are fighting.

Please Co-operate!

There appear to be students at Central who do not seem to care if they give the impression that they were raised with no respect for regulations. These students have become indignant and impolite when informed by the janitors that they must not park their cars in the school driveways.

Regulation of the siting of cars in the driveway is not an arbitrary rule set down by the janitors or the faculty merely for the purpose of inconveniencing the students. This is a city rule, established by the fire department for our own safety. Whether we consider it reasonable or not, the restriction is law, and the least we can do is to co-operate with the school in parking our cars elsewhere.

THE WHITE WITCH OF ROSEHALL

By Herbert de Lisser

Voodoo drums, chanting natives, and ancient sorcery make up the plot of the thrilling novel The White Witch of Rosehall. Here is a masterpiece of mystery and intrigue, portrayed in the tropical setting of the West Indies. The story centers around a young and ambitious Englishman, Robert Rutherford, who seeks his fortune on a plantation deep in the interior of Jamaica. He is employed by the beautiful and vivacious Mr. Palmer, owner of the fabulous Rosehall estate. Mr. Rutherford soon discovers that there is a strange mystery concerning Mrs. Palmer and the Rosehall mansion she rules with an iron hand. Unfortunately for Mrs. Palmer, Robert is possessed of a keen sense of adventure, and decides to probe into the mystery and solve it himself. The throb of pounding drums beckon him into the dark jungle surrounding the plantation, and he encounters witch doctors, sorceries, and a group of natives participating in a wierd jungle ritual before he finds what he is seeking.

And the end of the story, oh no--- I'm not going to tell you. Why not read it to see for yourself? Certainly, here is a book well worth your leisure reading. That is, if you don't have nightmares!

—RUTH SCHUELL.

And now we meet Central's class presidents who have been elected by their fellow students to lead the classes in their activities for the year.

What does it take to be president? Certainly Warren Braunsdorf, president of the senior A class should be able to tell you as he has been president of his class ever since he came to Central in the 8A. Warren was also elected Rotary Representative this semester. That is quite a record! This being football season, we hear a lot about the team of which Warren boasts being a member.

The senior B's have elected Dick Schutt to the class' highest post. Dick calls 305 home room and has been around Central since the eighth grade. Taking an active interest in his school, Dick has played football and basketball and has been appointed to help plan the Civitan Halloween Party. To show you that Dick is always thinking ahead, he has started thinking about the speech he is going to make at commencement time. Just what is he thinking of? Stage fright! Dick thinks Central is wonderful, but says, "Things had better calm down around here or the school customs will be ruined." After Dick receives his diploma he intends to become a tool and die designer.

Danny O'Donnell is the sophomore class president. He also served as president of his eighth grade class at Madison Jr. High School, and came to Central in the ninth grade. Danny plays varsity baseball and basketball but says he likes baseball best — at least well enough to make his career that of a professional ball player. The students also awarded to Danny the ninth grade citizenship medal, one of the things he deserves to be very proud of.

Not to be overlooked, is the petticoat version of a president, Meredith Metcalf. Meredith, who just came from Madison this fall, is already taking an active interest in Central. She is a member of Home Room 120 and of the Barnstormers. Meredith walked off with the math and science awards back at Madison. Leaving her alma mater, scene of so much success, she felt lost at first, but now says happily that she likes Central better every day. These freshman, inconspicuous today, will become the leaders of tomorrow.

VERIE SAUER SAYS:

Under the clock conversation centers around . . . the vacation we have tomorrow and Friday; nothing to do but sleep . . . Halloween; the little kids with bars of soap and outstretched grubby paws . . . the last last minute preparations by the glee club for the North Central program tonight . . . Mr. Schultz's Social Living classes—the spice of life . . . the use of class time to compare senior pictures; much to teachers' grief . . . the growing fame of Central motto, "I will keep faith," through recent publicity.

Off again, on again: Janis Dannerberger and Don Bankowski.

Date of the week: Joan Fenska and Sonny Marley.

Could there be a revival of that old flame between Jeanne Martin and Terry Gumz?

She: "Where's your chivalry?"
 He: "I turned it in for a Buick."

Seems that Bruce Mock and Joann McGlincey have quite a good time in U. S. History class!

You write me that you're lonesome, That you miss my pretty face, That you never date another girl And don't go any place. You tell me that a hermit's life Describes what you are leading, And every evening after chow You spend your hours reading. You tell me that the thought of me Is all that you require. I write you that I do the same— Now who's the biggest liar?

One cute gal that is making quite a hit at Central is Betty Harrington.

New steadies: Mary Jane Maes and Ringelski.

Still looking: Chris Marorz.

Seen around lately: Frank Fisher and Marilee Pasick.

Why does Carolyn Lamenski rush to the lunch room everyday? Could it be a certain Bob?

Seems that Fred Schmidt has quite an interest in one of the Washington cheerleaders.

Margie Molnar has eyes for a certain football player!

Then we have Kay Duane and Carol Marvin surveying N. D. Good hunting, girls!

Verie has heard that Jim Landen has taken over the girls where his brother Tom left off.

What's this we hear about Catherine Hines going steady with a Central grad that is now attending college in Alabama?

MYSTERY MISS

Height: 5' 6".

Weight: "Good Heavens."

Eyes: Gray-green.

Activities: Glee club, Interlude reporter and home room agent.

Ambition: Writer or interior decorator.

Clue: For writing and singing she's got quite a flair-a: From home room 314 is—

Could Kiki Tsalikis have an interest in one of the Dunfee twins? Verie sees them together more than occasionally.

And then we have Nia Scopelitis taking frequent trips to Culver!

One of those forever and ever affairs: Sue Harley and Red.

Could be a new combination: Aaron Prather and Bonnie Palmeter.

Mr. Hawkins may have the cleanest floor in the building, but his 6th hour class certainly has dirty fingers at 3:15!

She's prowlin' again: Carole Weber.

The weaker sex is the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex.—Cornell Widow.

Margie Dobbelaere's interests have turned Amarillo way. Could it be a certain Arnie??

That most inseparable couple of 1952 have finally parted ways, but only because of Uncle Sam. Julius Bauer now serves with the Air Force, while Betty Piechocki waits for their soon approaching marriage.

Seen at Purdue Homecoming: Barbara Dresback and Bud Swinsick. (Central grads.)

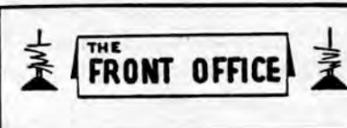

OPINIONS THAT COUNT

In general, what's the matter with our students as far as sports are concerned? I'll answer that question. We are too convinced that our team will win all the time and when we don't, the spirit of the game is gone! It seems that the students don't understand that sometimes we have to lose, so that when we do, their anger is brought to its peak. Then there is rebelling and destroying of almost any and everything.

I hope that everyone who reads this does not feel that I am referring to just them alone, because I'm not. I am speaking of just those few who are ruining it for the rest of us. In past years, this attitude hasn't been so noticeable, and has shown up in only minor things.

We just don't seem to realize that our boys are out there trying their level best to win for us. When they don't win, they take it as good losers should and they expect us to do the same. So let's all as students learn to be good losers as well as winners. What do you say?

—SHIRLEY TURNER.

YOUR RECORD

All our teachers wish it were not necessary to send out poor work slips. How nice it would be if all students did their best and no poor work slips had to be mailed to parents. We do not want students to fail. It is expensive for students to repeat a subject. For every thirty that fail to pass, a class has to be organized for them, and this takes one-fifth of a teacher's time. More than enough fail each semester to take up an entire five period day for a teacher. Your transcript is the best indication of what you will do in college and also what success you will have on your job. Every day our industrial plants ask for a record of some one. Will you be proud to have yours go to your employer or to the college of your choice?

—P. D. POINTER, Principal.

Bears Will Grapple Panthers

BEAR FACTS CUBSKIN

CENTRAL UP FOR WASHINGTON

Ross Stephenson's Central Bears, on the comeback trail with two consecutive victories and three wins overall, find themselves the opponents of a very rugged Washington Panther eleven Friday night at School Field.

"Sad" Sammy Wegner, a member of Central's unbeaten 1931 squad and a coach who perennially comes up with a powerhouse, has turned the trick again this year. Currently the Panthers are lodged in a first place tie in the conference race with five wins, one loss, and one tie. The Wegnermen hold victories over a tough East Chicago Roosevelt crew (18-0), Adams (39-7), Riley (14-0), LaPorte (32-14), Michigan City (12-6), while losing to John Janzurak's speedy Elkhart squad (6-7), and being held to a standstill by Mishawaka (13-13).

Washington and Central have battled each other 15 times since 1937, and the Greenclads have been on the long end of the score eight times, with four contests having resulted in ties. Before the season started the Panthers were rated as one of the best teams in the state and thus far this season they have lived up to their pre-season billing.

Gone from the west side gridiron scene are such well-known performers as Ned Vargo, Gerry Wierbinski, Al Cashaw, Span Mitchem, and Art Lootens. Wegner still has eight lettermen back to form the nucleus of this year's squad. Two seniors, co-captain Dale Fozo, and Jim Kish, return at guard to lead a very large Washington line. At center, another senior, Len Jurgonski, has played great ball all year, and was practically immovable in the LaPorte tilt. At tackles, the other co-captain Matt Griffin and Dick Pusztai are back for their last year. On the offensive flank Bill Forrest, a junior, and Len Sommers, a senior, are good targets for quarterback Alex Benko. Defensive standouts in the forward wall include Ron Milewski, middle guard, Mike Mondovics, defensive line-backer, Steve Boskey, a hard charging tackle, and Don Czajkaowski a standout linebacker.

Junior Bob Neispodziany, a second string halfback, has done most of the booting for Washington and has clicked on 8 out of 20 conversions thus far this season.

halfback position Steve (The Zipper) Rzepnicki carries on the tradition of the Rzepnicki family at Washington. Steve has had three of brothers preceding him on Panther teams. At right half, Bob Lechtanski gets the nod over Bob Niespodziany.

Thus far in the conference roll, Washington has scored 16 touchdowns and their explosive fullback Joe (Go-Go) Brazier has personally accounted for 8 of them, with 12 to his credit in overall play. As if that weren't enough to make any rival coach take an overdose of headache pills, Joe still has a year left, as this season he is only a junior.

With Washington's great rushing attack, Sam has had little motive to over use his passing offense, but when the need has arisen, the Panthers aerial game has been dangerous.

The boys expected to start for Central this Friday are as follows: Bob Scannell at full, Dave Kindt and "Blimp" Laughlin at the halves, Jim "Duke" Dulcet, at quarterback, Kenney Krempec and Emery Molnar at end, Bob Pauszek and Tom Kajzer at tackle, Joe Taylor and John Eichorst at guard, and Ted Ringer at center post.

"B" TEAM

Central's "B" football team lost to Riley last Monday, by a score of 13-6. The Bears were outplayed but managed to stay in the game with a last period score.

A few plays after the game started,

Riley scored on a fifty-yard pass play. The try for the extra point was low.

Riley's second touchdown came near the end of the third quarter on an end run for thirteen yards. They converted and the score was 13 to 0.

In the fourth quarter Dickens' interception of a pass and a pass to Zielinski put the ball in scoring position. With less than three minutes to play, Mathews sped around end for Central's only score. The ball was ruled dead on the try for the P. A. T.

Central's line play was good as they stopped the running attack of Riley. Their pass defense left much to be desired as the Wildcats penetrated the defense with passes to their big ends.

Riley was plagued by penalties. They had three miscues in the first four plays of the game and many after that; but their passing attack made up for this lost yardage.

The starting lineup:
LE—Rems
LT—West
LG—Hager
C—Dickens
RG—Hague
RT—Eichorst
RE—Reed
QB—Zielinski
LH—Ieraci
RH—Mathews
FB—Lake

HARRIERS TAKE SECOND IN CITY MEET

Coach Devon Phelp's Central Harriers finished second behind Riley in the City Cross-Country meet last week. Following Central were Adams, third, and Washington, fourth. The score was as follows: Riley 38, Central 41, Adams 63, and Washington 84. Coach Smith's Wildcats were led by Phil Harris and Charles McGeath, who finished first and third respectively. Bill O'dell and Jack Ogden paced the Bears with a 4th and 5th respectively, and George Rohrbach finished 10th. Harris' first place time was a fast 10:09.

The Harriers final meets are the conference at Valparaiso, and the sectional at Mishawaka.

"C" TEAM

Wednesday afternoon the Central freshman football team pummeled LaPorte with a sharp running attack as they won, 19 to 0.

The Bears received the opening kickoff and drove seventy-five yards for a touchdown. Beisell scored on a line plunge for four yards.

To start the second half Central made a short kickoff that was fumbled and Krulewitch recovered for the Bears. Soon after Joe Phillips scored on a 15-yard charge up the

During this season many fans of the Bears have been asking why The INTERLUDE has not criticized the football team. In the first place, we do not pretend that Central's squad is as good as last fall's, but we definitely believe that with a fair share of the breaks the Bears would have won at least five games this far. Stephenson's boys had had the winning touchdown called back in the LaPorte tilt, while in the Riley and Mishawaka games, fumbles and pass interceptions paved the way for our defeat. The INTERLUDE believes in fair criticism, but it is certainly not fair to criticize a team just because it doesn't happen to get the breaks.

Back in the early 1900's we found that Principal Vale had an article in The INTERLUDE that tells about something in everyday life.

"Did you ever observe what a human kaleidoscope the High School is? A boy enters in Knickerbockers and long stockings, and suddenly there is a self conscious confusion, and a change of a foot in length takes place in his trousers. Then the confused call at the barber shop, a change noticeable too his chums. The shoes begin to shine and the first conjugation in his foreign language becomes easy and interesting.

The girl, whereas, does not interfere with the length of her skirt, but takes in hand the matter of size and length of sleeve, causing a regular vibration up and down the arm. The new hair style suggests earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. Take her with all her fancies and ways. What would the High School be without her? Just a wilderness of sighing unkempt boys. We like kaleidoscope views." . . . a paid advertisement:

JR. TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE MEETS

The Jr. TB League held its October 8th meeting at Healthwin. After assembling in the hospital's entertainment rooms furnished by discharged patients, two groups were formed and the visitors took a tour of the hospital.

In the laboratory different growths of TB were shown to the group. The league members were also taken through an x-ray room, class rooms, the home economics kitchen, the handicraft rooms, and the radio and watch repair shops. An alcove near the main entrance is where the products of the handicraft workers are sold.

The groups then separated and league members visited their pen pals.

A lecture followed by a brief discussion on TB was given by one of the head doctors at Healthwin.
