

Mrs. F. D. R. Praises UN Goals

By LUCY SIMON

"Vision to look into the future, courage to meet the problems of the world of today, and the stamina of our forefathers . . ." were the concluding words spoken to a well-filled John Adams auditorium Monday night, Dec. 14th, by one of the most outstanding women in the world, Eleanor Roosevelt, in her lecture on the "U. N. and Its Usefulness to the United States," given under the auspices of the International Relations Forum.

A few of the accomplishments of the U. N. have been to bring about (1) a peace between the Indonesians and the Dutch, (2) an armed peace between the Arab States and Israel and (3) the interesting negotiations of Frank Graham of North Carolina between Pakistan and India.

Mrs. Roosevelt in her personal work on the U. N. staff first as U. S. Representative to the General Assembly and then as Chairman of the Human Rights Commission between 1949 and 1952 was the guiding hand in the completion of the Declaration of Human Rights which was incorporated in the constitution of post-war Japan.

Mrs. Roosevelt stressed that she at no time has felt that the Korean war was a failure, because it was the first time when in the face of danger 27 nations united in meeting and stopping aggression. She feels that this is an example of what would happen if aggression were ever again started. It would be a great temptation for the Kremlin to roll across Europe except for the facts that (1) when the North Koreans crossed the 38th parallel this action was opposed and (2) that out of 60 member-nations there are as a rule only five votes on the side of the Soviet Government and its satellites. The report of this voting is sent by the Secretary-General directly to the Kremlin as well as to the member nations. Her greatest fear of the power of Communism is the control of the minds of the men who work for it because they often do and say things which they themselves don't believe and they realize no one else believes.

This highly intelligent, much traveled woman in her audience with the high school reporters emphasized that the most important part high school boys and girls could play in promoting world peace was to make an intensive study of their government and its history, and as many languages as is possible to include in their school curriculum. She has found her knowledge of English, French, Italian, Spanish, and German a great asset in making friends. This former first lady of our country definitely feels that college training if possible is of vast importance in gaining the proper educational background; that if we are old enough to defend our country at eighteen we are also capable of voting; and that eventually, due to the fact that the U. N. meetings are held in an English-speaking country, that language will become the world tongue.

In her personal opinion she includes an admiration for President Eisenhower who on his return from the Bermuda Conference came before the United Nations with his proposal for the peace-time use of atomic energy.

BEARS HOPE TO TAKE TOURNEY TROPHY AT LAFAYETTE; MEET JEFFERSONVILLE IN 1st GAME; LAFAYETTE vs. ELKHART IN FRIDAY'S LAST GAME

By TERRY PLUNKETT, Interlude Sports Editor

This year, as in the past, Central has been invited downstate to play in one of the top Christmas Tourneys of the year. Coach McCall and the squad will be accompanied by numerous vacation-free, travel-minded students who will embark on Lafayette by either bus or car. The tournament this year is being held the 29 and 30th of December and Principal P. D. Pointer has announced that Central has reserved some buses for the jaunt southward. The price of the bus ticket is $2.50 for a one-day trip. The buses will leave Lafayette Tuesday and will return again Wednesday in time for the finals of the tournament. This return trip will cost another $2.50. The price of the ticket for all of the games is $2.00. Any student wishing to sign up for the bus is welcome to do so sometime before the 23rd of December when the office closes for the holidays. The parents of the students and the faculty strongly urge taking the bus because of the highway hazards.

Last season, the Bears showed signs of tournament weakness by finishing last in the Frankfort Invitational. McCall changed matters by the time of the big tournament, though. In the Frankfort fracas, Central was defeated by a tall Jeffersonville five by a score of 47-44. Jeff's two 6'-6" boys in their forward line were what spelled disaster for the Bears. Frankfort defeated Hammond in the other tilt that day. In the opening game the next day Hammond defeated Central 43-40 to win consolation honors while Jeffersonville whipped Frankfort.

In the Christmas Tourney of 1951, the last time Central played in the Lafayette tourney, they won it. On this team were Tom Landen, Stan Davis, Ben Jagla, Tom Singer, Bob Bogol, and Don Pierson. The Bears put on a fine showing for fans as they came from behind to defeat E. Chicago Washington and the Crispus Attucks from Indianapolis after trailing by 11 points in the fourth quarter in both contests.

Participants of the 1952 Lafayette tourney were Evansville Central, the Attucks, Seymour, and Lafayette Jeff, the host.

The Elkhart Blue Blazers, fellow conference members, will be a strong contender under their very excellent coach, Bill Milliner. The Blazers opened their season by defeating a strong Roosevelt five from E. Chicago. Jefferson Twp. was the next to fall by a 59-48 score. Goshen and LaPorte (conference game) were the next two victims of the undefeated Blue Blazers. The Elkhartans play the Maroons of Mishawaka tomorrow night in a game that promises to be a thriller. It is a cinch that the Blazers will not go into the tournament undefeated because if Mish. fails to drop them, then either Muncie Central (Monday) or Frankfort (Tuesday) will bump them from the ranks of the unblemished. The Blazers have four lettermen back and have a very capable team. The veterans are Ray Ball, Erich Barnes and Dick Murray. Stork is a new man and will play the center spot with Johnson seeing a lot of guard duty.

Coach Marion Crawley's Jefferson Broncos are in a rebuilding process but he has nine returning lettermen, seven of whom are football players. The probable starting five are Bob Clark, Dude Taylor, Bud Goodnight, Mike Costello and Hal Traviolia. The early season games were no competition as the Broncos bowled over Lebanon, Delphi and Rossville. They were defeated by Kokomo in the early part of December.

When you mention Pete O'Bremsky all the eyes down Jeffersonville way light up. He is one of their stars who will return from last year's sensational starting five. Along with him, Coach Bill Johnson welcomes back Bobby "Little Man" Potter and Dick Wann to form the nucleus of his squad. When they say "little man" you better look again because they really grow them tall down there. O'Bremsky tallied 21 points as the Red Devils smashed small Paoli 72-50 in their opener. Since then they have played Madison, Bloomington, Vincennes, and Seymour.

From reviewing the teams that are to grace the Purdue fieldhouse floor it looks as if Central is once again in the best of company!

The Story of Three Kings To Be Presented Last Time Tonight

By JEANNE MARTIN

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," a one-act opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti, will be presented at Central High School by the Central Barnstormers and Glee Club this Thursday morning and Thursday night. This work, a new version of the Christmas story which is becoming a TV tradition, is open to the public.

It is the story of the Three Kings, who stop at the hut of Amahl and his mother on their way to Bethlehem. Amahl and his mother are astonished at the splendor of their robes and the wealth of their gifts.

When Amahl's mother finds out that all the splendid gifts are for the newborn babe they are looking for, she becomes bitter and envious. She feels that they should be bestowed upon her own crippled and sickly child.

Explains Who King Is

While the Three Kings are sleeping she steals some of the gold from them and is caught red-handed, but explaining she needed the gold to feed her starving child she is forgiven. The Three Kings try to explain to her who the newborn child is and how much He needs the love of every human being to build His Kingdom.

The poor widow returns the gold, but wishes she could add a gift of her own. Little Amahl hands to the Three Kings his most precious possession, his wooden crutch, and as he does this, a miracle occurs, for he is suddenly cured of his lameness.

When the Three Kings are ready to resume their journey, Amahl begs his mother to let him join them. He is finally allowed to follow the Kings to Bethlehem to adore and give thanks to the Christ child.

The cast is as follows: Amahl, played by Allen Olson and Andre Johnson; his mother by LaVerne Hesiben and Joan Niblick; the Kings, Commodore Nicks, Jon Treacy, Bob Fassnacht, Roger Matthews, and Dan Millar; and a page, Bill Nicks.

Chorus and Dancers

There also will be a large chorus and a group of dancers which includes Marilyn Miller, Carolyn Whitmer, Betty Oursler, Sharon Pollack, Ronnie Unger and Dale Stockton.

The dance is one of the unique points of the show, the music being a mixture of sounds from a shepherd's lute and bagpipes.

The production committee includes members of the Barnstormer board and other students. Bill Harrington is in charge of props; Sarah Schmidt, costumes, and Ernie Humphrey, stage. Sue Tankersly and George Petit are doing the sets, and Carolyn Whitmer and Sharon Pollack are in charge of wardrobe. The production manager is Carolyn Schaphorst; student director, John Toth, and assistant student director, Marian Menzie.

THE BISHOP'S MANTLE

As Reviewed by AGNES TURNBULL

This delightfully touching story of a young rector, Hilary Laurens, and his effervescent wife Alexa, was one of the most popular books of its time.

Throughout his childhood and later years Hilary felt the great influence of his Bishop grandfather. As a result of this relationship he gained a love of his profession which surely aided him in dealing with the problems and people of his parish.

Being impossible to name all the people that had an effect on the young rector, these might be considered the most important. Dick, his younger brother, so unlike Hilary, was as spirited as a young colt. When Dick leaves for the war to operate an ambulance crew, their brotherly love is shattered by his death. Another was Forrest, the blind organist, who so many times helped to guide Hilary by talking with him.

You can't forget the day when one of his most important weddings was neglected just because he was inspecting tenement houses, a project on which Hilary worked so diligently. Luckily his efficient secretary Miss Mowtray sees that he arrives safely. Another tight spot in which he becomes involved is when a young woman, Diana Downes claims him as her beau. Kind-hearted Hilary tries to be polite and explains that he is a married man and a young bishop, and that he could not possibly go to her apartment for the friendly chat which she so desires.

As the story moves on, the war is becoming progressively worse and many of the men of the church leave for the call of duty. Hilary too enlists, and as a chaplain leaves his wife and beloved parish at home, to serve his country. Indeed this well-thought of rector was long remembered.

—Betty Oursler.

Your Auntie was mighty glad to hear that Gayle Jones and Wally Gartee (Central Grads), after being members of the steady list for a long time, have become engaged.

Recently while eavesdropping under the clock your Auntie heard someone mention a big dance to be held presently. Understanding it to be a formal fete the old gal, all decked out in one of her timeless outfits, joined Judy Clark and Brian Campbell, Elissa Baer and Don DeLee, and Julie Orvis and Bob Noble who graciously transported her there. Upon entering she met Evelyn Scholz and Emery Molnar, the latter took her coat as she and Evelyn joined the other girls in front of the mirror. There was Joanne Bennett who came with Kent Keller, Marcia Milliken escorted by Joe Febbo and Barbara Parrish and Charlotte Hoffman who were with Chuck Niblick and Joe Jajorski, respectively. After discussing the state of the nation she parted their company and went in to join those couples already dancing. At the door she spoke with Roseann Deka and Norrine Bruce who had come with Tom Clark and Don Brennan. Entering she joined the cluster of pairs surrounding Jim Powers and Marilyn Glaser which included Nancy Griffith and Don Swartz, Sue Snellenburger and Jay Charon, Merilee Posick and Bruce Mock, Nancy Plotkin and Jerry Moss and Dorothy Daniels and Dave Kindt. While catching her breath after dancing with Bob Govers who had come with Alice Fill and Ted Ringer who escorted Helen Mauro she caught a glimpse of Pat Kowalski and Frank Hartman, Mary Jo Simms and Chuck Tyler, Louanne Schmecker and Bob Armour and Marilyn Hedrick and Bill Becker. After tripping the light fantastic a few dozen more times and happening to see Pat Groat and Joel Mesecar, Marguerite Schmitt and John Stancati, Pat Slott and Paul Hartman, and Rosie Kester and Dick Mroczkiewicz she headed for the door and taking leave of Joe Boland and Sue Walters and Joanne Badowski and Joe Horst, was safely escorted home in the wee hours of the morning by

SUB-DEB HINTS

It's about time — to date, to learn, to play, and to grow. In the November issue of Ladies' Home Journal, the Sub-Deb Editor, Ruth Imler, discusses these four things in relationship to teen-age maturity.

Maybe by this time you've decided that you'd rather be friendly to members of the opposite sex than start dating. Boys are more apt to feel this way than girls, partly because it's their wallets that suffer! Don't be afraid to say "hello" or ask about homework, though, because that's just being sociable. On a date the boy is responsible for getting the girl home on time, but it is up to her to remind him. Otherwise, there might not be any more evening dates for a while!

Maybe you've seen one of those rare persons who doesn't seem to study much, yet always comes out on top with A's. (Exasperating, isn't it?) Most people, though, are normal humans, and, being normal, have to study to get average grades. A cool room, a homework schedule (with Liz Serritella and Bob Ebbola — the two best jitterbug dancers she'd seen in a long time.

Seems that Marilou Kovacs has transferred her interests out Washington-Clay way. Could it be Dick Reppert???

Hello you cute, cuddly little cockroaches. Welcome once again to the realm of the ridiculous.

Mrs. Santa Claus—Nat "King" Cole

Here's a light, peppy little number just designed to make you goosey with joy and reeking with good will. I bet it will even have you clutching your little tummies with glee! Did "ya" ever wonder who feeds the reindeers and takes all the orders for Santa's toys? Uh huh, it's a delightful portrayal of Mrs. Santa Claus, Santa's right-hand man. (smiles)

RECORDS

C-H-R-I-S-T-M-A-S

This is a beautiful ballad spelling out the true meaning of Christmas. It expresses the thought that there are many things more valuable than earthly treasures. Take note all you people that stand in line trying to get a drink before the tardy bell rings. Especially the ones that hover over the fountain attempting to drink the entire water supply. That peeves me. Hate to be thirsty.

SHEET MUSIC

Christmas Song—Nat "King" Cole

Do you smell chestnuts roasting over an open fire? Is Jack Frost nippin' at your nose? You're not sick, you're just in love—with Christmas that is. This song was exceedingly popular last year and it looks like it's back for a return bout this season.

INSTRUMENTS

Christmas Dragnet—Stan Freeburg

Seems a man in this one didn't believe in Santa Claus, so he was wisked up to the North Pole on a 403. The greedy gourmet really saw what he was missing when he saw all the presents he had never received because he had been a disbeliever. Better start reforming, kids—Blessed are those who believe.

PHONOGRAPHS

Santa Baby—Eartha Kitt

Cadillac—light blue. Is that what you want me to buy you for Christmas, cats? Fooney on you, too. What do you think I am, a money tree? No fooling though, this little number has gone straight to the top of the list.

PIANOS

Oh My Papa—Eddie Fisher

Here's a song with a lovely melody and very tender, sincere lyrics. It's the story of a boy's devotion to his father, who was so funny in his way; so lovable, gentle, and understanding. Eddie Kalvert has a recent release on an Essex label, which he is featured as a trumpet soloist. The song was a current hit in England last month.

MUSICAL ACCESSORIES

All Alone

Have you been alone by your telephone lately, cats? Are you blue every evening wondering where he is, and how he is, and if he's all alone too? Take heart, you're not the only one! This song is a very slow moving, haunting number; "music to make you misty."

P. S.

I asked Jerry Moss if he had any hit tunes for my record column, and he replied slyly, "I'm dreaming of a Red Christmas," "I'm a Communist." Poor buzzard. He probably has a lot on his mind. It happens every year right before Christmas!

Splashers Back On Winning Track

Lobaugh Cops Two Events

By JOE BOLAND, Jr.

Coach Tom Hoyer's splashers swam to a easy 43-23 victory over Thornton Fractional of Calumet, Ill. last Friday afternoon at the South Bend Natatorium.

The Bears looked good, taking a first and second nearly every event, dropping the 180-yd. medley and 160-yd. freestyle relays to Cal City.

Leslie Lobaugh, this year's captain, swam the 100-yd. freestyle in :56.4, which was just three-tenths of a second off the Conference time last year.

Some outstanding times for this early in the season were turned in by Jim Grant and Tom Gustafson in the 100-yd. breaststroke. They swam a 1:11.6 and 1:13.9, respectively. These two men look very promising come time for the state meet.

Bob MacDonald, returning letterman in the 200-yd. freestyle, was nudged out by Tom Hill who swam a 2:20.8. MacDonald's time was 2:21.5.

Jim Dulcet won the 100-yd. backstroke, swimming a 1:12.3. Joe Boland, of Central, placed second. Lobaugh and Dunnuck placed first and third, respectively, in the 40-yd. freestyle.

Terry Gumz copped the fancy diving event with little trouble.

Central Tankmen Take Second in a Row 42-24

The Central Tankmen took their second victory in a row last Monday afternoon, defeating Central of Kalamazoo 42-24. Out of the six individual events S. B. Central took six firsts, three seconds, and three thirds, dropping the two relays to Kalamazoo.

Les Lobaugh copped firsts in the 40-yard and 100-yard dashes. John Dunnuck took third and second respectively in those events, missing a second in the 40-yard dash by four-tenths of a second.

Jim Grant and Tom Gustafson turned in a repeat performance from the Fractional meet by taking first and second respectively in the 100-yard breast-stroke.

Bob MacDonald returned to the number one spot in the 200-yard freestyle by taking first in the event with Tom Hill finishing second.

Terry Gumz copped a first in the fancy diving with little trouble at all. Guggle, a new diver for Central placed third.

The Tankmen will face Muncie Burris tomorrow afternoon at Muncie.

Jr. High Defeats Oliver 53-20; Sixth Straight

Central Jr. High walloped Oliver, 53-20. It was the Bruins' sixth straight win, without a defeat, this year. Oliver, last year's conference champs, is made up of inexperienced first-year players. Central's Jr. High, last year's tourney champs, played just an average game, but they couldn't look too terrific because of the ragged playing of the opponent.

High point man was Joe Winston with eleven.

Here is the score by quarters:
 Oliver ----- 4 8 15 20
 Central ----- 19 30 44 53

JR. HOOPBALL SQUADS COMPILE 9-1 RECORD, FAIL TO DRAW CROWDS

The Elementary Basketball teams have been able to show a very successful season so far this year. The seventh graders have a record of 1-1, the eighth a record of 5-0, and the freshmen a record of 3-0. So you see a total of 9 wins and 1 loss, but the coaches have been complaining about never seeing any fans. So hearing of this the Sports Boosters (Cont'd on page 4, col. 4)

BEARS FACE GOSHEN, SEEK 2nd NIHSC WIN

This Saturday night the Central Bears will take on the Goshen Redskins in the second league game of the season for both teams. Goshen has a new coach this year, Henry "Hank" Clason. The Redskins have been quite ineffective this year, winning only one, their opener against New Paris, and dropping five. The opposition should be much easier for Coach McCall's boys, than their five previous games. Central has played five top-notch foes in Hammond, Gary Roosevelt, Logansport, East Chicago Washington, and Michigan City. When the Bears travel to Goshen it will be one of the few soft spots on their tough schedule which takes them to each part of the state to play the top teams.

The new Goshen coach, along with his assistant Ralph Peterson, are working with an experienced group but are short on talent as their record indicates. The Redskins have eight lettermen returning plus a transfer student from nearby Jefferson Township named Marty Bassett, who appears to be the only real threat that Goshen can boast. Bassett is a 5'-9", 147-pound senior who runs from a guard position. Goshen has many football boys on their squad and three are on the first string. Larry Yoder is a light 5'-10 1/2" forward and he hit his peak with an 18-point performance against Adams. Phil Keim, 6', 185 pounds, plays center and has as yet not demonstrated any particular scoring ability. The third griddler on the starting five is Keith Swihart, who came up from the "B" team to break into the starting lineup against Adams and score 13 points. Bassett and either Emmert or Gorsuch will round out the starting five. Gorsuch is the tallest man on the squad at 6'-2". This junior will battle with Clay Emmert, 6'1", for the starting forward position. Other letter winners are Gerald Edwards, Dick Hinckley, Larry Eldridge, Wayne McCaughen, and Phil Nofzinger.

The Redskins have averaged under 50 points per game against good opposition.

Coach Elmer McCall will field a team of four letter winners and senior Jack Cote. Paired with Cote at the forward slot is Bill Harmon. Jack Quiggle will be at center and Paul Harvey and Emery Molnar, who has found his shooting eye, will be the playmakers. Dan O'Donnell, who acquired a knee injury against E. Chicago Washington, will be a reserve who will be on the doubtful list. Other reserves that will probably see a lot of action are Frank Hartman, Ed Gray, Jim Reider, Leland Yockey, Bob Greer, Doug Reed, and Jim Landen.

Probable starting lineups:

CENTRAL	GOSHEN
Cote (5'10")	F Gorsuch (6'2")
Harmon (6'2")	F Koler (5'10 1/2")
Quiggle (6'3")	C Keim (6')
Harvey (5'10")	G Swihart (5'11")
Molnar (6'2")	G Bassett (5'9")

All Centralites will be interested to know that special plans are being made by participants in the annual Lafayette Holiday Tourney to be held in the Jefferson High School Fieldhouse, Dec. 28 and 29.

As many buses as are needed will be available to transport Central fans to the tourney. Principal Pointer has announced. The only other team from this area to compete in the tourney this year is conference rival Elkhart. Other squads are the perennially strong North Central quintet, Lafayette Jeff, and the independent southern power, Jeffersonville.

Centralites who are planning to attend should place their reservations for sleeping quarters well ahead of time. Reservations may be placed at the Union Building on the Purdue campus or at the Hotel Fowler in downtown Lafayette.

Special festivities have been planned by the host school, Jefferson, including a "sock hop" for all schools on the final night.

Bears Defeat Howe 30-18; E. C. Washington, 29-15

Coach Bob Jones' wrestling team is showing a determined effort in bringing the state championship to Central this year. Up to date they have downed three foes in dual meets over the last two weeks. Central drew first blood at Howe Military defeating them by an impressive 30-18 score. The following week the matmen invaded East Chicago Washington leaving them holding the short end of a 29-15 score. The next day Thornton Fractional visited Central hoping to hand the wrestlers their first defeat of the season; they returned home with a 24-20 loss tallied against them.

Frosh Win Three Games in One Week

By DENNY BISHOP

The ninth-grade Bears overpowered Mishawaka 37-34, Washington 53-38, and Washington-Clay 40-14, last week. Tuesday of last week a tall, fast-moving Mishawaka team breezed into South Bend and left with their chins drooping a foot, as they were beaten by our strong freshman team. Mishawaka, led by their six-foot-two-inch center, has nothing to be ashamed of because they played a fine game.

In the first quarter Central out-scored the Cavemen 9-8 with Hotshot Reed getting three points for Central, and Johnson four for Mishawaka. The second quarter had Central again out-scoring Mishawaka, this time 10-5. Led by Coalman's defense on Johnson and "Pug" Lee's driving the Bears looked good as the first half ended. Pug had six points in the second quarter.

"Bg John" Coalman again led the Bears' attack in the third quarter by scoring six, holding Johnson to two and by rebounding. The third quarter score was Central 29, Mishawaka 22.

The Cavemen came out for the fourth period with fire in their eyes. Mish. had a rally in the fourth period but it fell short. Mishawaka scored 12 to Central's eight. High-point man for Central was Coalman with 14. High for the Cavemen was Witkowski with 10 counters. Johnson also had 10.

Central trounced a ragged Washington team 53-38. The Panthers played neck-and-neck with the Bears until the three-quarter point which brought the Bears out-playing and out-scoring Washington 16-6. High-point men for Central were Reed and Coalman with 18 and 16, respectively.

Grapplers Nip Thornton Fractional 24-20; Pauszek Stars

By TOM GATES

By virtue of a clutch pin victory by Central's heavyweight, Bob Pauszek, Central's wrestlers won their third straight victory by barely edging Thornton Fractional, 24-20, in a thrilling meet which was held in the Girls' Gymnasium last Friday.

Bob Jones, our wrestling coach, arranged for four exhibition bouts between the two teams' reserves and Central wasn't very successful in the matches, as they lost all four. Ernie Kurdys lost a 103-pound decision, Bill Atherton lost a 118-pound decision, Gary Wegenke was pinned in a 127-pound contest, and John Biessel was pinned in a 145-pound match to start the evening in a rather unpleasant manner.

In the varsity meet, Central won exactly half of the matches, but pins paid off for a victory. The Bears pinned three opponents while Thornton's grapplers pinned only one Bear.

The results of the varsity match were as listed below:

	Score:	C	T
95 lbs.—Hettinghouse (C) lost, dec.	0	3
103 lbs.—Gates (C) lost, dec.	0	6
112 lbs.—Grocki (C) won, dec.	3	6

 hardest subjects first!), and a weekly review should give any grade a boost. When taking a printed test, do the easiest ones first; then, in the remaining time (?) go back to the "toughies." Be sure to check your answers, though, for carelessness can make the difference between C or B.

Extracurricular activities are also important. With every experience in a group, your social maturity grows and you begin to have poise; the very thing you admire in Bob Jones, president of your class or Sue Brown, who has the "lead" part in the senior play.

JR. HOOPBALL (Cont'd)

GOOD HARDWARE SINCE 1864

Has one of your parent's friends recently said, "My, how little Charlie has grown!" and given you the urge to scream. You want to prove you're as old as you look, too. Editor Ruth Imler suggests asking yourself these questions to measure your growth in judgment: "Do I accept constructive criticism? Do I have plans for my future? Do I handle my money and time wisely? Do both boys and girls like me? Do I judge people on their own merits?"

A majority of "yes" answers point toward maturity, while "no" answers show there's room for improvement. This is supposed to be one of the best times of your life, but only you can make it so.
