Coach Reinebold Views Upcoming Colonial Season

by Mark Stamper

After four years of coaching at Clay, Coach James Reinebold sees a nucleus for possibly his best team. However, success will depend upon how much the players utilize their potential and how serious they are in improving their skills and knowledge.

Though the team will be made up of more experienced players, Coach sees a need for more depth at almost every position because it would be difficult to keep the team running at top performance in the event of serious injuries. Mr. Reinebold says, "Experience doesn't necessarily bring success; it's how hungry the players are to learn." With eleven returning lettermen, almost all the starting positions will be filled at least tentatively until Coach posts them.

Coach Reinebold has his greatest concern for the infield. A different starting infield may have to be instituted. Last year's first baseman, Greg Smith, is no longer at Clay. This year George Grenert and Ron DeHaven will battle for first. Possibly pitchers may be used when not pitching. Gary King, who last year as a freshman took over third base midway in the season, may be placed at second this year. One of the biggest changes may be at shortstop. With last year's shortstop, Mark Miller, graduating, Charlie Clark may take over that position instead of second which he played last year. Pat Smith, last year's utility infielder, may be starting as third baseman.

The outfield seems stable with four returning lettermen in Tim Fick, Gregg Ivins, Jesse Neely, and Ron DeHaven. These outfielders will have to hustle for Coach made this statement, "There are good B-teamers from last year ready to take the regulars' places."

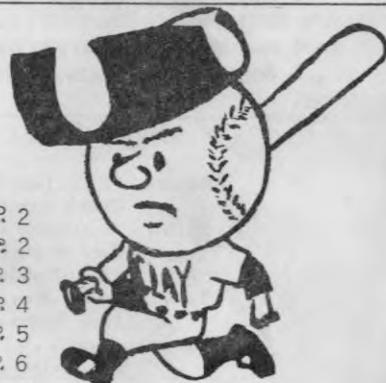

At catcher, Coach Reinebold would like to see two experienced players and a younger one in case of emergencies. This year's replacement for Rusty Sparks, last year's Kiwanis winner and graduate, will

Baseball '67 - To Inform and To Promote

Our purpose in publishing this supplement is to inform the student body, the community and other interested persons of Clay's prospects in the forthcoming baseball season and of its accomplishments in the past.

Baseball has long been an under-publicized sport on the high school level and it is our aim to promote the sport to its proper status.

Clay is fortunate enough to have a baseball coach who is dedicated to the sport and its ideals. Under the direction of Coach Jim Reinebold, the journalism class has compiled this supplement.

The staff wishes to express their gratitude to Miss O'Brien without whom the completion would have been impossible, and to Ramarr Printing for their assistance.

Indiana Holds First State Tourney

Indiana's first state high school baseball tournament will be held this spring.

It will be patterned after the basketball eliminations and will begin May 29 with 64 sectionals between May 29 and June 6. There will be sixteen regionals with four teams each on June 9-10 and four semi-states with four teams each June 13-14.

The finals will be at Victory Field in Indianapolis, with two games in the morning and the championship in late afternoon, on June 17.

This column begins The Anecdotal Information about the 1966 Colonial Lettermen and is continued on pages 3 and 5.

The Pitcher

The enveloping tenseness mounts while he eternally handles the circle of leather that accounts for the gorilla stance and the quick glance at the player on the first stone of the rhombused pond, as back straightened elbow and knee joints move in unison to commence his song of rhythm. Lined arms go back, high and measured in speed while his leg solos the air preceding a quick motion that determines his encore as the pill hums over home.

Reinebold Views Season . .

most likely be Jim Campbell. In rounding out the positions, the diamond men are fortunate in the fact that both starting pitchers, Bill Brooks and Mike Borkowski, are returning. Both are experienced and have had good previous seasons. As Coach Reinebold said, "Bill Brooks and Mike Borkowski could be two of the best pitchers in the area."

In viewing the 1967 baseball season Coach finds a tougher schedule in teams like East Chicago Washington, Jeffersonville, Culver Military, and most South Bend schools will be strong. Nevertheless he said, "If the boys live up to their potential, with baseball their prime interest, and barring injuries, there is a good chance to go to the state championship."

Throughout the years, interest in baseball has grown steadily at Clay. The late Jerry Miller, former Clay coach, contributed greatly to this. He increased interest in players, fans, and in the whole school community. There has also been helpful cooperation on the part of Mr. Turnock and Mr. Hodge. Coach Reinebold hopes to increase enthusiasm even more by setting up the 1967 schedule so that students and parents can see as many games as possible. Support can make a big difference in the success or failure of a team.

In the future Coach would like to achieve various goals. Among these would be his 200th win. In ten years of coaching he has had 181 wins and 55 losses. Then, he would like to see at least one of his players go on to play college or pro baseball. Mr. Reinebold also visualizes for the future a closed football-baseball stadium charging admission. He concluded the interview by stating, "There is enough interest in the community to enable sports activities to pay for themselves."

Returning Seniors Add Experience

Bill Brooks, George Grenert, and Jesse Neely are returning senior lettermen for the Colonial diamond men this year.

Bill has been on the pitching staff for 3 years and is expecting his best season. Bill's ERA has improved steadily; last year it was 2.090, compared with other pitchers in the area; this is termed outstanding by Coach Reinebold. He returned and turned in two years on the mound for Clay, winning a letter his Sophomore year and a medal his junior year.

Bill is not only a good pitcher but makes the fable "Pitchers aren't hitters" untrue. He hit .326 last season with 1 homerun, 3 doubles, and 23 total bases.

Clutch hitting is one of George Grenert's specialties. Although George was at bat 13 times and collected only 3 hits, they came in key situations to help keep Colonial rallies alive.

1966 was George's first year on the diamond and as a junior he started the practice season in the outfield. With competition rough, Coach Reinebold decided to give the six-footer a chance at first base.

Jess Neely, centerfielder, combines hustle, alertness and a good stick, to make him outstanding as one of Clay's ballplayers. Hitting .383, he lead the club in hits, with 23, and was third in total bases with 26.

Throughout the season Jess showed that not only power in batting helps win ball games, but that it also takes a consistent hitter who can get on base and score.

Jess never started a game but he did some fine relief pitching with a .000 ERA, and only 6 hits tallied against him.

Perhaps his greatest attribute was his superb fielding. Out of 17 games as an outfielder he committed only 1 error for a .917 fielding average.

Team Bound For Kentucky

Features of the 1967 educational baseball trip to Kentucky will be the Patton Museum, Army basic training, and the Gold Depository. "The trip has been planned so that besides baseball, the boys will be able to see as many educational things as possible", says head coach James Reinebold.

On April 4 the diamond men will arrive at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and will stay for 4 days at Camp Carlson, a youth camp. Bob Park, head baseball coach at Fort Knox, and Walter Hale, officer in charge of facilities, will make sure that the ball team has plenty to do and see.

During their stay games have been scheduled on April 5th and 6th with workouts on the 4th, 5th, and 6th. Tours are planned and the boys will observe army basic training, and eat with soldiers.

On the trip home, an overnight stay at Jeffersonville, Indiana, has been arranged by Coach Reinebold and head coach "Doc" Bolton at Jeffersonville. Games will be played there on April 7th and 8th and a tour of the Hillerick-Bradsby Baseball Bat Company has also been planned. The trip may be concluded with a tour of Lincoln's birthplace. The team will arrive home on the evening of April 8th.

8 Game Win Streak Highlights '66 Season

The 1966 baseball season for the Clay Colonials was especially encouraging. Among many of their feats they compiled a 15-3 record which included an eight game win streak. During this long winning streak the Colonials defeated: S.B. Washington, Culver Military, S.B. Adams and Logansport in single games and Laville and Edwardsburg in double headers. This streak is believed to be a school record.

On April 9 the Colonials opened their baseball season against LaVillie in a double header at Bendix Park. Bill Brooks pitched a three hitter with an accompanying 13 strike outs to win the first game 3-1. In the second game a raft of Clay pitchers struck out 13 Lancers, and won the game 4-1.

Then on April 13 the Colonials traveled to the home of the S.B. Washington Panthers. The Colonials tallied 2 runs to win 2-1. Bill Brooks received his second win in the series pitching a two hitter with nine strike outs.

The Colonials played and defeated Edwardsburg High School in a double header at Bendix. In the opening game Mike Borkowski hurled a four hitter with 8 strike outs for a 2-1 win. Jim Campbell, the Colonials' catcher, got two hits. In the second game Clay had 13 hits with Ivins, Clark and Miller each collecting 2, including a triple while defeating Edwardsburg 16-1.

Two weeks later, the Colonials swung back into action with a game with Culver Military. Charlie Clark led scoring with a two-run home run. The Cadets came back to tie the game, but late inning singles by Jess Neely and Greg Ivins gave the Colonials a hard fought sixth victory, 6-4. The winning pitcher was Bill Brooks.

The following day the Colonials won over their neighboring city rivals S.B. Adams. The major blows of the game were Mark Miller's and Bill Brooks' clouting of back to back home runs in a 7 run sec. inning. Shoddy defense and poor pitching put the game up for grabs, until Mike Borkowski came in as a relief pitcher and saved the game for the Colonials.

The 8th and final game of the win streak came at Bendix Park on May 7 against Logansport. The Colonials defeated the Berries 2-1.

The second game of the Logansport double header ended the win streak with an 11-3 loss.

Team Loses 3 Lettermen

Three valuable lettermen were lost at the end of the 1966 baseball season—two by graduation and one by change of residence.

Mark Miller, a 1966 graduate, played shortstop for most of the three years he was on Clay's varsity. Besides being an alert fielder, he was a strong hitter. Mark attended Albion College during the first semester this fall and has since transferred to Indiana University, South Bend—Mishawaka Campus.

Rusty Sparks, graduating with Mark, played catcher in his two years of varsity action. Rusty received the Kiwanis Award for the most outstanding senior, not only in baseball, but in school also. He is currently attending Rose Polytechnic Institute in Terre Haute.

Greg Smith, a senior this year at a high school in Ocean Side, California, played both first base and pitcher for Clay last year.

'Skinny' Errorless In '66

Jim "Skinny" Campbell, the Colonials' number one catcher of the 1966 campaign, is the holder of two athletic accomplishments. He has played 14 straight games without committing an error. During this time he has had 98 chances-82 putouts and 16 assists. This streak is still alive and will be carried on into the '67 campaign.

Jim also holds another streak which is still alive. He has been to bat 31 times without a strikeout. During the entire year his strike out percentage was only 5%. Although Jim is a great defensive back-stop he is also adept at hitting. He ended the year hitting an outstanding .455.

Fort Knox, Jeffersonville Head Schedule

Fort Knox High School is one of the baseball teams Clay plays on its spring trip. Fort Knox finished first in their South Central Kentucky Conference last year. Bob Dark coached his team to 20-3 record. Jeffersonville is the other team Clay plays on the trip. Though Jeffersonville finished 3rd in their conference, their season record was 22 and 3.

Joe Roger's Tigers from Benton Harbor topped their respective conference in Michigan, while accumulating an 8 and 2 record. Since the Tigers didn't lose any pitchers through graduation, they'll be depending heavily on Al Pollyea, Pete Brown, and Tom Wilders for winning punch. Another major opponent is S.B. Adams. Coach Len Buczkowski's team suffered heavily from graduation, but their school has nearly twice the enrollment--2,022--as Clay to pick from. Doug Mac Gregor, who quarterbacked Adams to 15th in the state, also will throw for the baseball team. One of his receivers in football, John Kaiser, played in the infield last year. Adams has dominated the city in every sport in the South Bend area so far this year.

RED DEVILS FINISH 3RD

Al Gabriel will be pitching to Rick Komina-rek much of the time for the Michigan City Red Devils. Coach Dave Parry's team finished 3rd in the NIC Conference last year after a 2 and 8 season. They haven't lost to Clay in 3 years.

Logansport, one of Clay's victims last year, completed a 12-5 season. Seniors Jim Conrad, Phil Hershberger, and Dick Farrer expect to see a lot of action as the Berries try to remain number one in the North Central Conference.

S.B. St. Joseph, destroyers of Clay's high hopes for city champs last year, anticipate action from Mark Pajakowski and brothers Jim Brunette and Joe Brunette.

On Clay's schedule for the first time are the La Salle Lions. Their record last year was 2 and 9, but since they haven't had a graduating class yet, all the players are returning. Coldwater, 2nd in the Twin Valley Conference, with an 11 and 7 record, lost only 5 players, and is the last opponent.
