The Mark Smith Story AAA Basketball Champions

Cagle Ecstatic Over Victory

Winning the State Class AAA Basketball Tournament in Atlanta, was an outstanding achievement for any school, especially one as young as ours. It gave the players a chance to play in fierce competition, which is the greatest experience for their high school years. This win gave the boys on the team, a sense of achievement in that each individual contributed to the victory.

The wholesome and worthwhile accomplishment, the highest honor for our school, has had a great effect on our school. School pride was built so strongly, that it carried over from the sport to the academic level. Athletes at this school have become leaders, not only on the field or on the court, but also in academic success.

This year on May 22, the Fourth Annual Scholars Recognition Banquet will be held at Mark Smith. We are happy and thankful that most of our scholars participate in athletics and are involved in extracurricular activities. Mark Smith needs to "turn-out" students who are well-rounded.

WHERE'S MARK SMITH

A funny thing happened to the Mark Smith Bulldogs on their way to the 1969 State Triple-A Basketball Championship, a coach from some Savannah high school asked the question, "Where is Mark Smith?" Poor man, if only he had known before-hand that this statement would kindle a flame in a team that brought the state's greatest honor to its school.

It was a story that brought praise and encouragement from all parts of the state. One called it the "Impossible Dream." Perhaps, without dreams, there would be no reality for the boys that made up this team dreamed and made that dream fact.

To win it, was no easy chore. They had to beat four of the toughest teams in the South. But this had been the story the entire year as the Bulldogs played one of the toughest, if not the toughest schedules, in the state.

The season had its disappointments, such as two heart-breaking losses to Lanier, one an upset in the Tom Porter Christmas Tournament. But the highlights—it would be an understatement to say anything other than every game played, was a highlight. This team was the most exciting, most determined to ever take to the hardwoods in this city.

The boys who did the impossible, the starting five, were Scott Judd, Cam Bonifay, Frank Prince, David Lee, and Charley Anderson. Paired man for man with the teams they beat in the state tournament, things didn't look bright. But when they took to the court as a smooth, efficient machine, the sun began to shine.

The team captain, little Scott Judd, was perhaps the most determined of this miraculous five. Lacking an awful lot in the height department, time and time again this season, he proved there's a place for the little man in basketball. Who can ever forget the sight of number 13, twisting his way through three huge Ballard Hudson players to shoot a layup with three seconds left to give the Dogs a great 75-73 victory? Or who can ever forget the little battler in the last Carver game? No value can ever be placed on his worth to the team.

We'll long remember the man who stole the ball with fifteen seconds left in the Carver game to allow Prince to shoot the winning layup. His hustle, his concentration, and his tremendous ballhandling kept the Dogs in each game against the finest pressing teams in the state. For his efforts, Cam Bonifay was named to the All-Tournament Team.

Another All-Tournament team member, the one who fired the shot heard 'round the state, was Frank Prince. Although he shot when it counted. His determination was an inspiration to all members of the team.

The most consistent player on the team during the tournament, was David Lee. In each game, he hit for more than ten points; above his regular season average. He, along with Scott Judd, barely missed being named to the All-Tourney Team.

The big man, Charley Anderson, put on the greatest display of coolness under pressure ever shown in a high school basketball game. His foul shots and his field goals were tremendous. But eating the glass is his specialty and he pinned the ball against the backboard in the last game. He was also All-Torney, but more important, he was named the Tournament's Most Valuable Player.

These were the "Miracle Five." The other team members were just as important. The price they paid in practice and while subbing in games, was a must for the honors reaped. The story they wrote touched the hearts of nearly everyone in the state.

So if ever someone asks you where Mark Smith is, tell them the story about the boys who dreamed the impossible dream and made it come true. Tell them about their demonstration, their devotion, their desire, but most important of all, their faith—faith that they could overcome overwhelming odds. It's what was inside of them that made it all possible and after all, that's where Mark Smith truly is.

Coach Williams Praises Dogs

"This team has given me more thrills and excitement than any other that I have been associated with in my career," commented Mark Smith's athletic director and assistant head basketball coach, Minton Williams.

Coach Williams took great pride in the recent State AAA Championship attained by the Bulldogs. "Not only was it a team effort, but a school, community, and city engulfed with the thrills of each win along the tough road to the top. This fact makes the championship most gratifying to me and the other coaches."

Coach Williams was impressed by the enthusiasm exhibited by the students, the parents, and the whole city during this basketball year. He hopes the winning spirit which became so evident, will continue and will generate desire and determination in other Mark Smith athletic teams.

Coach Minton Williams has been head football coach and athletic director since the school's very beginning.

Eulogy To An Educator

"Education is a painful, continual, and difficult task to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but above all—by example."

This quotation by John Ruskin, indeed describes the works of Dr. Mark Smith, Superintendent of Bibb County School System from 1941, until his death in October 1958.

Dr. Smith was a man of service, who gave tirelessly and unselfishly of himself to his community, as evidenced by his many civic activities. At one time or other, Dr. Smith served in practically every community activity in Macon. He was president and chairman of the Community Chest Drive, chairman of the Red Cross, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Macon Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and their Board of Elders. He belonged to the Masons, Scottish Rite, Shriners, Elks, and Royal Order of Jesters.

On the state level in 1931, Dr. Smith was commander and state chairman of the American Legion, a high official in the Boy Scouts, district chairman of Warm Springs Foundation, and state chairman of the Tuberculosis Association. One of the highest honors he ever received, was that of President of Kiwanis International.

Dr. Smith's civic activities are only a part of his contribution. Few people realize the full scope of his service and accomplishments in the field of education. Dr. Smith's greatest contribution to the student, however, was his service in Bibb County. Coming just prior to the War, he was here at a time when this country experienced critical problems of growth. The county population is now more than 2/3 times that of the 1940 census. This growth is reflected in many schools by an enrollment increase from 17,000 in 1941 to over 30,000 pupils last year. High school enrollment has more than doubled during this time.

Victory in 1945 found school facilities woefully inadequate here in Bibb County, and across the nation. Viewing the needs, Dr. Smith guided the members of the Board of Education into an ambitious building program, beginning with a bond issue of 2½ million dollars. Approved in 1948, so meager a sum under Dr. Smith's wise administration, built Miller and Senior Junior High Schools, the junior division of Ballard-Hudson, four Negro elementary schools, and additions to twenty other grammar schools.

Again searching for means to expand, Dr. Smith secured sufficient Federal funds to engage in a 2½ million dollar building program in 1953-54. From these funds came four white schools—Hall, Tinsley, Neel, and Barden—and one Negro school.

Allowing the system hardly a moment of rest from extensive construction, in 1956, Dr. Smith requested another bond issue, and this for 4½ million. McEvoy, Willingham, Appling, and three grammar schools, besides additions to twelve others were completed. In all, since 1941, the Bibb County system has double in size, with the appraised value of school property increasing from 2 to 14 million dollars.

To quote from a Board member,

Mr. Wallace Miller, Jr. "He (Dr. Smith) was the principal figure in the growth of the Bibb County School physical properties during his term as superintendent, and did more than any other person to keep school construction in pace with the increasing enrollment.

Concerned for the physically handicapped children of Bibb County, Dr. Smith worked closely with specialists to establish the Schools of Special Education here. Upon the request of the Association of Childhood Education, he fostered the establishment of the Macon Youth at Wesleyan Conservatory and was its first Board Chairman.

Closest to many students was his activities in the Beta Club, a national honorary organization for high school students. Over the years since its founding, Dr. Smith gave much of his time to advisory positions, serving on the Beta Council and National Senate. He was the only man to be national president twice, and was serving his second term at his death.

Yes, the death of Dr. Smith marked the end of an important period, a period in which Bibb County was fortunate in having an educator who served his community and its schools as generously and capably as did Dr. Mark Smith.

Now Bibb County shows its eternal appreciation to this fine educator as evidence by the Mark Smith High School, located on Upper River Road; a distinction of quality, honor, and character that shall forever be part of its students and a statue of meaning to the man for which it is named.

Dog's Dominate Tourney Team

Butch Clifton's Mark Smith Bulldogs dominated the All State AAA Tournament team picked by sports writers on Monday night, March 10, 1969. Bulldogs placed center Charlie Anderson, forward Frank Prince and guard Cam Bonifay on the 10-man team, while the other two Bulldog starters, Scott Judd and David Lee missed by narrow margins of making the team.

Anderson, a 6-4 junior who was seemed to improve as the tournament progressed, was named, Most Valuable Player in the meet. The likeable lad was such an obvious choice for the selection. The throng of more than 6,000 which turned out for the finale, began chanting his name the moment the award was mentioned. One of his most outstanding plays of the tournament came in the final game against Carver, when he pinned the ball against the backboard and saved a crucial basket for the team which may have been the deciding basket in the game, putting the Carver team on top.

Cam Bonifay's cool ballhandling was the main reason for his selection to the All Tournament team. In the last two overtimes, he brought the ball down the court like he had all season. His brilliant steal in the last seconds of the game and Frank Prince's basket, proved to be the decisive play of the game.

You can easily see why Frank Prince was named to the All Tournament team. His game winning basket was one of the most exciting you can ever see coming at the end of the second overtime. Frank was one of the most important scoring machines of the tournament for Mark Smith. His rebounding was fantastic, going against men that were as much as eight inches taller than he. This was incredible, considering the fact that he is 6'4" himself.

Coach Butch Clifton was picked as Coach of the Year for all classifications by the sport's writers who covered the tournament. It was just honor to the man we think is the finest high school coach anywhere.

Eulogy To A Coach

A great basketball team does not just happen, a good one might, but not a great one. The 1968-69 Mark Smith basketball team was a great one. Compared individually with players of the teams they defeated, one may not think so. In all four state tournament games, they were underdogs, often picked one to lose by more than ten points. Yet, when the Smith "5" took to the hardwood, they were a smooth-working unit, great in every respect. What made them this way?

Last year, Donald "Butch" Clifton took over the reins as head basketball coach. He had led the "B" team for two sparkling years but the varsity was still a big step, especially since the Bulldogs face the toughest competition in the state—Triple A.

The team last year, began early one morning in August when Coach Clifton drove them up to North Carolina in a yellow school bus. He took them to a basketball camp to learn basketball and it paid off. Although finishing .500, 13 wins and 13 losses, this team gave everyone hopes of exciting things to come.

It was the same coach who at the start of the season this year, said he hoped the Bulldogs would win two or three of their first six games. They won five. The spirit was developed and they carried it through and won the State Tournament games. Everyone feels that without Coach Clifton's efforts and his ability to make his team become leaders, the success they obtained would not be possible.

Coach "Butch" Clifton's life story can easily be summed up as a life of basketball.

Throughout his career in basketball, he has displayed his talent on the floor as a player and off the floor as a coach.

Coach Clifton was born and raised in Albany, Georgia, where he started playing basketball at the age of eleven in the Y.M.C.A. When he began attending Albany High School, if you can believe this, he was cut from the ninth grade team. After a lot of hard work, Coach Clifton became a starter on the varsity as a junior. He played fifteen games that year and was only 5'8"

During his junior year, he began to grow and became the captain of the basketball team by the time he was a senior.

Coach Clifton led 1AAA scoring his last year and was one of the best free throw shooters in the region. His vast improvement enabled him to be selected to play in the north-South All Star game.

When he finished his career in Albany, he was offered several basketball scholarships from different colleges. After a lot of consideration, he chose Mercer.

Coach Clifton began his coaching career the first year Mark Smith opened and has been head basketball coach for the past two years.

After he became the head basketball coach at Mark Smith, he attended John Wooden's Basketball School, head coach of the powerful U.C.L.A. basketball team. He has also attended the Stetson Basketball Camp.

He was interested in other sports too. His first love was football, but he never was big enough to excel in the sport. Coach Clifton also lettered in baseball two times, while attending Albany High School. In tennis, he became a champion as a boy.

At the age of twelve, Coach Clifton was named "Boy of the Year."

Coach Clifton made these comments about what athletics meant to him, "Without athletics, I probably wouldn't be anything; it gave me a scholarship to Mercer, and an education when I got out." "I think athletics are a way of life. I think it makes a boy a man to participate in athletic competition because through athletics, a boy has a chance to see what life is all about. To be a success in the business world, you must face competition, pressure, must be aggressive and believe in yourself, to get the job done."

There has been many highlights in Coach Clifton's life, with him playing basketball for Albany High, Mercer University, the Chesapeake Cats, playing in the North-South All Star Game, and leading Region 1AAA in scoring, but the biggest highlight of all is the 1968-69 Mark Smith Story.

Telstar Pays Tribute To The AAA Champs

Some members of the Telstar staff and the staff advisor, thought it would be appropriate to honor the State AAA Champions with a souvenir issue of the paper. We'd now like to recognize those who have made this issue possible.

Editor for this special edition was Lin Wood, joined by Mike Jackson, associate editor. Others on the regular staff who contributed to this issue were Billy McLendon, Ken Pyles, David Rutland, Henry Koplin, Doug Love, Chris Medley, Buddy Wynn, Jay Kawkins, and Jeff Hill.

Regular edition advisor, Mr. G. Lewis Wright, who formulated the idea for the paper, was a great aid. All the cartoons, which included the game scores, were thought up and drawn by Mike Jackson. Pictures were taken by Henry Koplin and others were obtained from Merivether's, Drinnon Inc., and The Atlanta Journal and Constitution.

Coach Butch Clifton and members of the team also added valuable information and pictures. The man who made this undertaking possible, though, was Mr. Edwin Judd, head of the Dudley Hughes Printing Shop. Their cooperation and advice was invaluable.

Everyone associated with this issue greatly enjoyed working on this paper and looks forward to doing the same for next year's team.

Just as the effort put forth by the basketball team was No. 1, so was the effort put forth by these staff members. This is just another example of why we feel that Mark Smith is indeed the No. 1 school in the state of Georgia.

THE MANY FACES OF COACH CLIFTON:

The Agony and the Ecstasy

THE CHAMPIONS

Jag Gholson

Jag Gholson, a junior forward on the varsity basketball team, is a well-rounded student and athlete at Mark Smith. Jag started attending Smith in the eighth grade and has maintained an all "A" average throughout his junior year. He was a most dependable reserve during the Bulldog's season. Jag who is a very versatile athlete, could also play guard as well as forward. During the AAA tournament, he was unable to play because of an injured knee, resulting from practice.

Some of Jag's activities around school are the French Club, Junior Civitan Club, Beta Club, and annual staff. He also runs track.

His outside activities are fishing, hunting, golf, water sports, and he is member of Alpha Kappa Omega Fraternity.

Jag resides with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Julius Gholson, at 1871 Boulevard, here in Macon.

Frank Prince

Frank Prince, the man who fired the "shot heard 'round the state," that is the way a local newspaper described one of our school's basketball phenoms. "Dreamer," as he is fondly called by his teammates, is one of the three seniors that will be leaving Mark Smith's team this year.

Frank is one of our most dependable scorers on the state championship team. He averages 14.5 points a game and percentage per cent is 48.2. One of Frank's biggest assets is that he does not become discouraged when he does not hit. Instead he keeps shooting so as to regain his confidence. Frank helps the team in many other ways, too, such as helping bring the ball down when the press is on. Rebounding is also a category in which Frank excels. He averages 10 rebounds per game.

Some of Frank's hobbies are fishing, hunting, and swimming. He also enjoys watching other sports events, such as track and baseball.

Frank attends First Baptist Church here in Macon. He resides with Mrs. Richard Steck, at 1017 Clay Avenue.

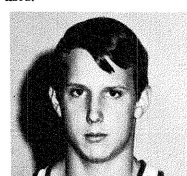

Charley Anderson

Charles Edward Anderson, better known to all his friends as Charlie, earned the highest award of his career at the State AAA Tournament in Atlanta. He was the most valuable player in the tournament; elected to the All-State team. During the tournament, he dominated the offensive and defensive boards, snatching over forty rebounds. The 6'4" forward contributed greatly to the Mark Smith Championship title with his 20.6 average for the tournament.

Charlie is well liked by his fellow students and teachers. His quiet, unassuming nature, and modesty blended with a warm personality, and his perfected basketball shots are enough for his popularity.

Charlie is a good student, a member of the Math Club, and an active member in Alpha Kappa Omega Fraternity. At present, his plans for college have not crystallized.

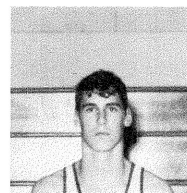

Minton Williams, Jr.

Minton Williams, Jr., although not playing much in games, contributed a lot of time and effort to the practice sessions, which were vital to the success of the team.

Scholastically, he holds an all A average and has attended the scholars banquet every year. Minton is also a newly inducted member of the Beta Club.

He is very active in school affairs, holding memberships in the French Club, the Math Club, and the newly formed Junior Civitan Club.

Minton lives at 2368 Maffel Drive with his mother and father and his younger sister, Patricia. He is a member of the Shurlington Methodist Church. He enjoys hunting, fishing, and sports in general.

Craig Hertwig

Craig Hertwig was a latecomer to our state champs this year. After finishing the Bullpup's regular season of basketball he joined the varsity permanently.

In elementary school, he participated in baseball, basketball, and football. He kept up average grades there, as he has at Smith.

Craig dominated the boards for the "B" team. He brought in many key rebounds for his fellow players.

His spare time is occupied by playing gold. Craig lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hertwig, at 1723 Waverland Drive. He is a member of LDA fraternity and attends the First Presbyterian Church.

David Lee

David Lee—a quiet, modest, and likeable member of the "Miracle Five" is not only a tremendous athlete, but is an outstanding student as well.

David, a 6'5" junior, was the starting center for the varsity and averaged close to 10 points a game. He was very strong on both offense and defense and was our most consistent player in the State Tournament. He was a strong addition to the varsity after having played on the B team last year.

In other activities, David is a member of the French Club and the Junior Civitan Club. He serves as vice-president of the Junior Class this year. He was also a member of the winning senior high supervision volleyball team, supervision 101.

Outside of school, David is a member of A K O Fraternity. He attends Vineville Presbyterian Church. His hobbies are fishing, water-skiing, and hunting. At the present time, he has no college plans.

Cam Bonifay

Although not starting the first of the season, Cam Bonifay has turned out to be one of the best basketball handlers ever to attend Mark Smith, never panicking under the press thrown against Smith so many times during the past season.

For his calmness and leadership in the State AAA Basketball Championship, he was elected one of the ten All-Tournament players.

Besides basketball, Cam plays second base for the varsity baseball team and is the place kicker and quarterback for the varsity football team.

Cam is very active in school affairs, holding the office of vice-president of the Junior Civitan Club, chaplain of the Spanish Club, sergeant-at-arms of the Safety Club, and is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Scholastically, Cam is an excellent student, keeping an "A" and "B" average. Upon graduation, he hopes to attend Georgia Tech.

Richard Peek

Richard lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Peek, and his eight year old brother, Jerry, at 1112 Sundale Drive.

Richard attended Whittle Grammar School, where he enjoyed playing baseball and basketball and maintained an almost all "G" average.

Basketball is definitely "Richard's game" although he is also an outstanding second baseman for our baseball team. Richard began basketball for Mark Smith on the eighth grade team. The next year, he was promoted to the B-team, and later as a junior, Richard was sent to the varsity as a 5'8" guard.

Clifford Moore

Every winning team, professional, high school, college, or grammar school, has got to have depth; and rounding out the great depth of our championship basketball team is, Clifford Moore.

Clifford attended Appling High School through the tenth grade and then transferred to Mark Smith, where he lettered on the "B" team in the eleventh and the varsity in the twelfth.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moore, at 142 Madison Street. He attends Fountain Temple A. M. E. Church, where he is superintendent and a teacher of his Sunday School class. Clifford's main hobby is playing sports.

John Skalko

Number 42 on the basketball team is John "Big John" Skalko.

John is very active in the athletic program here at Mark Smith. Besides being on the basketball team, he also plays varsity baseball and football. He enjoys skiing and hunting, his two major hobbies.

John participates in many of the clubs here at the school. He is member of the French Club, the Junior Civitan Club, the Math Club, and the Beta Club.

John resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Skalko, at 4334 North Franklington Road. He has two brothers, Steve and Tom, both attending Mark Smith.

Scott Judd

The 68-69 captain of the varsity basketball team is Scott Judd.

Even last year he was an outstanding performer in the region 2-AAA and held the Mark Smith record for best free throw percentage. During the intramural basketball games, he was the coach of his supervision.

Well liked by his senior classmen in Mark Smith as well as Lasseter, he has been selected to be one of the six senior superlatives and hold the coveted title of Mr. Mark Smith.

Invited to the Scholastic Honors Banquet for three years, Scott has a 3-A, 1-B average. He is a member of the Mark Smith Beta Club, French Club, and is assistant editor of the Marketer, the Mark Smith-Lasseter annual.

In his spare time, Scott likes fishing swimming, hunting, and horseback riding. He is a member of Highpoint Baptist Church and lives at 1023 Magnolia Street, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Judd Sr. He has two brothers, Bean, who is attending Mark Smith and Reed who is no longer attending Smith

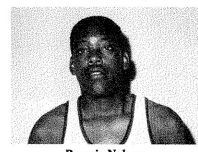

Dirk Thomas

A member of our basketball team and also a very important competitor of our football squad is, Dirk Thomas. This 5 foot-11 inch junior manned the guard and forward position for our triple A champs. In addition, he is a part of the track team.

Here at Smith, Dirk keeps up a three "A" and one "B" average. Between his extracurricular activities, he enjoys swimming, fishing, hunting, and skiing.

Dirk was president of the eighth grade and a class officer in the ninth. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thomas, at 2256 Melton Avenue. Dirk attends St. Joseph's Catholic church and is a member of POB Fraternity.

Ronnie Nelson

Although "Bulldog," as his friends and teammates call him, did not play much this year, he contributed much to the team effort with spirit and enthusiasm.

Ronnie attended M. M. Burdell Grammar School before starting high school. Before transferring to Mark Smith Bulldog, attended Peter G. Appling High School. Bulldog is an average student in grades, but he participates actively in the Spanish Club and the Pep Club.

Besides basketball, Ronnie furiously donates his energy to the school football and baseball teams. Bulldog likes sports in general, but gives most of his spare time to things he especially enjoys. Some of these things are dancing, listening to music, and girl watching.

Coach Brown Creates Spirit

At the last game in Atlanta, nearly 2,500 people from Macon were in attendance to support the fired-up Bulldog cagers.

In fact, every game played, saw nearly 1,000 Smith and Lasseter students in attendance. Buses were taken each game; in fact, eight were taken the last game. Support like this, encouraged the Smith "S" on to greater things.

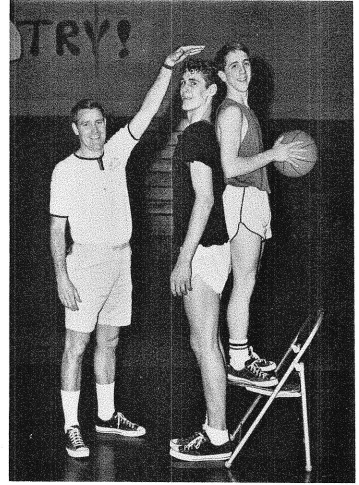

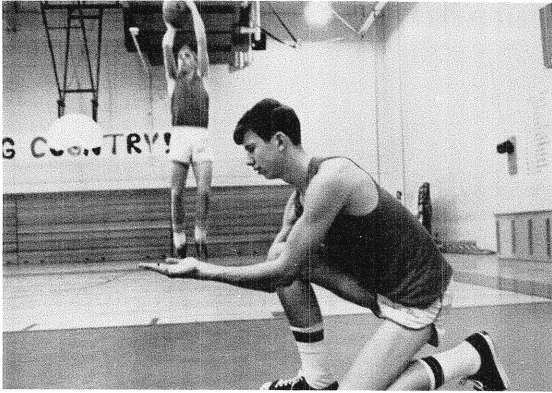

We feel like credit for these amazing achievements, should be firstly given to Coach Bobby Brown. He, along with members of the Pep Club, he organized, made this possible. We want to list every member of the Pep Club as a tribute to them for their worthwhile effort.

The roster is as follows: Ronny Alexander, Steve Ard, Glenn Asbell, Phillip Auserman, Daniel Bailey, Ken Bailey, Rance Baker, Jimmy Banks, Sam Beatty, Buck Bohac, David Bradley, Michael Bragg, Steve Bragg, Doug Brawneck, Benny Brewton, David Brown, Warren Brown, Bobby Budwine, Chuck Bundy, Don Bush, Gene Bush, Ben Butt, Tommy Bird, Ed Cagle, Alan Carr, Paul Catter, Billy Clance, William Clance, Tony Clark, Barry Cole, Jimmy Coleman, Chuck Colhard, Jerry Colling, Kirby Collins, Derrel Cane, Wayne Colwill, Mac Crosby, Reed Crumbliss, Baryl Daniels, Derek Darity, Terry Davis, Leonard Donalson, Stan Dominy, Chip Dunn, Johnny Edwards, Mike Edwards, Ed Eschmann, Edgar Flanagan, Billy Flowers, Steve Floyd, Sammy Fussell, Arnold Galyean,
