

Chocolate is Big Success

The Riley bands reached record-breaking heights in their chocolate sale last week. The purpose of the project was to raise money for uniform overlays, and with the hard work of many people, the goal has been accomplished. Bandsmen sold a total of 9,503 bars during the two-week period. From this the band will receive $1,782. Valuable prizes were awarded to the four top salesmen.

Mark Arsenault, band president, won the first prize, a portable television set, by selling 729 bars. Second prize, a portable hi-fi set, was won by Tim Madlem. Third prize, a polaroid swinger, was won by Al Miller, and fourth prize, a transistor radio, was won by John Dhoore.

A steak dinner was given to all members of the winning team who sold at least 192 bars of chocolate. Congratulations to all the winners and all who participated in the project. Special recognition goes to Mike Bennet, general chairman of the project, and Mr. Lewis Habegger and Mr. Jerry Lackey, band directors.

O.T.A.

What do we find in the second drawer, Judy?

Miss Morgan: Should you be participating in the speech contest with a sore throat and a cough that lingers on as indicated by the presence of your medicine? Congratulations, J.K.

People of the Times

Besides being a member of the French Club, Booster Club and National Honor Society, Senior Sharon Adams is busy this year with English IV, Glee Club, band, Biology II and speech. And in the afternoon Sharon is cadet teaching at E. M. Morris School. She works with both mentally and physically handicapped children.

Sharon plans to attend Ball State University next year where she wants to major in special education. Sharon thinks students should learn to make the most of their study time and to plan their days wisely.

Mike Ballinger keeps busy with English IV, physics, calculus and analytics, government and sociology, and bookkeeping. Mike also works at Malings Shoe Store in South Bend. He finds that a job gives him a sense of responsibility as well as extra money.

Next year Mike will be going to Indiana University where he will major in business.

Student Reports on Conference

Helen Henry was a member of discussion group B at the National Negro History Week Conference held two weeks ago at the University of Notre Dame. Helen reports that there were 22 white students and 17 Negro students in this group talking under the direction of the group leader.

The first point made was that the purpose of the conference was to focus attention on the fact that Negroes hold a position in history and this position has been overlooked too long. A Negro girl brought up the importance of racial equality and balance. The matter of interracial dating, marriage, job opportunities, and conditions in the local community also were discussed. Helen said, "I found our discussion to be very stimulating and worthwhile."

Sophomores Hold Dance

The sophomore class dance, "A Ticket To the Orient", will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. March 22 in the Riley gymnasium. Donna Surges is general chairman for the dance. Surprise entertainment is promised during intermission time.

Tami Rouhselang is in charge of tickets; Malia Seall and Dee Dee Maksimovich are in charge of decorations; Debbie Baldoni is in charge of publicity; Gwen Finger is in charge of invitations; Beth Nelson is in charge of refreshments; Sharon Culp and Dick Chapman are in charge of checking; Cathie Carbiener is in charge of music; Susie Kern is in charge of the cleanup committee. All tickets must be purchased in advance.

Do You Support Your Team?

In any society, there are bound to be some members who are disinterested, who seem as though they "couldn't care less" what happens to the society, or who seem not to want to help. This situation is apparent to us in our nation, our city, and our school. Whose fault is it, and what can we do to overcome it?

Taking the first question, I feel that the fault belongs to everyone. Apathy in the school, for instance, is the result of failure on the part of both the administration and the students. Some of the teachers "couldn't care less," and the same goes for some of the students.

What can we do to overcome this? Well, we have a fine student council, and the council has formed an open forum for students to present their grievances. Instead of just complaining to your friends, why don't you go to an open forum and do something about your gripes? Or aren't they worth it? Are you complaining just to be complaining?

Why don't you go to the basketball games? Do you think that the team loses too many games? Why? Maybe it you go to a game, you will find out.

"Blossom Time", a musical adapted by Sigmund Romberg from music composed by Franz Schubert and Heinrich Berte, will be presented by Riley students at 8 o'clock the nights of March 6, 7, and 8 in the Riley High School auditorium. Mr. James Lewis Casaday will direct the production and Mr. Rocco Germano will serve as musical director.

On settee are Sue Nintz, Mitzi Kranz, and standing is Dennis Gay, Vogl.

More Students Agree to Buy 4-Page Paper

Many students have continued to indicate their willingness to pay 15 cents for a 4-page issue of the Hi-Times. If at least 600 students sign slips in homerooms saying they will buy the paper at this price, the March 15 issue will be a 4-page paper. All news for this issue should be brought to room 216 by March 3.

Boys Build Contribution

Who would think that rusty gears, a broken pressure gauge, old pipes, etc. could become a work of art? These renegades from a junkpile have been welded by Kirk Rice and Mike Balaban into a truly indescribable masterpiece.

The work has no title, but Mike calls it "a contribution to the sciences of mankind". We asked how Kirk and he became inspired to build the "contribution." Mike replied, "Kirk started it and we just kept building on. It's not completely finished yet."

When asked where they found the materials to work with, Mike said, "We went hunting around in a junkyard for the parts."

Two to three weeks of time were needed to arc-weld the sculpture in the auto shop. The "contribution" is on display in the art showcase. In case you wonder what the machine is good for, "it's a nutcracker."

Honors Band Presents Concert

The South Bend Community School Corporation Honors Band presented a concert at 8:00 Feb. 23 in the Washington High School Auditorium. The band is made up of ten members from each of the eight area high schools. Guest conductor for the band was Mr. Donald McCathern, director of bands at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Guest oboe soloist was Mr. Jerry Sirucek.

Dear Orville Bowlers are in Action

Orville's weekly word of wisdom for the wise beginning next week: Be Prepared.

Dear Orville:

I know Valentine's Day is over, but there is still something which troubles me. I thought it would be a nice gesture to give a little something to this boy I have a mad crush on. I bought him a shirt, a hat, a box of candy, and some aftershave cologne, and then I had them delivered to his house.

The next day I received a girdle, a wig, some diet pills, and some strong perfume in return. Orville, if he liked me enough to send those wonderful gifts, why hasn't he spoken to me since then? I've tried following him around to give him the chance, but nothing happens. Even Ann Landers admitted she couldn't help me. I need help! Signed, Time of Need

Dear T.O.N.:

That's for sure! I want you to know that you have insulted me deeply and hurt me greatly and immeasurably and never endingly and infinitely and positively. To write a letter to the great Orville for advice and mention in it A.L. (I can't even bear to see the name written out completely) is unthinkable! To even imagine that anyone could be associated with myself in any way is unthinkable. No one can or should be compared to the great Orville because he is so far superior to everyone else in every way. HEIL, ORVILLE!

Dear Orville:

I got into some trouble last week with the Federal Trade Commission for shipping goods across tax boundary lines. Now I am in jail and in need of money to post bail. Please help me in any way you can, Oh Bright Star in the Darkness.

Admirably,

Fernanda Waltmiller

Fans, send them to: Fernanda Waltmiller 6042379 Satellite Plaza Interplanetary Plaza Reformatory Zip Code 3147631798321006900233 P.S. Thanks for the 946 complimentary tubes of Natural Wonder, Fernanda.

Pressure! The Hippies, Losers 3, Spurts, Chosen Few, J.P.T.A., and the Pulverizers have this to combat each week in addition to playing a team which is trying their best to beat one of the leaders. Three points separate the first place Hippies and the Losers 3 from the sixth place Pulverizers at this writing. If the standings remain this tight, the last Saturday which is a "position" round will bring out a winner. In case of a tie, a roll off will be in order.

The "Star of the Week" was Pat Tyler 211 and Andy Place 584. Nancy Sulok bowled her best ever with a 189 and a 446. Nice going, Nancy.

The "B" League is in a race for second place trophies. It appears as though the Head Pins with a nine point lead over the Ten Pins should win.

The "Star of the Week" was Kathy Downey 151 and Gloria Geric 419. Tom Holleman made a great bid to take over high series for the year with a fine 207 and a 531, nine pins short of the 540 of Gary Nieter. Better shooting next week, Tom.

A bulletin was put out this week with a full explanation of the requirements of the last weeks of bowling as well as the tourney of March 23. If you missed this information, better make a trip to room 133 immediately.

De Pauw Offers Policeman Speaks a Summer Institute

By Bob Lindsey

DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind. will be one of 12 colleges and universities offering high school students an opportunity to attend a one or two-week orientation institute in a major area of learning this summer. These institutes are for students who want to find the answers to their questions before making that very important decision of "what to do."

If you want to explore the sciences and engineering, apply for admission to JESSI. If you prefer to review liberal arts studies relating to communication in human relations, apply to CASSI.

Specialized orientation experiences are offered in business management, dentistry, law, and professional forestry at several universities. These institutes are open to high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors. For particulars, see your counselor or write to Scientists of Tomorrow, P.O. Box 1349, Portland, Oregon 97207.

Track Season Opens

The track team has started the season out on the right foot as they prepare for the upcoming opener, a 4-way meet at the Notre Dame Fieldhouse March 19.

Practicing since late January, most of the boys have gotten into top physical shape and are now preparing for their individual events under the watchful eyes of head coach Andrew Mihail and assistant coach Mike Mondovics. The team has many fine and upcoming returnees from last year's team, and the newer boys help round it out. People to watch are Mark Arsenault, Rick Greulich, Randy Lillieart, Ken Reed, Al Gammage, Phil Kennedy, Willy Lee and Mark Allen.

Starting off with "cal", the team breaks down into 4 groups, one running the stairs, one skipping rope, one doing sprints up and down the gym floor, and one running the inner tubes (a contraption where one man pulls another along inside 2 inner tubes tied together). After this warmer upper, the team breaks down into the individual events workouts where some throw the shot, some run for distance, and some for the dashes.

Altogether it looks like a terrific season in store for the cinder men and the R.H.S. student body with excitement and thrills at every race. The season schedule shapes up like this:
