

NHS Inducts 43 Members

Twelve seniors and 31 juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in the third annual ceremony this morning in the auditorium. Held each year on Andrew Jackson's birthday, the induction involved 10 per cent of the junior class and completed the possible total of 15 per cent for the seniors.

The old members of NHS purchased a special candlestick for the formal ceremony. Tami Winters presented the candlestick, which was purchased with members' dues.

Rita Roberts gave the invocation, while other members spoke on the qualifications necessary for induction. Speakers were Bill Gates on character, Linda Eaton on scholarship, Dan McGill on leadership, and Cathy Kocy on service.

The glee club, under Mr. Daniel Miller, and the orchestra, under Mr. Rocco Germano, combined to musically set the atmosphere. The choral group performed "Cycle of Life" and "St. Francis Prayer for Peace."

Others are Karen MacQuivey, D'Anne Nelson, Bonnie Damon, Chery Vanderhagen, Leaza Gish, Jane Berta, Barbara Pollyea, Connie King, Janet Schell, and Wendy Brown.

'YFC'ers Plan Annual Spring Banquet, Participate in Quizzing, 'Singspiration'

YFC, Youth for Christ, is an international organization for spreading the Christian faith. Though the club is sponsored by community churches and donations from parents, the basis for the organization is the school area club. Leaders of the Jackson area club are president, Barry Naragon; programming, Rita Roberts; management, Mark Pendl; and secretary-treasurer, Shirley La Free.

Barry Naragon and Rita Roberts also hold President and Vice President offices respectively, in the St. Joe County Area.

YFC Rallies are held at Battell School in Mishawaka twice a month. Clubs from the other South Bend School areas along with those

Secretaries, Teachers, Businessmen Lead in Tigers' Future Professions

Survey Shows 165 Students Interested in Peace Corps

By Jane Simmons

Surveyed for their interest in future vocations and professions, Jacksonites indicated vast fields of study pursuits and jobs. The survey, administered last week to all students, will be used by the counselors in setting up guest lectures.

Highest in all fields of interest was secretarial work with 163. In spite of students' complaints about school, 161 showed they were considering returning to the educational scene as teachers. Also ranking high were airline stewardesses at 134, engineers at 119, businessmen at 119, interior designers at 107, and commercial artists at 106.

OTHER HIGH RANKINGS were modeling at 100, Air Force at 93, social work at 92, athletics and coaching at 92, radio and TV at 86, hair styling at 83, and psychology at 83.

If Jackson interest indicates what professions will be filled in the future, then all business, sports, protection, entertainment, and communication will be well taken care of, while other tasks, vital to a community's well-being, such as the ministry, construction work, research and theoretical science, and fire fighting, will be virtually ignored.

Tigers particularly demonstrated the desire to help others with 165 checking the Peace Corps and 48 for VISTA. A surprising aspect of the questionnaire was the 67 girls interested in going into the women's branches of the armed forces.

STUDENTS DESIRING areas not shown on the questionnaire were numerous; they wrote down such future activities as aeronautics, working with the mentally retarded, intelligence work, professional singing, professional baseball, and the "Green Beret." Jackson may even have a future lady barber, an umpire, a hog farmer, an oceanographer, an astronaut, an economist, a conservationist, and approximately 22 morticians.

The counselors will soon be scheduling professionals from throughout the South Bend area for lectures concerning their professions. Students will be given passes from class for the lectures they indicated. Further developments on the "career planning" project will be given in the Old Hickory.

Three Scientists Earn High Honors

Two of 12 Indiana high school winners, Jackson's Jim Powell and Charley Sharp nabbed top honors at the annual Junior Scientists Assembly in Indianapolis. Each demonstrated and reported on a particular project to win the awards.

Research into interstellar matter comprised Jim's project, while properties of thin films was Charley's. The double awards placed Jackson as one of the two state schools with dual winners.

Also, for her project on finite number systems, sophomore Ginny Colten has won a three day, all expense paid trip to a Science Congress in Cleveland. Sponsored by NASA and NSTA, the Congress will be composed of students presenting papers on various scientific activities and studies which they have completed.

Ginny will leave on April 17 and return April 19.

Scientists of Tomorrow Sponsor Summer Study

Removing the "guess from college program and career decisions" is the objective of the "Scientists of Tomorrow's JESSI-CASSI" program of summer study. Applications are available to sophomores, juniors, and seniors for one and two-week orientation programs of various fields of interest to be held at universities all over the United States.

"JESSI" is the "Junior Engineers' and Scientists' Summer Institute, while "CASSI" is the "Communications Arts and Science Summer Institute," which deals with human relations in philosophy, psychology, sociology, etc.

Other divisions in the Scientists of Tomorrow program are the JDI (Junior Dentists' Institute), JEI (Junior Executives' Institute), JFI (Junior Foresters' Institute), and JLI (Junior Lawyers' Institute).

Some of the centers included in the "JESSI-CASSI" studies are DePauw University, Kennedy Space Flight Center, Colorado State University, Clemson University, and New Mexico State University.

Cost of the individual institutes ranges from $65 to $140, which covers all on-campus expenses. Students will be in class six hours daily. For further information, students should see their counselors or write to "Scientists of Tomorrow," P. O. Box 1349, Portland, Oregon, 97207.

Ryon, Zisla Named To NCTE Contest

Sue Ryon and Paul Zisla, juniors, have been selected to compete in the National Council of Teachers of English Awards Contest. English students chosen from all over the United States each must write an autobiography, an impromptu theme, and submit the best article he has written in English class.

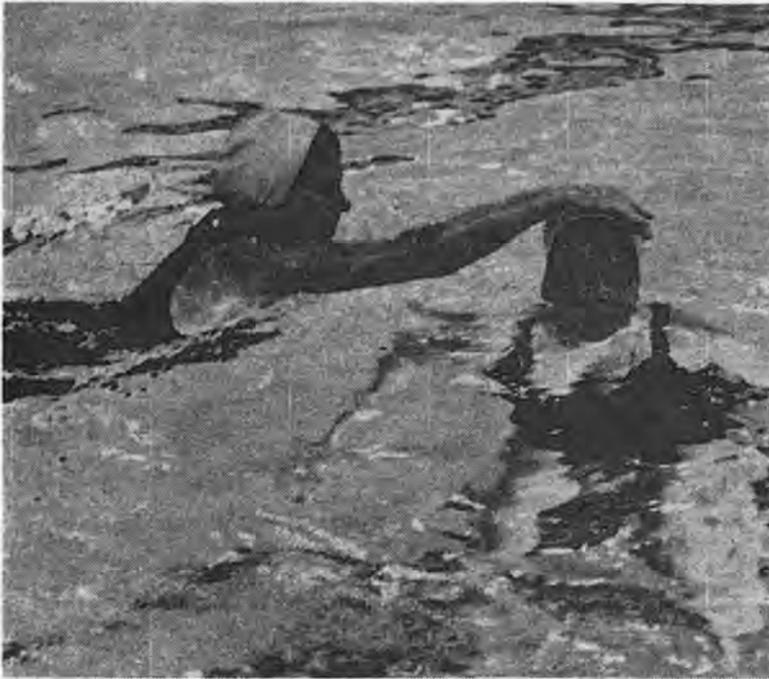

Mrs. Frances Smith, English teacher, will give the students a standardized test, with the results being announced next year. Winners receive no actual prizes, but will win special citations. Recognition of this award will be sent to colleges that the students are interested in.

from Mishawaka meet then for discussions and "singspirations."

In the summer an international talent contest is held at Winona Lake. This contest involves all types of music, plus essay, speaking, and Bible quiz team competition.

The highlight of the year's activities in YFC is the YFC Banquet which is coming up in April. It is a semi-formal banquet with an attendance usually numbering 250. Last year Debbie Bryant, a former Miss America, and the Bordermen, a Christian folk group, entertained at the banquet.

The founder of this group is Rev. Billy Graham.

Girls' Life-saving Program Demands Tests, Dives, Rescuing Miss Dunnuck

By Kathy Sowle

Braving cold winter nights and chilling winds are approximately fifteen girls enrolled in a stimulating, informative, and oftentimes hazardous senior life-saving course offered on Tuesday nights. Taught by Miss Patricia Dunnuck, the course involves text work and actual rescue procedures.

The preliminaries of the course include learning the front-header dive — otherwise known as the belly flop — and the lifesaving jump. The purpose of these is to allow entry with the head out of water.

Requirements also include swimming four laps fully clothed. Senior Carolyn Haag wore jeans and a sweatshirt while Karen MacQuivey, a junior, chose a cotton skirt and blouse.

A buddy system is employed for practicing approaches and releases on deck. Such practice has resulted in would be black eyes and sore necks for junior Jane Longstreet and sophomore Pam Parsons.

One carry — the tired swimmer's carry — requires one girl to lie limp in the water while another pushes her to poolside. This has proven difficult for junior Sue Ryon who is unable to remain limp and continually floats to the surface.

The "victim" saved by the "rescuer" must be able to hold her breath for quite a long time. Although the head is supposed to remain above water during a rescue, more often than not the "victim" actually ends up struggling for a breath of air between dunkings.

Shivering and dripping, the girls are tested on various chapters of the manual. Sophomore Ginny Colten has found this task compounded by the difficulty of writing on water-soaked paper. Aside from the obvious obstacle of the ink smearing and running, she has to contend with the puddles formed from her dripping hair.

By far the most ludicrous and most trying test has been attempting to save Miss Dunnuck. In the true victim spirit she has rolled, twisted, kicked, and dunked to simulate a person drowning. Rescuing Miss Dunnuck, the class agrees, is like wrestling an alligator.

JHS'ers Contend For DCE Award

Several Jackson students will participate in the Diversified Cooperative Education contest which is planned for April 6 at Purdue University. Sponsored by the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, the contest consists of seven divisions which students may enter.

Five of these divisions (essay, spelling, general related, specific related, and speech) will be entered by seniors Donna Lipka and John Turk.

Barry Naragon, senior, will be competing in the specific related, job interview, essay, spelling, and general related sections. With him will be senior Dave Dudeck, who will participate in all the same contests except the general related.

Papers for the essay division will be written on "How the School Benefits from Diversified Cooperative Education Programs." Topic of the speeches will be "How a Community Benefits from the DCE Program."

To be eligible for the DCE Student of the Year award, each contestant must enter at least four of the divisions.

Nine Regulars Return; Baseball Team Prepares for '68

By T. Harry Christman

Jackson's entire first string baseball team of one year ago is back again for the 1968 season and has been practicing in the gym for the past three weeks in preparation for the first game against Adams on April 8.

Last year's team brought Jackson its first sectional championship and finished with an 11-9 overall mark.

OUTFIELDER Doug Krawczyk was the team's leading hitter with a .346 average including five triples and six doubles. All of the starting nine players have played for two years and so most records are based on statistics compiled for two years. In two-year totals, senior Dennis Parrish has collected the most hits, 38, and the most runs batted in, 23.

Shortstop Pete Miller has made 76 assists over a two-year period while catcher Dale Richards has made 280 putouts. Bob McKelvey had the highest fielding percentage for the infielders last season at .921 and Tim Christman for the outfielders at .964. Parrish at .971 was the best fielding pitcher.

Junior Dave Petty leads the team in the home run department as he has collected six in two seasons. Parrish owns most of the pitching records for two years. He has struck out 133 in 109 innings, has the highest win-loss percentage, .733 and the best earned-run average at 2.16. Parrish, seniors Craig Marten, Bill T'Kindt and a couple of players up from last year's B-team will handle the pitching chores.

MILLER WILL RETURN to his regular shortstop duties while McKelvey will vie for first base. Other infielders John Hummer, Rick Turner and Petty will battle for second and third base assignments.

Krawczyk, Christman, Rich Stucky and Kevin Albert will compete for outfield jobs.

Richards will be backed up at catcher this season by Tom Vogel. Krawczyk may also see some action behind the plate.

Turner, T'Kindt, Richards, Parrish, Miller, McKelvey, Marten, Krawczyk, and Christman are all seniors and two-year letter winners. Petty and Stucky are juniors and also have won two letters.

Hummer is also a junior who moved up to the varsity at the close of last season.

THE TIGERS' head coach Joe Kreitzman and assistant Cuyler Miller have scheduled 23 ball games, not counting any tournament action. The first three games, Adams, Riley, and Mishawaka will start the season off during spring vacation. From April 16 to May 16, every Tuesday and Thursday will be a Northern Indiana Valley Conference game. The first home conference game will be April 16 against Clay, Jackson's chief threat to the conference crown.

Tigerettes Swim to Third Win; Take First Place in Eight Events

Winning eight out of nine first places, Jackson's Tigerettes swamped Washington's girls' swim team by a score of 57 to 20. This is the third straight victory for the team. First place winners for the J-fish were Sue Lehner, Kathy Witt, Kay Altman, and Becky Avrett in the 200-yard medley relay. Kay Altman took first in the 100-yard freestyle while Lynn Goltz won the 100-yard individual medley.

Holly Heemstra captured first in diving. Karen Slauson won first in the 50-yard freestyle, while teammate Debbie Lytle won the 50-yard backstroke. Karen Midla scrambled to a first in the 50-yard breaststroke.

Winning the 200-yard freestyle relay were Kathy Witt, Shelly Wiley, Debbie Lytle, and Karen Slauson.

The Tigerettes defeated Adams in the opponents' pool last week. Racking up 44 points to Adams' 33, the Porpoises won every event except the relay races and diving. Chris Seaborg set two Jackson school records, one in the 100-yard individual medley with a time of 1:13.2, and the other in the 50-yard breaststroke with a time of 37.3. Chris Medlock set a new record in the 50-yard flystroke, with a winning time of 32.2.

Other Jackson winners were Quincy Erickson in the 100-yard and 50-yard freestyles, and Barb Ettl in the 50-yard backstroke.
